Three Ireland and Tech Mahindra officially open customer service centre in Waterford

New centre will enhance Three's customer service and deliver valuable jobs in the south east region

Waterford, 6th February 2015 — Three Ireland's new customer service centre in Waterford was officially opened by Robert Finnegan, CEO Three Ireland and C.P. Gurnani, CEO and Managing Director of Tech Mahindra yesterday at a ceremony attended by employees, senior management teams from both companies and local elected representatives.

Tech Mahindra currently provides customer care services for Three's consumer customers as well as various back office services. The new centre in Waterford will bolster Three's operations and help deliver market-leading support and services to its customers.

Tech Mahindra, a specialist in digital transformation, consulting and business re-engineering solutions, has set up the centre with the vision to strategically position presence in Ireland with a prime focus on the telecommunications, financial services, energy, utilities and pharmaceutical sectors. The company plans to leverage the skills and talent pool available in Ireland to grow its business across these sectors in the region.

Speaking at the official opening Robert Finnegan, CEO Three Ireland said, "Today's opening sets in stone our commitment to deliver the ultimate customer service experience to our customers from our Irish based customer services centres. We announced 130 jobs in Waterford last October and the process of recruiting those positions is well underway. We're excited to be able to provide valuable local jobs to the people of Waterford and are looking forward to partnering with Tech Mahindra as they grow over the coming years."

Commenting on the opening, Sujit Bakshi, Chief Executive, Business Services Group, Tech Mahindra, said, "We are delighted to partner with Three Ireland in Waterford. It is our first presence in Ireland and while our current focus is on growing our business in Ireland our overall aim is to turn this centre into a near-shore Delivery Centre to serve our major European Customers."

"This deal with Three Ireland is strategically placed to help Tech Mahindra grow its market share in Ireland, servicing not only Irish customers but enabling its global partners and customers to see the value of this Centre, its growth potential and the value which this location will bring." Said Mr Bakshi.

Tech Mahindra Ltd. is a specialist in digital transformation, consulting and business re-engineering. It is a $3.5 billion company with 98,000+ professionals across 51 countries, providing services to 674 global customers including Fortune 500 companies.

Three Ireland is the second largest mobile operator in Ireland with over two million customers (as of September 2014). Three operates 2G, 3G and 4G networks in Ireland and has to date invested nearly €2 billion in building its Irish network. It bought Telefónica Ireland, which operated the O2 brand, in a deal that completed in July 2014.
