PRESS RELEASE

Uflex being the largest packaging company in India, has a major packaging role to play with most of the top brands. It is quite evenly spread out amongst all the large portfolios. Nestle as a group is one of our premier customers but Maggi packaging in isolation does not add to the bottom line significantly.

As we mentioned, Maggi packaging does not add significantly to our bottom line, practically it will make no negative impact to our turnover considering growing retail and e-tail market in India and Overseas. Our revenue growth will continue at its pace due to our diverse reach to customers within and outside India. However, we are sure Nestle will be able to resolve the present matter to the satisfaction of all stakeholders and revive Maggi brand very soon.
