Centre trims Ujjwala LPG cylinder refills to 4 a year

● Subsidy support limited amid weak LPG consumption

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, June 8

THE GOVERNMENT HAS reduced the number of subsidised LPG refills available annually under the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana (PMUY) to four from nine, as state-run oil marketing companies (OMCs) continue to incur losses of ₹600-700 crore a day despite recent fuel price hikes that have sharply reduced under-recoveries on petrol and diesel.

According to the official, the government has decided to limit subsidy support under PMUY to four cylinders annually, in line with average household consumption of four to five cylinders a year.

Under the revised structure, PMUY beneficiaries will receive a subsidy of ₹300 per cylinder on four refills annually, amounting to ₹1,200 per household a year. Previously, subsidy support was available on up to nine cylinders.

respectively, following multiple fuel price increases since May 14. However, domestic LPG remains heavily underpriced, with OMCs currently losing about ₹700 on every cylinder sold.

“The under-recovery on diesel is about ₹30 per litre. When you buy diesel in Delhi at ₹95, actually the balance ₹30 is borne by the company, and for petrol it is about ₹6 per litre, even now. Daily losses are still to the tune of ₹600-700 crore,” Khanooja said.
