Vision to make Indian Ocean 'ocean of opportunity': Modi

● Talks reflected on expanding ties across defence and maritime security

DIVYA
New Delhi, June 28

INDIA ENVISIONS An Indian Ocean where maritime security is ensured alongside economic prosperity and where partnership is not based on size, but on mutual respect and trust, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who on a three-day visit to Seychelles, said on Sunday.

"Our vision is to make the Indian Ocean an Ocean of Opportunity," he said, after a delegation-level talks with Seychelles President Patrick Herminie, during which the two sides reviewed the full spectrum of bilateral cooperation and exchanged views on regional and international issues of mutual interest.

Addressing the National Assembly later in the day, Modi said the Global South, especially island nations, was the most impacted by climate change and called for climate action guided by "fairness, responsibility and equity". He said those who had contributed the least to climate change should not bear the greatest burden of its consequences. "This is the essence of climate justice," he said.

Modi, the guest of honour for Seychelles' National Day celebrations, was conferred with the honorary 'Guardian of the Blue Horizon' title for his commitment to environmental conservation and sustainable development.

The key outcomes of the talks reflected the broadening of New Delhi's engagement with the strategically located Indian Ocean archipelagic nation, expanding cooperation across defence and maritime security to connectivity, capacity building, development partnership, digital payments, space, health, agriculture and education. "We believe the Indian Ocean is our shared home. Its security, sustainability and prosperity are our shared responsibility," Modi said after the talks.

He said the two sides discussed making bilateral economic cooperation more resilient and future-ready. "We will continue to explore new opportunities for the industries of both our countries. Work will also be done to enhance connectivity between India and Seychelles," he said.

In his statement, Herminie said: "As maritime neighbours, security in the Indian Ocean region remains central to our relationship. We reaffirm Seychelles' special place in India's Mahasagar vision. We affirmed our commitment to counter piracy, drug trafficking, illegal fishing, and cross-border crime."

He also acknowledged India's support in strengthening the country's maritime capabilities through surveillance, hydrography and defence capacity building.

"Development partnership has been a strong pillar of India-Seychelles relations, guided by Seychelles' priorities, was especially pleased to pursue discussions on the announcement of the Special Economic Package of $175 million (₹1,650 crore approximately) from India," Herminie said.

Army to establish, operationalise first Integrated Battle Groups next month

AMRITA NAYAK DUTTA
New Delhi, June 28

THE ARMY IS set to establish and operationalise its first Integrated Battle Groups (IBG) by next month, marking a significant transformation under which self-contained, agile, brigade-sized fighting units will be carved out of the Panagah-based XVII Corps — the mountain strike corps (MSC) facing China — for swift deployment in mountainous areas. The Indian Express has learnt.

Sources privy to the development told The Indian Express that the earlier plan was to create four IBGs under the two divisions operating under the XVII MSC — the 59 Division and the 23 Division — by September. However, this is now learnt to have been advanced to July 1.

It had first been reported in January this year that the long-drawn plans to create IBGs had gathered pace and may be implemented soon. According to the existing plans, four IBGs and a fire support group will be created under the XVII MSC. Each of the five will be commanded by a Major General rank officer. Each IBG will comprise over 5,000 troops, with 12-13 units, and may have a Brigadier-rank officer as the Chief Operations Officer. While the four IBGs will be Engineers (EME), Combat Engineers, Army Service Corps, and a field hospital or others.

The creation of the IBGs is part of a larger restructuring plan of the Army, which includes the creation of Bhairav battalions, Rudra brigades, Divyastra batteries and Shaikibaan units. The Rudra brigades, commanded by a Brigadier, will also have multiple elements, but will be dependent on the division for more support. IBGs will be larger in size and more self-contained and independent in nature.

These will be the first IBGs of the Army — a move proposed in one of the four studies initiated by then Army Chief General Bipin Rawat on the restructuring of the Army. The plans to establish IBGs have been under discussion for about seven years now.

Each IBG will have battalions of infantry, artillery regiments, as well as elements of the Corps of Electronics and Mechanical

AYODHYA RAM TEMPLE DONATION 'THEFT'

Police search houses of eight arrested men

MANISH SAHU
Lucknow, June 28

TWO DAYS AFTER arresting eight people on allegations of theft and embezzlement of funds and valuables donated to the Ram temple in Ayodhya, police on Sunday carried out searches at the residences of all eight accused, who are currently in judicial custody.

"The searches were conducted out as part of the investigation to gather evidence," a senior police officer said.

This came a day before the accused, identified as Avinash Shukla, Lavkush Mishra, Anuakal Mishra, Manish Kumar Yadav, Karunesh Pandey, Ramshankar Mishra, Ram Shankar Yadav alias Tinnu Yadav, and Subhash Srivastava, were due to be produced before the court after their three-day judicial custody.

The police team first reached the residence of the main accused, Tinnu Yadav, who worked as a driver for Champat Rai eight police teams searched the premises where the accused had been living in Ayodhya. Police teams verified their addresses before carrying out the coordinated action.

They first reached the residence of the main accused, Tinnu Yadav, who worked as a driver for Champat Rai. Rai had recently stepped down as general secretary of the Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust.

Another accused, Srivastava, a retired bank employee, reportedly supervised donation-counting shifts in the Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Centre. The other six accused counted the cash and valuables offered by devotees.

As GST turns 10, focus shifts to AI-driven compliance, faster refunds, data sharing

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 28

AS INDIA ENTERS the tenth year of rollout of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), the focus is shifting from implementation to efficiency through use of artificial intelligence (AI), data sharing and process simplification to reduce compliance costs, speed up refunds and tighten enforcement.

The government is increasingly using technology to simplify compliance, particularly for micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs), while integrating GST, income tax and customs databases to improve risk assessment, curb tax evasion, and reduce manual intervention. GST implementation Government is using tech to simplify compliance for MSMEs, while integrating GST, income tax and customs databases helped broaden the tax base, strengthened compliance and increased revenues, making the indirect tax regime one of India's most significant economic reforms.

Introduced on July 1, 2017, GST replaced a complex system of 17 central and state taxes and 19 cesses with a unified indirect tax framework. The reform, rolled out after years of negotiations between the Centre and states, was aimed at creating a common national market and reducing cascading taxes.

The registered taxpayer base has expanded from 6.65 million at launch to about 16 million in 2024, reflecting increased formalisation of the economy.

GST was introduced as a four-tier structure of 5, 12, 18 and 28 per cent. A cess was levied over and above the 28% rate for luxury, silk and diamond goods. As the GST system matured over the years, with stability in revenues and technology backend, besides increasing the registered taxpayer base, policymakers decided it was time for a rate rationalisation.

Starting September 22, 2025, a next-gen GST with a two-tier structure was launched by placing most goods and services into two slabs — 5% for essential items and 18% for standard goods and services.

A separate 40% slab was kept only for luxury and diamond goods. Following the rate cut, prices of most items went down, resulting in savings for people.
