V2PAY SELECTS AURIONPRO AS ITS GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY PARTNER

Strategic partnership to transform the international remittance, virtual debit card, and mobile recharge platform landscape

Singapore – April 18, 2013 (Marketwire)

Aurionpro Solutions is proud to announce that V2PAY Group, a developer of innovative white-label convergent mobile financial systems for the payments, banking, telecommunications, and remittance industries, has engaged the Aurionpro Payments and Banking Technologies team as its global technology partner.

Based on the arrangement, Aurionpro will be the exclusive provider of product engineering, support, and maintenance services for all V2PAY products, beginning with the launch of V2CARD, V2REMIT, V2AGENT, and V2ID as white-label offerings for select banks in Asia.

Commenting on the partnership, V2PAY Group CEO, Bill Field, remarked, "V2PAY is committed to enabling our customers provide access to the smartest and most innovative payment and transactional technology solutions available, and Aurionpro will play a key role in helping us deliver on that commitment. We selected Aurionpro based on their proven expertise in developing globally scalable payments platforms, and we look forward to a long-term, strategic relationship with the team."

"V2PAY has developed visionary technology that is poised to transform an entire industry," added Samir Shah, Aurionpro's global COO. "We are honored to be their technology partner, and to help speed the delivery of a new generation of services such as V2REMIT, which will make it exponentially easier for individuals to send money to family, friends, loved ones, or colleagues anywhere in the world."
