Manager of multinational company loses Rs 51.36 lakh in cyber fraud

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
MUMBAI AUGUST 27

A 53-YEAR-OLD manager from a multinational paint company was allegedly defrauded of Rs 51.36 lakh by cyber frauds who lured him with promises of substantial returns on stock market investments. The fraudsters created a convincing virtual platform, including a personal account, to deceive the victim into believing he had accrued Rs 26 crore in profits.

According to police, the fraud took place between May 8 and June 28. The complainant stated that he encountered an Instagram advertisement promising high returns from stock market investments. Interested, he clicked the link and was added to a WhatsApp group named 'MPSI Chart 33', with approximately 140 members and an admin identified as 'Julu V Tate'.

After observing the group's activities, the complainant decided to invest. He filled out a form providing personal details and was instructed to create a login ID on a virtual site called 'Marwadi Financial Services'. His initial investment of Rs 10,000 on May 14 was followed by another Rs 10,000 the next day.

The fraudsters initially showed a return of Rs 22.5%, which further convinced the manager of their legitimacy. Encouraged by this, he continued to transfer funds to their account, eventually sending a total of Rs 51.36 lakh by June 28. The fraudsters then listed the virtual account to display significant profits of around Rs 26 crore, leading the manager to attempt a withdrawal of Rs 30 lakh.

At this point, they demanded an additional payment of Rs 80,555 lakhs in 'commission' before processing the withdrawal.

He reported the incident to the Maharashtra police helpline and filed a formal complaint with the central cyber police station. Police registered a case of cheating and fraud against unknown individuals. "We have registered a case of cheating and forgery against unknown persons. We are trying to trace them through their call data record and bank account details," an investigator said.

10 dead as heavy rain batters Gujarat

18% of season's avg rain in less than 48 hours, more than 15,000 relocated

RTU SHARMA
A-MEDABAD, AUGUST 27

AT LEAST 10 people have died in rain-related incidents in different parts of Gujarat, as heavy showers continued for the third consecutive day on Tuesday, throwing normal life out of gear and flooding low-lying areas. More than 15,000 people were evacuated and over 300 rescued in different districts as water levels in dams and rivers rose amid incessant rainfall.

According to the state relief department, seven persons lost their lives in rain-related incidents on Monday. Two persons died in wall collapse incidents at Kalol taluka in Gandhinagar, while one each died due to wall collapse in Kheda and Vadodra districts. One person died from a tree fall on him in Petlad village and two others drowned at Isarwada and Sissa villages in Anand district.

Moreover, the bodies of three persons—who were among the eight reported missing on Sunday night after the tractor-trailer they were travelling in was washed away in a flooded stream at Dhavani village in

Waterlogging in Vadodra on Tuesday. Bhupendra Rana

Morbi—were found on Tuesday. Morbi Collector K B Zaveri said, "Five more are missing and NDRF (National Disaster Response Force) and SDRF (State Disaster Response Force) teams are conducting search and rescue operation," he added. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has forecast isolated extremely heavy rainfall in the Saurashtra-Kutch region on Wednesday and Thursday. Isolated places in many districts are likely to receive heavy to very heavy rains till Thursday, it added.

While rain intensity reduced on Tuesday compared to a day ago, affecting mainly districts in Saurashtra, administration carried out rescue and relief operations on a large scale, shifting thousands of people to shelters. More than 12,000 people were relocated in Vadodra (8,361) and Panchmahals (4,000), the two most affected districts. So far, more than 23,870 people have been shifted to safe places and 1,696 rescued. Those evacuated in the last two days included 1,500 in Navsari, 800 in Valsad, 200 in Bharuch, 235 in Kheda and 200 in Botad districts. In Rajkot city, 1,300 people were evacuated.

Exceptionally heavy rainfall in state, parts of Rajasthan too: IMD

Exceptionally heavy rainfall measuring over 300mm continued to batter several areas of the state. Eastern parts of Rajasthan also received exceptionally heavy rainfall—that is, above 200 mm in 24 hours, the IMD said.

