Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Dataai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have circled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding, "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalashmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding, "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragnanandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragnanandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalashmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragnanandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

Sponsorship rates for TV ₹25-30 cr

Sponsorship rates for digital ₹12-15 cr

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

Sponsorship rates for TV ₹25-30 cr

Sponsorship rates for digital ₹12-15 cr

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalakshmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentalia Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

● ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

Sponsorship rates for TV
₹25-30 cr

Sponsorship rates for digital
₹12-15 cr

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country. "I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalashmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye," said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

● ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Ad rates for India matches:

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalakshmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pental Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian. "I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalakshmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pental Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragnanandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalashmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragnanandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

Sponsorship rates for TV ₹25-30 cr

Sponsorship rates for digital ₹12-15 cr

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oj je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragnanandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalashmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the

family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. ● ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely.

Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the sport now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure of expectations yet. Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalakshmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

● ACC MAY SHIFT SUPER 4 MATCH VENUE

Asia Cup: Rain puts advertisers on sticky wicket

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, September 4

RAIN-WASHED MATCHES, lack of viewer and spectator interest has put the spotlight on the ongoing Asia Cup, which is being held jointly in Sri Lanka and Pakistan. The Sri Lankan leg has been marred by rains, leaving advertisers worried, according to media agency sources. The Asian Cricket Council (ACC), led by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah, is likely to shift the venue of the Asia Cup Super 4 matches in Sri Lanka to Dambulla from Colombo.

While Asia Cup broadcaster Disney Star declined comment on the issue, the media network is said to be monitoring the situation closely. Disney had onboarded 18 sponsors across TV and digital, including Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF for the Asia Cup. Advertisers are likely to seek to make good the lack of visibility in Asia Cup at the upcoming Cricket World Cup, media industry sources said. Sponsorships for the tournament, which concludes on September 17, have been sold for around ₹25-30 crore on television and ₹12-15 crore on digital. Saturday's key clash between India and Pakistan was washed out by rains, while Monday's India-Nepal match was also halted due to rainfall. The number of overs of this match, however, were not slashed, coming as a relief to the broadcaster.

"The attention of viewers and cricket fans will be on the upcoming ODI Cricket World Cup rather than the Asia Cup,"

BATTLE FOR SCREEN TIME

■ Top sponsors onboarded by Disney (TV and digital): Thums Up, Nerolac Paints, Hindustan Unilever (Glow & Lovely, Surf Excel), Samsung, Amul, Reliance Retail (Tira), Maruti and MRF

■ JioCinema's monthly active users: 221 million

■ Disney+ Hotstar's paid subscribers in April-June quarter: 40.4 million, down 24% sequentially

■ Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for non-India matches: ₹3-4 lakh/10 seconds

■ Ad rates for India matches: ₹25-30 lakh/10 seconds

says Ayaz Memon, a cricket expert and commentator.

"The buzz has been missing in stadia at Sri Lanka as Indian fans are focused more on making it to the World Cup matches. The rain hasn't helped either," he says. Ad rates for 10-second spots on TV for the Asia Cup have been pegged at ₹3-4 lakh for non-India matches, while the rates for India matches are in the range of ₹25-30 lakh per 10 seconds, industry sources said. Disney Star has also taken a huge bet by streaming the Asia Cup and the upcoming Cricket World Cup for free on Disney+ Hotstar, its over-the-top (OTT) platform.

The strategy was designed to counter Reliance-backed Viacom18, which opted to free stream the Indian Premier League (IPL) in April-May, followed by the India-West Indies bilateral series in July-August. It may continue to free stream cricket tournaments for at least one more year to ensure it has a sticky base of subscribers. Viacom18 has also bagged the TV and digital rights of the Indian team's international and domestic matches at home in an e-auction last week.

According to data from Data.ai, a mobile data and analytics platform, monthly active users (MAU) for JioCinema stood at 221 million for June 2023, compared to 232 million for MX Player and 716 million for YouTube.

JioCinema has managed to maintain its MAU number in July and August due to non-sporting content such as Bigg Boss OTT, which notched up high viewership in its second season, media industry sources said. In contrast, Disney+ Hotstar has slipped in terms of viewership as key properties such as the IPL have exited the platform.

