Chief of Defence Staff Unveils Zen Technologies' AI-Powered Defence Systems to Enhance Surveillance, Firepower & National Security

Zen Technologies Limited Showcases Cutting-Edge Anti-Drone and Combat Solutions at Aero India 2025

Advanced Defence Innovations Strengthen India's Military Readiness and Technological Superiority

Zen Technologies Limited, India's leading Anti-Drone technology and Defence training solutions provider today announced the launch of three advanced defence systems at Aero India 2025 at Yelahanka, Bengaluru. In a major step toward modernizing the defence system, Chief of Defence Staff, General Anil Chauhan highlighted the growing importance of indigenous innovation in strengthening India's national security.

Aero India serves as a prominent global platform for showcasing state-of-the-art defence capabilities. Zen's latest product offerings, designed to enhance combat precision, aerial firepower, and anti-drone defence drew significant attention from defence officials, military leaders, and global industry representatives.

Game-Changing Innovations for Modern Warfare

Zen Technologies introduced three cutting-edge defence systems that address emerging security threats with unparalleled efficiency:

- Zen Vyomkavach – Advanced Anti-Drone System – In an era where aerial threats are rapidly evolving, Zen Vyomkavach stood as a major highlight of the event. Vyomkavach is an advanced anti-drone innovation that provides comprehensive real-time drone detection and neutralization against all types of drone threats including the likes of Byraktar TB2 and Swarms for safeguarding military installations and critical infrastructure.
- Four Barrel Rotary Machine Gun (12.7 x 99 mm) – A state-of-the-art weapon system engineered for anti-drone and high-intensity combat applications. Designed to deliver unmatched firepower, precision, and adaptability, this cutting-edge firearm is the ultimate choice for countering aerial threats with maximum efficiency.
- Twin Barrel Autocannon (Turreted 20 mm)– This advanced twin-barrel system provides enhanced strike capability for combat helicopters. With superior stabilization and high accuracy, it ensures pilots can engage targets effectively while operating in fast-moving battle scenarios.

Stressing on the need to move forward from imitative to innovative and distinctive technologies, Mr. Ashok Atluri, Chairman and Managing Director of Zen Technologies, said, "It is an honour for Zen Technologies to have our products unveiled by Honourable Chief of Defence Staff. This recognition reinforces our commitment to delivering world-class defence solutions that strengthen India's security and global defence presence. Our cutting-edge systems are designed to counter evolving threats with precision and agility."

Mr. Atluri further emphasized the importance of pushing the boundaries of technological innovation, urging government and industry stakeholders to support the development of next-generation solutions that anticipate and neutralize future threats.

Zen's participation at Aero India 2025 reaffirms its role as a key player in India's defence technology sector, reinforcing the company's dedication to developing mission-ready solutions that fortify national security.
