Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

Siddhartha P Saikia
New Delhi, Dec 28

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator, Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of contract for the onshore Barmer block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract (PSC) for the Barmer oil fields in Rajasthan. The private explorer approached the court seeking an extension of its contract for the prolific Barmer oil and gas block in Rajasthan and also a better price for crude oil produced from the block.

"Cairn has not submitted the information sought from it yet. The government was already working on PSC extension and it was under process. The decision was expected anytime soon. There was no need for the company to move court on an issue, which was already heading for a decision," an official privy to the developments told FE. FE reported on July 13, that DGH has asked Cairn, which holds 70% in the onshore Barmer block, to come up with a tentative exploration programme for 10 years beyond 2020, as a pre-condition for the contract's extension. DGH, sources added, apprehends the London-headquartered Vedanta Group may dip into Cairn's cash pile of around ₹17,000 crore to repay its hefty debt, which could hit capex at the Barmer project. On June 14, the Vedanta Group had proposed that Cairn India be merged with it via a 1:1 share swap in a $2.3-billion deal.

> On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

ONGC, a 30% partner in exploration from Barmer fields, termed Cairn India's plea as "immature." It said it is the government's prerogative to decide price of production, for which it needs to be given reasonable time to decide. Counsel K R Sashiprabhu, who appeared for ONGC in court, said it required more inputs from Cairn on project viability.

Petroleum minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the government would carry out "due-diligence" before taking a decision and there is no delay on the issue.

Two firms bag highway projects under hybrid annuity model

Surya Sarathi Ray

New Delhi, Dec 28: Welspun Enterprises and Apco Infratech have emerged as the successful bidders for the two projects on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway, which would be built through the hybrid annuity model in which the government would pay 40% of the project cost.

Road transport and highways ministry sources said Welspun quoted the lowest price for adding lanes along a 8.36-km stretch on the expressway offering to do the job for ₹841.5 crore leaving Ashoka Concessionaires behind.

A joint venture between Apco Infratech and Chetak Enterprises emerged the winner for another 22.3-km project on the expressway quoting a bid of ₹1,057.6 crore more than what Ashoka Concessions, Sadbhav Infrastructure and PNC Infratech had quoted.

The ministry of road transport and highways had invited bids for two of the three packages for the widening of the Delhi-Dasna-Meerut Expressway into six lanes. The widening of the road would decongest the stretch on which around 1,00,000 vehicles ply every day.

The hybrid annuity model allows the concessionaires to bear the balance 60% of the project cost through a combination of debt and equity.

Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

Siddhartha P Saikia
New Delhi, Dec 28

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator, Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of contract for the onshore Barmer block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract (PSC) for the Barmer oil fields in Rajasthan. The private explorer approached the court seeking an extension of its contract for the prolific Barmer oil and gas block in Rajasthan and also a better price for crude oil produced from the block.

"Cairn has not submitted the information sought from it yet. The government was already working on PSC extension and it was under process. The decision was expected in an appropriate time. There was no need for the company to move court on an issue, which was already heading for a decision," an official privy to the developments told FE. FE reported on July 13, that DGH has asked Cairn, which holds 70% in the onshore Barmer block, to come up with a tentative exploration programme for 10 years beyond 2020, as a pre-condition for the contract's extension.

> On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

DGH, sources added, apprehends the London-headquartered Vedanta Group may dip into Cairn's cash pile of around ₹17,000 crore to repay its hefty debt, which could hit capex at the Barmer project. On June 14, the Vedanta Group had proposed that Cairn India be merged with it via a 1:1 share swap in a $2.3-billion deal.

ONGC, a 30% partner in exploration from Barmer fields, termed Cairn India's plea as "immature." It said it is the government's prerogative to decide price of production, for which it needs to be given reasonable time to decide. Counsel K R Sashiprabhu, who appeared for ONGC in court, said it required more inputs from Cairn on project viability.

Petroleum minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the government would carry out "due-diligence" before taking a decision and there is no delay on the issue.

Two firms bag highway projects under hybrid annuity model

Surya Sarathi Ray

New Delhi, Dec 28: Welspun Enterprises and Apco Infratech have emerged as the successful bidders for the two projects on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway, which would be built through the hybrid annuity model in which the government would pay 40% of the project cost.

Road transport and highways ministry sources said Welspun quoted the lowest price for adding lanes along a 8.36-km stretch on the expressway offering to do the job for ₹841.5 crore leaving Ashoka Concessionaires behind.

A joint venture between Apco Infratech and Chetak Enterprises emerged the winner for another 22.3-km project on the expressway quoting a bid of ₹1,057.6 crore more than what Ashoka Concessions, Sadbhav Infrastructure and PNC Infratech had quoted.

The ministry of road transport and highways had invited bids for two of the three packages for the widening of the Delhi-Dasna-Meerut Expressway into six lanes. The widening of the road would decongest the stretch on which around 1,00,000 vehicles ply every day.

The hybrid annuity model allows the concessionaires to bear the balance 60% of the project cost through a combination of debt and equity.

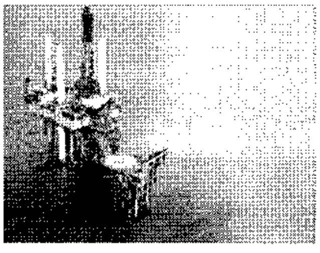
Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

Siddhartha P Saikia
New Delhi, Dec 28

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of contract for the onshore Barmer block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.



On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract (PSC) for the Barmer oil fields in Rajasthan. The private explorer approached the court seeking an extension of its contract for the prolific Barmer oil and gas block in Rajasthan and also a better price for crude oil produced from the block.

