INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

BUSINESS RELATED RISK

- Our Company maintains significant trade receivables due to the nature of our staffing and workforce outsourcing business and delays in realization of such receivables may adversely affect our working capital cycle, liquidity position and financial condition.

Our business model involves providing recruitment and workforce outsourcing services to corporate clients across multiple sectors. Under this model, employees are deployed at client locations while payroll administration, statutory compliance and workforce management are undertaken by our Company. Consequently, we incur employee related costs including salaries, statutory contributions and operational expenses prior to receiving payments from our clients.

As disclosed in the section titled “Financial Information” beginning on page 185 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, trade receivables constitute a significant portion of our current assets as indicated below. Delays in recovery of receivables may adversely affect our working capital cycle and liquidity position.

For more details, refer chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 73 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our business is dependent on the timely receipt of payments from our customers. A customer’s ability to make payments on timely basis depend on various factors such as the general economic and market conditions and the customer’s cash flow position, which are out of our control. While a majority of our customers are related to receivable from Government Departments and payments are generally made as per their policies and procedures, there can be delays in receipt of such payments. Any delay in collections may adversely impact our cash flows, working capital management and liquidity position.

There is no assurance that our customers will pay us on a timely basis or at all, which may adversely affect the recoverability of our trade receivables, or that we will be able to efficiently manage the level of bad debt arising from delayed payments. Bringing action against our customers to enforce their contractual obligations is often difficult and there can be no assurance that if we initiate any legal proceedings against any such entities, we will receive a judgment in our favour or on a timely basis. A failure by any of our customers to meet its contractual commitments, or an insolvency or liquidation of any of our customers, could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

For further please refer chapter titled “Financial Information” and “Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages 185 and 189 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

- Our Company requires significant working capital to fund operations and any inability to obtain adequate working capital financing may adversely affect our business operations and financial condition.

The staffing and workforce outsourcing industry typically requires service providers to incur employee related expenses including salaries, statutory contributions and administrative costs prior to receiving payments from clients. Due to the working capital-intensive nature of our business, we rely on internal accruals and external borrowings to finance our operations. The details of our working capital requirements for the previous three financial years and stub period are provided below:

As disclosed in “Financial Information” beginning on page 185 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, our total borrowings amounted to ₹200.47 lakh as of March 31, 2025, which decreased to ₹129.94 lakh as of September 30, 2025. Our debt-equity ratio improved from 0.51x in FY 2024 to 0.23x in FY 2025 and further to 0.13x as of September 30, 2025, reflecting improvement in our capital structure.

However, there can be no assurance that we will always be able to obtain sufficient working capital financing on favorable terms. Any increase in borrowing costs or tightening of credit conditions may adversely affect our financial performance. If we are unable to obtain adequate financing to meet working capital requirements, our ability to meet operational obligations including employee salaries, statutory payments and administrative expenses may be adversely affected.

For more details, refer chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 73 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

3. Implementation of the Social Security Code may increase compliance obligations and employee benefit costs, which could adversely affect the Company’s profitability and operations

The Company operates in the manpower supply and staffing industry, which is subject to various labour and social security regulations. The implementation of the Code on Social Security, 2020 and the rules framed thereunder may have a material impact on the Company’s operations, compliance requirements and cost structure.

The Code on Social Security, 2020 consolidates and amends several existing social security laws relating to employees, including those governing provident fund, employee state insurance, gratuity, maternity benefits and other social security benefits. Upon implementation, the Code may expand the scope of social security coverage, introduce additional compliance obligations, and potentially increase employer contributions or liabilities with respect to employees engaged through staffing arrangements.

As the Company is engaged in providing manpower and staffing solutions to its clients, a significant portion of its workforce comprises personnel deployed at client locations. Any changes in the applicability thresholds, definitions of wages, treatment of contract labour, or employer obligations under the Code may increase the Company’s statutory contribution requirements, administrative costs and compliance burden. Further, any interpretation by regulatory authorities regarding the responsibility of staffing companies for social security contributions in respect of deployed personnel may impact the Company’s operating margins.

Additionally, variations in the timing and manner of implementation of the Code and related rules across different states may create operational and compliance challenges. If the Company is unable to effectively manage such regulatory changes or pass on the increased costs to its clients, it may adversely affect the Company’s business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our business primarily involves providing staffing, recruitment and workforce management services to clients across various industries that rely on contract or outsourced workforce, including information technology, manufacturing, logistics, retail, e-commerce and financial services. The demand for our services is closely linked to the hiring activity, workforce planning and expansion strategies of such industries. Any slowdown, cyclical downturn, restructuring, or adverse developments affecting these sectors may reduce hiring activity and consequently reduce the demand for our staffing and recruitment services. Our revenue from operations has grown significantly from ₹338.16 lakh in financial year ended March 31, 2023 to ₹1,110.47 lakh in financial year ended March 31, 2025, representing a compounded annual growth rate of ~49% driven by increasing demand for staffing and recruitment services. The details of revenue generated from various industries by our Company during the previous three financial years and stub period is provided below:

(₹ in Lakhs)

Total	692.93	1,110.47	752.46	338.16

Macroeconomic uncertainties, regulatory changes, cost optimization initiatives or technological developments such as automation and artificial intelligence may also lead to reduced reliance on outsourced manpower or temporary workforce. In such circumstances, our clients may delay recruitment, reduce staffing requirements or terminate workforce outsourcing arrangements, which may adversely affect our revenues and operating performance.

Our future growth also depends on our ability to expand our client base, strengthen relationships with existing clients and introduce additional workforce management and recruitment services. The staffing services industry is highly competitive, and clients may choose alternative service providers or develop in-house recruitment capabilities. Further, expansion into new services or markets may require investments in technology infrastructure, operational systems and skilled personnel, which may increase our costs and may not generate the expected returns.

If we are unable to sustain hiring demand across key industries, expand our client base or successfully implement our growth strategy, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. However, hiring activity across industries may fluctuate depending on economic conditions, automation initiatives, cost optimization measures and other factors affecting businesses. During periods of economic slowdown or business uncertainty, companies may reduce hiring activity or delay expansion plans which may reduce demand for staffing services.

If such conditions occur, demand for our services may decline which could adversely affect our revenues and profitability. For further details regarding our business operations and industry trends. For further please refer chapter titled “Industry Overview” and “Our Business” beginning on pages 92 and 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

5. Our profitability may be affected by fluctuations in employee costs and operational expenses which may adversely affect our margins.

Employee related costs constitute a significant portion of our total expenses as we deploy workforce at client locations and administer payroll and statutory compliance functions. As disclosed in section “Financial Information” beginning on page 185 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, our employee benefit expenses increased from ₹202.12 lakh in financial year ended March 31, 2023 to ₹593.46 lakh in financial year ended March 31, 2025, reflecting expansion of our workforce and operations.

Any increase in employee wages, statutory contributions or other employee related expenses may adversely affect our profit margins if we are unable to pass such increases on to our clients.

While our EBITDA margin improved from 19.94% in financial year ended March 31, 2023 to 34.47% in financial year ended March 31, 2025, there can be no assurance that such margins will be maintained in the future. Rising employee costs or competitive pricing pressures may adversely affect our profitability.

6. Our business requires compliance with numerous labour laws and statutory regulations and any non-compliance may expose us to penalties, litigation, regulatory action or other liabilities which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations involve deployment and management of manpower across multiple client locations. As a result, we are required to comply with numerous labour and employment laws and regulations applicable to employers and manpower service providers in India. These include, among others, laws relating to the Employees' Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and other employee welfare legislations as well as rules relating to maintenance of employee records, payment of wages, statutory contributions and other labour compliances.

Compliance with such regulations requires us to ensure timely deposit of statutory dues, maintenance of employee registers and records, adherence to prescribed wage structures and fulfilment of various periodic filings and reporting obligations. Given the nature of our operations, which involve deployment of a large workforce across various locations and industries, there is a risk of inadvertent errors, delays or deficiencies in complying with applicable statutory requirements.

Any failure or perceived failure to comply with applicable labour laws and regulations may expose us to penalties, interest, damages, litigation, regulatory proceedings or other enforcement actions by government authorities. Such actions may result in financial liabilities, reputational damage, disruption of operations or restrictions on our ability to conduct business.

Further, amendments to existing labour laws, introduction of new regulations, or changes in interpretation, enforcement practices or compliance requirements by regulatory authorities may increase our compliance burden and operational costs. Any such increase in regulatory obligations or adverse findings by authorities may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

For further details regarding regulatory compliance and the applicable legal framework governing our operations, please refer to the chapters titled "Our Business" and "Government and Other Statutory Approvals" beginning on pages 130 and 205, respectively, of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

7. Our revenue is significantly dependent on a limited number of customers and the loss of one or more key customers or reduction in business from such customers may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business model involves providing recruitment, staffing and workforce outsourcing services to corporate clients across multiple sectors. As is common in the staffing industry, a significant portion of our revenue is derived from a limited number of key customers. The table below sets forth the contribution of our top customers to our revenue from operations for the periods indicated:

Particulars	(₹ in Lakhs, unless otherwise stated)
	September 30, 2025		2024-25		2023-24		2022-23
	Revenue	%	Revenue	%	Revenue	%	Revenue	%
Top 1 customer	225.08	32.48%	460.58	41.48%	295.54	39.28%	76.99	22.77%
Top 3 customers	371.02	53.54%	636.78	57.34%	402.61	53.51%	186.51	55.16%
Top 5 customers	478.22	69.01%	706.56	63.63%	487.05	64.73%	255.94	75.68%
Top 10 customers	608.05	87.75%	835.29	75.22%	616.87	81.98%	314.33	92.95%

Our revenue from operations increased from ₹338.16 lakh in FY 2023 to ₹1,110.47 lakh in FY 2025, reflecting expansion in our customer base and workforce outsourcing activities. However, a significant dependence on a limited number of customers exposes us to risks associated with reduction in business from such customers.