In Gujarat, the districts along the north and the northeast received record rainfall, as high as 340mm in 24 hours until 8.30 am Tuesday, the IMD said. The wettest areas included Morbi, Vadodra, Anand, Panchmahals, Kheda, Kutch, Rajkot, Jamnagar and Mahisaga. In the 24 hours ending Tuesday morning, Rajkot recorded 318 mm, making it the area's wettest August day since 2014. The all-time record here is 354.3 mm on August 11, 1979. By evening, apart of 33 hours, Rajkot recorded 437 mm rainfall.

In Rajasthan and MP too, several areas received exceptionally heavy to very heavy rainfall. The IMD issued a red alert, indicating extremely heavy rainfall, for Gujarat till Wednesday. This season (till August 27), Gujarat has received 473.7 mm rain, a surplus of 32% and Rajasthan 452 mm (52% surplus). The all-India rainfall was 716 mm, about 7% above normal.

CBI BRIBERY CASE

HC judge recuses from hearing Waze's bail plea

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
MUMBAI, AUGUST 27

AFTER AN HC bench concluded the hearing and reserved its order on a plea by dismissed police officer Sachin Waze in connection with a corruption case involving former Maharashtra Home Minister Anil Deshmukh and others, Justice Bharat H Dangre recused himself from the matter and said a judge comprising her cannot pass an order in the case.

"Not before a bench comprising Justice Dangre. The matter be placed before a bench of which Justice Dangre is not a party" the bench noted after the judge said that she had earlier recused in a matter involving Deshmukh. The plea will now be placed before the Chief Justice to get it assigned to an appropriate bench.

A bench of Justices Dangre and Manjusha A Deshpande had reserved an order on Waze's habeas corpus plea on August 14. Waze claimed that he had spent over 2 years in prison for a case where no chargesheet had been filed despite having been granted pardon by the special CBI court as approver and he was a witness in the case.

MODI-BIDEN PHONE CALL

US readout silent on Dhaka, officials say issue discussed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, AUGUST 27

A DAY after the Prime Minister's Office said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi and US President Joe Biden discussed the ongoing situation in Bangladesh and stressed the need for the early restoration of normalcy and ensuring the safety and security of minorities, especially Hindus, the White House readout of the call had no reference to Bangladesh.

The PMO statement said that Modi and Biden also discussed the ongoing situation in Bangladesh and stressed the need for the early restoration of normalcy and ensuring the safety and security of minorities, especially Hindus. Following the unfolding political developments in Bangladesh, India has been consistently pressing to ensure the safety and security of minorities, especially Hindus, there.

Government sources said that "we have seen several comments on social media regarding our press release on PM's conversation with President Biden. These are completely misplaced. It may be noted that all issues mentioned in our Press Release, including the situation in Bangladesh, were discussed. It is an accurate reflection of the conversation." It is a common practice for separate press releases to be issued following conversations, which may or may not reflect all issues discussed. It is only in cases of Joint Press Release or Joint Statement that both sides issue similar press releases," the sources said.

Two teachers from Maharashtra chosen for national award

PALLAVISMART
MUMBAI, AUGUST 27

TWO TEACHERS from Maharashtra—Sagar Bagade from Sou. M. Lohia High School and Junior College in Kolhapur and Mantaha Bedke from Zilla Parishad (ZP) Upper Primary Digital School Jajwandi in Gadchiroli—are among 50 selected for National Teachers' Award 2024, announced by the Union Ministry of Education on Tuesday.

Bagade from Kolhapur is a 57-year-old Art teacher with an experience of over 30 years. He already has two Asia Pacific Book of World Records in his name along with his students for their folk dance performances.

"I was not sure before if Art teachers too are considered for this award. I was hopeful after being short-listed among finalists," said Bagade, who is set to retire in another year and is happy to have received national recognition for his work.

have made successful careers in art-related industry. In today's time children need to know building a career is important. After retirement, I plan to take this notion to children in the interiors of Maharashtra, especially inaccessible places." Bedke, 42, is a primary school teacher in Etapalli taluka of Gadchiroli district. His students are children from the Madhya Aadwas community. When Bedke was appointed teacher in 2010, there were only seven students in this school that had classes from 1 to 4.

