Hold awareness campaign to aware people to use multi-level parking

■ Staff Reporter

“BMC has constructed multilevel parking lots for systematic parking of vehicles in some areas of the city but are used only by a few. So, a two-day awareness campaign should be launched in the State capital to aware people to use multi-level parking,” said Divisional Commissioner Kavindra Kiyawat. He gave the above directions to Collector Avinash Lavania and BMC Commissioner KVS Chaudhary Kolsani in a meeting. He said that mass publicity of awareness campaign should be done. Posters and banners should be installed in public to appeal to citizens to park their vehicles at multi-level parking instead of parking at public place. A fine of Rs 500 will be imposed on not parking vehicles at these multi-level parking lots, said Kiyawat. Notably, it has been since multi-level parking was constructed in Bhopal at MP Nagar, Bairagarh, New Market and others, but the locals and traders are not using the parking facility. If citizens do park their vehicles here at multi-level parking lots, it will save them from problem of time saving, pollution as well as traffic jams and these parking are convenient as well.