Cairn has not submitted the information sought from it yet. The government was already working on PSC extension and it was under process. The decision was expected anytime soon. There was no need for the company to move court on an issue, which was already heading for a decision," an official privy to the developments told FE. FE reported on July 13, that DGH has asked Cairn, which holds 70% in the onshore Barmer block, to come up with a tentative exploration programme for 10 years beyond 2020, as a pre-condition for the contract's extension. DGH, sources added, apprehends the London-headquartered Vedanta Group may dip into Cairn's cash pile of around ₹17,000 crore to repay its hefty debt, which could hit capex at the Barmer project. On June 14, the Vedanta Group had proposed that Cairn India be merged with it via a 1:1 share swap in a $2.3-billion deal.

ONGC, a 30% partner in exploration from Barmer fields, termed Cairn India's plea as "immature." It said it is the government's prerogative to decide price of production, for which it needs to be given reasonable time to decide. Counsel K R Sashiprabhu, who appeared for ONGC in court, said it required more inputs from Cairn on project viability.

Petroleum minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the government would carry out "due-diligence" before taking a decision and there is no delay on the issue.

The firm fears that the government could seek a higher share of revenue from Cairn India's Barmer hydrocarbon block as a precondition for extending the PSC. For this, the way the profit petroleum or the government's share is calculated will be tweaked. For Cairn India, which contributed a handsome Rs 19,047 crore to the exchequer in FY15, the higher profit petroleum would mean a further squeeze on margins. The Barmer production outlook for FY16 and FY17 are flat.

In January, ONGC decided not to object to an extension of the PSC and agreed to government the redoing the fiscal terms for the block. The current Barmer PSC expires on May 14, 2020. Cairn India's output from the block has dropped to 175,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day (boepd) in FY15 against 182,000 boepd in FY14.

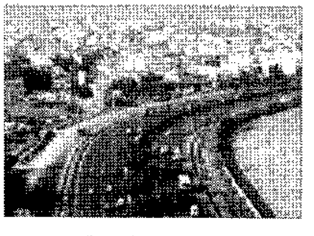
Two firms bag expressway projects under hybrid annuity model

Surya Sarathi Ray

New Delhi, Dec 28: Welspun Enterprises and Apco Infratech have emerged as the successful bidders for the two projects on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway which would be built through the hybrid annuity model in which the government would pay 40% of the project cost.



Road transport and highways ministry sources said Welspun quoted the lowest price for adding lanes along a 6.36-km stretch on the expressway offering to do the job for ₹841.5 crore leaving Ashoka Concessionaires behind.

A joint venture between Apco Infratech and Chetak Enterprises emerged the winner for another 22.3-km project on the expressway quoting a bid of ₹1,057.6 crore more than what Ashoka Concessions, Sadbhav Infrastructure and PNC Infratech had quoted.

The ministry of road transport and highways had invited bids for two of the three packages for the widening of the Delhi-Dasna-Meerut Expressway into six lanes. The widening of the road would decongest the stretch on which around 1,00,000 vehicles ply every day.

The hybrid annuity model, which allows the concessionaires to bear the balance 60% of the project cost through a combination of debt and equity, faced a lot of criticism from within and outside the ministry, particularly after the very first attempt for a project in Himachal Pradesh failed to attract a single bid recently. The road ministry intends to award a total of 21 projects in the remaining period of current fiscal, with a total length of 1,511.56 km requiring an estimated cost of Rs 28,007 crore.

Against a paltry 3,169 km of highway projects awarded in 2013-14, a length of 7,980 km was awarded in 2014-15 and 10,000 km are targeted to be awarded in 2015-16, of which 5,331 km have already been awarded till November 30. During 2012-13 and 2013-14, highway projects, particularly those that were to be developed through the PPP mode, were not able to get bids due to a variety of reasons, including general economic conditions.

India incurs ₹75,000 crore corrosion damage per year

Geeta Nair

Oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore eachs

Pune, Dec 28: Indian industry suffers a loss of around ₹75,000 crore annually due to corrosion, an IIT-Bombay expert has said.

"The United States loses 3.2% of GDP due to corrosion. But there is no such scientific study done in our country, so it is high time India has its own estimates of corrosion cost," says AS Khanna, professor of corrosion science & engineering at IIT Bombay.

Many different organisations are giving different values for annual losses due to corrosion in India. National Association of Corrosion Engineers (NACE) India said the country suffers ₹2,00,000 crore per year while some put the figure at 3-5% of present GDP.

All these numbers are far from representing the actual loss due to corrosion in India, said Khanna, adding that rough estimates of the total annual losses in the country due to corrosion in various industries could be around ₹75,000 crore. He attributes this to growth in infrastructure which contributes significantly to corrosion loss.

"There is also increase in oil and gas installations, new power plants and also large increase in our naval facilities," he said. But he is not sure whether all this works up to 3% of GDP so there is a need to do a detailed study.

Khanna conducts corrosion audits for oil & gas, pertrochemical, power plants, infrastructure and other industries and says there are issues here that need to be dealt with.

There are 250 offshore structures, 15 refinery and petrochemical plants and power plants which are affected. The oil and gas industry needs to spend around ₹1 crore per km in coating to protect pipelines and ensure safety, Khanna said.

He reckons oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore each. Another ₹7,000 crore is lost by aircraft and aerospace while ₹8,000 crore is lost in infrastructure. The remaining industry suffers losses of around ₹9,000 crore.

This is again an estimate and therefore it is very important to make a real estimate of the loss in corrosion. His attempts to carry such a study has not met with success, he said. He hopes DST, CSIR, naval or oil & gas industry takes initiative. "It will take a budget of about R50 lakh to carry out this project which will take over two years," Khanna said.

The last report — a detailed study on Annual Corrosion Losses was made by the US in 2002, which estimated that for many developed countries, the annual losses due to corrosion is approximately 3% of their GDP.

Pradhan wants oil PSUs to set up largest refinery in Maharashtra

Mumbai, Dec 28: Oil minister Dharmendra Pradhan on Monday sprang a surprise by asking three state-run oil refiners—IndianOil, BPCL and HPCL—to get ready to set up the largest refining and petrochemicals complex in the public sector before 2017-end in coastal Maharashtra.

