- Trust achieves a distinction of mainstreaming 2372 students ; providing specialized education input to 1500 students; Educating 1072 out of school children thereby establishing itself as a partner to communities
- 11000+ students trained in digital literacy program
- Celebrates success of the community during 'Sangam-2016'- its 8th annual CSR Meet

New Delhi, 7th December, 2016: Over the last 8 years Sangam has emerged as a platform for the community to put forward the vision for the upcoming years. The program not only attracts the beneficiaries and the community but also bureaucracy and the corporates enabling fruitful discussions and meaningful dialogues. The 8th edition of Sangam was organized at the Office of CDO ,VikasBhavan, Greater Noida to pledge to focus on “education for all” as the core theme for its engagement during 2016-17. The Trust has been operating on self-sustaining, generating funds through corporate tie-ups and stakeholder engagement.

Advocating the children to inculcate the habit of doing things right way, NitaPuri, Trustee, Moser Baer Trust, said, "The need of hour is to display amalgamation of questioning and acceptance of the need to do things in the right way. This is the mantra that would not only bring in success but also make it sustainable. We have been working closely with the community and yet again we have picked a theme that is very critical for growth of our country. The theme “education for all” will help you to understand what is the right way.”

Giving a glimpse of MBT's achievements in 2016, RanuKulshrestha, Head, Moser Baer Trust shared that ‘Sangam’ is a culmination of our week-long CSR Week. It is our own unique way of promotion and celebration of corporate and individual social responsibility. During this period, we reinforce our commitment to inclusive development of all and also to responsible business practices”. In addition to this, Moser Baer Trust has been trying to ensure food security, a national concern for government by providing livelihood support to 12785 farmers by developing land and water at non-replenished areas. Till now the team has supported in creating 10 ponds and 422 acres of irrigated land for the farmers. Beside this, the use of Bio-fertilizers during the paddy intervention has been encouraged by the Trust, benefitting 3000 farmers.

Apart from external stakeholders, Sangam also reaches out to the internal associates by holding CSR week where employees of all Moser Baer business entities contribute to the vision of the Trust in their own way. This year, the trust focused on People with Disability and Recycling Industrial waste through its week long activities. Celebrated from 28th Nov- 5th Dec, 2016, during this period, the Trust reinforces its commitment to inclusive development of all and also to responsible business practices. The week started with “Waste to Wow” where the idea was to sensitize the employees on recycling. In this activity, the employees were supposed to create useful items from the industrial waste provided. A large number of enthusiastic participations were seen there. This was followed by an interactive session, the specially abled experts shared their experiences and about how they perform day today personal and professional tasks with the usage of 'innovation through technology'.

RanuKulshrestha, Head CSR further added "Moser Baer Trust is also a proud partner of National Digital Literacy Mission (NDLM) which is PM Narendra Modi's pet project. We believe that Digital Literacy has bright future ahead and Moser Baer Trust has been working aggressively in the same resulting in digitally empowering more than 11000 youth.
