Sub: Disclosure pursuant to Regulation 30 of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015

Dear Sir/Madam,

TechEra Engineering (India) Limited has received a Development-cum-Supply Order from the Indian Air Force for the development and supply of an Electrical Coolanol Unit, marking another addition to the Company's growing engagement with the Indian Defence sector.

The order, bearing No. 1CIMD/DO/50, has been awarded by 1 Central India Maintenance Depot (1 CIMD), Air Force Station Ojhar, Nashik, for a total consideration of Rs. 42,59,800/- inclusive of applicable taxes.

The scope of the order includes the development of the product, supply of prototype units and Initial Operational Quantity (IOQ), subject to successful development, testing and approval by the concerned authorities.

The order also provides for long-term support and continued supply commitments for a minimum period of five years, in accordance with the contractual terms. Upon fulfilment of the stipulated development, testing and approval requirements, the Company expects to further strengthen its capabilities and eligibility for manufacturing and supplying this category of specialised defence equipment, subject to the applicable licensing and authorisation requirements.

This engagement reflects the Company's continued focus on developing indigenous engineering and manufacturing capabilities and expanding its presence in the Aerospace and Defence ecosystem.

Management Commentary:
"The development-cum-supply order from the Indian Air Force for the Electrical Coolanol Unit is an important addition to our defence portfolio. It provides us with an opportunity to demonstrate our engineering, development and manufacturing capabilities in a specialised product category. We believe that successful completion of the development and qualification process, along with the associated long-term support requirements, can create opportunities for sustained engagement and future business in this segment."
