TRADE PUSH | During his meeting with top executives accompanying Trump for Beijing summit, Chinese prez discusses ways to boost economic relations

Door to American businesses opening wider: Xi to US CEOs

AP
BEIJING

China's door to American business will only open wider and wider, President Xi Jinping told American CEOs during his meeting with US President Donald Trump, China's official Xinhua news agency reported.

"Xi said that US companies are deeply involved in China's reform and opening up, and both sides have benefited from this," according to a report from state-backed newspaper Xinhua.

"Noting that China's door will only open wider, Xi said China welcomes the US to enhance mutually beneficial cooperation with China, and expressed belief that US companies will enjoy even broader prospects in China."

"The two sides discussed ways to enhance economic cooperation between countries, including expanding market access for American businesses into China and increasing Chinese investment." The White House said on X. Donald Trump (L) said the business leaders he brought along all respect and value China and he encourages them to expand cooperation with China, the report said.

Trump introduced the business leaders to Xi one by one. The business people said they highly value China's market, hope to deepen their operations in China and strengthen cooperation with China.

Travelling to China as part of the US delegation are some 17 CEOs, including Tesla's Elon Musk, Apple's Tim Cook and Boeing's Kelly Ortberg, the White House said.

The US entrepreneurs said they attach great importance to the Chinese market, and hope to deepen business operations in China and strengthen cooperation with China.

US CLEARS NVIDIA CHIP SALES

About 10 Chinese companies have received US Commerce Department authorisation to buy Nvidia's second-most powerful AI chip, the H200, yet no shipments have reached any of them. The approved buyers include Alibaba, Tencent, ByteDance, and JD.com. Authorisation has also been extended to distributors Lenovo and Foxconn, through whom Chinese customers may route their purchases rather than buying from Nvidia directly. US licensing terms cap individual purchases at 75,000 chips per approved company.

Taiwan policy unchanged: US

Beijing: Secretary of State Marco Rubio said the US policy towards Taiwan is "unchanged" after Trump's meeting with Xi Jinping, but warned it would be "a terrible mistake" for China to take Taiwan by force.

"US policy on the issue of Taiwan is unchanged as of today and as of the meeting that we had here today. It was raised. They always raise it on their side. We always make clear our position, and we move on to the other topics," Rubio told NBC News.

Michelle Lee, a spokesperson for Taiwan's premier, said the island nation was grateful for the US support after Xi warned Trump about potential "clashes and even conflicts" over the issue. In a swipe at Beijing, Taiwan's ministry of affairs said, "China is currently the only risk to regional peace and stability." "Even during the meet between Trump and Xi, the People's Liberation Army continued to send military aircraft and ships to harass and threaten Taiwan in the region."

Latvian PM resigns after row over stray Ukrainian drones

Riga: Latvian PM Evika Silina has resigned following a political crisis over Russia-bound Ukrainian drones straying into Latvian territory. Silina fired Defence Minister Andris Spruds last week after two drones crashed in eastern Latvia, criticising his response and appointing a replacement.

In protest, the Progressives party pulled its support for the governing coalition, causing it to collapse months before a planned general election in October.

"Seeing a strong candidate for the post of defence minister... political windbags have chosen a crisis," Silina said on Thursday. "I am resigning but I am not giving up."

The political fallout was triggered by the incursion of three drones into Latvian airspace on May 7, the second such accident in 2026. Both Latvia and Ukraine acknowledged the drones may have been Ukrainian unmanned aerial vehicles intended to target Russia whose signals had been jammed, leading them to stray into Latvia. One drone crashed on the ground while another struck an empty oil product storage facility near Rezekne. The third flew in and out of Latvian airspace.

There were no casualties or injuries, but residents told media the official response had been delayed and insufficient. They said the cell broadcast alert system had not been activated for an hour after one of the drones crashed near Rezekne. —Agencies

7 killed as Russia unleashes attacks

Kyiv: At least seven people, including a 12-year-old girl, were killed in Kyiv after Russia launched a massive wave of 670 drones and 56 missiles across Ukraine.

Rescuers are searching the rubble of a destroyed Kyiv apartment block for 20 missing individuals. Dozens have been wounded, with 21 hospitalised.

The strikes targeted over 180 sites, including 50 residential buildings, following the expiry of a ceasefire on Monday. —Agencies

Zelensky's ex-aide held

Kyiv: Ukraine's anti-corruption court on Thursday ordered the arrest of Andriy Yermak, a close ally of President Volodymyr Zelensky and former head of his administration, on money-laundering charges. The court set bail at 140 million hryvnias ($3.19mm), which would allow Yermak, who has denied the allegations against him, to be released pending a final ruling. "I don't have that kind of money, and my lawyer will now work with friends and acquaintances (to raise the money for bail)," Yermak told reporters. "My legal team will file an appeal. We will use every legal avenue to seek justice and the truth."

Ukrainian authorities on Monday named Yermak as a suspect in a major corruption probe. Anti-graft agencies said Yermak is suspected of involvement in a criminal group that laundered $10.5 million through an elite housing development outside Kyiv.

Cuba has run out of diesel, fuel oil: Govt

Havana: Cuba has completely run out of diesel and fuel oil, the country's Energy Minister Vicente de la O Levy said.

Levy said limited amounts of gas were available, but Cuba's energy system was in a "critical" state as a US-led blockade of oil squeezed supply. Under the blockade, parts of Havana have been plunged into 20 to 22-hour blackout periods, he said, acknowledging the situation had been "extremely tense".

"The sum of the different types of fuel: crude oil, fuel oil, of which we have absolutely none; diesel, of which we have absolutely none, the only thing we have is gas from our wells, where production has grown," Levy said.

Hospitals have been unable to function normally, while schools and government offices have been forced to close. Tourism, an economic engine, has been impacted.

Cuba relies on Venezuela and Mexico for oil supplies. The two countries have cut off supplies since US President Trump threatened tariffs on countries that send fuel.

As the island continues to grapple with energy crises, scattered protests broke out in Havana on Wednesday evening. It marked the biggest single night of demonstrations in the capital since the crisis began in January.

President Miguel Diaz-Canel blamed the US for the energy shortages as he acknowledged the "particularly tense" situation.

"This dramatic worsening has a single cause: the genocidal energy blockade to which the US subjects our country, threatening irrational tariffs against any nation that supplies us with fuel," he wrote.

Last week, US Secy of State Marco Rubio said Havana had rejected a US offer of humanitarian aid worth $100 million, a claim Cuba denied. US State Dept repeated its offer on Wednesday, saying the aid would be distributed in coordination with Catholic Church and "reliable" organisations in exchange for "meaningful reforms to Cuba's communist system". —Agencies

WES QUILTS, WORSENING LABOUR WOES

Wes Streeting criticised Starmer after Labour's poor poll results across England, Scotland and Wales. He blamed unpopular policies, including cuts to the winter fuel allowance and the controversial "island of strangers" speech. Praising Starmer for leading Labour to victory in 2024 and handling global affairs, Streeting said the government lacked direction. He said remaining in government after losing confidence in Starmer would be "dishonourable and unprincipled". Streeting also cited NHS England data showing waiting lists fell by 1,10,073 treatments in March to 7.11 million, describing it as the biggest decline outside Covid since 2008. —Agencies
