TalentSprint and Thinksoft Global Launch Financial Software Testing Certification Program to Benefit Fresh Graduates

TalentSprint (www.talentsprint.com), a leader in creating high performance professionals, and Thinksoft Global (www.thinksoftglobal.com), a financial software testing major, today announced a strategic partnership to launch professional programs in the area of structured testing of financial software. These programs are designed to benefit fresh college graduates from diverse backgrounds to become industry ready CFST (Certified Financial Software Testing) professionals and start a career at Thinksoft. The program involves an industrial curriculum that includes experiential learning, internship, and certification. The professional programs will be managed by TalentSprint.

Under the partnership agreement selected B.Tech., MCA, science and commerce graduates will undergo rigorous learning programs at TalentSprint, followed by internships at Thinksoft Global. Fresh graduates with minimum 60% marks are eligible for selection to these courses.

"Software testing is a high-growth sector within the global banking and financial industry and there is a growing demand for certified professionals with strong financial domain knowledge. Our partnership with TalentSprint will allow us to benefit from a steady supply of pre-certified professionals that have the right mix of technical, domain, and professional skills. We aim to create 200 professionals per year through this model", said Asvini Kumar, Managing Director of Thinksoft.

"TalentSprint is extremely pleased to join hands with Thinksoft Global to build a new generation of software testing professionals that understand both technology and domain. There is growing recognition of the importance of domain knowledge in testing financial software. Our goal is to create a customized talent supply chain for Thinksoft that will address their need for just-in-time resource management", remarked Madhu Murthy Ronanki, Co-Founder and Executive Vice President at TalentSprint.