"Now we have 138 students from classes 1 to 7. I was the only teacher before, but now there are four teachers. Children from nearby villages are also coming to school," said Bedke, originally from Shirwancha taluka in Gadchiroli. The school now has a projector and smart TV in the classroom with Bedke's efforts through community support.

However, children from this village have to go to Gadchiroli for secondary education.

Both teachers will receive the award on September 5, celebrated as Teachers' Day. Last year, one teacher from Maharashtra—Anurag Ganjale of Pimpri Mahalinge ZP school in Pune's Ambegaon—won the recognition for her technological interventions in classroom education.

Once bitten, twice shy, BJP tempers its poll expectations to 100 in Maharashtra

After LS poll miscalculation, party drops rhetoric of winning 145 Assembly seats

SHUBHANGI KHAPRE
MUMBAI, AUGUST 27

THE TARGET was 145-plus seats till about three months ago. Jolted by the Lok Sabha election setback, when there was a big mismatch between what it projected and what happened, the BJP has toned down its expectations for the coming Assembly elections in Maharashtra and set itself the objective of winning 100 of the state's 288 Assembly constituencies. The party, which at present has 106 Assembly seats, hopes to cross the halfway mark and get to 145 with the help of its allies Shiv Sena and Nationalist Congress Party (NCP).

Addressing a group of grassroots workers last week, Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis said, "There should be no ambiguity about the Mahayuti (name of the ruling alliance) returning to power. But to retain it, we have to ensure 100 seats. If we cross the 100 mark, nobody will be able to form the government without the BJP."

The difference in the vote share between the Mahayuti and the Opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) in the Lok Sabha elections was just 0.3 percentage points. Fadnis has been repeatedly emphasising that in terms of actual votes, the difference is just two lakh votes, a gap that can be easily bridged.

At the workers' meeting, Fadnis said the Eknath Shinde government's Ladi Babin Yojana would be enough to put the Mahayuti back on track.

"In Lok Sabha polls, the '400 paar' slogan proved to be counter-productive. In Maharashtra, we said we would win more than 45 of the 48 Lok Sabha seats. But it boomeranged," said a state BJP functionary. "Instead of focussing on high-pitched campaigns and projections, we have turned to the tried-and-true method of man-to-man contact across the state. We realised that the failure in the Lok Sabha was due to a disconnect with people on the ground."

The shift has come amid increased coordination between the BJP and the RSS. The link between the two is Fadnis, who has a Sangh background and is leading the state-sharing talks with the party's Mahayuti allies. Over the past couple of months, Fadnis has had at least four meetings with the RSS brass at its headquarters in Nagpur. The state BJP has 35 lakh active workers but believes that alone is not enough to win the polls and RSS boots will be needed on the ground.

"In every Assembly constituency, an RSS leader will be deployed to ensure perfect coordination with the BJP and its allies. The Sangh cadre will also help take the Mahayuti government's flagship projects to the voters," said a BJP insider. Apart from these, sources said all Hindu right-wing organisations had been activated to mobilise their supporters for the Assembly polls. As part of this, outfits such as the Sakal Hindu Samaj have hit the streets in pockets across the state, protesting against the alleged atrocities faced by Hindus in Bangladesh. Such outfits are planning to launch rallies on "love and hind jhadi", their core themes fuelled by conspiracy theories.

The effort to bring the RSS back on board comes in the backdrop of differences between the BJP and the RSS. The link between the two is Fadnis, who has a Sangh background and is leading the state-sharing talks with the party's Mahayuti allies. Over the past couple of months, Fadnis has had at least four meetings with the RSS brass at its headquarters in Nagpur. The state BJP has 35 lakh active workers but believes that alone is not not require the RSS as much as it did earlier.