Our customer relationships are generally governed by agreements which may be terminated upon expiry or subject to notice periods. If one or more of our major customers discontinue their relationship with us, reduce their hiring requirements or shift to other staffing service providers, our revenues and profitability may be adversely affected. Further, the hiring requirements of our customers may fluctuate depending on economic conditions, business cycles or internal restructuring initiatives.

For further details regarding our customer concentration, refer chapter titled "Our Business" beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

8. Our operations are geographically concentrated in certain states and any adverse developments, economic slowdown or regulatory changes in these regions may adversely affect our business operations.

Our staffing and workforce outsourcing operations are concentrated in the state of Rajasthan in India. Our Company generated ~59% and ~77% of revenue from operations for the half year ended September 30, 2025 and for the financial year ended March 31, 2025 respectively. Such geographic concentration exposes us to risks associated with regional economic conditions, labour market dynamics and regulatory developments affecting those states. Any slowdown in economic activity or reduction in hiring activity within these regions may adversely affect demand for our staffing services.

Additionally, labour regulations and compliance requirements may vary across states. Changes in local labour laws, minimum wage regulations or employment policies may increase compliance costs or operational complexities for our Company. Further, disruptions such as political disturbances, natural disasters or infrastructure challenges in these regions may adversely affect our ability to deliver services to clients.

For further details regarding our geographic presence, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

9. Our ability to provide reliable staffing services depends on the availability of skilled manpower and any shortage of qualified personnel may adversely affect our ability to serve our clients.

The staffing and recruitment industry relies heavily on the availability of skilled manpower to meet the workforce requirements of clients across different sectors. Our ability to provide staffing services depends on our capacity to identify, recruit and deploy qualified candidates to meet client requirements.

If we are unable to maintain an adequate pool of qualified candidates, we may not be able to fulfill client staffing requirements in a timely manner. Further, labour shortages in certain sectors may increase recruitment costs and reduce our operational efficiency. Such developments may adversely affect our ability to maintain service quality and client satisfaction.

For further details regarding our recruitment processes and workforce management capabilities, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

10. Inability to Recruit, Retain, and Manage Skilled. High employee attrition levels within the staffing industry may increase recruitment and training costs and adversely affect our operational efficiency.

The staffing and workforce outsourcing industry typically experiences relatively high levels of employee attrition. Employees deployed at client locations may leave employment due to better opportunities, relocation, personal reasons or other factors. High attrition rates may increase recruitment, onboarding and training costs for our Company. Additionally, frequent employee turnover may affect continuity in service delivery and increase administrative burdens associated with workforce management.

Our business depends on skilled and creative personnel to effectively operate and grow our operations. Set out below is the attrition rate of our employees over the past three years, which is broadly in line with industry standards. However, we cannot assure you that we will continue to maintain this rate or that we will be able to recruit and retain the skilled personnel necessary for our future growth.

Details of our employees and attrition rate for the previous three financial years is as follows:

Particulars	September 30, 2025	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Opening number of employees	53	43	46	34
Hired during the year	12	38	20	40
Left during the year	9	28	23	28
Closing number of employees	56	53	43	46
Attrition (%)	16.51%	58.33%	51.69%	70.00%

If we are unable to replace departing employees with suitable candidates in a timely manner, our ability to meet client requirements may be adversely affected. For further details regarding our workforce management practices, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

11. We have not yet obtained No Objection Certificates from certain unsecured lenders in connection with the proposed public offer, which may affect the timing or completion of the IPO.

As of the date of this Prospectus, our Company has not received No Objection Certificates (“NOCs”) from certain unsecured lenders, namely SMFG India Credit Company Limited. Our Company has applied to these lenders for issuance of the required NOCs in connection with the proposed public offer.

Obtaining NOCs from lenders is generally required in order to confirm that such lenders do not have any objection to the proposed public issue and to ensure that the rights and security interests of such lenders are not adversely affected by the public offer. In the event that such lenders impose conditions for granting the NOCs, including conditions relating to repayment, prepayment, restructuring of existing facilities, creation of additional security, restrictions on utilisation of issue proceeds or compliance with certain covenants, the Company may be required to comply with such conditions prior to or in connection with the public offer. Compliance with such conditions may require additional financial resources and may affect the timing, structure or successful completion of the proposed IPO.

Further, if the required NOCs are not received in a timely manner, or if the lenders raise objections to the proposed public issue, it may result in delays in filing or approval of the Prospectus, or may otherwise impact the Company’s ability to proceed with the public offer. Additionally, such lenders may require repayment or prepayment of outstanding borrowings either prior to, during or subsequent to the IPO, which may adversely affect the Company’s liquidity and cash flows. In certain circumstances, any disagreement with lenders in relation to the issuance of NOCs or the terms thereof may also lead to disputes or legal proceedings.

While the management believes that the NOCs from the aforesaid lenders will be obtained prior to the filing of the Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assurance in this regard. Any delay or inability to obtain the required NOCs, or any conditions imposed by such lenders, may adversely affect the timing or successful completion of the proposed public issue and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

For further details in respect of our borrowings, please refer to the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” on page 188 of this Prospectus.

12. Delays in depositing statutory dues including GST, Provident Fund or ESIC contributions may expose us to penalties and regulatory action.

Our Company is required to comply with various statutory obligations including Goods and Services Tax (GST), Provident Fund contributions and Employees’ State Insurance contributions. Timely deposit of statutory dues and compliance with regulatory filings is essential for maintaining compliance with applicable laws. Any delays in depositing such statutory dues may result in penalties, interest liabilities or regulatory scrutiny from relevant authorities. The below table shows number of returns filed in delay for each financial period included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus:

Particulars	September 30, 2025	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
GSTR-1	5	-	3	9
GSTR-3B	2	9	3	8
ESIC	-	-	-	4
EPF	3	11	7	-
Grand Total	10	20	13	21

The Company's past delays in filing the statutory returns indicate instance of failure to meet regulatory compliance obligations. Additionally, late filing of the statutory returns may attract penalties and disrupt the Company's cash flow, hindering its ability to meet financial obligations and impacting liquidity. The impact of past delays extends beyond financial implications. Regulatory authorities may increase scrutiny on the Company's operations due to non-compliance with EPF, ESIC and GST requirements, leading to audits, investigations, and potential legal actions. This can divert management's attention from core business activities and cause operational disruptions.

Moreover, the Company's reputation among stakeholders, including employees, investors, suppliers, and customers, may be compromised due to persistent delays in EPF payments and GST returns. Negative publicity and loss of trust can have long-term consequences, affecting business relationships and the Company's growth prospects.

Further, repeated compliance lapses may adversely affect our credibility with clients, particularly government organizations and large corporate clients that require strict compliance standards from service providers. Based on internal review and the applicable legal framework, none of the identified delays require regularization through compounding or adjudication.

We are strengthening our internal compliance systems to avoid recurrence. However, any future non-compliance could adversely affect our financial and operational performance.

For further details regarding statutory compliance, refer chapter “Financial Information” and “Outstanding Litigation and Material Development” beginning on pages 185 and 200 respectively of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

13. Our Registered Office is located on leased premises and any disruption in these lease arrangements could adversely affect our business, operations, and financial performance.

Our registered office 828A, Frontier Colony, Adarsh Nagar, Jawahar Nagar, Jaipur, Rajasthan-302004, India is situated on premises that we do not own but operate under lease, leave and license agreements, or rental deeds. The terms of these agreements typically range from three years and often include a lock-in period for a specified duration. The renewal of these agreements depends on various factors, including mutual agreement on terms, prevailing market conditions, and the willingness of the landlords to extend the lease.

For further details regarding our lease arrangements, please refer to the chapter titled “Our Business” on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our reliance on leased premises exposes us to several risks. If any of these agreements are terminated, not renewed, or renewed on terms that are unfavourable to us, we may be required to vacate the premises at short notice. In such cases, identifying and securing alternate premises suitable for our business operations within a limited timeframe may prove challenging. Additionally, any delays or disruptions in relocating to a new office could lead to operational inefficiencies, increased costs, and potential loss of business opportunities.

Furthermore, we are subject to risks arising from any adverse developments affecting the ownership rights of our landlords, such as legal disputes, encumbrances, or government actions. Any such events could impede our ability to continue operations at these premises, further exacerbating the risk to our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. While we have not faced any of the aforementioned challenges during the last three Fiscal years and stub period, we cannot assure you that such issues will not take place in the future.

14. Our business operations depend on technology systems and any disruption, malfunction or failure of such systems may adversely affect our service delivery.

Our recruitment, payroll management and workforce administration processes rely on technology systems for data management, employee records and client communication.

Any failure, disruption or malfunction of our technology systems may adversely affect our ability to deliver services to clients. Additionally, technology failures may result in loss of data or operational delays which could adversely affect our reputation and client relationships.

For further details regarding our operational infrastructure, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

15. Any delays in repayment of borrowings and servicing of interest obligations, including in the past, may adversely affect our reputation, financial condition and ability to raise funds.

