CEO MAKES THE REMARKS DURING A COMPANY-WIDE MEETING

Apple's Cook talks immigration, succession and AI at meeting

BLOOMBERG
February 6

APPLE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER Tim Cook told employees that he's "deeply distraught" with the current US approach to immigration and will continue pressing the issue with lawmakers. "I've heard from some of you that don't feel comfortable leaving your homes," Cook said during an all-hands meeting with staff on Thursday. "No one should feel this way. No one."

We have been a smarter and more innovative company because we've attracted the best from all corners of the world. I am going to continue to lobby lawmakers on this issue

The CEO added that immigration is especially important to Apple, which has "team members across the US in some form of visa."

"For as long as I can remember, we have been a smarter, wiser, more innovative company because we've attracted the best and brightest from all corners of the world," he said. "I am going to continue to lobby lawmakers on this issue. You have my word on that."

The remarks were part of a wide-ranging discussion that also touched on Apple's artificial intelligence efforts and executive succession.

Cook previously addressed immigration in a memo released last week, when he said he was "heartbroken" by events in Minneapolis, where federal agents have killed two people. "This is a time for deescalation," Cook said at the time. He also said he had discussed the matter with President Donald Trump. In the wake of the memo, employees privately criticised Cook for what they considered a limited and late response to the shootings.

"Every person deserves to be treated with dignity and respect," the CEO said during Thursday's meeting. "No matter where they come from," he also responded to an employee who said they were concerned about being deported and separated from their daughter.

Cook said, "I love you if you're on DACA," referring to the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) programme that allows people who came to the US as a child to remain in the country on a work permit. He said that Apple has hundreds of DACA workers.

"I will personally advocate for you," he said. "I am a huge believer in the programme."

When discussing AI, Cook said new devices would take advantage of the technology. He also reflected on the record-breaking holiday quarter results, Apple's services business and plans to celebrate the company's 50th anniversary.

"AI is one of the most profound opportunities of our entire lifetime," he said, echoing a theme he's explored before. "I truly believe there is no company better positioned to let our customers use AI in profound and meaningful ways than Apple."

He responded to concerns about rivals launching new types of AI devices. "There will be new categories of products and services that are enabled through AI, and we're extremely excited about that," he said. "We're excited about the opportunities that it opens for Apple."

Suicide attack in Islamabad leaves 31 dead, 169 injured

REUTERS
Islamabad, February 6

AN ATTACKER OPENED fire at the gates of a Shiite Muslim mosque in Islamabad on Friday before setting off a suicide bomb and killing at least 31 people in the deadliest attack of its kind in Pakistan's capital in over a decade.

More than 170 others were wounded in the explosion, detonated after guards challenged the attacker as he made his way into the Khadija Tul Kubra Imambargah compound on the outskirts of the city, officials said.

Images from the site showed bloody bodies lying on the carpeted mosque floor surrounded by shards of glass, debris and panicked worshippers. Dozens more wounded were lying in the gardens of the compound as people called for help. The man blew "himself up in the last row of worshippers," Defence Minister Khawaja Asif wrote on X.

He said the bomber had a history of travelling to Afghanistan and banned India for sponsoring the assault, without providing evidence.

There was no immediate response from New Delhi, which has dismissed Pakistan's accusations of backing militants in the past.

The attack was the deadliest suicide bombing in Islamabad in more than a decade, according to conflict monitor ACLED, which said it "bears the hallmarks of the Islamic State."

Toyota names close ally of chairman as next CEO

REUTERS
Tokyo, February 6

TOYOTA ON FRIDAY named finance chief Kenta Kon, a close ally and former secretary of Chairman Akio Toyoda, as its next chief executive to steer the world's biggest automaker as competition from fast-moving Chinese rivals intensifies. The surprise move will see CEO Koji Sato step down on April 1 after just three years at the helm to become vice chairman and take on the newly created role of chief industry officer.

Kenta Kon is known for keeping a tight lid on costs

Kon, known for keeping a tight lid on costs, is widely seen as the architect of a planned buy-out of forklift subsidiary Toyota Industries. The deal, which would tighten the Toyota family's grip on the group, has drawn opposition from minority investors who say it lacks transparency and is underpriced. Kon served as Toyota's secretary from 2009, when Toyoda became CEO, until 2017, when Kon was appointed head of the accounting division. Led by the founder's grandson, Toyoda for almost 14 years before naming Sato as his successor.

The leadership change was announced alongside Q3 results, with Toyota raising its full-year operating profit outlook by almost 1.2%, helped by a weaker yen and cost cuts. Toyota shares turned positive following the announcement and results. Automakers globally are scrambling to respond as Chinese rivals upend the market. Toyota has fared better than most, thanks to its contrarian bet on gasoline-electric hybrids.

While peers have been stung by costs from a rapid push into EVs—Stellantis announced a $2.6 billion writedown—Toyota's focus on hybrids has proved resilient, underpinning record sales, including last year when it kept its crown as the world's top seller.

M&M to invest ₹15,000 cr in Maharashtra

THE FACILITY WILL cater to both domestic and export markets. The Nagpur plant will support Mahindra's next-generation vehicle platforms and manufacture products across multiple powertrains, including internal combustion engine vehicles, electric vehicles and future technologies. A 150-acre supplier park is also planned in Sambhajnagar to support the upcoming facility.

This facility represents a bold step forward in Mahindra's manufacturing journey. Designed to support our next generation of vehicles and tractors, it brings together scale, flexibility and advanced technology within one integrated footprint," Rajesh Jejurkar, executive director and CEO, auto and farm sector, Mahindra & Mahindra, said. "It strengthens our ability to deliver world-class products while staying true to our commitment to Make in India for the world."

In addition to the Nagpur project, the group said it will acquire land in the Itga-puri-Nashik region to expand existing product and engine capacities and to support the growth of its advanced technology business.

Overall, Mahindra plans to acquire over 2,000 acres across three locations in Maharashtra as part of the investment programme. The announcement was made at Advantage Vidarba, a three-day flagship investor event aimed at positioning the region as an emerging industrial growth hub.

Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis said the decision underlined the state's attractiveness as a manufacturing destination.

"Mahindra's decision to establish its largest integrated auto and tractor manufacturing facility in Maharashtra is a strong endorsement of the state's robust industrial ecosystem and progressive policy framework," he said.

The investment is expected to generate significant employment and accelerate regional development in Vidarba and surrounding areas.

NSE board nod to IPO; issue only via offer for sale

THE BOARD ALSO approved the reconstitution of the IPO Committee comprising NSE Non-Independent Director Tabish Pandey as chairperson, Srinivas Injeti, Mamata Biswal, Abhilasha Kumar, G Sivakumar and other probes. Earlier, in the day the National Coal Exchange (NCE) Coal Exchange/India Coal Exchange, as approved by the ministry of corporate affairs. NSE has approved capital infusion of up to ₹100 crore in the proposed coal exchange subsidiary.

In 2016, the exchange had filed its first draft red herring prospectus in which it had filed for an offer for sale of 111.41 million shares. However, the markets regulator has asked it to withdraw due to the ongoing coal and other probes. The National Coal Exchange (NCE) Coal Exchange/India Coal Exchange, as approved by the ministry of corporate affairs. NSE has approved capital infusion of up to ₹100 crore in the proposed coal exchange subsidiary.
