Saxo Bank selects Topcoder for digital talent on demand

Engagement will leverage crowdsourcing to execute digital transformation initiatives for Saxo Bank

Copenhagen, Denmark and Bangalore, India – December 14, 2018: Wipro Limited (NYSE: WIT, BSE: 507685, NSE: WIPRO), a leading global information technology, consulting and business process services company and Saxo Bank Group (Saxo Bank), a leading multi asset trading and investment specialist with more than 25 years of Fintech innovation, today announced a strategic partnership. Saxo Bank has chosen Topcoder, a Wipro company and the world's largest talent network and crowdsourcing platform for data scientists, programmers and designers, for the execution of digital transformation initiatives at the bank.

Topcoder is home to a global, on-demand network of designers and technologists. It became a part of Wipro in November 2016. At Topcoder, a network of talent assists companies of all sizes to uncover and put together innovative ideas and digital solutions in terms of apps, dashboards and algorithms. Every challenge is presented to the Topcoder community in the form of a competition, wherein only the best and the most innovative solutions are selected.

This engagement will enable Saxo Bank to provide its customers unparalleled access to global financial markets, cutting-edge technologies and industry-leading expertise. The program will also help the bank secure high-quality end results through access to Topcoder's network of 1 million+ designers, developers and technology architects, who will bid on the individual assignments and deliver design concepts, prototypes and click-through apps.

"Uncovering an innovative idea and executing on that idea quickly is crucial for us to stay ahead of the technology curve and continue to deliver a unique digital client experience. Leveraging crowdsourcing and working with Topcoder helps us execute on our ambitious strategy and innovation projects," says Richard Douglas, Global COO, Group IT at Saxo Bank.

Mike Morris, Global Head- Crowdsourcing, Wipro Limited said, "The Nordic region is a powerhouse of innovation and companies in this region are increasingly taking advantage of new and advanced technologies to deliver better products and services for their customers. We see tremendous potential for Topcoder to accelerate innovation for Nordic businesses."

"Innovation is something, every company wants to achieve, but it is easy to hit a roadblock in the initial ideation phase. This partnership enables Saxo Bank to not only uncover new ideas, but also to see them through to execution with top talent. Offering tasks to a crowdsourcing talent network helps achieve the best possible outcome on every assignment," added Morris.

Wipro has been present in the Nordic region for over a decade and works with customers across the healthcare, manufacturing, energy, natural resources, utilities, financial services, telecom and retail industry verticals. Wipro also has a presence in the Nordic region through its acquired entities – Appirio, which helps companies improve their worker and customer experiences through cloud technology and Designit, a strategic design firm specializing in transformative product-service experiences.