Our Company had availed a loan of ₹15.00 lakhs on May 8, 2019 from the Governor of the State of Rajasthan, acting through the Principal Secretary, Department of Information Technology & Communication (Raj Comp Info Services Limited), under the Bhamashah Techno Fund framework established for providing financial assistance in the form of loans or equity to startups in the State. As per the terms of the loan agreement, the outstanding amount was contractually required to be repaid by May 2022. While the Company made a repayment of ₹2.72 lakhs (net of taxes) on December 16, 2019, the balance principal amount of ₹12.20 lakhs remained outstanding beyond the stipulated due date. The Company subsequently repaid ₹3.00 lakhs on February 22, 2024 and ₹9.20 lakhs on March 30, 2024, and the principal amount was fully settled during the financial year ended March 31, 2024. Accordingly, there was a delay in repayment of the principal amount beyond the timeline stipulated in the loan agreement.

Further, interest amounting to ₹1.29 lakhs accrued on the aforesaid loan. The Company had submitted a request to the lender seeking a waiver of the said interest amount. Pending confirmation from the lender in relation to such waiver, the Company, as a matter of prudence, remitted the aforesaid interest amount on February 24, 2026.

Any delay or default in repayment of borrowings or payment of interest, including the instance described above, may adversely affect our Company’s reputation and credibility with lenders and financial institutions. Such occurrences may also impact our ability to obtain financing on favourable terms in the future or may lead lenders to impose more stringent covenants, higher interest rates or additional security requirements. Further, lenders may initiate contractual remedies available to them under the respective financing arrangements, which may include charging additional interest, penalties or taking enforcement actions. Any such developments could adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and ability to raise funds in the future.

For further details regarding statutory compliance, refer chapter “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on pages 188 respectively of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

16. We have experienced negative cash flows in the past. Any such negative cash flows in the future could affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

Our Company had reported certain negative cash flows in the previous years as per the Restated Financial Statements and the same are summarized as under:

Particulars	For half year ended September 30, 2025	For the year ended March 31,
		2025	2024	2023
Net cash generated from/ (used in) operating activities	(221.36)	259.98	(203.65)	52.02

Net cash (used in)/ generated from finance activities	(84.08)	225.19	332.38	(0.43)
Net increase / (decrease) in cash and bank balances	(396.79)	355.56	36.38	29.29

Cash and Bank balances at the end.	29.86	426.65	71.09	34.71

However, our Company had positive cash flow from operating activities from two out of last all three financial years and negative cash flow from investing activities on account of Capital expenditure. Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If our Company is not able to generate sufficient cash flows, it may affect our business and financial operations. For further please refer chapter titled “Financial Information” beginning on page 185 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

17. Certain advances paid to suppliers have been classified under trade creditors, which may require reclassification in the future.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company makes advances to certain suppliers for procurement of goods or services. In certain instances, such advances have been presented under the head of trade creditors in the financial statements. Any observation by regulators, auditors or other stakeholders regarding the classification of such balances may require the Company to reclassify these amounts under an appropriate head, such as advances to suppliers or other current assets.

Such reclassification may affect the presentation of current liabilities, working capital position and certain financial ratios disclosed in the financial statements. While the management believes that these balances arise in the normal course of business, any requirement for reclassification or additional disclosures in the future may impact the presentation of the Company’s financial statements.

18. Our business operations involve handling sensitive employee and client information and any cybersecurity breach, data leak or unauthorized access to such information may adversely affect our operations, reputation and financial condition.

Our business involves the collection, processing and storage of sensitive employee and client information including personal identification details, employment records, payroll information and other confidential data. Such information is typically maintained on our internal systems and databases which support our recruitment processes, employee management systems and payroll administration functions.

While we implement internal security controls and technology safeguards to protect such information, our systems may remain vulnerable to cybersecurity risks including hacking, malware attacks, phishing attempts, unauthorized access or data breaches. Cybersecurity incidents may occur due to external attacks, system vulnerabilities, human error or other unforeseen circumstances.

Any breach of our data security systems may result in unauthorized disclosure or misuse of sensitive employee or client information. Such incidents may adversely affect our reputation, lead to loss of client confidence or expose us to regulatory scrutiny and legal liabilities.

Further, a major cybersecurity incident may disrupt our business operations, compromise confidential data or require us to incur additional costs to enhance security systems and remediate vulnerabilities.

For further details regarding our operational infrastructure, technology systems and insurance, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

19. Our Company may be exposed to risks associated with government or public sector contracts including delays in payments, policy changes or regulatory requirements.

Our Company may provide staffing or workforce outsourcing services to government entities, public sector undertakings or organizations that operate under government regulations. Government contracts typically involve strict compliance requirements, tender processes and administrative procedures. Payments under such contracts may be subject to internal approvals, administrative procedures or budgetary allocations which may result in delays in payment. Below is the bifurcation of revenue:

(figures in ₹ lakhs, except otherwise provided)

Particulars	September 30, 2025	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023

Total Revenue (A+B)	692.93	1,110.47	752.46	338.16

Additionally, government contracts may be subject to policy changes, regulatory requirements or administrative decisions which may affect the continuation or profitability of such engagements. Any delay in receipt of payments from government clients may adversely affect our working capital cycle and liquidity position.

For further details regarding our customer base and revenue distribution, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

20. There are certain discrepancies/errors noticed in some of our corporate records relating to forms filed with the Registrar of Companies and other provisions of Companies Act, 2013. Any penalty or action taken by any regulatory authorities in future for non-compliance with provisions of corporate and other law could impact the financial position of the Company to that extent.

Our Company is required to make filings under various rules and regulations as applicable under the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 which is usually done within the prescribed time period by the Company. However, in some instances delay has occurred in doing ROC filings.

Due to delays in filings pursuant to non-functionality of MCA, our Company had, on some occasions, paid the requisite late fees. No show cause notice in respect of the above has been received by the Company till date, however any penalty imposed for such non-compliance in future by any regulatory authority could affect our financial conditions to that extent. Any delay / non-compliance in the past or future may render us liable to statutory penalties / actions.

We remain committed to improving our compliance mechanisms and have implemented measures to strengthen internal controls, enhance monitoring processes, and minimize the risk of future delays. Despite these efforts, any potential non-compliance or delay in the future could expose us to penalties, regulatory scrutiny, or other adverse consequences, which may impact our business, results of operations, and reputation.

21. Certain discrepancies were identified in our filings of financial statements in Form AOC-4 and AOC-4 CFS with the Registrar of Companies relating to disclosure of an associate company and although rectification through GNL-1 filings and compounding proceedings initiated any adverse regulatory action, penalties or delays in resolution may adversely affect our compliance record, reputation, financial condition and results of operations.

Our Company has identified certain procedural discrepancies in filings made with the Registrar of Companies, Jaipur ("RoC") under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. These discrepancies primarily relate to filings of financial statements in Form AOC-4 and AOC-4 CFS for certain financial years, where certain information relating to an associate company was either inadvertently omitted or incorrectly mentioned.

Specifically, for Financial Year 2020-21, the AOC-4 filing omitted disclosure of an associate company and the required consolidated financial statements. Further, for Financial Years 2022-23 and 2023-24, the AOC-4 CFS filings contained inadvertent clerical errors relating to the name and Corporate Identification Number ("CIN") of the associate company. Further, Our Company failed to disclose its associate company, Brickred Infinite Solution Private Limited, in the Annual Returns filed with the Registrar of Companies, Jaipur, for the financial years 2020-21, 2021-22 and 2023-24.

Upon identification of these discrepancies, our Company has undertaken corrective actions and initiated the process for rectification of the filings with the RoC. In this regard, applications in Form GNL-1 have been filed seeking to mark the earlier filings as defective or cancelled and to permit refiling of the corrected forms. The Company has also initiated necessary steps for compounding of the procedural non-compliances, where applicable, in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

While these discrepancies were procedural in nature and were not intentional, there can be no assurance that the relevant regulatory authorities will not impose penalties, compounding fees or other regulatory actions in connection with such non-compliances. Any adverse orders, penalties or regulatory observations may impact our compliance record and could adversely affect our reputation, financial condition and results of operations. Further, any delays in completion of the rectification process or additional regulatory scrutiny may require additional time, costs and management attention.

For further details, please refer to the section titled “Outstanding Litigations and Material Developments” beginning on page 200 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

22. *Our promoters or promoter group entities may be engaged in other business activities which could potentially compete with our business operations.

Certain of our Promoter Group entities, namely Biz 365 Tech Private Limited and Solutions @ Infinite Private Limited, are engaged in business activities which, to a limited extent, overlap with certain service offerings of our Company, including recruitment, manpower supply and allied services.

In order to mitigate potential conflicts, our Company has entered into non-compete agreements dated March 1, 2026 with each of Biz 365 Tech Private Limited and Solutions @ Infinite Private Limited. Pursuant to such agreements, the respective parties have agreed not to engage in competing business activities within defined core business verticals of each other during the term of the agreements and for a period of five (5) years thereafter. Further, the agreements provide for clear demarcation of business lines and restrictions with respect to solicitation of certain clients, including provisions relating to protected clients and prior written consent for direct engagement in specific cases.

However, there can be no assurance that such arrangements will be effective in fully preventing any overlap or conflict of interest in the future. Additionally, the interpretation and implementation of the non-compete arrangements may be subject to differences, and there can be no assurance that disputes will not arise in relation thereto.