● WORLD CUP FINALIST IS MOBBED FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Pragg-mania hits Kolkata

18-year-old plays down adulation but says "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion"

AMIT KAMATH
Mumbai, September 4

FOR A MONDAY evening, there is a frantic hive of activity at Kolkata's Bhasha Bhawan. 50 or so autograph-hungry kids — some straight from school, mothers carrying satchels in tow — are waiting at the auditorium gate with any notebook or scrap of paper they can find.

A group of eight beady-eyed security guards — fingers interlocked — have encircled some of India's top chess prodigies as they laboriously attempt to cut through the rag-tag group of hysterical children, mothers and zealous media persons. "Oi je Pragg (That's Pragg)," shrieks one kid in Bangla into the ear of his buddy as Pragganandhaa, D Gukesh, Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi are shepherded away from the melee right after the drawing of lots for the open section of the Tata Steel Chess India.

"We've been seeing this for the last few days. Kids at the venue have been asking when Pragg and Gukesh will compete. They've even brought their chess boards for these players to sign," Jeet Banerjee, the director of Gameplan, which organises the event, had told The Indian Express just a day earlier.

August has been a heady month for Indian chess — the start of a new era if you will, with Gukesh taking over from Viswanathan Anand as India no 1 after 37 years and four Indian chess players making it to the quarterfinals of the cut-throat FIDE World Cup. But one development has garnered the most attention: Pragg reaching the final of the World Cup.

Indian chess players Viswanathan Anand (left) and R. Pragganandhaa during draw of lots ceremony of the 5th open edition of Tata Steel Chess India Rapid & Blitz tournament, in Kolkata on Monday.

While doing so, he sealed a spot in the Candidates Tournament and captured the imagination of the country.

"I didn't expect this sort of reaction. Everyone recognising a chess player... I knew it would happen some day. Didn't think it would happen so soon!" Pragganandhaa told journalists on Monday morning during a 40-minute free-wheeling interaction. "It's very good to see the fanfare. It shows that chess is growing in India. We'll have more young players coming up, more sponsors coming into the game. The game will grow even more. As a chess fan, I'm very happy to see that."

But what he says next makes the 18-year-old appear wiser beyond his teenage years. "I try not to think about the adulation too much because it can get to your mind easily. My priority is to prepare and play well. With so many people following the spot now, it's very important for me to inspire people. Maybe more young players will come up in chess then. Maybe, someone who has the potential to be even stronger can come up," said Pragg. Perhaps it should come as no surprise then, that he is asked about being the next Vishy Anand of India.

He dismisses such premature comparisons as smoothly as he evades traps on the 64 squares. "It's a long, long way for that. We have a lot of strong players from India. I don't take such things very seriously," he said before adding: "Somehow I don't feel that pressure (of expectations yet). Maybe in the future I will feel it. I try to avoid the pressure of others' expectations."

Pragg mania

Such has been the Pragg craze in India, that anyone who has come into his vicinity

during the World Cup has found themselves in the spotlight. While Pragg was in Baku for the World Cup, the Indian Ambassador to Azerbaijan, Sridharan Madhusudhanan, had hosted him and his mother for a meal and had sent them home-cooked food to their room on occasion. Since that story went viral, the diplomat had received multiple interview requests just to ask about those slices of conversations with the boy. Photographer Maria Emelianova, who took the now-viral photos of his mother Nagalakshmi, was also requested for multiple selfies by fans at the Bhasha Bhawan on Monday.

When he returned to the country, Pragg was showered with flower petals, and way too much attention. A gaggle of mediapersons jostled for answers from him as he appeared out of the sun roof of a luxury vehicle at Chennai airport. Anand Mahindra has already promised to gift the family an EV. So far, Pragg has been feted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, sports minister Anurag Thakur and the Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu, MK Stalin. Even cricketers like Sachin Tendulkar, R Ashwin and Yuzvendra Chahal were quick to congratulate him on social media. The Tata Steel Chess India too has seen growing interest this year, thanks to the recent success of Indian players, the organisers said. "For sure there is a bigger interest in the event because of what Pragganandhaa and other Indian players did at the World Cup. Chess has been more in the public eye!" said Banerjee.

Many Indian players like Anand and Pentala Harikrishna spoke of the memories that they have of Kolkata. Anand's memory was of the reception he got from fans.

On Monday, a day before the open event of the Tata Steel started, the city gave Anand's successors a taste of that fanatical adulation too.