The proposed refinery should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat

"I have just asked the state-run refiners to work on setting up an oil refinery-cum-petchem complex in the public sector in western Maharashtra, which should be largest in the public sector. Though it's up to these companies to work out the details, I can assure you that ground-breaking for the proposed project would happen before the end of 2017," Pradhan told reporters and refused to share details.

Considering the fact that the largest refineries are of 15 MTPA capacity, the proposed one should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat.

The announcement came at an event to dedicate the fourth crude distillation unit of BPCL set up here. PTI

Huvepharma to invest 20m euro to expand India ops

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis

Pune, Dec 28: Animal health company Huvepharma SEA India will see a fresh infusion of around 20 million euros in expansion and scaling up of Indian operations.

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis, which is the world's largest producer of medicines and vaccinations for pets and livestock. OP Singh, MD of Huvepharma SEA, said this global acquisition will strengthen the existing portfolio of products in a big way. "Huvepharma SEA has plans for major expansion and scale up of operations in the region. This acquisition will increase revenues by 40%," Singh said.

Huvepharma SEA is a 50:50 JV between Bulgarian company Huvepharma and Singh, former MD of Venky India. Huvepharma is headquartered in Sofia, Bulgaria with products used in swine, poultry and cattle production. Singh has been in the animal health industry for over two decades and was heading Venky India and was also director in VH Group companies he launched and nurtured. He quit in 2007 to set up his own venture and founded Advanced Bio-Agro Tech and Huvepharma SEA in 2010.

The Indo-Bulgarian JV has mandate to do business in South East Asia and has its operations headquartered in Pune with two manufacturing sites at Ranjangaon, near Pune. The JV in India is into animal and livestock health products in the dairy, poultry, aqua and small companion pet animal health segments.

Singh sees the company becoming a significant player in the animal health business as the industry in India is gearing up to compete in the international trade where international food safety standards become important. The newly acquired portfolio of products will be brought to the Indian market, Singh said.

Huvepharma is acquiring two owned and one leased US manufacturing sites from Zoetis, LLC. The acquisition also includes a portfolio of medicated feed additives and other water soluble veterinary products.

Rupee strength cuts India dependence on world by most since 1991

Mumbai, Dec 28: The dependence of India's economy on the rest of the world fell by the most since 1991 this year. Blame the rupee.

The currency gained more than 6% since April against a basket of its trade partners' currencies measured by the real effective exchange rate, making it harder for companies to sell goods overseas as China's slowdown damps demand.

Trade openness, or the proportion of such flows to gross domestic product, has fallen the most in 24 years, posing a challenge for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's plan to double exports to $900 billion by year 2020.

"We are losing our competitive edge to others," said Ajay Sahai, chief executive officer at the Federation of Indian Export Organisations in New Delhi, which says it has more than 14,000 members. "Currencies in our competitor countries have depreciated at a much sharper rate than the rupee."

India's overseas sales have fallen for 12 straight months, dragged down by oil prices and weak demand in developed economies. The drop in exports, which came even after a free-trade agreement with Southeast Asian countries, indicates the role of currency competitiveness and could be a concern as the yuan weakens, the Reserve Bank of India said in its Financial Stability Report published Dec. 23. It also noted risks from the Trans-Pacific Partnership, a 12-member free-trade grouping that doesn't include India.

"With around two-fifths of world output and a quarter of global trade, TPP is expected to be a game-changer," analysts at Crisil, a local unit of Standard & Poor's, wrote in a report this month. "This is not good news for India." They recommended India lower its trade barriers and quickly agree bilateral trade deals with TPP members such as Australia and Canada.

While the rupee depreciated 4.2% in the year through March 2015 against the US dollar, its 36-currency, inflation-adjusted real effective exchange rate appreciated 5.4%.

This fiscal year, the sharper depreciation in currencies of other exporting nations was exacerbated when China devalued its yuan in August. While the rupee has held steady against the greenback, the yuan dropped 2% and the euro lost 3%.

Overvaluation in the rupee's consumer price-index-based real effective exchange rate has risen past 24%, Ashish Kumar, an analyst at Elara Securities India Pvt. estimated in a Dec. 17 report. The currency will continue to outperform other emerging-markets, he added.

The central bank capped gains by intervening in currency markets and adding to foreign-exchange reserves. Holdings touched a record $352 billion in August but have since slipped slightly as policy makers in the net oil importing nation can't afford to let the rupee weaken too far.

The authority will now shift focus to debt inflows and underhedged corporate borrowings as possible risks, according to HSBC Holdings. India is vulnerable as these flows could easily reverse at times of economic stress.

India's balance of payments swung to a deficit in July- September as foreigners sold $500 million more of Indian debt than they bought, according to RBI data published Dec. 22.

Foreign-currency loan repayments rose almost fourfold from the previous quarter and trade credits increased with imports even as exports slid.

The RBI could become more tolerant of mild currency volatility to discourage companies from leaving their overseas exposures unhedged, HSBC predicts. The central bank has also allowed corporates to issue rupee-denominated bonds abroad.

"Trade competitiveness is a concern, which was behind the RBI's decision to build foreign-exchange reserves over past two years and prevent excessive rupee appreciation," said Ju Wang, senior Asian foreign-exchange analyst at HSBC in Hong Kong. "Now it may shift focus to trying to encourage corporates to borrow in rupees and reduce currency mismatches."

Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

Siddhartha P Saikia
New Delhi, Dec 28

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator, Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of contract for the onshore Barmer block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract (PSC) for the Barmer oil fields in Rajasthan. The private explorer approached the court seeking an extension of its contract for the prolific Barmer oil and gas block in Rajasthan and also a better price for crude oil produced from the block.

