Tatanet Partners with Compuware to Deliver World-class Application Performance Management to its Customers

Partnership Will Enable Tatanet to Ensure Superior Services to Its Customers

Mumbai: Tatanet today announced a strategic partnership with Compuware Corporation (NASDAQ: CPWR) to provide end-to-end Application Performance Management (APM) services to its customers. This partnership will enable Tatanet to offer quality APM services to its customers utilizing Compuware's market-leading Vantage and Gomez solutions for optimizing application performance across the enterprise and the Internet.

Tatanet is a division of Nelco Ltd., part of the $70 billion (USD) Tata Group—India's largest business organization. Tatanet focuses on delivering end-to-end Managed Service solutions including System Integration, Remote Network Infrastructure Management and Datacenter Services. Tatanet addresses the needs of Indian and global customers across many different vertical industries. Through this partnership, Tatanet and Compuware will deliver superior APM services to Tatanet's customers.

"Our association with Tatanet will enable them to help customers improve the performance of their applications across the enterprise and the Internet," said Kimberly King, Vice President, Channels and Alliances, Compuware Corporation. "Through this partnership, Tatanet will deliver a unique value to enterprises worldwide; providing quality end-to-end APM services to help their customers ensure peak performing applications."

Tatanet's Application Performance Management services offer an innovative top-down approach to integrating business, end-user and system perspectives while providing a clear picture of the complex infrastructure that underlies key applications. The overall service includes Application Monitoring, Application Availability, End-user Performance, End-to-end response time monitoring and Business Process Monitoring.

"Today, application performance plays a critical role in helping to ensure customers have a seamless and positive experience," said Mr. Kaushik Mandal, COO, Tatanet. "A single interruption or down time in service can have a direct impact on our business. Our partnership with Compuware will enable us to provide quality service to our customers. Tatanet is the leading Managed Service in India to offer APM as a packaged service offering.

Compuware Vantage and Gomez deliver the market's only application performance management solution that provides broad visibility and deep-dive resolution across the entire application delivery chain, spanning both the Enterprise and the Internet. The first of its kind, this solution brings organizations a unified view of the health of business applications that starts from the customer perspective and follows through to the back-end data center, giving complete visibility
