Management's Comment:

Mr. Hirenkumar Shah, Managing Director, Vertoz Limited commented:

"Alongside financial progress, Vertoz has been taking a step back to reassess how it wants to be understood by the market. The company has evolved well beyond its early identity as an advertising-led business. Today, Vertoz operates across advertising, media monetisation, digital identity and cloud infrastructure — often working across multiple parts of the media execution eco-system.

This has led to an internal review of long-term positioning.

Rather than rushing into a rebrand or a sudden shift, Vertoz is choosing a more deliberate route — allowing the positioning to emerge from the work the company is increasingly doing.

Having said that, what stands out for me is the consistency — even with the uncertainty in global markets, the business stayed on course. Our approach has been straightforward: keep improving, stay adaptable, and continue building with intent. That focus is what's carrying us forward."

Mr. Ashish Shah, Director, Vertoz Limited, said:

"The past few quarters have been about strengthening the core of the business. Profitability has improved, margins have stabilised and execution has become more disciplined. At the same time, we have been reflecting on where Vertoz fits in a rapidly changing media and technology landscape. That work is ongoing and will shape the company's next phase of growth.

We are entering the final quarter of the year with stronger operating fundamentals and better clarity on the direction ahead. The focus remains on consistent execution, steady financial performance and preparing the business for larger opportunities over time.