"Cairn has not submitted the information sought from it yet. The government was already working on PSC extension and it was under process. The decision was expected anytime soon. There was no need for the company to move court on an issue, which was already heading for a decision," an official privy to the developments told FE. FE reported on July 13, that DGH has asked Cairn, which holds 70% in the onshore Barmer block, to come up with a tentative exploration programme for 10 years beyond 2020, as a pre-condition for the contract's extension.

DGH, sources added, apprehends the London-headquartered Vedanta Group may dip into Cairn's cash pile of around ₹17,000 crore to repay its hefty debt, which could hit capex at the Barmer project. On June 14, the Vedanta Group had proposed that Cairn India be merged with it via a 1:1 share swap in a $2.3-billion deal.

ONGC, a 30% partner in exploration from Barmer fields, termed Cairn India's plea as "immature." It said it is the government's prerogative to decide price of production, for which it needs to be given reasonable time to decide. Counsel K R Sashiprabhu, who appeared for ONGC in court, said it required more inputs from Cairn on project viability.

Petroleum minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the government would carry out "due-diligence" before taking a decision and there is no delay on the issue.

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

Two firms bag highway projects under hybrid annuity model

Surya Sarathi Ray

New Delhi, Dec 28: Welspun Enterprises and Apco Infratech have emerged as the successful bidders for the two projects on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway, which would be built through the hybrid annuity model in which the government would pay 40% of the project cost.

Road transport and highways ministry sources said Welspun quoted the lowest price for adding lanes along a 8.36-km stretch on the expressway offering to do the job for ₹841.5 crore leaving Ashoka Concessionaires behind.

A joint venture between Apco Infratech and Chetak Enterprises emerged the winner for another 22.3-km project on the expressway quoting a bid of ₹1,057.6 crore more than what Ashoka Concessions, Sadbhav Infrastructure and PNC Infratech had quoted.

The ministry of road transport and highways had invited bids for two of the three packages for the widening of the Delhi-Dasna-Meerut Expressway into six lanes. The widening of the road would decongest the stretch on which around 1,00,000 vehicles ply every day.

The hybrid annuity model allows the concessionaires to bear the balance 60% of the project cost through a combination of debt and equity.

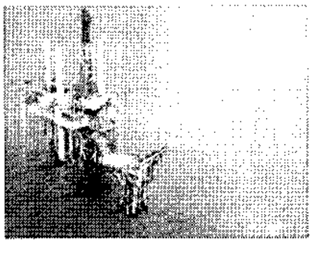
Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

Siddhartha P Saikia
New Delhi, Dec 28



On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of contract for the onshore Barmer block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract (PSC) for the Barmer oil fields in Rajasthan. The private explorer approached the court seeking an extension of its contract for the prolific Barmer oil and gas block in Rajasthan and also a better price for crude oil produced from the block.

"Cairn has not submitted the information sought from it yet. The government was already working on PSC extension and it was under process. The decision was expected anytime soon. There was no need for the company to move court on an issue, which was already heading for a decision," an official privy to the developments told FE. FE reported on July 13, that DGH has asked Cairn, which holds 70% in the onshore Barmer block, to come up with a tentative exploration programme for 10 years beyond 2020, as a pre-condition for the contract's extension. DGH, sources added, apprehends the London-headquartered Vedanta Group may dip into Cairn's cash pile of around ₹17,000 crore to repay its hefty debt, which could hit capex at the Barmer project. On June 14, the Vedanta Group had proposed that Cairn India be merged with it via a 1:1 share swap in a $2.3-billion deal.

ONGC, a 30% partner in exploration from Barmer fields, termed Cairn India's plea as "immature." It said it is the government's prerogative to decide price of production, for which it needs to be given reasonable time to decide. Counsel K R Sashiprabhu, who appeared for ONGC in court, said it required more inputs from Cairn on project viability.

Petroleum minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the government would carry out "due-diligence" before taking a decision and there is no delay on the issue.

The firm fears that the government could seek a higher share of revenue from Cairn India's Barmer hydrocarbon block as a precondition for extending the PSC. For this, the way the profit petroleum or the government's share is calculated will be tweaked. For Cairn India, which contributed a handsome Rs 19,047 crore to the exchequer in FY15, the higher profit petroleum would mean a further squeeze on margins. The Barmer production outlook for FY16 and FY17 are flat.

In January, ONGC decided not to object to an extension of the PSC and agreed to government the redoing the fiscal terms for the block. The current Barmer PSC expires on May 14, 2020. Cairn India's output from the block has dropped to 175,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day (boepd) in FY15 against 182,000 boepd in FY14.

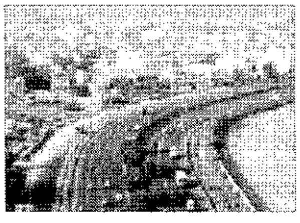
Two firms bag expressway projects under hybrid annuity model

Surya Sarathi Ray



New Delhi, Dec 28: Welspun Enterprises and Apco Infratech have emerged as the successful bidders for the two projects on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway which would be built through the hybrid annuity model in which the government would pay 40% of the project cost.

Road transport and highways ministry sources said Welspun quoted the lowest price for adding lanes along a 8.36-km stretch on the expressway offering to do the job for ₹841.5 crore leaving Ashoka Concessionaires behind.

A joint venture between Apco Infratech and Chetak Enterprises emerged the winner for another 22.3-km project on the expressway quoting a bid of ₹1,057.5 crore more than what Ashoka Concessions, Sadbhav Infrastructure and PNC Infratech had quoted.

The ministry of road transport and highways had invited bids for two of the three packages for the widening of the Delhi-Dasna-Meerut Expressway into six lanes. The widening of the road would decongest the stretch on which around 1,00,000 vehicles ply every day.