The Tata Steel Chess India, now the country's premier chess event, has always attracted top stars. At the inaugural event in 2018, players like Anand, Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian, Wesley So and Sergey Karjakin were in attendance. This year, the field is half Indian.

"I've always enjoyed being in Kolkata. Tata Steel Chess India is one of the super tournaments (events where top-rated players are invited) happening in India. This is where I got to play Hikaru Nakamura, Levon Aronian and Anand sir in 2018 for the first time. This is where I got a glimpse of what top chess is about," he says. Now that he has found a home at the top, Pragg is hungry for more.

"There's still a lot to learn and improve for me. I can go much higher than where I am currently," he said before adding: "I feel like I have the potential to be the world champion."

वित्त मंत्रालय ने शुरू की बजट बनाने की प्रक्रिया

विभिन्न मंत्रालयों से आय-व्यय का ब्योरा मांगा

जनसत्ता ब्यूरो
नई दिल्ली, 4 सितंबर।

वित्त मंत्रालय ने वित्त वर्ष 2024-25 के लिए अंतरिम बजट तैयार करने की प्रक्रिया विभिन्न विभागों एवं मंत्रालयों से आय-व्यय संबंधी ब्योरा मंगाने के साथ ही शुरू कर दी है। अगले साल अप्रैल-मई में संभावित लोकसभा चुनाव को देखते हुए इस बार अंतरिम बजट ही पेश किया जाएगा। इस वित्त वर्ष का पूर्ण बजट लोकसभा चुनाव के बाद गठित होने वाली नई सरकार करेगी।

वित्त मंत्रालय में आर्थिक मामलों के विभाग के बजट प्रभाग ने वित्त वर्ष 2024-25 के लिए बजट संबंधी परिपत्र जारी कर दिया है। इसके मुताबिक, व्यव सचिव की अध्यक्षता में अक्टूबर, 2023 के दूसरे सप्ताह से बजट-पूर्व बैठकों का दौर शुरू हो जाएगा और यह

वित्त मंत्रालय में आर्थिक मामलों के विभाग के बजट प्रभाग ने वित्त वर्ष 2024-25 के लिए बजट संबंधी परिपत्र जारी कर दिया है।

सिलसिला नवंबर के मध्य तक चलेगा। एक सितंबर को जारी परिपत्र के मुताबिक, वित्तीय सलाहकारों को यह सुनिश्चित करना चाहिए कि पांच अक्टूबर तक जरूरी ब्योरे मुहैया करा दिए जाएं।

बजट-पूर्व बैठकों में मंत्रालयों या विभागों की प्रासियों के साथ सभी तरह के खर्चों के लिए जरूरी वित्त पर चर्चा की जाती है। इनमें गैर-कर राजस्व पर भी विशुद्ध आधार पर गौर किया जाएगा।

परिपत्र के मुताबिक, सभी मंत्रालयों एवं विभागों को समर्पित कोष वाले स्वायत्तशासी निकायों या अनुपालन संस्थाओं का भी ब्योरा देना होगा। बजट-पूर्व बैठकों का दौर खत्म होने के बाद वित्त वर्ष 2024-25 के बजट अनुमानों को अस्थायी रूप से अंतिम रूप दिया जाएगा। यह केंद्रीय वित्त मंत्री के रूप में निर्मला सीतारमण के कार्यकाल का लगातार छठा बजट होगा। उन्होंने अपना पहला बजट जुलाई, 2019 में पेश किया था।

शेयर बाजार में दूसरे दिन भी तेजी, सूचकांक 241 अंक चढ़ा

मुंबई, 4 सितंबर (भाषा)।

वैश्विक बाजारों में मजबूत रुख के बीच घरेलू स्तर पर उत्साहजनक वृहद-आर्थिक आंकड़े आने से सोमवार को सूचकांक व निफ्टी लगातार दूसरे कारोबारी सत्र में बढ़त के साथ बंद हुए। कारोबारियों के मुताबिक, विदेशी पूंजी का प्रवाह बढ़ने और सूचना प्रौद्योगिकी (आइटी) व धातु कंपनियों में खरीदारी से भी बाजार की धारणा को बल मिला।

