Ensure PM E-DRIVE Compliance: HDK

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The automotive industry must strictly follow PM E-DRIVE scheme guidelines and ensure compliance, heavy industries minister H D

Kumaraswamy said Tuesday Signalling a word of caution to industry at an event to launch the new subsidy scheme, he said, "In the FAME-2 scheme, there was some kind of difference between the manufacturers and our ministry. (This was) because 2-3 manufacturers were not following guidelines of the scheme. There was some controversy"

Kumaraswamy was referring to instances of companies receiving subsidies for localising procurement but using imported components in their electric vehicles (EVs) instead. This had marred implementation of the second Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME II) scheme which was in force from 2019 to 2024.

Foods that fight inflammation

The chronic problem can be a silent killer, but your diet can play a role in controlling it xperts sometimes describe inflammation as a necessary evil. This essential immune system response helps you stay safe and heal from illnesses, though it isn't always pleasant: Often causing symptoms like redness. swelling and soreness.

Untreated chronic inflammation can increase the risk of serious health issues like cancer, cardiovascular disease, arthritis and metabolic conditions like type-2 diabetes.

Diets high in highly processed and sugary foods are connected to chronic inflammation, while consuming certain healthy foods - fresh fruits, vegetables, fibre and certain fats—have been shown to help control it.

Here are the foods with demonstrated anti-inflammatory benefits:

Vegetables, especially leafy greens Dr Sean Spencer, a gastroenterologist at Stanford University, US, said that the fibre in vegetables is essential for maintaining the gut microbiome, which signals to the immune system to keep inflammation down.

Tami Best, a dietitian in New York, US, recommended leafy green vegetables such as spinach, kale, collard greens, broccoli and arugula, which are high in antioxidants.

Barbara Olendzki, an associate professor of medicine at UMass Chan Medical School, US, who developed an anti-inflammatory diet, recommended mixing onions, spinach and tomatoes into your eggs or adding grated carrots or leafy greens into pasta sauce.

Fruits, especially berries

Fruits are another fibre- and antioxidant-rich, anti-inflammatory food group, Best said. She noted that tart cherries and berries, particularly blueberries, are rich in inflammationfighting flavonoids. She also advised eating citrus fruits because they're rich in vitamin C, an antioxidant that protects cells against oxidation, which can lead to inflammation.

Dr Nate Wood, director of culinary medicine at Yale School of Medicine, US, said that beans, lentils, edamame, tofu, tempeh and other legume-based foods can be powerful inflammation fighters because they are high in fibre

Leona West Fox, a functional nutritionist, said that not only are legumes beneficial to the gut microbiome, they're also rich in vitamins and minerals like folate and magnesium, which are associated with lowering inflammation.

Omega-3 fatty acids

Studies suggest that omega-3 fatty acids may also fight inflammation. Omega-3 rich foods include fatty fish (salmon, herring, mackerel, tuna), eggs, nuts (particularly walnuts) and seeds (such as flax and hemp). West Fox recommended spreading a tablespoon of nut butter onto apple slices or sprinkling ground flaxseeds into yogurt, oatmeal or a salad .

It was a risk we were willing to take because when you're trying to bat like that, it is very easy that you can get bundled out for a low score as well. Israel Announces 'Limited' Ground Ops in Lebanon, Calls for Evacuations

Jerusalem: The Israeli military on Tuesday warned people to evacuate nearly two dozen Lebanese border communities hours after announcing the start of "limited" ground operations against Hezbollah. The militant group denied Israeli troops had entered Lebanon. Israeli Defence Minister Yoav Gallant briefed US Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin on the ground operations, his office said on Tuesday.

"The minister discussed the localised and targeted raids that the IDF (Israeli army) launched overnight, against Hezbollah terror targets in the border area of southern Lebanon,"said the statement from the defence ministry. Israel advised people to evacuate to the north of the Awali River, some 60 kilometers from the border and much farther than the Litani River, which marks the northern edge of a UN-declared zone that was intended to serve as a buffer between Israel and

"You must immediately head north of the Awali River to save yourselves, and leave your houses immediately," said the statement posted by the Israeli military's Arabic spokesperson, Avichay Adraee, on the platform X. The warning applied to communities south of the Litani.