The hybrid annuity model, which allows the concessionaires to bear the balance 60% of the project cost through a combination of debt and equity, faced a lot of criticism from within and outside the ministry, particularly after the very first attempt for a project in Himachal Pradesh failed to attract a single bid recently. The road ministry intends to award a total of 21 projects in the remaining period of current fiscal, with a total length of 1,511.56 km requiring an estimated cost of Rs 28,087 crore.

Against a paltry 3,169 km of highway projects awarded in 2013-14, a length of 7,980 km was awarded in 2014-15 and 10,000 km are targeted to be awarded in 2015-16, of which 5,331 km have already been awarded till November 30. During 2012-13 and 2013-14, highway projects, particularly those that were to be developed through the PPP mode, were not able to get bids due to a variety of reasons, including general economic conditions.

India incurs ₹75,000 crore corrosion damage per year

Geeta Nair

Oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore eachs

Pune, Dec 28: Indian industry suffers a loss of around ₹75,000 crore annually due to corrosion, an IIT-Bombay expert has said.

"The United States loses 3.2% of GDP due to corrosion. But there is no such scientific study done in our country, so it is high time India has its own estimates of corrosion cost," says AS Khanna, professor of corrosion science & engineering at IIT Bombay.

Many different organisations are giving different values for annual losses due to corrosion in India. National Association of Corrosion Engineers (NACE) India said the country suffers ₹2,00,000 crore per year while some put the figure at 3-5% of present GDP.

All these numbers are far from representing the actual loss due to corrosion in India, said Khanna, adding that rough estimates of the total annual losses in the country due to corrosion in various industries could be around ₹75,000 crore. He attributes this to growth in infrastructure which contributes significantly to corrosion loss.

"There is also increase in oil and gas installations, new power plants and also large increase in our naval facilities," he said. But he is not sure whether all this works up to 3% of GDP so there is a need to do a detailed study.

Khanna conducts corrosion audits for oil & gas, pertrochemical, power plants, infrastructure and other industries and says there are issues here that need to be dealt with.

There are 250 offshore structures, 15 refinery and petrochemical plants and power plants which are affected. The oil and gas industry needs to spend around ₹1 crore per km in coating to protect pipelines and ensure safety, Khanna said.

He reckons oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore each. Another ₹7,000 crore is lost by aircraft and aerospace while ₹8,000 crore is lost in infrastructure. The remaining industry suffers losses of around ₹9,000 crore.

This is again an estimate and therefore it is very important to make a real estimate of the loss in corrosion. His attempts to carry such a study has not met with success, he said. He hopes DST, CSIR, naval or oil & gas industry takes initiative. "It will take a budget of about ₹50 lakh to carry out this project which will take over two years," Khanna said.

The last report — a detailed study on Annual Corrosion Losses was made by the US in 2002, which estimated that for many developed countries, the annual losses due to corrosion is approximately 3% of their GDP.

Pradhan wants oil PSUs to set up largest refinery in Maharashtra

Mumbai, Dec 28: Oil minister Dharmendra Pradhan on Monday sprang a surprise by asking three state-run oil refiners — IndianOil, BPCL and HPCL — to get ready to set up the largest refining and petrochemicals complex in the public sector before 2017-end in coastal Maharashtra.

The proposed refinery should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat

"I have just asked the state-run refiners to work on setting up an oil refinery-cum-petchem complex in the public sector in western Maharashtra, which should be largest in the public sector. Though it's up to these companies to work out the details, I can assure you that ground-breaking for the proposed project would happen before the end of 2017," Pradhan told reporters and refused to share details.

Considering the fact that the largest refineries are of 15 MTPA capacity, the proposed one should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat.

The announcement came at an event to dedicate the fourth crude distillation unit of BPCL set up here. PTI

Huvepharma to invest 20m euro to expand India ops

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis

Pune, Dec 28: Animal health company Huvepharma SEA India will see a fresh infusion of around 20 million euros in expansion and scaling up of Indian operations.

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis, which is the world's largest producer of medicines and vaccinations for pets and livestock. OP Singh, MD of Huvepharma SEA, said this global acquisition will strengthen the existing portfolio of products in a big way. "Huvepharma SEA has plans for major expansion and scale up of operations in the region. This acquisition will increase revenues by 40%," Singh said.

Huvepharma SEA is a 50:50 JV between Bulgarian company Huvepharma and Singh, former MD of Venky India. Huvepharma is headquartered in Sofia, Bulgaria with products used in swine, poultry and cattle production. Singh has been in the animal health industry for over two decades and was heading Venky India and was also director in VH Group companies he launched and nurtured. He quit in 2007 to set up his own venture and founded Advanced Bio-Agro Tech and Huvepharma SEA in 2010.

The Indo-Bulgarian JV has mandate to do business in South East Asia and has its operations headquartered in Pune with two manufacturing sites at Ranjangaon, near Pune. The JV in India is into animal and livestock health products in the dairy, poultry, aqua and small companion pet animal health segments.

Singh sees the company becoming a significant player in the animal health business as the industry in India is gearing up to compete in the international trade where international food safety standards become important. The newly acquired portfolio of products will be brought to the Indian market, Singh said.

Huvepharma is acquiring two owned and one leased US manufacturing sites from Zoetis, LLC. The acquisition also includes a portfolio of medicated feed additives and other water soluble veterinary products.

Rupee strength cuts India dependence on world by most since 1991

Mumbai, Dec 28: The dependence of India's economy on the rest of the world fell by the most since 1991 this year. Blame the rupee.

The currency gained more than 6% since April against a basket of its trade partners' currencies measured by the real effective exchange rate, making it harder for companies to sell goods overseas as China's slowdown damps demand.

Trade openness, or the proportion of such flows to gross domestic product, has fallen the most in 24 years, posing a challenge for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's plan to double exports to $900 billion by year 2020.

"We are losing our competitive edge to others," said Ajay Sahai, chief executive officer at the Federation of Indian Export Organisations in New Delhi, which says it has more than 14,000 members. "Currencies in our competitor countries have depreciated at a much sharper rate than the rupee."