In the event any such conflict of interest arises or the non-compete arrangements are not adhered to or are otherwise ineffective, it may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

For further details, see the section titled “Our Promoters and Promoter Group” on page 174 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

23. *We are dependent on our Individual Promoters, the Key Managerial Personnel and the Senior Management Personnel and the loss of, or our inability to hire, retain, train, and motivate qualified personnel could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our ability to compete in the highly competitive industry depends upon our ability to attract, motivate, and retain qualified personnel. We are highly dependent on the continued contributions of our Individual Promoters and Directors who have remained actively involved in the business.

We are also dependent on our senior management and other key management personnel and believe that our senior management and their understanding of the industry trends and market changes have been instrumental in the success of our brand amongst our customers. The loss of the services of our key personnel and any of our other executive officers and our inability to find suitable replacements, could result in a decline in revenues, delays in product development, and harm to our business and operations.

We may incur significant costs to attract and recruit skilled personnel and we may lose new personnel to our competitors or other staffing companies before we realize the benefit of our investment in recruiting and training them. If we fail to attract new personnel or fail to retain and motivate our current personnel who are capable of meeting our growing technical, operational and managerial requirements on a timely basis or at all, our business may be adversely affected.

For further details regarding our management team, refer chapter “Our Management” beginning on page 161 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

24. *Our internal control systems may not always be effective in preventing operational errors, fraud or financial misstatements.

Our operations involve multiple administrative processes including recruitment management, employee deployment, payroll processing and statutory compliance. Given the scale and complexity of these operations, there is a risk that our internal control systems may not always prevent operational errors, fraud or financial misstatements.

Although we have implemented internal controls and financial reporting processes designed to detect and prevent such issues, these systems may not always be effective in identifying or mitigating risks. Operational errors, financial misstatements or fraudulent activities may result in financial losses, regulatory penalties or reputational damage.

For further details regarding our internal controls and financial reporting processes, refer chapter titled “Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on page 189 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

25. *Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against all operational risks or potential liabilities.

We maintain insurance coverage for certain risks associated with our business operations. The total insurance coverage maintained by our Company is ₹ 3,260 lakhs. Further, we hereby confirm that such insurance coverage of ₹ 3,260 lakhs was 3.16 times the net assets/ net worth of the Company as per the restated standalone financial information as at September 30, 2025. The total insurance coverage includes ₹ 3,130 lakhs which are related to employee compensation policy, errors & omissions policy and cyber liability insurance which is 3.04 times the net assets. The coverage excluding such policies is ₹ 130.00 lakhs which is 0.13 times the net assets.

However, such insurance coverage may not be sufficient to cover all potential losses or liabilities that may arise in the course of our business. Certain types of risks, including employee-related disputes, operational disruptions or cybersecurity incidents, may not be fully covered by our insurance policies.

Additionally, insurance coverage may be subject to exclusions, limitations or deductibles which may limit our ability to recover losses. If we incur significant losses that are not covered by insurance, our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

For further details regarding our insurance policies, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

26. *Our ability to scale operations may depend on our ability to strengthen internal infrastructure and operational systems.

Our growth strategy involves expanding our staffing and workforce outsourcing services across new clients and geographic regions. Such expansion will require investments in recruitment infrastructure, operational systems and management resources. If we are unable to strengthen our internal capabilities to support such growth, our ability to scale operations efficiently may be adversely affected.

Further, rapid expansion may place additional strain on our operational infrastructure and management resources. For further details regarding our growth strategy, refer chapter titled “Our Business” beginning on page 130 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

27. *Unforeseen events such as natural disasters, pandemics, political disturbances or other force majeure events may disrupt our operations, reduce demand for staffing services and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business operations are exposed to risks arising from events that are beyond our control, including natural disasters such as earthquakes, floods, fires and other extreme weather events, public health emergencies such as pandemics or epidemics, political disturbances, civil unrest, acts of terrorism, or other force majeure circumstances. Such events may adversely impact our operational infrastructure, disrupt communication systems, restrict employee mobility, and affect the availability of manpower deployed across client locations.

As a staffing and recruitment service provider, our business performance is closely linked to the hiring requirements and workforce planning decisions of our clients. During periods of economic uncertainty, health crises, or large-scale disruptions, organizations may delay or reduce hiring activities, freeze recruitment, or scale down workforce requirements. Any significant reduction in hiring demand across industries in which we operate may adversely affect the demand for our staffing and recruitment services, which could in turn impact our revenues and profitability.

Further, unforeseen disruptions may affect the availability and productivity of our employees and contractual workforce, interrupt our ability to deploy personnel at client locations, delay project execution, or result in temporary closure of offices or client facilities. Such circumstances may also lead to increased operational costs associated with business continuity measures, technology upgrades, remote working infrastructure, and employee safety measures.

Although we may implement contingency planning and risk mitigation measures to address such disruptions, there can be no assurance that such measures will be adequate or effective in mitigating the impact of such events. Any prolonged or significant disruption arising from natural disasters, pandemics, political instability, or similar unforeseen events may have a material adverse effect on our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

28. *There is no monitoring agency appointed by our Company and the deployments of funds are at the discretion of our Management and our Board of Directors, though it shall be monitored by the Audit Committee.

As per SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018 appointment of monitoring agency is required only for Issue size above Rs. 5,000 Lakh. Hence, we have not appointed a monitoring agency to monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds. However, the Audit Committee of our Board will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds. Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the stock exchange and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations / adverse comments of the audit committee public.

29. *Failure to obtain or renew approvals, licenses, registrations and permits to operate our business in a timely manner, or at all, may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We are required to obtain certain approvals, registrations, permissions and licenses from regulatory authorities in various jurisdictions, to carry out/ undertake our operations. These approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions may be subject to certain conditions. If we fail to obtain some or all of these approvals or licenses, or renewals thereof, in a timely manner or at all, or if we fail to comply with applicable conditions or it is claimed that we have breached any such conditions, our license or permission for carrying on a particular activity may be suspended or cancelled and we may not be able to carry on such activity, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, existing investments and financial condition.

In addition, we have, and may need to in the future, apply for certain additional approvals, including the renewal of approvals, which may expire from time to time. There is no assurance that such approvals and licenses will be granted or renewed in a timely manner or at all by the relevant governmental or regulatory authorities. Failure to obtain or renew such approvals and licenses in a timely manner would lead to imposition of restriction on some of our activities and penalties by relevant authorities. Our licenses and approvals are subject to various conditions, including periodic renewal and maintenance standards.

Any actual or alleged failure on our part to comply with the terms and conditions of such regulatory licenses and registrations could expose us to legal action, compliance costs or liabilities, or could affect our ability to continue to operate at the locations or in the manner in which we have been operating thus far.

30. *Our brand image is integral to our success and if we are unable to effectively maintain, promote and enhance our brand, and conduct our sales and marketing activities effectively, our business and reputation may be adversely affected.

Our brand image plays a critical role in attracting and retaining buyers in the highly competitive manpower and staffing industry. The success of our business is closely tied to our ability to maintain a strong, trustworthy, and recognizable brand that resonates with buyers seeking reliable, cost-effective and skilled employees. Any negative publicity, adverse customer experiences, service disruptions, or failure to meet buyer expectations could harm our brand reputation.

Furthermore, our ability to promote and enhance our brands “HYREFOX”, “TALSUITE”, “XENHIRE” and “EazyHire” depends on the effectiveness of our sales and marketing efforts. If we are unable to develop and execute successful marketing strategies, adapt to changing market trends, or allocate sufficient resources to brand-building initiatives, we may struggle to differentiate ourselves from competitors.

Additionally, any missteps in advertising, failure to leverage digital platforms effectively, or inability to target the right customer segments could limit our brand reach and recognition. A decline in our brand value or ineffective marketing activities could result in reduced buyer trust, lower transaction volumes, and loss of market share, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Maintaining and enhancing our brand image requires continuous investment, innovation, and a strong focus on delivering exceptional customer experiences. Failure to do so could hinder our ability to grow and sustain our market position.

31. *We operate in a highly competitive industry and our inability to compete effectively may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The manpower and staffing industry in which we operate is highly competitive and fragmented. We face competition from several organized and unorganized players, including staffing companies, recruitment agencies, human resource service providers and other entities offering similar manpower outsourcing and workforce management solutions. Competition in this industry is based on factors such as pricing, service quality, client relationships, ability to deploy skilled manpower, geographic reach, technological capabilities and reputation.

Some of our competitors may have greater financial, operational, marketing and technological resources, broader service offerings, established client relationships, longer operating histories and stronger brand recognition. Such competitors may also offer services at lower prices, provide additional value-added services or undertake aggressive marketing and promotional strategies in order to gain market share. As a result, we may face pressure on pricing, margins and our ability to retain existing clients or attract new clients.

Further, our clients may choose to engage multiple service providers, develop in-house recruitment and workforce management capabilities, or adopt technology-driven platforms for talent acquisition and staffing, which may reduce their reliance on third-party staffing service providers such as our Company. Additionally, consolidation, strategic alliances or partnerships among competitors may further strengthen their market position and increase competitive pressures.

If we are unable to effectively compete with existing or new market participants, maintain our service quality, expand our client base or adapt to changing market conditions, it may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

32. *There are certain outstanding legal proceedings pending against our Company and Group Companies. Any adverse outcome in any of these proceedings may adversely affect our profitability and reputation and may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

We cannot assure you that these tax proceedings will be decided in favour of our Company and Group Companies, as the case may be. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may render us liable to penalties and may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Additionally, during the course of our business we are subject to risk of litigation in relation to contractual obligations, employment and labour law related, personal injury and property damage, etc. A classification of these outstanding litigations is given in the following table:

Our Company relies on intellectual property, including our registered logo, trademark, and website domain, to establish and maintain our brand identity and competitive position in the staffing and manpower industry. While we take reasonable efforts to protect our intellectual property rights, we cannot assure that third parties will not infringe upon or misuse our registered assets, which could dilute our brand value and impact our reputation.