The border region has largely emptied out over the past year as the two sides have traded fire. But the scope of the evacuation warning raised questions as to how deep Israel plans to send its forces into Lebanon as it presses ahead with a rapidly escalating campaign against Hezbollah, Agencies

Tata Sons Asks Air India to Maintain Vistara's Standards

AI mgmt told to tighten ops at meeting held last week in line with Vistara's goodwill

Kala Vijayraghavan & Arindam Majumder

Mumbai | Delhi: Tata Sons, the owner of Air India, has urged the carrier's management to proceed cautiously with the airline's ongoing merger with Vistara to avoid alienating the latter's loyal customer base. The merger is due to take effect November 12.

The seamless integration of both the brands and continuity of Vistara's service standards for all its consumers unaware of the integration of the Tata Group's aviation business was a key point during an Air India meeting held last Thursday. "There is this huge quality expectation from consumers after the Tatas acquired Air India. Vistara was always seen as offering superior brand experience to Air India and after the merger, its consumers should not feel dissatisfied," said an official close to the matter.

Tata Factory Fire Could Make Apple Send Orders to China

Such a scenario likely only if Hosur plant is not operational in a month: Experts

Subhrojit Mallick

New Delhi: Apple may have to turn to China to import enclosures for iPhones if the fire-hit Tata Electronics plant at Hosur isn't operational within a month or so, market trackers and industry executives aware of the development said. But they are hopeful that the plant will be operational in a couple of weeks as the smartphone industry has entered the crucial festive season which sees a bulk of annual sales.

Operations at the Tata Electronics plant were disrupted over the weekend as a massive fire engulfed the unit. No casualties or injuries have been reported. The plant currently makes anodised enclosures for the iPhone 15 and iPhone 16 models, according to industry analysts. Executives said that for now, the production disruption will not have any material impact on iPhone assembly happening in India. Apple's contract manufacturers have enough inventory of the component for the next 6-8 weeks, by which time officials hope that the unit will become operational.

"The fire happened in the raw material storage unit and not in the production lines. It is likely that the plant will be operational in a week or two," an industry executive told ET on condition of anonymity.

He added the mass production of enclosures began earlier this year, and is not currently why there was a fire. Tata Electronics, in a statement, said it was investigating the cause of the fire and would take necessary steps to safeguard its employees and other stakeholders.

However, market trackers said the disruption comes at a bad time for Apple - just ahead of the crucial fourth quarter which typically contributes to a third of the company's annual iPho-ne sales globally. In India, the ongoing festive season is Apple's most important for iPhone sales. "Apple would have ensured adequate supply of components for the planned ramp up in production in expectation of higher sales in the October-December quarter. In case the plant is not operational in a month or so, Apple may have to turn to China to substitute the supply with imports, said Prachir Singh, a senior analyst

India Mulls Natural Gas Trading Hub

This is to build a competitive domestic gas market; panel to suggest roadmap soon

Sanjeev Choudhary

New Delhi: India is planning to build a natural gas trading hub to help develop a competitive domestic gas market. The oil ministry officials re-

The government may soon set up a committee to suggest a roadmap to build a hub, they

THE RIDER But experts say such a scenario likely only if Hosur plant is not operational in a month

Subhrojit Mallick

New Delhi: Apple may have to turn to China to importenclosures for iPhones if the fire-hit Tata Electronics plant at Hosur isn't operational within a month or so, market trackers and industry executives aware of the development said. But they are hopeful that the plant will be operational in a couple of weeks as the smartphone industry has entered the crucial festive season which sees a bulk of annual sales.

Operations at the Tata Electronics plant were disrupted over the weekend as a massive fire engulfed the unit. No casualties or injuries have been reported. The plant currently makes anodised enclosures for the iPhone 15 and iPhone 16 models, according to industry analysts. Executives said that for now, the production disruption will not have any material impact on iPhone assembly happening in India. Apple's contract manufacturers have enough inventory of the component for the next 6-8 weeks, by which time officials hope that the unit will become operational.

"The fire happened in the raw material storage unit and not in the production lines. It is likely that the plant will be operational in a week

He added the mass production of enclosures began ear- ruption comes at a bad time for Apple lier this year, and is not currently why there was a fire. NHPC to Double Capacity to 15 GW in 5 Years, Says CMD

New Delhi: NHPC will more than double its installed capacity in the next 4-5 years to around 15,000 MW, chairman and managing director Raj Kumar Chaudhary told ET.

The company is working on 16 projects totalling 10,692 MW, he said. Of these, nine are hydro projects having a capacity of 9,314 MW and seven are solar projects with 1,378 MW capacity. Out of the nine hydro projects, NHPC will commission eight by FY29 with a capacity of 6,434 MW.