India's overseas sales have fallen for 12 straight months, dragged down by oil prices and weak demand in developed economies. The drop in exports, which came even after a free-trade agreement with Southeast Asian countries, indicates the role of currency competitiveness and could be a concern as the yuan weakens, the Reserve Bank of India said in its Financial Stability Report published Dec. 23. It also noted risks from the Trans-Pacific Partnership, a 12-member free-trade grouping that doesn't include India.

"With around two-fifths of world output and a quarter of global trade, TPP is expected to be a game-changer," analysts at Crisil, a local unit of Standard & Poor's, wrote in a report this month. "This is not good news for India." They recommended India lower its trade barriers and quickly agree bilateral trade deals with TPP members such as Australia and Canada.

While the rupee depreciated 4.2% in the year through March 2015 against the US dollar, its 36-currency, inflation-adjusted real effective exchange rate appreciated 5.4%.

This fiscal year, the sharper depreciation in currencies of other exporting nations was exacerbated when China devalued its yuan in August. While the rupee has held steady against the greenback, the yuan dropped 2% and the euro lost 3%.

Overvaluation in the rupee's consumer price-index-based real effective exchange rate has risen past 24%, Ashish Kumar, an analyst at Elara Securities India Pvt. estimated in a Dec. 17 report. The currency will continue to outperform other emerging-markets, he added.

The central bank capped gains by intervening in currency markets and adding to foreign-exchange reserves. Holdings touched a record $352 billion in August but have since slipped slightly as policy makers in the net oil importing nation can't afford to let the rupee weaken too far.

The authority will now shift focus to debt inflows and underhedged corporate borrowings as possible risks, according to HSBC Holdings. India is vulnerable as these flows could easily reverse at times of economic stress.

India's balance of payments swung to a deficit in July-September as foreigners sold $500 million more of Indian debt than they bought, according to RBI data published Dec. 22.

Foreign-currency loan repayments rose almost fourfold from the previous quarter and trade credits increased with imports even as exports slid.

The RBI could become more tolerant of mild currency volatility to discourage companies from leaving their overseas exposures unhedged, HSBC predicts. The central bank has also allowed corporates to issue rupee-denominated bonds abroad.

"Trade competitiveness is a concern, which was behind the RBI's decision to build foreign-exchange reserves over past two years and prevent excessive rupee appreciation," said Ju Wang, senior Asian foreign-exchange analyst at HSBC in Hong Kong. "Now it may shift focus to trying to encourage corporates to borrow in rupees and reduce currency mismatches."

Barmer PSC extension: Cairn yet to submit info

On December 15, the Delhi High Court had given the government six months to take a decision on extending Cairn's production sharing contract for the Barmer oil fields

CAIRN India has 'not yet' given the information sought by the upstream regulator Directorate General of Hydrocarbons (DGH), which would facilitate the extension of its contract for the Rajasthan block by 10 years beyond 2020, said a senior official in the petroleum ministry.

India incurs ₹75,000 crore corrosion damage per year

Geeta Nair

Oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore eachs

Pune, Dec 28: Indian industry suffers a loss of around ₹75,000 crore annually due to corrosion, an IIT-Bombay expert has said.

"The United States loses 3.2% of GDP due to corrosion. But there is no such scientific study done in our country, so it is high time India has its own estimates of corrosion cost," says AS Khanna, professor of corrosion science & engineering at IIT Bombay.

Many different organisations are giving different values for annual losses due to corrosion in India. National Association of Corrosion Engineers (NACE) India said the country suffers ₹2,00,000 crore per year while some put the figure at 3-5% of present GDP.

All these numbers are far from representing the actual loss due to corrosion in India, said Khanna, adding that rough estimates of the total annual losses in the country due to corrosion in various industries could be around ₹75,000 crore. He attributes this to growth in infrastructure which contributes significantly to corrosion loss.

"There is also increase in oil and gas installations, new power plants and also large increase in our naval facilities," he said. But he is not sure whether all this works up to 3% of GDP so there is a need to do a detailed study.

Khanna conducts corrosion audits for oil & gas, pertrochemical, power plants, infrastructure and other industries and says there are issues here that need to be dealt with.

There are 250 offshore structures, 15 refinery and petrochemical plants and power plants which are affected. The oil and gas industry needs to spend around ₹1 crore per km in coating to protect pipelines and ensure safety, Khanna said.

He reckons oil drilling offshore activity sees annual loss of ₹11,000 crore while power plants in the country suffer losses of ₹10,000 crore every year because of corrosion. Navy and shipping suffers ₹10,000 crore annual loss while chemicals & petrochemical and oil&gas distribution suffers losses of ₹9,000 crore each. Another ₹7,000 crore is lost by aircraft and aerospace while ₹6,000 crore is lost in infrastructure. The remaining industry suffers losses of around ₹9,000 crore.

This is again an estimate and therefore it is very important to make a real estimate of the loss in corrosion. His attempts to carry such a study has not met with success, he said. He hopes DST, CSIR, naval or oil & gas industry takes initiative. "It will take a budget of about ₹50 lakh to carry out this project which will take over two years," Khanna said.

The last report — a detailed study on Annual Corrosion Losses was made by the US in 2002, which estimated that for many developed countries, the annual losses due to corrosion is approximately 3% of their GDP.

Pradhan wants oil PSUs to set up largest refinery in Maharashtra

Mumbai, Dec 28: Oil minister Dharmendra Pradhan on Monday sprang a surprise by asking three state-run oil refiners—IndianOil, BPCL and HPCL—to get ready to set up the largest refining and petrochemicals complex in the public sector before 2017-end in coastal Maharashtra.

