The Shehbaz Sharif gov imposed the measures on Oct 11, citing rising militancy and alleged failures in counterterrorism efforts. Opposition lawmakers protested during the joint sitting, rejecting allegations of supporting militants. The intervention effectively displaced the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf-led provincial government.

SACRED SHIELD | Rebels deny role; drone destroyed in oil-rich eastern region

Saudi Arabia thwarts Houthi cruise missile strike on Medina

Dubai: The Saudi-led coalition fighting Iranian-backed Houthi rebels said on Thursday it thwarted a missile attack on Medina and a drone attack in the kingdom's eastern region. The coalition said it intercepted and destroyed a cruise missile over Medina but did not blame any group.

Houthi military spokesperson Brigadier General Yahya Saree denied involvement. The rebels had earlier pledged not to target airports in the holy cities of Mecca and Medina.

Medina is where Prophet Muhammad established the Muslim community, while Mecca, Islam's holiest city, is where he was born and received his revelations.

cancelled or delayed at Jeddah airport, as per flight-tracking platform Flightradar24.

Earlier on Thursday, Saudi said it destroyed a drone over the oil-rich Eastern Province.

Meanwhile, Turkiye's Defence Ministry said a pact with Pakistan and Saudi Arabia, including any deployment of Turkish troops, would require parliamentary approval.

US weighs 'mother of all bombs' attack on Iran

The US military has drawn up fresh strike plans that could involve deploying the "mother of all bombs" against Iranian nuclear sites and energy infrastructure if President Donald Trump orders renewed operations, CNN reported, citing officials.

The GBU-43/B Massive Ordnance Air Blast Bomb, the largest non-nuclear weapon in the US arsenal, could target facilities including Pickaxe Mountain. However, officials reportedly question its effectiveness in achieving strategic objectives.

Iran will end very shortly. It's gonna be over very shortly, and your energy prices will fall very rapidly, very fast. I had to make an excursion down to Iran to take away the nuclear weapon. And we've done that. They won't have a nuclear weapon. The war's gonna be over very soon. Donald Trump, POTUS

Israel shuts food supplies to Gaza ahead of winter

Jerusalem: Israel has halted commercial goods entering Gaza, threatening food supplies as the war-ravaged territory braces for winter.

Israeli military body COGAT announced the suspension on Wednesday, claiming Gaza merchants had stopped shipments over Hamas-imposed taxes and threats. However, Gaza's private truckers union disputed the claim, blaming Israel.

Aid workers warned that humanitarian assistance alone cannot meet the needs of Gaza's two million residents. Food insecurity remains at crisis levels. —AP

HOUTHIS DEVELOPING MISSILES WITH CHINESE PARTS: REPORT

Iran-backed Houthis are developing medium-range ballistic missiles using Chinese components, potentially bringing Saudi Arabia and Israel within striking range, The Wall Street Journal reported, citing UK-based Conflict Armament Research. The missiles could travel 1,200 miles.

Yemeni authorities intercepted two shipments last year containing missile components linked to Iran's Kheibar Shekan ballistic missile, alongside specialised tools and materials.

However, analysts said it remains unclear whether the Houthi rebels have successfully manufactured the weapon, given their heavily concealed production facilities.