The company, which recently received the Navratna status, is also betting big on pumped hydro storage projects.

The hydro power developer has a portfolio of 11,240 MW of pumped 1,378 MW with another 1,545 MW in INSURANCE ISSUES storage projects (PSPs) in states like Andhra, Madhya Pradesh, Maha- the next 4-5 years. rashtra, Gujarat and Tripura, Chaudhary said.

Of the total PSPs, three totalling 4,350 MW are in the pre feasibility stage, four having a 4,390 MW capacity are in detailed project report sal for central financial assistanjects of 2,500 MW are where PFR has been submitted. Through the central public sector undertaking scheme for renewable energy, the company has diversified into solar power projects. It is going to soon commission its own solar projects totalling around the pipeline to be commissioned in

Of the projects in the pipeline, one is a 300 MW floating solar project in Odisha. The Cabinet last month approved the power ministry's propopreparation stage and three pro- ce to the northeastern states for power projects to be developed through a joint venture with the Centre. The scheme came with an = outlay of ₹4,136 crore to be implemented between FY25 and FY32. Chaudhary said because of the decision, there will be ease in land acquisition and maintaining law and order, among other benefits, because states will have the ownership in \(\frac{1}{2} \) the projects. The government has also recently = 3 included the development of railway siding and transmission lines 🗄 from hydro projects to nearest sub- = 0 station as part of a scheme, unlike earlier when they used to be added = to the project cost under a separate E N cost head, he said.

Chaudhary said that insurance premiums for hydro power projects have risen in the last couple of years because of the rise in natural = 9 calamities. Many of the co-insurers are now he sitating to insure, especially hydro projects or irrigation projects, because of natural calamities, he added.

Bengaluru: A fund managed by US-based investor Invesco increased the fair value of public markets-bound online food delivery company Swiggy in its books to $13.3 billion as of July 31, according to a regulatory filing made with the US Securities and Exchange Commission. At the same time, the investor reduced the valuation of fintech firm Pine Labs to $3.3 billion.

The valuation ascribed to Swiggy by Invesco was 24% higher than the $10.7 billion value at which the asset management firm invested in the company in January 2022. As of April 30, Invesco valued Swiggy at $12.7 billion.

Invesco is not participating in the offer for sale (OFS) component of Swiggy's upcoming initial public offering (IPO). BYD Sells More Than 400,000 Vehicles in Sep, Another First

Chinese automaking behemoth BYD Co. set a new record for monthly deliveries, selling more than 400,000 vehicles in September for the first time.

Passenger vehicle sales last month came in at 417,603 units, BYD said in an exchange filing Tuesday, including 164,956 battery electric cars and 252,647 plugin hybrid models.

That's up 46% versus September 2023, showcasing BYD's robust growth as it dominates its home market and increasingly exports abroad.

Of those September deliveries, more than 33,000 units were sold

So far this year, BYD's vehicle sales total 2.75 million. With a full three months left to run, the automaker looks within spitting distance of its annual target of 4 million units, considering the Golden Week holiday in China has only just kicked off and the Christmas season starts after

Beijing's recent announcement of a series of economic stimulus measures to boost disposable income may also contribute to a strong finish for BYD, which is already China's best-selling car brand.

New NATO Chief Rutte Dismisses Trump Fears, Vows Ukraine Support

NATO's new chief Mark Rutte on Tuesday downplayed fears over the impact of a potential Donald Trump victory in upcoming US elections and pledged to keep backing Ukraine, as he assumed leadership of the world's most powerful military alliance.

The former Dutch prime minister steps into the role at a pivotal moment, as Russia presses its war in Ukraine, China flexes its growing might -- and just weeks before voters in the United States head to the polls. "I'm determined to prepare NATO for the challenges of the future," Rutte said as he formally took over as secretary general from Norway's Jen Stoltenberg at NA-TO's Brussels headquarters.

The outcome of the November 5 vote is set to be the straight-talking 57-yearold's first major test—and will shape his initial four-year term at the helm. "I'm not worried. I know both candidates very well. I worked for four years with Donald Trump. He was the one pushing us to spend more, and he

"I will be able to work with both, whatever is the outcome of the elections." In opting for the veteran Dutch statesman, a staunch US ally and stalwart backer of Ukraine, NATO's 32 nations have picked a leader who will keep pushing support for Kyiv and efforts to bolster the alliance's own defences in the face of Russia. "NATO will be in safe hands with you at the helm," said Stoltenberg, who has guided the alliance through one of its most tumultuous decades. Rutte listed backing Kyiv as among his top priorities - along with ensuring NATO keeps on spending more on defence, and bolstering ties with partners including the European Union and those in the Asia Pacific.