The proposed refinery should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat

"I have just asked the state-run refiners to work on setting up an oil refinery-cum-petchem complex in the public sector in western Maharashtra, which should be largest in the public sector. Though it's up to these companies to work out the details, I can assure you that ground-breaking for the proposed project would happen before the end of 2017," Pradhan told reporters and refused to share details.

Considering the fact that the largest refineries are of 15 MTPA capacity, the proposed one should have higher capacity than the two IOC refineries in Paradip and Panipat.

The announcement came at an event to dedicate the fourth crude distillation unit of BPCL set up here. PTI

Huvepharma to invest 20m euro to expand India ops

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis

Pune, Dec 28: Animal health company Huvepharma SEA India will see a fresh infusion of around 20 million euros in expansion and scaling up of Indian operations.

Huvepharma has announced acquisition of products and manufacturing sites from Zoetis, which is the world's largest producer of medicines and vaccinations for pets and livestock. OP Singh, MD of Huvepharma SEA, said this global acquisition will strengthen the existing portfolio of products in a big way. "Huvepharma SEA has plans for major expansion and scale up of operations in the region. This acquisition will increase revenues by 40%," Singh said.

Huvepharma SEA is a 50:50 JV between Bulgarian company Huvepharma and Singh, former MD of Venky India. Huvepharma is headquartered in Sofia, Bulgaria with products used in swine, poultry and cattle production. Singh has been in the animal health industry for over two decades and was heading Venky India and was also director in VH Group companies he launched and nurtured. He quit in 2007 to set up his own venture and founded Advanced Bio-Agro Tech and Huvepharma SEA in 2010.

The Indo-Bulgarian JV has mandate to do business in South East Asia and has its operations headquartered in Pune with two manufacturing sites at Ranjangaon, near Pune. The JV in India is into animal and livestock health products in the dairy, poultry, aqua and small companion pet animal health segments.

Singh sees the company becoming a significant player in the animal health business as the industry in India is gearing up to compete in the international trade where international food safety standards become important. The newly acquired portfolio of products will be brought to the Indian market, Singh said.

Huvepharma is acquiring two owned and one leased US manufacturing sites from Zoetis, LLC. The acquisition also includes a portfolio of medicated feed additives and other water soluble veterinary products.

Rupee strength cuts India dependence on world by most since 1991

Mumbai, Dec 28: The dependence of India's economy on the rest of the world fell by the most since 1991 this year. Blame the rupee.

The currency gained more than 5% since April against a basket of its trade partners' currencies, as measured by the real effective exchange rate, making it harder for companies to sell goods overseas as China's slowdown damps demand.

Trade openness, or the proportion of such flows to gross domestic product, has fallen the most in 24 years, posing a challenge for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's plan to double exports to $900 billion by year 2020.

"We are losing our competitive edge to others," said Ajay Sahai, chief executive officer at the Federation of Indian Export Organisations in New Delhi, which says it has more than 14,000 members. "Currencies in our competitor countries have depreciated at a much sharper rate than the rupee."

India's overseas sales have fallen for 12 straight months, dragged down by oil prices and weak demand in developed economies. The drop in exports, which came even after a free-trade agreement with Southeast Asian countries, indicates the role of currency competitiveness and could be a concern as the yuan weakens, the Reserve Bank of India said in its Financial Stability Report published Dec. 23. It also noted risks from the Trans-Pacific Partnership, a 12-member free-trade grouping that doesn't include India.

"With around two-fifths of world output and a quarter of global trade, TPP is expected to be a game-changer," analysts at Crisil, a local unit of Standard & Poor's, wrote in a report this month. "This is not good news for India." They recommended India lower its trade barriers and quickly agree bilateral trade deals with TPP members such as Australia and Canada.

While the rupee depreciated 4.2% in the year through March 2015 against the US dollar, its 36-currency, inflation-adjusted real effective exchange rate appreciated 5.4%.

This fiscal year, the sharper depreciation in currencies of other exporting nations was exacerbated when China devalued its yuan in August. While the rupee has held steady against the greenback, the yuan dropped 2% and the euro lost 3%.

Overvaluation in the rupee's consumer price-index-based real effective exchange rate has risen past 24%, Ashish Kumar, an analyst at Elara Securities India Pvt. estimated in a Dec. 17 report. The currency will continue to outperform other emerging-markets, he added.

The central bank capped gains by intervening in currency markets and adding to foreign-exchange reserves. Holdings touched a record $352 billion in August but have since slipped slightly as policy makers in the net oil importing nation can't afford to let the rupee weaken too far.

The authority will now shift focus to debt inflows and underhedged corporate borrowings as possible risks, according to HSBC Holdings. India is vulnerable as these flows could easily reverse at times of economic stress.

India's balance of payments swung to a deficit in July- September as foreigners sold $500 million more of Indian debt than they bought, according to RBI data published Dec. 22.

Foreign-currency loan repayments rose almost fourfold from the previous quarter and trade credits increased with imports even as exports slid.

The RBI could become more tolerant of mild currency volatility to discourage companies from leaving their overseas exposures unhedged, HSBC predicts. The central bank has also allowed corporates to issue rupee-denominated bonds abroad.

"Trade competitiveness is a concern, which was behind the RBI's decision to build foreign-exchange reserves over past two years and prevent excessive rupee appreciation," said Ju Wang, senior Asian foreign-exchange analyst at HSBC in Hong Kong. "Now it may shift focus to trying to encourage corporates to borrow in rupees and reduce currency mismatches."

Cong sacks editor as mag criticises Nehru, Sonia

■ Sonia's father described as 'fascist soldier'

Mumbai/New Delhi, Dec 28: Articles in a Congress mouthpiece questioning Jawaharlal Nehru's Kashmir and China policy and calling Sonia Gandhi's father a "fascist soldier" today left the party squirming in embarrassment, forcing its editor Sanjay Nirupam to apologise and sack its editorial content in-charge.

