Bill to attach assets of fugitive offenders gets LS approval

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, July 19

THE LOK SABHA on Thursday approved a Bill to attach assets of fugitive economic offenders and replace an ordinance promulgated in April.

The Fugitive Economic Offenders Bill (FEOB) will make it easier to attach all the assets of economic offenders fleeing India to escape the reach of law – including Nirav Modi, Mehul Choksi and Vijay Mallya – even without conviction. It will cover all economic offences of ₹100 crore or more.

While the existing Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) has provisions for confiscation of an offender's assets, it's only after his conviction, and the attachment is also limited to the proceeds of crime. However, the ordinance provides for attachment of all the assets of offenders, irrespective of the proceeds of the crime.

A new Act was required as existing laws have certain inadequacies in promptly attaching assets of high-value economic offenders who fled India after committing wilful defaults or acts of fraud. Criminal proceedings in such cases take place in various courts of the country and there are chances that court orders for confiscation of assets are at odds with one another.

The Bill was earlier introduced in the Lok Sabha on March 12, but could not be passed due to frequent disruptions. Subsequently, the government brought in the ordinance.

"We can't allow people to make a mockery of law – that you first indulge in loot and then refuse to submit to our legal system," Union minister Arun Jaitley had said on March 1, after the Cabinet had approved the FEOB.

Homebuyers' body raises concerns over Bengal Act

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, July 19

THE FORUM FOR People's Collective Efforts (FPCE), a pan-India homebuyer's body, has voiced concerns that allowing West Bengal's Housing and Industrial Regulation Act, 2017 (HIRA) could lead to the Centre's Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act becoming redundant.

"How can a state not implement a law (RERA) passed by Parliament. This can also lead to other states follow West Bengal, and in due course making the RERA redundant," Abhay Upadhyay, president of the FPCE, told reporters.

In June, the Bengal government had notified its own regulation, Housing & Industrial Regulation Act (HIRA), and notified rules thereunder.

The Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs has sought the law ministry's view on whether two separate Acts on regulation of the real estate sector — one enacted by the Centre and the other by West Bengal — can coexist.

Both the RERA and the HIRA differ on the definition of the force majeure clause and garage space.