Jayashree Bhosale

Pune: Apple growers have urged the government to double the import duty on apples to 100% and increase the minimum import price (MIP) to at least ₹90 per kg from ₹50 per kg, alleging in a letter to Union commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal dumping of cheap apples by countries including Iran and Afghanistan and some quantities coming from China through Afghanistan and Nepal as India has banned Chinese apples.

"The apples imported from Iran

Tata Factory Fire Could Make Apple Send Orders to China

THE RIDER But experts say such a scenario likely only if Hosur plant is not operational in a month

Subhrojit Mallick

New Delhi: Apple may have to turn to China to importenclosures for iPhones if the fire-hit Tata Electronics plant at Hosur isn't operational within a month or so, market trackers and industry executives aware of the development said. But they are hopeful that the plant will be operational in a couple of weeks as the smartphone industry has entered the crucial festive season which sees a bulk of annual sales.

Operations at the Tata Electronics plant were disrupted over the weekend as a massive fire engulfed the unit. No casualties or injuries have been reported. The plant currently makes anodised enclosures for the iPhone 15 and iPhone 16 models, according to industry analysts. Executives said that for now, the production disruption will not have any material impact on iPhone assembly happening in India. Apple's contract manufacturers have enough inventory of the component for the next 6-8 weeks, by which time officials hope that the unit will become operational. "The fire happened in the raw material storage unit and not in the production lines. It is likely that the plant will be operational in a week or two," an industry executive told ET on condition of anonymity. He added the lier this year, and is not currently why there was a fire. Tata Electronics, in a stase of the fire and would take necessary steps to safeguard its employees and other stakeholders.

BYD Sells More Than 400,000 Vehicles in Sep, Another First

Chinese automaking behemoth BYD Co. set a new record for monthly deliveries, selling more than 400,000 vehicles in September for the first time.

Passenger vehicle sales last month came in at 417,603 units, BYD said in an exchange filing Tuesday, including 164,956 battery electric cars and 252,647 plugin hybrid models.

That's up 46% versus September 2023, showcasing BYD's robust growth as it dominates its home market and increasingly exports abroad.

Of those September deliveries, more than 33,000 units were sold

So far this year, BYD's vehicle sales total 2.75 million. With a full three months left to run, the automaker looks within spitting distance of its annual target of 4 million units, considering the Golden Week holiday in China has only just kicked off and the Christmas season starts after

Beijing's recent announcement of a series of economic stimulus measures to boost disposable income may also contribute to a strong finish for BYD, which is already China's best-selling car brand.

BYD last month lifted its 2024 annual sales target from 3.6 million, Morgan Stanley auto analysts led by Tim Hsiao wrote in a note, citing comments from BYD management.

BYD later denied it had increased its annual target.

Sales in China more broadly of electric and hybrid vehicles are also getting a boost from a newly increased government rebate of yuan ($2,900) for qualifying models that are tra-

Bengaluru: A fund managed by US-based investor Invesco increased the fair value of public markets-bound online food delivery company Swiggy in its books to $13.3 billion as of July 31, according to a regulatory filing made with the US Securities and Exchange Commission. At the same time, the investor reduced the valuation of fintech firm Pine Labs to $3.3 billion.

The valuation ascribed to Swiggy by Invesco was 24% higher than the $10.7 billion value at which the asset management firm invested in the company in January 2022. As of April 30, Invesco valued Swiggy at $12.7 billion.

Invesco is not participating in the offer for sale (OFS) component of Swiggy's upcoming initial public offering (IPO). New NATO Chief Rutte Dismisses Trump Fears, Vows Ukraine Support

NATO's new chief Mark Rutte on Tuesday downplayed fears over the impact of a potential Donald Trump victory in upcoming US elections and pledged to keep backing Ukraine, as he assumed leadership of the world's most powerful military alliance.

The former Dutch prime minister steps into the role at a pivotal moment, as Russia presses its war in Ukraine, China flexes its growing might -- and just weeks before voters in the United States head to the polls. "I'm determined to prepare NATO for the challenges of the future," Rutte said as he formally took over as secretary general from Norway's Jen Stoltenberg at NA-TO's Brussels headquarters.

