After WTO's TFA on goods, India pushes pact on services

By Bureau
New Delhi, Feb 23

THE World Trade Organization's trade facilitation agreement (TFA) that has just come into effect will lead to greater movement of goods across countries, commerce and industry minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Thursday. "I look forward to rapid improvement in the way in which we trade. The trade facilitation agreement will also lead to reduction in transaction costs," Sitharaman said.

India has submitted a document on TFA on services at the WTO in Geneva, to be discussed on March 14-17, commerce minister Nirmala Sitharaman said.

Such as upgradation, bumping in new facilitation and digitalisation from its own country.

According to the 164-member organisation, the TFA on goods would simplify trade processes, bring down barriers to trade and also enhance the capacity of the developing world to engage better with the global trading network.

It would be completely provided for through our own budget. All the budgetary announcements are very much in line with all our commitments made on the TFA," she minister said.

I have told the WTO that just like the TFA on goods, which is aimed at making customs rules for smoother trade flow, there is a need for a 'counterpart agreement' in services, and that the proposed pact must also ensure special and differential treatment for developing and poor nations," she said.

Sitharaman on Snapdeal lay-offs

When asked about the lay-off of 500 employees, Sitharaman said this is not a case of commerce. Churning is not only in e-commerce but the whole world on account of global economic situation, she said. "This is a case of business," she added. According to reports, co-founders Kunal Kohli and Rohit Bansal have taken 100% salary cut.

Sweeping gains for BJP in Maha civic polls

Sandeep Ashar, Vishwamohan and Shubhangi Khapre

Mumbai, Feb 23: In a shot in the arm for Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis, the BJP Thursday made giant strides in the Shiv Sena stronghold of Mumbai winning 16 of 22 seats in the recently reconstituted Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation polls. Just three short of the Sena tally with both parties well short of their target figure of 11 seats.

A cross-Maharashtra BJP was making impressive gains in the civic polls. The Congress and the NCT were headed for a loss, losing strongholds like Pune, while the Shiv Sena slightly improved its showing in Mumbai and Thane.

Snapdeal lay-offs

When asked about the lay-off of 500 employees, Sitharaman said this is not a case of commerce. Churning is not only in e-commerce but the whole world on account of global economic situation, she said. "This is a case of business," she added. According to reports, co-founders Kunal Kohli and Rohit Bansal have taken 100% salary cut.

India faces tough task in concluding TFA on services, say analysts

By Rajat Bhattacharjee

New Delhi, Feb 23: Even as the World Trade Organization's (WTO) member states have recently initiated the trade facilitation agreement (TFA) in goods, India is facing a similar task in services. Analysts say that while the TFA on goods is a relatively straightforward exercise, the TFA on services is a much more complex task.

Developing a domestic consensus on the need for reducing service trade rules would also be a harder task than many would have thought.

While the TFA in goods is ratified on Wednesday in Geneva, India is still in the process of ratifying it. The TFA on services is expected to be signed in Geneva in May 2017.

The challenges, industry executives and analysts say, could be in the form of building a coalition of like-minded countries and reconciling the differing interpretations of 'substantive issues'.

like India with ease of rules rather than enhanced market access negotiated earlier under the WTO's Doha Round. Prakash Kumar, senior director, policy and public policy, South Asia, Deutsche Post DHL Group, a multinational logistics services provider, feels that India could have worked towards building a coalition of countries in the WTO with the common interest of having an agreement on TFS in services. Developed countries in the West did the same for the TFA on goods and used their joint capacity to prepare in-depth economic studies that helped push their objective. India, on its own, would find it hard to mobilise its domestic institutional capacity to undertake background research or conduct outreach programmes.

For instance, understanding Mode III issues—pertaining to "commercial presence" in another country in an investment commitment—requires research and consultation exercises carried out not only at the national level in the foreign country but also calls for understanding their impact on the domestic level.

Another important issue, Hanjappa said, regarding the interpretation and treatment of a particular issue as a "substantive measure" or a trade facilitation measure. For instance, for a logistics service provider, loading rights and airport docking in a foreign country are currently a part of its joint capacity to prepare in-depth economic studies that helped push their objective. India, on its own, would find it hard to mobilise its domestic institutional capacity to undertake background research or conduct outreach programmes.

Another example could be Japan's long-standing qualification for foreign trained chartered accountants to practice in the country. The qualification criteria for CA professionals of foreign origin could be problematic for Japan, as it considers this a substantive issue which requires change in their policy. India has reportedly stressed its TFS proposals seek improvement in trade facilitation and not increase in market access.

Despite this, however, differing interpretations by WTO member states may create obstacles in reaching a pact on TFS by the WTO.

Assam to organise 'Namami Brahmaputra' programme from March 31

Dispur, Feb 23: Taking a cue from Namami Gange, the Government of Assam will now launch Namami Brahmaputra campaign in the near future, starting from March 31 to April 4, a senior official said.

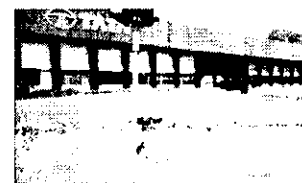

"To pay fitting tribute to the river's life-giving prosperity and countless blessings, a five-day long event," Namami Brahmaputra is being organised under the state chief minister Sarbananda Sonowal. Assam's joint secretary and campaign in-charge, S. Vishwanathan told reporters last evening.

"Assam's life and culture are deeply influenced by the rejuvenating splashes of Brahmaputra," he said.

VW, Tata Motors may accelerate partnership talks in Geneva

New Delhi, Feb 23: Tata Motors and the world's largest automaker Volkswagen are likely to give a concrete shape to their ongoing open-ended talks for partnership at the Geneva Motor Show scheduled for next month.

The two companies are understood to have been holding discussions for a while over the possibility of joint ventures and finding synergies, keeping in view the technological developments such as autonomous driving and shared mobility along with stricter emission norms challenging the automotive industry.

When contacted, a Volkswagen Group spokesman said that it is committed to the Indian market, as the country is an integral part of its growth strategy, especially among the emerging markets.

"To enhance the product portfolio with tailor-made solutions for emerging India, Volkswagen Group is discussing and defining these proactively with potential partners as well as between the brands of the Group. It is therefore, premature to make any further disclosures at the moment."

With its future programme TOGETHER—strategy 2025 Volkswagen Group empowers its brands with new synergies and capabilities in the respective regions, the VW spokesperson added.

Similarly, a Tata Motors spokesperson said: "As prevalent in the automotive industry we regularly have discussions with different companies to explore future collaborations but we do not have any specific announcements at present."

Industry sources said that the current discussions between the two companies are "wide ranging and open-ended" with possibilities of technical collaborations and joint venture.

What is likely to happen in Geneva is that the two companies might agree on which direction to move ahead through a partnership, a source said.

Senior leaders from both the companies are involved in the talks, another source added. The Geneva International Motor Show will be held in the first half of next month. Tata Motors is expected to unveil its sports car at the show.

Tata Motors is seeking to boost up its struggling two-wheeler vehicles business with plans to move to AMP (advanced modular platform) architecture by 2018 and cut down the number of platforms to just two from the current five.

If VW and Tata Motors come together, they will be following the path of Japanese auto majors Toyota and Suzuki, who have recently agreed to begin joint venture operations for business partnership in the environment, safety and information technology along with supply of products and components.