बीएसई का 30 शेयरों वाला सूचकांक 240.98 अंक यानी 0.37 फीसद चढ़ कर 65,628.14 अंक पर बंद हुआ। कारोबार के दौरान एक समय यह 296.75 अंक तक उछल कर 65,683.91 अंक पर पहुंच गया था। नेशनल स्टॉक एक्सचेंज (एनएसई) का निफ्टी

नेशनल स्टॉक एक्सचेंज (एनएसई) का निफ्टी भी 93.50 अंक यानी 0.48 फीसद बढ़ कर 19,528.80 अंक पर बंद हुआ।

भी 93.50 अंक यानी 0.48 फीसद बढ़ कर 19,528.80 अंक पर बंद हुआ। वियोजीत फाइनेंशियल सर्विसेज के शोध प्रमुख विनोद नायर ने कहा कि हाल में आए वृहद-आर्थिक आंकड़ों ने घरेलू बाजारों को लेकर सकारात्मक तस्वीर पेश की है।

उन्होंने कहा कि निफ्टी आठो सूचकांक के रिकार्ड स्तर पर पहुंचने के बाद मुनाफा वसूली हुई, लेकिन बाजार ने आइटी शेयरों में खरीदारी के दम पर मजबूती बनाए रखी। सूचकांक की कंपनियों में विप्रो में सर्वाधिक 4.34 फीसद की

बढ़त दर्ज की गई। इसके अलावा एचसीएल टेक, अल्ट्राटेक सीमेंट, टाटा स्टील, टेक महिंद्रा, एनटीपीसी, इन्फोसिस, पावर ग्रिड, टाटा कंसल्टेंसी सर्विसेज और भारतीय स्टेट बैंक में भी तेजी रही। दूसरी तरफ महिंद्रा एंड महिंद्रा, आइटीसी, एक्सिस बैंक, नेस्ले, कोटक महिंद्रा बैंक और एशियन पेट्रोल के शेयरों में गिरावट का रुख रहा।

व्यापक बाजार में बीएसई मिडकैप सूचकांक 0.96 फीसद चढ़ गया, जबकि स्मालकैप में 0.84 फीसद की बढ़त दर्ज की गई। एचडीएफसी सिक्वोरिटीज के खुदरा शोध प्रमुख दीपक जसानी ने कहा कि वैश्विक बाजारों में तेजी का रुख है। अमेरिका में रोजगार परिदृश्य थोड़ा नरम रहने से ब्याज दरों पर थोड़ी राहत मिलने की उम्मीद जगी है।

बिजली की खपत 16 फीसद बढ़कर 151.66 अरब यूनिट हुई

नई दिल्ली, 4 सितंबर (भाषा)।

देश में बिजली खपत इस साल अगस्त में सालाना आधार पर 16 फीसद से अधिक बढ़कर 151.66 अरब यूनिट (बीयू) हो गई। उमस भरे मौसम के दौरान एअर कंडीशनर जैसे उपकरणों के अधिक उपयोग के कारण बिजली की खपत बढ़ी है।

बिजली की खपत अगस्त, 2022 में 130.39 अरब यूनिट और अगस्त, 2021 में 127.88 बीयू थी। सरकारी आंकड़ों के अनुसार, अगस्त, 2023 में अधिकतम बिजली की मांग (किसी एक दिन में सबसे अधिक बिजली आपूर्ति) बढ़कर 236.59 गीगावाट हो गई। यह आंकड़ा अगस्त, 2022 में 195.22 गीगावाट और अगस्त, 2021 में 196.27 गीगावाट था।

बिजली मंत्रालय का अनुमान था कि इस साल अगस्त में बिजली की मांग 229 गीगावाट तक पहुंच जाएगी। इस साल अप्रैल-जुलाई में बेमौसम बारिश के कारण मांग अनुमानित स्तर तक नहीं पहुंच पाई थी। हालांकि, अधिकतम आपूर्ति जून में 223.29 गीगावाट और जुलाई में 208.95 गीगावाट पर रही। उद्योग विशेषज्ञों ने कहा कि देश में व्यापक बारिश के कारण इस साल मार्च, अप्रैल, मई और जून में बिजली की मांग प्रभावित हुई। उन्होंने कहा कि अगस्त में बिजली की खपत के साथ ही मांग में भी वृद्धि हुई है।

उमस भरे मौसम और त्योहारी सीजन से पहले औद्योगिक गतिविधियों में तेजी के चलते ऐसा हुआ।
