- PAT stood at Rs. 278.6 mn, up a robust 7% QoQ and 46% YoY, capping a strong quarter of profitable growth and reinforcing our confidence in the momentum ahead

Commenting on the performance, Mr. Anil Kumar Puttan, Chairman & Managing Director, said,

"FY27 has commenced on a strong and encouraging note for Unimech, with the Company delivering its highest-ever quarterly revenue of Rs. 1,076.2 mn while maintaining strong EBITDA margins. This performance reflects improving customer demand, disciplined execution and, most importantly, establishes a stronger operating base from which we intend to build through the remainder of the year.

The strategic investments made over the past quarters are now beginning to translate into tangible business outcomes. The successful integration of Hobel Bellows, and growing customer engagements across aerospace, semiconductor and energy sectors are steadily expanding our growth platform. The defining milestone of the quarter was the signing of a long-term supply agreement with FACC Operations GmbH, Austria, awarded through a competitive global sourcing process, it covers precision-engineered aerospace components and flying parts marking a step up in the aerospace value chain. While aerospace tooling continues to perform well, we are witnessing healthy traction in our Precision Components & Assemblies business, supported by long-term customer engagements and an expanding opportunity pipeline.

Qualification-led growth remains central to our strategy. During FY27, we are targeting qualifications to meaningfully increase in comparison to previous year as we continue to qualify flying parts and recurring precision manufacturing programs across other industries. These initiatives are steadily strengthening our position as an integrated precision manufacturing partner for global OEMs / Tier-1.

Looking ahead, we expect capacity utilisation to improve as qualification programs transition into serial production. Backed by a healthy order pipeline, expanding customer relationships and sustained margin discipline, we remain confident that FY27 will be year of strong growth and value creation as we build a globally competitive precision engineering platform."