Any failure to enforce or defend our intellectual property rights effectively may adversely affect our business operations and financial condition. Additionally, while we strive to ensure that our platform, technology, and service offerings do not infringe upon any third-party intellectual property rights, we cannot rule out the possibility of inadvertent infringement. If any third-party claims that we have violated their intellectual property rights, we may be subject to costly and time-consuming legal proceedings. If such claims are upheld, we may be required to pay damages, alter or cease certain aspects of our operations, or seek licenses, which may not be available on commercially reasonable terms.

Failure to protect our intellectual property or defend against third-party claims could harm our business, reputation, and financial performance. While we have not faced any material claims of intellectual property infringement to date, we cannot assure that such instances will not arise in the future. Any such occurrence could disrupt our operations, increase costs, and adversely affect our results of operations and growth prospects.

34. *Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Whilst we have not paid dividends in the last three Fiscal years, our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on a number of factors identified in the dividend policy of our Company, liquidity position, profits, capital requirements, financial commitments and financial requirements including business expansion plans, cost of borrowings, other corporate actions and other relevant or material factors considered relevant by our Board, and external factors, such as the state of the economy and capital markets, applicable taxes including dividend distribution tax, regulatory changes and other relevant or material factors considered relevant by our Board.

We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business.

As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends in the future. Accordingly, realization of a gain on Shareholders' investments will depend on the appreciation of the price of the Equity Shares. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value.

35. *Certain Agreements, deeds or licenses, statutory approvals and certificates may be in the previous name of the company, we have to update the name of our company in all the statutory approvals and certificates due to the conversion of our Company.

Accordingly, our Promoters and members of our Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the composition of the Board of Directors, the adoption of amendments to our constitutional documents, policies for dividends, lending, investments and capital expenditures.

The interests of our Promoters and Promoter Group as the Company's controlling shareholders could conflict with the Company's interests or the interests of its other shareholders. There can be no assurance that our Promoters and Directors will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company.

37. *The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters may be lower than the Issue Price.

38. *Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior shareholders' approval.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds towards the objects of the Company as mentioned in chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 73.

At this stage, we cannot determine with any certainty if we would require the Net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with Sections 13(8) and 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds without obtaining the shareholders' approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the shareholders' approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such shareholders' approval may adversely affect our business or operations.

Further, our Promoters would be liable to provide an exit opportunity to shareholders who do not agree with our proposal to change the objects of the Issue or vary the terms of such contracts, at a price and manner as prescribed by SEBI. Additionally, the requirement of our Promoters to provide an exit opportunity to such dissenting shareholders may deter the Promoters from agreeing to the variation of the proposed utilization of the Net Proceeds, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. Further, we cannot assure you that the Promoters or the controlling shareholders of our Company will have adequate resources at their disposal at all times to enable them to provide an exit opportunity at the price prescribed by SEBI.

39. *We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially have an adverse effect on our business.

In the ordinary course of our business, our Company has in the past entered into related party transactions, including Remuneration paid to Directors and KMPs, and may continue to do so in the future. Although going forward, all related party transactions that we may enter into will be subject to board or shareholder approval, as necessary under the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations, there can be no assurance that these arrangements in the future, or any future related party transactions that we may enter into, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

- 40. Certain sections of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus contain information from the D&B Report which has been prepared exclusively for the Issue and exclusively commissioned and paid for by us. There can be no assurance that such report is complete, and any reliance on such information for making an investment decision in the Issue is subject to inherent risks.

Pursuant to being engaged by us, D&B prepared a report titled “Staffing & Recruitment Market in India” dated March 06, 2026. A copy of the D&B Report is available on the website of our Company at <https://www.hyrefox.com>. Certain sections of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus include information based on or derived from, the D&B Report or extracts of the D&B Report. We commissioned and paid D&B for this report for the purpose of confirming our understanding of the industry in connection with the Issue.

We commissioned D&B as no report is publicly available which provides a comprehensive industry analysis, particularly for our Company’s services, that may be similar to the D&B Report that we commissioned. All such information in this Prospectus indicates the D&B Report as its source. Accordingly, any information in this Prospectus derived from, or based on, the D&B Report should be read taking into consideration the foregoing.

The D&B Report, which has been exclusively commissioned and paid for by us in connection with the Issue, is not a recommendation to invest or disinvest in any company covered in the D&B Report. Accordingly, prospective investors should not place undue reliance on, or base their investment decision solely on this information.

Investors should consult their own advisors and undertake an independent assessment of information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus in connection with the Issue before making any investment decision regarding the issue. Refer “Industry Overview” on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

- 41. Rapid technological developments in recruitment platforms and automation tools may disrupt traditional staffing services and adversely affect our business.

Technological advancements, including artificial intelligence-driven recruitment platforms, digital hiring marketplaces, automated screening tools and data-driven talent matching systems, are transforming hiring processes across industries. These technologies enable organizations to directly source, evaluate and onboard candidates with reduced reliance on traditional staffing intermediaries.

As a result, companies may increasingly adopt in-house digital recruitment solutions or engage technology-enabled hiring platforms rather than relying solely on traditional staffing service providers. In addition, several new market participants offering technology-driven recruitment solutions may enter the industry and intensify competition.

If we are unable to continuously upgrade our technology capabilities, integrate digital hiring solutions into our service offerings or effectively respond to evolving technological trends in the recruitment industry, our ability to attract and retain clients may be adversely affected. Consequently, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely impacted.

- 42. The Objects of the Issue have not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or independent agency, and the deployment of the Issue proceeds will be at the discretion of our management.

The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised have been determined by our management based on internal estimates and business requirements. These objects have not been appraised or independently evaluated by any bank, financial institution or other independent agency. Accordingly, investors will be relying on the judgment and estimates of our management with respect to the proposed utilization of the Issue proceeds.

Further, the deployment and allocation of the Issue proceeds among the stated objects will be undertaken by our management based on the parameters described in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” on page 73 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and may be subject to changes depending on business requirements, market conditions or other factors.

Any variation in the utilization of the Issue proceeds from the estimated deployment may affect the expected benefits from the Issue. Consequently, there can be no assurance that the proposed utilization of the Issue proceeds will result in the intended benefits to our Company or to the investors.

ISSUE RELATED RISKS

- 43. *There are certain restrictions on daily movements in the price of Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Following the Issue, we will be subject to a daily circuit breaker imposed by NSE, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based, market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on our circuit breakers will be set by the stock exchange based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker will limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, no assurance can be given regarding your ability to sell your Equity Shares or the price at which you may be able to sell your Equity Shares at any particular time.

- 44. *After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop.

The price of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges may fluctuate as a result of the factors, including:

- Volatility in the Indian and global capital market;
- Company's results of operations and financial performance;
- Performance of Company's competitors,
- Adverse media reports on Company or pertaining to our Industry;
- Changes in our estimates of performance or recommendations by financial analysts; and
- Significant developments in India's economic and fiscal policies;

Current valuations may not be sustainable in the future and may also not be reflective of future valuations for our industry and our Company. There has been no public market for Equity Shares and the prices of the Equity Shares may fluctuate after this Issue. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue or that the price at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

- 45. *Market price of our share will be decided by market forces and issue price of equity share may not be indicative of the market price of our share price after the issue.

After listing and trading permission of equity shares, the price of the shares shall be driven by free market forces. The market price of a company's share is determined by the forces of supply and demand in the stock market. These forces are influenced by a variety of factors, including the company's financial performance, industry trends, economic conditions, and investor sentiment.

When a company issues equity shares, it sets an issue price based on various factors such as the company's valuation, the prevailing market conditions, and the demand for its shares. However, the issue price is not necessarily indicative of the market price of the shares after the issue.

Once the shares are listed on the stock exchange, their price is determined by the forces of supply and demand in the market. If there is strong demand for the shares, the price may rise above the issue price, and if there is weak demand, the price may fall below the issue price.

Therefore, while the issue price of equity shares provides a starting point for the company's valuation, it is not necessarily a reliable indicator of the market price of the shares after the issue. Investors should carefully evaluate all relevant factors and information before making investment decisions in the stock market.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 46. *Outbreaks of contagious diseases, such as the recent outbreak of COVID-19, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

India experienced multiple waves of COVID-19 which had impacted global supply chains and resulted in shortages of materials and components used in the manufacturing operations and an inability to meet the manufacturing targets and this impact continues till date. The COVID-19 pandemic had resulted in restrictions on travel and transportation and prolonged closures of workplaces, businesses and schools, with employees being asked to work from home and citizens being advised to stay at home. Consequently, there was a significant disruption in attendance at the offices. There can be no assurance that any future outbreak of contagious diseases will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

47. *Changes in the Government Policy could adversely affect economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

Our business, and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares, may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. Elimination or substantial change of policies or the introduction of policies that negatively affect the Company's business could cause its results of operations to suffer. Any significant change in India's economic policies could disrupt business and economic conditions in India generally and the Company's business in particular.

48. *A slowdown in economic growth in India could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We are dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. Demand for our products may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. Economic growth in the country in which we operate is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports, global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates, and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Consequently, any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

49. *Inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and if significant, on our financial condition.