In July, an RSS-linked Marathi weekly blamed the BJP's tie-up with the NCP of Ajit Pawar for the alliance's poor performance that saw it win only 17 of the 48 seats. The month before, in an article in RSS-affiliated Organiser, Pawar was blamed for reducing the "brand value of BJP" and turning it into "just another party without any difference".

Coordination between the BJP and the Sangh in Maharashtra has also been hit because the state BJP has not had a general secretary for organisation since 2021. The post has traditionally been occupied by an RSS pracharak who served as the bridge between the Sangh and the party and quietly defused any potential problem points.

Despite the challenges, the BJP estimates it has 97,000 booth workers across all Assembly constituencies in the state. This provides it with a strong foundation to win the election. The challenge will be to ensure these workers are activated by the time the election campaign rolls in. The BJP has already started placing non-performing individuals and teams at the booth level and this is expected to be followed by an organisational shake-up at the district level.

BJP seeks CBI probe in land allotment to Kharge family trust

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, BENGALURU, AUGUST 27

THE BJP on Tuesday sought a CBI inquiry into the alleged allocation of a 5-acre plot in Aerospace Park near Bengaluru to a trust comprising family members of Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge.

The party demanded that Kharge, his younger son Priyank Kharge, who is a minister in the Karnataka government, and younger son Shrikant Kharge, should immediately step down from their posts.

BJP spokesperson Gaurav Bhatia said, "Mallikarjun Kharge should resign as he is the (Congress) party president and also because his family is now facing allegations of a scam. His son Priyank Kharge has no moral right to stay a minister. Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah should also resign immediately as there have been three scams under his watch... As the police under the Karnataka government cannot be impartial, there needs to be an impartial probe by the CBI."

In Karnataka, the Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Council, Chavadi Narayanaswamy, has approached Governor Thawarchand Gehlot with a letter seeking his intervention in the matter. Narayanaswamy, in his letter dated August 27, also called for the removal of Priyank Kharge from the Karnataka Cabinet.

"With utmost pain I bring to your kind knowledge another case of nepotism in the Karnataka government. Siddhartha Vihara Trust is being reportedly allotted five acres of land under the SC quota by the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board (KIADB) in the Hi-Tech Defence Aerospace Park near Bengaluru out of the 45.94 acres of land meant for civic amenities in March 2024," states Narayanaswamy's letter to the Governor.

Interestingly, the trustees of Siddhartha Vihara Trust include AICC president Shri Mallikarjun Kharge, spouse Smt Radhabai, Minister, Karnataka, Shri Priyank Kharge, Hon'ble MP LS and son-in-law of the Kharges, Shri Radhakrishna Doddanatti, and younger son Shrikant Kharge," said the letter.

The BJP MLC, who is also a Scheduled Caste leader, has also called the grant of land to the trust a breach of the trust of Scheduled Caste government, and for whom the land is meant to be allotted.

"The question is how did the Kharges become aerospace entrepreneurs? How did the department give a nod for this allotment? Was the minister compelled to allot the land to the Hon'ble Chief Minister, asks Narayanaswamy, urging the Governor to take cognisance of the seriousness of the matter. Dismissing the BJP's allegations, Siddaramaiah said the land allotment has been made as per law. "It has been done in accordance with law. Their trust is eligible to purchase the land, so we have done it," he said.

"Amst is a non-profit organisation and the land has been granted for educational purposes," said deputy CM Shivakumar, defusing the land allotment. State Industries Minister M B Patil also said that Siddhartha Vihara Education Trust, led by Kharge's son Rahul, "was allotted a CA plot at Aerospace Park at a prescribed price, in accordance with KIADB norms".

No rules were violated in the process of allocation. Rahul Kharge is an IIT graduate who wanted to establish a research and development (R&D) centre on the allotted land. Under KIADB norms, CA plots can be used for setting up R&D centres, government colleges, technical institutes, skill development centres, government offices, banks, hospitals, hotels, petrol stations, canteens and residential facilities," Patil said.
