Tata JV talks: Thyssenkrupp labour leaders see progress

REUTERS
Dusseldorf/Frankfurt/
London, June 14

LABOUR REPRESENTATIVES
AT Thyssenkrupp have moved closer to an agreement with management over a planned European steel joint venture with Tata Steel, a member of the group's supervisory board said on Thursday.

"We have made progress in talks with management over the steel joint venture with Tata," Markus Grolms, Thyssenkrupp's supervisory board vice-chairman and trade union secretary at the IG Metall union, said.

Sources said a day earlier that both groups were struggling to finalise the joint venture, citing a valuation gap of between €500 million and €3 billion that needed to be addressed in negotiations.

One of the options to plug the gap could be raising the level of liabilities Thyssenkrupp will transfer to the venture, currently put at €4 billion the joint venture.

Talks between Thyssenkrupp and Tata Steel to create Europe's No.2 steelmaker are entering their final stretch after more than two years, with a signing still planned by the end of June.

While not absolutely necessary to get the deal through, Thyssenkrupp chief executive Heinrich Hiesinger, under pressure from activist shareholders Elliott and Cevian, needs the support of the labour side to ensure a smooth transaction.

"Management now needs to do its homework by the end of the month and straighten out the open issues," said Detlef Wetzels, member of the works council of Thyssenkrupp Steel Europe, the unit to be merged with Tata Steel Europe.

This, he said, included fixing the valuation gap, which sources said could also be done by Thyssenkrupp taking a bigger equity stake in the joint venture than Tata while keeping voting rights at 50% to be able to deconsolidate the asset.

Vedanta considers options for iron ore workers in Goa after shutdown

REUTERS
New Delhi, June 14

VEDANTA RESOURCES IS considering options including lay-offs for some of the 2,000 employees of its iron ore business in Goa that was shut down on court orders, two sources said, as it struggles with a series of setbacks in the country.

The Supreme Court in February cancelled all iron ore extraction permits in Goa and ordered mining to cease from March 16 on environmental and other concerns. The state is known for its low-quality iron ore exported to countries such as China.

London-listed Vedanta, controlled by Indian billionaire Anil Agarwal, has come under increased scrutiny in the country since police opened fire on protesters, killing 13, at a demonstration against its copper smelter in southern India last month. The smelter has since been shut down.

In Goa, industry leaders and the two sources close to Vedanta said mining was unlikely to resume within the next three years at least, as the state would have to conduct a fresh survey of its iron ore reserves before auctioning mines and seeking environmental clearances to operate them.

Vedanta said in late March it was likely to record an impairment charge of up to $600 million following the closure of the iron ore business. It added, however, that the Goa ore business would not have "any material impact" on the overall profitability of the group.

One of the sources close to the company said Vedanta typically does not fire workers, but keeping on all employees without generating sales would be difficult. The sources did not give any timeline for any action, but added the company might also offer to retain them without pay.

In response to Reuters questions on its plans for the workforce, Sangeetha Chakravarthy, a spokeswoman for Vedanta's Goa iron ore business, said in a statement: "We have moved some of our personnel to other units across the country, however that is a small fraction of the total workforce impacted by the mining ban. As of now, employees are being paid. However, this is not indefinitely sustainable in the absence of any revenue."

The company, the biggest miner in Goa with an annual production of around 5.5 million tonnes before the shutdown, said it spends ₹120 million a month on salaries of its employees in the state.

Prasanna Acharya, head of Goa's Directorate of Mines and Geology, was not immediately available for comment, his office said.

Chakravarthy said Vedanta's Goa employees had been told not to report to work, but added the company had retained its workforce during previous court and government-imposed mining bans between 2012 and 2015.

Several small, unlisted companies were also affected by the ban.

The Supreme Court in February cancelled all iron ore extraction permits in Goa and ordered mining to cease from March 16 on environmental and other concerns

Myntra opens store with 30-second self-checkout window

ANIRUDDHA GHOSH
Bengaluru, June 14

FASHION E-COMMERCE FIRM Myntra has curated, via its franchise partner, a store with tech-enabled fashion kiosks that allows for a 30-second self-checkout window and an omnichannel experience for its private label, Roadster.

The first of its kind store in Mantri Mall in Bengaluru will allow customers to check real-time online prices of products they choose via radio-frequency identification (RFID) tags in what Myntra-Jabong CEO Ananth Narayanan called an 'omnichannel' experience. The store also features a 30-second self-checkout where customers can place their desired products on the kiosk and the system calculates the number of items and the total amount, after which the customer can pay via credit or debit card.

Narayanan said this technology aims to reduce waiting time for consumers and remove the role of the cashier. Narayanan also said this concept will extend to other Roadster stores in India. Currently, Myntra has 13 private brands of which Roadster is available in brick and mortar stores and also online. But Narayanan said HRX, one of Myntra's other private labels, will also see its presence in offline stores.

Private labels provide 25% of revenues for Myntra, which Myntra Fashion Brands head Manohar Kamath said they aim to raise to 27% by the end of this year. Myntra has seen a good spell of growth with its FY17 losses reducing by 25% to ₹655 crore compared with ₹823 crore in FY16. The firm has turned in a GMV of $1.2 billion in FY17 and it expects it to increase to $1.9 billion this year. Myntra is looking to curate 50 Roadster Go stores by 2020.

CORRIGENDUM

With reference to Notice and Publication for 1st Extra Ordinary General Meeting - 2018-19 ("EOGM") of the members of AU SMALL FINANCE BANK LIMITED ("Bank"), to be held on Friday, 15th June, 2018, made on 23rd May, 2018, in all India edition of "Financial Express" in English and in Jaipur Edition of "Punjab Kesari" in Hindi. We hereby make the following clarification to the members of the Bank, all other concerned persons and authorities.

The proposed investment in both Equity Shares and Convertible Warrants (including Equity Shares to be issued upon conversion of Convertible Warrants) by Camas Investments Pte. Ltd., which holds a valid foreign portfolio investor license, was earlier categorized within a single bucket of Foreign Portfolio Investor under the explanatory statement to our EOGM Notice, which was in compliance with the extant RBI guidelines given under Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security By a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017 dated 7th November 2017, as amended ("Foreign Investment Regulations"). Based on requirements under the Foreign Investment Regulations, together with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Foreign Portfolio Investors) Regulations, 2014, we hereby clarify that the Convertible Warrants (and Equity Shares to be issued upon exercise of the Convertible Warrants) to be issued to Camas Investments Pte. Ltd. will be categorized under bucket of Foreign Company under Post Allotment Shareholding (on allotment of Equity Shares and conversion of Convertible Warrants) instead of bucket of Foreign Portfolio Investors.

Besides the aforesaid change in the shareholding pattern, there is no other changes in the Investing Entity, Pricing of Equity Shares and Convertible Warrants (including Equity Shares to be issued upon conversion of Convertible Warrants), Ultimate Beneficial Ownership, Aggregate Number of Equity Shares and Convertible Warrants and aggregate Percentage Dilution.

This corrigendum is to be read in conjunction with the EOGM Notice, Advertisements, and information above will be included in the regulatory and other filings.

All capitalized terms used in this corrigendum shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meanings ascribed in the EOGM Notice.