Inflation is typically impacted by factors such as governmental policies, regulations, commodity prices, liquidity and global economic environment. Any change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies could adversely affect the inflation rates. Continued high rates of inflation may increase our costs such as salaries, travel costs and related allowances, which are typically linked to general price levels. There can be no assurance that we will be able to pass on any additional costs to our clients or that our revenue will increase proportionately corresponding to such inflation. Accordingly, high rates of inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and, if significant, on our financial condition.

50. *Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as other financial policies and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that affect our industry include STT, GST, income tax and other taxes, duties or surcharges introduced on a permanent or temporary basis from time to time. Imposition of any other taxes by the Central and the State Governments may adversely affect our results of operations.

51. *You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on sale of Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws and regulations, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. You have either short-term or long-term capital gains depending on the holding period of your investment. Capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares within 12 months in an Indian company are classified as short-term capital gains and generally taxable. Any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a stock exchange that are held for more than 12 months is considered as long-term capital gains and is taxable at 12.50%, in excess of Rs. 1,25,000, without the benefit of the indexation. Any change in tax provisions may significantly impact your return on investments.

52. *Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our Company's business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunami, floods etc. in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

53. *Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence or war involving India or other countries could adversely affect the financial markets, our business, financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares.

Any major hostilities involving India or other acts of violence, including civil unrest or similar events that are beyond our control, could have a material adverse effect on India's economy and our business. Incidents such as the terrorist attacks, other incidents such as those in US, Indonesia, Madrid and London, and other acts of violence may adversely affect the Indian stock markets where our Equity Shares will trade the global equity markets as well generally. Such acts could negatively impact business sentiment as well as trade between countries, which could adversely affect our Company's business and profitability. Additionally, such events could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares.

Anchor Investors are not permitted to participate in the Issue through the ASBA process. Pursuant to SEBI circular no. For further details on method and process of Bidding, see “Terms of the Issue”, “Issue Structure” and “Issue Procedure” on pages 221, 229, and 232 respectively.

Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process: Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of Rs 20 to Rs 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cut off i.e. Rs 22 in above example. The Company in consultation with the BRLM, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-off price i.e. at or below Rs 22. All bids at Offer Price or above this Offer Price or the such Cut-Off Price are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

As our Company expands, effective liquidity management will become increasingly vital.

The detailed explanations for Trade receivables holding period are mentioned below:

Trade receivables

The trade receivables holding period is determined by dividing the company's revenue by its closing trade receivables for the financial year. Historically, this period has ranged between seven to eight months. The same is primarily attributable to the nature of Government-linked contracts, the partner-led execution model with hiring agencies, and the quarterly invoicing and multi-layered approval process.

Billing to Government entities

A significant part of the Company's revenues is derived from contracts with Government departments (including other public sector undertakings) and hiring agencies as mentioned above. The Company operates as a manpower supply and managed services provider on a Time & Material (T&M) basis for Government projects, wherein payments are realized only after completion of a defined approval workflow involving multiple departments as detailed in below table:

Step	Particulars	Tentative Period (in Weeks)	Cumulative Period (in Weeks)
1	Services are rendered by deployed manpower on a daily basis across various Government departments. Attendance, Monthly Progress Reports (MPRs), and supporting records are maintained at the project level throughout the quarter.	12	12
2	Upon completion of the quarter, the Company consolidates MPRs, attendance sheets, and statutory compliance documents for all deployed resources across projects.	2	14
3	The consolidated documents are submitted for verification and certification to the respective Project Managers and Officers-in-Charge (OICs) at the department level.	2	16
4	After certification, the documents are submitted to the Manpower Department , which undertakes a detailed vetting of manpower deployment, attendance, and compliance records.	3	19
5	Post verification by the Manpower Department, the documents are forwarded sequentially to Accounts, Finance , and other concerned departments for review and validation.	3	22
6	After departmental approvals, the claims are routed to the Treasury Department for fund allocation and payment processing as per Government timelines.	4	26
7	Upon release of funds by the Treasury, payments are credited to the Tier-1 empanelled agency, which thereafter releases payments to the Company under back-to-back contractual arrangements.	2	28

Under such contracts, realization of dues generally ranges from approximately 120 days (around 18 weeks) to over 200 days (around 28 weeks), as payments are contingent upon completion of milestones, inspection, acceptance and fulfilment of other contractual conditions. The summary of revenue recorded for each quarter during the previous three financial years and stub period is provided below:

(₹ in Lakhs, unless otherwise stated)

Particulars	For the financial year / period ended
	September 30, 2025	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Quarter 1 (April, May, June)	71.54	161.93	49.22	74.24
% of total	10.26%	14.58%	6.54%	21.95%
Quarter 2 (July, August, September)	625.54	178.25	52.90	60.96
% of total	89.74%	16.05%	7.03%	18.03%
Quarter 3 (October, November, December)	-	52.26	73.95	52.70
% of total	0.00%	4.71%	9.83%	15.58%
Quarter 4 (January, February, March)	-	718.02	576.39	150.26
% of total	0.00%	64.66%	76.60%	44.43%
Total	697.08	1,110.47	752.46	338.16

Further, billing under these contracts is typically concentrated towards the last quarter (Q4) of the financial year, as a significant portion of project completion, certification and approvals are achieved during this period. As reflected in the table above, a substantial portion of the Company's revenue, being 44.43%, 76.60% and 64.66% for the financial years ended March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2025, respectively, has been recorded in Q4. This backend-loaded billing cycle results in a higher closing receivables balance at the year end, thereby further increasing the overall trade receivable days.

Accordingly, the elevated receivable period is largely attributable to the contractual and operational dynamics of government projects rather than delays specific to the Company. Our Company has undertaken several measures to streamline its billing and collection processes and improve alignment between work completed and invoicing. These include:

- (i) strengthening internal monitoring systems to track project progress and milestone completion on a real-time basis;
- (ii) instituting periodic (including monthly and quarterly) reviews of work completed vis-à-vis billable milestones;
- (iii) improving coordination between execution, billing and finance teams to ensure timely submission of invoices and supporting documentation;
- (iv) engaging proactively with client departments to expedite inspections, certifications and approvals; and

(v) standardizing documentation and compliance requirements to minimize delays arising from procedural gaps.

In addition, our Company is focusing on tighter receivables management through regular follow-ups with customers, reconciliation of outstanding balances, and early identification of potential delays in collections. The Company also evaluates contractual terms, where feasible, to incorporate more balanced milestone-based billing structures in order to reduce backend-loaded revenue recognition. These measures are expected to enhance visibility over billing cycles, improve operational efficiency and gradually optimize the Company's receivables cycle.

It must be noted that this feature is inherent to the companies engaged in Government contracts and does not, in itself, indicate an increased credit risk, since the counter-parties are largely Government entities and public sector undertakings.

Apart from above there are other working capital requirements such as short-term loans and advances, other current liabilities and provisions (including non-current provisions). Details of which are given below:

Particulars	Assumptions
Short-term loans and advances	Short-term loans and advances include advance to suppliers and prepaid expenses.
Expenses payable	Expenses payable primarily comprise amounts payable towards operating and capital expenses incurred in the normal course of our service-based operations. The expense payable holding period is calculated by dividing total operating expenses by the closing balance of expenses payable. Historically, our expenses payable have remained relatively low in comparison to our total revenue, primarily due to the nature of our service-oriented business model, which involves limited reliance on credit from vendors and relatively shorter payment cycles for operating expenses. Accordingly, the expense payable holding period has ranged between 28 days (approximately 1 month) to 82 days (approximately 3 months) for the financial years ended March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2025. The expense payable holding period for the half year ended September 30, 2025 was 28 days. The relatively shorter payable cycle reflects timely settlement of obligations to vendors and service providers and is consistent with the operational requirements of our business.
Employees payable	Employees payable includes payments due to employees. The employees payable holding period is calculated by dividing the employee benefits expense by closing employees payable. The employees payable holding period has historically been around 1 month only for the financial years ended March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2025. The expenses payable holding period for the half year ended September 30, 2025 was 19 days.
Other current liabilities	Other Current Liabilities mainly include Statutory dues payable, advance from customers, payable to directors, interest due but not paid and other payables.
Provisions	Provisions mainly include Provision for income tax and provision for gratuity.

Additionally, our Company aims to maintain an optimal level of liquidity in the form of cash and bank balances to ensure the continuity of its day-to-day operations without disruption. Such financial prudence will support timely settlement of statutory liabilities, operational payables, and other financial obligations. Maintaining adequate cash reserves also provides the Company with the flexibility to respond to unforeseen market developments, fund its strategic initiatives, and invest in operational enhancements or capital expenditure, as may be required from time to time.

As of September 30, 2025, the Company held cash and bank balances amounting to ₹ 29.86 lakhs. With the expected inflow of funds from both equity and operational sources, the Company intends to deploy these resources judiciously while maintaining a strong liquidity buffer. This approach aligns with its long-term objective of sustaining financial stability and operational efficiency while supporting future growth and expansion plans.

Global Macroeconomic Scenario

Global Economic Overview

Global growth is projected to remain resilient at 3.3 percent in 2026 and at 3.2 percent in 2027, rates similar to the estimated 3.3 percent outturn in 2025. The forecast marks a small upward revision for 2026 and no change for 2027 compared with that in the October 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO). This steady performance on the surface results from the balancing of divergent forces. Headwinds from shifting trade policies are offset by tailwinds from surging investment related to technology, including artificial intelligence (AI), more so in North America and Asia than in other regions, as well as fiscal and monetary support, broadly accommodative financial conditions, and adaptability of the private sector.

