DEEPAK KORGANKAR & PUNEET WADHWA

Mumbai News Desk, 2 November

The liquidity-driven rally in Samvat 2077 has been the best in 12 years, with the front-line indices — the Nifty 50 and the S&P BSE Sensex — surging 41 per cent and 35 per cent, respectively. The rally in the broader markets has been sharper during the traditional accounting year that will end with Diwali this week. While the S&P BSE Sensex index surged 83 per cent during this period, the S&P BSE Midcap index moved up 61 per cent.

Back in Samvat 2065, the front-line indices had risen 104 per cent, while the midcap and smallcap indices had appreciated by 123 per cent and 120 per cent, respectively, shows data. "The equity market had a historical journey in Samvat 2077 as it touched new highs, with Nifty/Sensex surpassing the 18,500/62,000 mark for the first time. The spirit amid lockdowns has been led by a benign global liquidity, containment of Covid cases, a significant pick-up in the pace of vaccination and a sharp recovery in corporate earnings," said Gautam Duged, head of research for institutional equities at Motilal Oswal Financial Services. In the S&P BSE 500 index, more than half — or 298 — scrips outperformed the index, which gained 46 per cent during Samvat 2077. Six Tata Group firms — Tata Steel, Tata Motors, Tata Power Company, Tata Elxsi, Tata Coffee and Tata Chemicals — and four Adani Group firms — Adani Enterprises, Adani Transmission, Adani Total Gas and Adani Power — jumped between 109 per cent and 481 per cent during the year.

Sell bad debts early, let ARCs take part in IBC: RBI panel

ANUP ROY
Mumbai, 2 November

A committee formed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to recommend ways to revive asset reconstruction companies (ARCs) has suggested an early sale of bad debts to them, directly acquiring non-performing assets from the market, and letting ARCs bid in the insolvency and bankruptcy process. Once an ARC acquires assets, it should be allowed to lend to the stressed assets so that they can be nursed back to health and dues recovered later on.

The committee, headed by former RBI executive director Sudarshan Sen, has suggested in its report that if 66 per cent of the lenders (by value) agree to sell an asset to ARCs, "the same may be binding on the remaining lenders and it must be implemented within 60 days of approval by majority lenders".

If a lender fails to comply with this requirement, it should be penalised with 100 per cent provisioning on the loan outstanding.

Mumbai, 2 November

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is overhauling the way it supervises entities and has introduced, or is in the process of launching, automated systems and a web-based, end-to-end workflow automation system that will have functionalities for inspection, compliance and incident reporting for cyber security, etc., with a built-in remediation workflow.

The central bank is also much more engaged now with firms' management, revealed RBI Deputy Governor M K Jain in his keynote address at the Business Standard BFSI Insight Summit. The RBI will soon launch a web-based, end-to-end workflow automation system that will have functionalities for inspection, compliance and incident reporting for cyber security, etc., with a built-in remediation workflow. Strengthening supervisory capacity is critical for the RBI as it takes on more companies that are heavily reliant on technology. ANUP ROY WRITES P12

For online players, it's game on

Even as the gaming industry battles multiple regulations in different Indian states, it has received more than double the amount of investment this year compared to 2020. Industry watchers attribute this to the growing popularity of gaming, spurred by the pandemic, and the innovative business models.

According to data from industry tracker Venture Intelligence, investment in India's gaming sector in 2021 has more than doubled to $794 million against $339 million last year. In 2019, this number was $76 million. Marquee investors such as Tiger Global (Dream11), Sequoia Capital India (Mobile Premier League), Win20 (Griffin Capital Partners), Tencent (Dream11) and Matrix Partners (Zupee) have pumped money into the sector. NEHA ANANDH WRITES P9

There's little risk for coal investors on road to 2070

SHREYA JAI
New Delhi, 2 November

Catching the world by surprise, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday declared 2070 as the target year for India to have zero carbon emissions. While the target announced at the COP26 Summit in Glasgow is 49 years away, the fossil fuel dependent Indian economy will have to brace for a paradigm shift. In all, this, investors in coal may still find hope, officials believe.

India has achieved 25 per cent of emission intensity reduction of GDP between 2005 and 2016, and is on a path to achieve more than 40 per cent by 2030, according to observations made by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE). In effect, India will have to step up measures to reduce emissions from the transport sector as well as the energy-intensive industrial sector, especially cement, iron and steel, non-metallic minerals, and chemicals. It would also require India to reinvent its mobility systems. Rather than putting pressure on coal, this target actually provides certainty to investors in coal — both state-owned Coal India Limited (CIL) and private captive and commercial coal miners, according to government officials. "The 1 billion tonne coal production target of CIL will get logged into the economy in this decade. For another 20-30 years, the future of coal is secure in India. The mines awarded now have a clear business case to run for their lifetime," said an official.

The target strengthens the business case of captive mines awarded over the last five years and commercial mines awarded recently to private companies, the official said.