The outcome of the November 5 vote is set to be the straight-talking 57-yearold's first major test—and will shape his initial four-year term at the helm.

"I'm not worried. I know both candidates very well. I worked for four years with Donald Trump. He was the one pushing us to spend more, and he

"I will be able to work with both, whatever is the outcome of the elections." In opting for the veteran Dutch statesman, a staunch US ally and stalwart backer of Ukraine, NATO's 32 nations have picked a leader who will keep pushing support for Kyiv and efforts to bolster the alliance's own defences in the face of Russia. "NATO will be in safe hands with you at the helm," said Stoltenberg, who has guided the alliance through one of its most tumultuous decades. Rutte listed backing Kyiv as among his top priorities - along with ensuring NATO keeps on spending more on defence, and bolstering ties with partners including the European Union and those in the Asia Pacific.

Eurozone Inflation Falls Under 2% for 1st Time Since 2021

The eurozone's annual inflation rate fell to its lowest level in three-and-a-half years in September, official data showed Tuesday, dropping below the European Central Bank's two-percent target and fuelling expectations of a rate cut.

Year-on-year consumer price increases in the single currency area slowed to 1.8% in September, down from 2.2% in August, thanks to falling energy costs. The rate for the 20-country eurozone was the lowest since April 2021 and beat predictions of 1.9% by analysts surveyed by financial data firm FactSet. Core inflation, which strips out volatile energy, food, alcohol and tobacco prices and is a key indicator for the ECB, cooled slightly to 2.7% in September from 2.8% in August, the EU's official statistics agency said. SMS Whitelisting Kicks In, No Mass Disruption On Day One

New Delhi: The telecom regulator's Emandate to whitelist content in commer Ecial messages came into effect on Tues day without causing any major disrup tion even as the traffic fell 15-20%, offici-Eals tracking the development said.

"No major issue was reported from anyo ine, including banks, etc. The 15-20% drop in traffic was expected because not all the entities have all their URLs whitelisted," an official told ET, asking not to be named. "Things are going all right as of now."

Whitelisting means entities sending commercial messages must provide all information related to URLs, OTT links and APKs (Android application packa-Eges or call back numbers) to telcos, who ≡will then feed the information to their Eblockchain-based distributed ledger technology platform. If the information Ematches, the message is passed; otherwi-

As per the Trai mandate, starting October 1, any commercial message containing URLs, OTT links and APKs should be whitelisted before sending to consumers. If such messages are not verified, they will be blocked by the telecom operators.

The regulator and telecom operators took steps to avoid any disruption in delivery of messages after the deadline of whi- tions issued in August. telisting was extended by one month to October1fromSeptember1.

Apart from the whitelisting of messages, Trai had also mandated telecom operators to migrate telemarketing calls starting with 140 series to the blockchainbased distributed ledger technology (DLT) platform by September 30 so that there is better monitoring and control.

Further, to enhance message traceability, the regulator has mandated that the trail of all messages from senders to recipients must be traceable from November 2024. "Any message with an undefined or mismatched telemarketer chain will be rejected," Trai had said in its direc-

Oil Min Mulls Natural Gas Trading Centre

Sanjeev Choudhary

New Delhi: India is planning to build a natural gas trading hub to help develop a competitive domestic gas market. The oil ministry officials recently held a meeting with gas industry executives to discuss the need for a hub, where prices reflect the domestic supply and demand fundamentals, according to people familiar with the matter. The government may soon set up a committee to suggest a roadmap to build a hub, they said.

Henry Hub in the US offers the most referenced gas pricing in the world due to its large trading volume, liquidity and transparent pricing. Henry Hubis a gas pipeline in Louisiana connected to several gas markets in the US. It serves as the delivery point for futures contracts on the New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMEX). Britain's National Balancing Point (NBP) is a virtual hub, which reflects the gas price in the entire country without factoring in the transport costs, which are levied separately.

An effective trading hub in India will need to facilitate both physical and futures markets as in the case of Henry Hub, said an industry executive. India will ne-port and marketing of gas by the same entity to ensure non-discriminatory access to infrastructure, and increase involvement of financial institutions for a large effective gas exchange, multiple executives said. India set up a gas trading exchange, the Indian Dahej in Gujarat could be the physical location for the hub as the place has good pipeline connectivity, diverse suppliers and buyers, and access to more than half of the imported gas, said another industry executive. An independent transport system operator should manage the pipeline at the hub, he said.