Source – IMF Global GDP Forecast Release January 2026

Note: Advanced Economies and Emerging & Developing Economies are as per the classification of the World Economic Outlook (WEO). This classification is not based on strict criteria, economic or otherwise, and it has evolved over time. It comprises of 40 countries under the Advanced Economies including the G7 (the United States, Japan, Germany, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, and Canada) and selected countries from the Euro Zone (Germany, Italy, France etc.). The group of emerging market and developing economies (156) includes all those that are not classified as Advanced Economies (India, China, Brazil, Malaysia etc).

Historical and Projected GDP Growth

GDP growth across major regions exhibited a mixed trend during 2024–25. While growth in several regions—including Emerging and Developing Asia as well as Latin America and the Caribbean—is expected to slow further in 2026, performance remains uneven across geographies. In Emerging and Developing Asia (comprising economies such as India, China, Indonesia, and Malaysia), GDP growth is projected to moderate to 5.4% in 2026, compared with 5.3% in the previous year. Similarly, in Latin America and the Caribbean, growth is expected to ease to 2.2% in 2026, before rebounding to 2.7% in 2027 as countries in the region approach potential output from differing cyclical positions.

Source-IMF World Economic Outlook January 2026 update.

By contrast, growth in the Middle East and Central Asia is projected to accelerate, rising from 3.7% in 2025 to 3.9% in 2026 and further to 4.0% in 2027. This acceleration is supported by higher oil output, resilient domestic demand, and ongoing structural reforms. Likewise, growth in sub-Saharan Africa is expected to strengthen, increasing from 4.4% in 2025 to 4.6% in both 2026 and 2027, driven by macroeconomic stabilization and reform efforts in key economies. Meanwhile, in emerging and developing Europe, a sharp slowdown to 2.0% in 2025 is expected to reverse, with the region's economies expanding at an average rate of 2.3% in 2026 and 2.4% in 2027. Across most regions, this recovery also reflects the diminishing effects of recent shifts in global trade policies.

Global Economic Outlook

Since the October 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO), trade tensions have continued to abate, although they remain subject to occasional flare-ups. A dispute between China and the United States involving controls on exports of semiconductors and rare earth minerals was followed by a truce that reduced bilateral tariffs until November 2026 and introduced a pause on export controls. In addition, US authorities removed tariffs on some agricultural products for all countries, offsetting the higher tariffs on certain sectors that were previously announced and are now in effect. As a result, the overall US effective tariff rate remains broadly unchanged from the level assumed in the October 2025 WEO although changes for specific countries are significant. The US Supreme Court is widely expected to deliver a decision in early 2026 regarding the president's use of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act. At the same time, newly signed bilateral trade and other agreements, often including substantial investment and purchase commitments with limited public disclosure, have added further complexity. Although policy uncertainty has declined since October, it remains considerably higher than in January 2025.

Global growth in the third quarter of 2025 decelerated to 2.4 percent on an annualized basis, exceeding expectations; however, upside surprises in some countries were offset by downside surprises in others. In France, a boost from aerospace exports lifted growth to 2.2 percent, whereas in Germany, falling exports continued to weigh on activity, thereby leaving real GDP unchanged between the second and third quarters. Meanwhile, Japan's economy contracted by 2.3 percent, as private and government consumption partially offset the contraction driven by declines in private residential investment and exports. At the same time, China's growth decelerated to 2.4 percent (according to staff estimates), with weak domestic demand—particularly in the housing sector—only partly offset by resilient exports.

In contrast, growth in the United States accelerated to 4.3 percent, supported by a pickup in technology investment and expenditure, which is estimated to have added approximately 0.3 percentage point to average annualized GDP growth during the first three quarters of 2025, thereby offsetting the drag from the federal government shutdown in the final quarter of the year. In addition, there are indications that technology-related investment also contributed to economic activity in Spain and the United Kingdom, although the scale of this contribution was smaller than that observed in the United States.

Global Growth Projection

At broader level, the global growth is expected to remain steady, as momentum in high-tech sectors is projected to slow but continue to partly offset the drag elsewhere. While tariffs and elevated uncertainty are expected to weigh on the level of activity, their impact on growth is projected to fade during 2026 and 2027. At 3.3 percent in 2026 and 3.2 percent in 2027, global growth is therefore expected to decelerate slightly from the estimated 3.3 percent recorded in 2025. Compared with the October 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO), the forecast for 2026 has been revised upward by 0.2 percentage point, whereas the forecast for 2027 remains unchanged. Nevertheless, there are significant revisions for some countries, with changes occurring in different directions.

Growth in advanced economies is projected at 1.8 percent in 2026 and 1.7 percent in 2027. In the United States, economic activity is expected to expand by 2.4 percent in 2026, supported by fiscal policy and a lower policy rate, while the impact of higher trade barriers gradually wanes. This 0.3 percentage point upward revision relative to October reflects a stronger than expected GDP outturn in the third quarter of 2025, a rebound in activity in the first quarter of 2026 compared with the fourth quarter of 2025 following the end of the federal government shutdown, and the associated carryover effects. Looking ahead, growth in the United States is projected to remain solid at 2.0 percent in 2027, supported by a near term fiscal boost from tax incentives for corporate investment under the One Big Beautiful Bill Act of 2025. Although technology driven momentum is expected to moderate, it is still projected to provide a partial offset to lower immigration and moderating consumption.

In the euro area, growth is expected to remain steady at 1.3 percent in 2026 and to increase modestly to 1.4 percent in 2027. The slightly faster growth in 2027 reflects projected increases in public spending, particularly in Germany, alongside continued strong performance in Ireland and Spain. Overall, the forecast remains broadly unchanged from October, with the subdued growth outlook reflecting unresolved structural headwinds. The impact of the planned increase in defense spending is expected to materialize only in subsequent years, as commitments to reach target levels are phased in gradually through 2035. Compared with other regions, the euro area benefits less from the recent technology-driven investment boost. In addition, the lingering effects of persistently higher energy prices following Russia's invasion of Ukraine are expected to continue weighing on manufacturing, with additional pressure stemming from the real appreciation of the euro relative to the currencies of countries exporting similar products. In Japan, growth is projected to moderate from 1.1 percent in 2025 to 0.7 percent in 2026 and to 0.6 percent in 2027. This marks a small upward revision relative to the October figure, reflecting in part the fiscal stimulus package announced by the new government.

In emerging market and developing economies, growth is projected to remain just above 4.0 percent in both 2026 and 2027. Relative to the October forecast, China's growth in 2025 has been revised upward by 0.2 percentage point to 5.0 percent, reflecting the implementation of stimulus measures and additional policy bank lending for investment. Growth in China for 2026 has also been revised upward by 0.3 percentage point to 4.5 percent, as a result of lower effective US tariff rates on Chinese goods following the yearlong trade truce agreed in November, alongside stimulus measures assumed to be implemented over a two-year period. However, the economy's growth rate is expected to decelerate to 4.0 percent in 2027, as structural headwinds increasingly weigh on activity.

(i) India Macroeconomic Analysis

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has revised upward India's economic growth for CY 2025 by 0.7 percentage point to 7.3%. In its World Economic Outlook update, the IMF stated that the upward revision reflects strong growth momentum in the fourth quarter of the current fiscal year. At the same time, the IMF projects India's growth at 6.4 percent in the CY 2026, noting that despite the expected moderation, India is expected to remain a key driver of growth among emerging market and developing economies. In addition, the IMF expects inflation in India to return to near-target levels following a marked decline in 2025, driven by subdued food prices, which is expected to provide further support to domestic demand. However, the IMF cautioned that AI-driven productivity gains could lead to a pullback in investment and tighter global financial conditions, with spillover effects for emerging economies.

Annual and Quarterly: Investment & Consumption Scenario

Other major indicators such as Gross fixed capital formation (GFCF), a measure of investments, has shown fluctuation during FY 2025 as it registered 7.06% year-on-year growth against 8.78% yearly growth in FY 2024, taking the GFCF to GDP ratio measured to 33.69%.

Source: Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MOSPI)

On a quarterly basis, GFCF showed a fluctuating trend in year-on-year growth. After a sharp spike of 66.52% in Q1 FY 2021-22, growth moderated significantly and remained volatile across subsequent quarters. In FY 2024, the growth rate eased to 6.05% in Q3 (Dec quarter) compared to 9.34% in Q2, as government capital spending slowed ahead of the 2024 general election. It improved slightly to 6.65% in Q1 FY 2024-25 but moderated again to 6.70% in Q2 and 5.23% in Q3, before rebounding to 9.41% in Q4. ### Inflation Scenario

The annual rate of inflation based on All India Wholesale Price Index (WPI) number is (-) 0.32% (provisional) for the month of November 2025 (over November 2024). Negative rate of inflation in November 2025 is primarily due to decrease in prices of food articles, mineral oils, crude petroleum & natural gas, manufacture of basic metals and electricity etc.

Primary Articles (Weight 22.62%): The index for this major group increased by 2.07% from 188.2 (provisional) for the month of October 2025 to 192.1 (provisional) in November 2025. Moreover, the price of minerals (4.50%), food articles (2.50%) and non-food articles (1.28%) increased in November 2025 as compared to October 2025. However, the price of Crude Petroleum & Natural Gas (-1.62%) decreased in November 2025 as compared to October 2025.

Furthermore, the price of electricity (6.70%) increased in November 2025 as compared to October 2025. In contrast, the price of mineral oils (0.67%) decreased in November 2025 as compared to October 2025. The price of coal remained same as in the previous month.