One of the write-ups in Hindi journal "Congress Darshan" blamed Nehru for "the state of affairs in Kashmir, China and Tibet", while another made the controversial remarks about Congress president Sonia Gandhi's parent.

As BJP, still smarting from repeated disruptions of Parliament by the Congress that saw important Bills like the much-awaited GST getting stuck, gloated over rival's discomfiture, saying the 'truth' it had been hiding had come out, the main opposition party claimed the magazine was not its "mouthpiece".

As the two unsigned articles in the journal, published by the Mumbai Regional Congress Committee, left Congress in discomfort, Nirupam, who also heads the party's city unit, tendered an apology and sacked Sudhir Joshi, the man in charge of the magazine's editorial content.

'Had Patel been heard (by Nehru) then, the problems of Kashmir, China, Tibet and Nepal wouldn't have existed now. Patel opposed Nehru's move of taking the Kashmir issue to the UNO'

One of the articles, a tribute to the country's first home minister Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, had references to the "strained" relations between him and Nehru.

The article cited a letter Patel had purportedly written in 1950 to caution Nehru against China's policy towards Tibet wherein he had described China as "unfaithful and a future enemy of India".

"Had Patel been heard (by Nehru) then, the problems of Kashmir, China, Tibet and Nepal wouldn't have existed now. Patel opposed Nehru's move of taking the Kashmir issue to the UNO," the article went on to say.

Another piece, which focused on Sonia, described her early life and her "ambition to become an airhostess". It termed her father a "fascist soldier" who, the article claimed, was a member of the Italian forces that lost to the Russians in the World War II.

"Sonia Gandhi's father Stephano Maino was a former fascist soldier," the article claimed and described her rapid rise in the Congress hierarchy.

"Sonia Gandhi registered as a primary member of the Congress in 1997 and became the party's president in 62 days. She also made an unsuccessful attempt to form a government," the article said. PTI

Rahul to be away in Europe for 'few days'

New Delhi, Dec 27: Congress vice-president Rahul Gandhi said on Monday he will be travelling to Europe for a "few days", the first time that he has gone public about a trip abroad.

Gandhi, whose foreign trips in the past have led to intense speculation, took to Twitter to announce this.

"I will be traveling to Europe for a few days. A very Happy New Year to everyone," he said. "Hope the new year brings much joy and happiness to you and everyone close to you!," he wished.

Gandhi had been out of the country during New Year on some occasions in the past as well.

His last two trips abroad were much talked about. His around two-month sabbatical after an AICC session in February this year to reflect upon the party's debacle in Delhi elections and deliberate on a future course for Congress had led to BJP taking potshots at him.

There was a political controversy even over his September visit to Aspen, US to attend a conference. PTI

Kirti Azad drags Congress leaders into DDCA row

New Delhi, Dec 28 (PTI) Suspended BJP MP Kirti Azad on Monday rejected his party's argument that a SFIO probe had found no scam in DDCA affairs and sought a comprehensive probe by central agencies, including CBI and ED.

Making it clear that he was not targeting finance minister Arun Jaitley, he sought to drag Congress leaders in the row, alleging that the previous UPA government did not take action because many of its nominees like Rajeev Shukla, Naveen Jindal and Arvinder Singh Lovely were working as DDCA directors and were "party to wrongdoing and remiss in their duties".

"Without due diligence crores of rupees were transferred in bank accounts having fake addresses. It was a monumental fraud as the same people for the same work were paid again and again. I have evidence," he claimed, adding "My fight is against corruption in sports bodies. It is not against Jaitley".

Charged with anti-party activities over his attack on the finance minister, he said that he was neither against BJP nor Jaitley.

"I fail to understand where I have targeted the finance minister. I have said nothing against the party. I have always been a loyal soldier. But I will continue to fight against corruption. CBI and probe agencies like ED and DRI should carry out an extensive inquiry into the DDCA affairs," he said.

Addressing the media, Azad named several firms which, he alleged, were involved in pocketing money running into crores of rupees and were "linked" with DDCA officials.

Rejecting his party's argument that no scam in the DDCA was found by Serious Fraud Investigation Office, he said the SFIO only looked into those papers which were given to them.

"SFIO committee only saw the papers that were given to them. It did not go into finding out whether the companies that were paid several crores of rupees even existed," he said, adding that it still "indicted" the DDCA on several counts, mostly to do with lack of proper accounting.

Jaitley and DDCA have denied allegations made by Azad, a former international cricketer.

Azad also wondered if attempts were being made to "hide" corruption. PTI

BJP begging for apology: Kejriwal

■ New Delhi, Dec 28: No clean chit was ever given to Arun Jaitley for alleged scams in DDCA, chief minister Arvind Kejriwal asserted on Monday even as he chastised BJP for "almost begging" for an apology from AAP for targeting the finance minister who he said was "running away" from the investigation initiated by the Delhi government. Hitting back, BJP accused Kejriwal of staging "some drama" every day. "He has to stage some drama every day. He can also (question) Obama. The Centre is not against any commission but only what is permitted under rules and regulations," Union minister Prakash Javadekar said. PTI

If there is infra, there will be jobs: Mamata

Mathurapur (West Bengal), Dec 28: West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee today rejected the CPI-M's charge that industrialisation in the state had taken a backseat and claimed that in the small-scale sector the TMC government was able to create 12 lakh jobs.

Banerjee said her government was engaged in developing infrastructure in the state because "if there is infrastructure, there will be jobs".

"We are developing infrastructure in the state because if there is infrastructure there will be jobs. In the small scale sector we have created 12 lakh jobs," Banerjee said adding "some people say a lot of things but do nothing".

Former chief minister Buddhadeb Bhattacharjee had said on Sunday during the CPI-M plenum, "The condition of industrialisation is very bleak. That is why we have to remove this TMC regime and save Bengal."

Speaking in South 24-Parganas district, she exhorted her partymen not to walk into the trap of any provocation by the Opposition. PTI