In addition, out of the 22 NIC two-digit groups for manufactured products, 14 groups witnessed a decrease in prices, 7 groups witnessed an increase in prices and 1 group witnessed no change in prices. Some of the important groups that showed month-over-month decrease in prices were manufacture of fabricated metal products, except machinery and equipment; food products; other non-metallic mineral products; computer, electronic and optical products and chemicals and chemical products etc. Conversely, some of the groups that witnessed an increase in prices were other manufacturing; machinery and equipment; textiles; electrical equipment and wearing apparel etc. in November 2025 as compared to October 2025.

Retail inflation rate (as measured by the Consumer Price Index) in India showed notable fluctuations between November 2024 and November 2025. Year-on-year inflation rate based on All India Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the month of November 2025 over November 2024 is 0.71% (Provisional). Moreover, there is an increase of 46 basis points in headline inflation of November 2025 in comparison to October 2025.

Growth Outlook

The Union Budget 2025-26 has laid the foundation for sustained growth by balancing demand stimulation, investment promotion and inclusive development. Inflation level is reaching within the central bank's target; the RBI may pursue further monetary easing that will support growth. The medium-term outlook is bright, fuelled by the emphasis on physical and digital infrastructure spending. With a focus on stimulating demand, driving investment and ensuring inclusive development, the budget introduces measures such as tax relief, increased infrastructure spending and incentives for manufacturing and clean energy. These initiatives aim to accelerate growth while maintaining fiscal discipline, reinforcing India's long-term economic resilience. The expansion of tax relief i.e zero tax liability for individuals earning up to INR 12 lacs annually under the new tax regime is expected to strengthen household finances and, consequently, boost consumption.

The external sector remains resilient, and key external vulnerability indicators continue to improve. However, tariff-related uncertainty is likely to weigh on exports and investment, prompting us to cut our CY26 GDP growth forecast to 6.4%.

Some of the key factors that would propel India's economic growth.

Government focus on infrastructure development

Infrastructure development has remained recurring theme in India's economic development. As India aims to grow to a USD 5 trillion economy by 2027, Construction sector that include Infrastructure construction will be critical for boosting economic growth as it is the key growth enabler for several other sector. Infrastructure development provides impetus to other sectors like cement, bitumen, iron and steel, chemicals, bricks, paints, tiles, financial services among others. A unit increase in expenditure in construction sector has a multiplier effect on other sectors with a capacity to generate income as high as five times in other sectors. The sector enjoys intense focus from the Government which is well reflection in higher budgetary allocations. To push the infrastructure development, government has also announced higher budgetary allocation, various arrangement for raising funds through road asset monetization plan and converting of NHAI's existing InvIT into a public one is also planned. With economic targeting to reach USD 5 trillion economy by 2027, demand for various infrastructure facilities such as power, cargo movement, passenger movement is likely to grow which necessitate steady capacity addition in infrastructure facilities.

The launch of flagship policies like National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), and PM Gati Shakti plan have provided the coordination & collaboration that was lacking earlier. Both NIP and PM Gati Shakti are ambitious billion-dollar plans that aim to transform India's infrastructure, elevating it to the next level. These projects are expected to improve freight movement, debottleneck the logistics sector, and improve the industrial production landscape, which would provide the incremental growth in GDP.

Development of Domestic Manufacturing Capability

The Government launched Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme in early 2020, initially aimed at improving domestic manufacturing capability in large scale electronic manufacturing and gradually extended to other sectors. At present it covers 14 sectors, ranging from medical devices to solar PV modules. The PLI scheme provides incentives to companies on incremental sales of products manufactured in India. This incentive structure is aimed at attracting private investment into setting up manufacturing units and thereby beef up the domestic production capabilities. The overall incentives earmarked for PLI scheme is estimated to be INR 2 trillion. If fully realizing the PLI scheme would have the ability to add nearly 4% to annual GDP growth, by way of incremental revenue generated from the newly formed manufacturing units.

Strong Domestic Demand

Domestic demand has traditionally been one of the strong drivers of Indian economy. After a brief lull caused by Covid-19 pandemic, the domestic demand is recovering. Consumer confidence surveys by Reserve Bank / other institutions are points to an improvement in consumer confidence index, which is a precursor of improving demand. India has a strong middle-class segment which has been the major driver of domestic demand. Factors like fast paced urbanization and improving income scenario in rural markets are expected to accelerate domestic demand further. This revival is perfectly captured by the private final consumption expenditure (PFCE) metric. The PFCE at current prices is on steady rise from FY 2022 onwards. Between FY 2015-25, PFCE in India has improved by nearly 2.5 times its share in GDP has increased from 58.1% to about 61.8% in FY 2025 (as per the first advance estimates).

Source: Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MOSPI)

There are two factors that are driving this domestic demand: One the large pool of consumers and second the improvement in purchasing power.

- The share of middle class increased from nearly 14% in 2005 to nearly 30% in 2021 and is expected to cross 60% by 2047<sup>1</sup>. This expanding middle class household segment is fuelling India's growth story and would continue to play a key role in propelling India's economic growth.
- Consumer driven domestic demand is majorly fuelled by this growth in per capita income. As per National Statistics Office (NSO) As per National Statistics Office (NSO), India's per capita net national income (at constant prices) stood at INR 106,744 in FY 2024 against INR 99,404 in FY 2023 and INR 87,586 in FY 2018. This increase in per capita income has impacted the purchasing pattern as well as disposable income. The disposable income during the FY 2018-25 has increased from INR 131,753 to INR 233,420, increasing at CAGR 8.5% while in FY 2025 it is estimated to grow at 8.59% on year-on-year basis in FY 2025 against 8.49% in FY 2024.

India's Per capita GDP trends

India is poised to become the world's third-largest economy with a projected GDP of USD 5 trillion within the next three years, driven by ongoing reforms. As one of the fastest-growing major economies, India currently holds the position of the fifth-largest economy globally, following the US, China, Japan, and Germany. By 2027-28, it is anticipated that India will surpass both Germany and Japan, reaching the third-largest spot. This growth is bolstered by a surge in foreign investments and a wave of new trade agreements with India's burgeoning market of 1.4 billion people. The aviation industry is witnessing unprecedented orders, global electronics manufacturers are expanding their production capabilities, and suppliers traditionally concentrated in southern China's manufacturing hubs are now shifting towards India.

To achieve its vision of becoming the world's third-largest economy by 2027-28, India will need to implement transformative industrial and governmental policies. These policies will be crucial for sustaining the consistent growth of the nation's per capita GDP over the long term.

From CY 2024-29, India's per capita GDP is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate of 9.4%. This growth will be driven by the service sector, which now accounts for over 50% of India's GDP, marking a significant shift from agriculture to services.

Increasing Urbanization

As per the handbook of urban statistics 2022, India's urban population has been on a steady rise, with urban dwellers accounting for over 469 million in 2021, is projected to soar to over 558 million by 2031 and further exceed to 600 million by 2036.

Source: World Bank<sup>2</sup> D&B Research and Estimates

The share of urban population in total population has been quickly escalating. In 2019, 34.5% of the total population was urban. By 2023, this is estimated to have reached to 36.4%, showing an increment of 2.1% in a span of four years. The share of urban population is further forecasted to cross 40% by 2030. This increase in urban population is set to demand drastic changes in infrastructure development. Cities are a major driver for the construction industry. With cities expanding rapidly, there will be an increased need for improved housing, water supply, sewage systems, and electricity. Urban planning will need to account for higher population densities, necessitating the development of smart cities with integrated technology for efficient management of resources and services. The Smart Cities Mission targeted at 100 cities is aimed at improving the quality of life through modernized/ technology driven urban planning. This transformation will also require significant investment in public health, education, and recreational facilities to enhance the quality of urban living. The surge in urban population will also propel demand for improvement in multimodal transport infrastructure for freight and passenger travel requirement..

Rural Vs Urban Working Population Age Group

As India continues to experience economic growth and development, the working population in both rural and urban areas is increasing. In case of urban population, this growth is marked from a share of 45.8% in FY20 to 47.7% in FY23, whereas in rural areas, it grew from 53.3% in FY20 to 59.4% in FY23.

This growth is driven by a combination of factors, including demographic changes, economic policies, and the expansion of various industries. The rise in employment opportunities across sectors such as agriculture, manufacturing, services, and information technology has contributed to the overall increase in the working population, thereby fostering economic stability and enhancing the standard of living for many Indians.

In urban areas, the working population is growing rapidly due to the proliferation of jobs in sectors like IT, finance, retail, and healthcare. Additionally, the development of infrastructure, such as improved transportation networks and housing, has made urban centres more accessible and desirable for the working population. In rural areas, the working population remains substantial, primarily due to the dominance of the agricultural sector. Government initiatives aimed at rural development, such as improved access to education and skill development programs, have also played a crucial role in enhancing employment prospects in these regions. The dominance of the rural working population over their urban counterparts can be attributed to the agricultural sector's labour-intensive nature ensures a consistent demand for human labor despite advancements in mechanization, sustaining employment rates in rural areas.

Foreign Direct Investment Trend in India

FDI inflow in India has observed a steady increase between FY 2013 till FY 2022 while it witnessed a decline of 15% in FY 2023 and of -0.1% in FY 2024 due to several factors, including the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine, changes in US monetary policy, and other global uncertainties. However, the country has received substantial FDI inflow between from April 2011-March 2025. This increasing FDI can be attributed to the new investment facilitation measures like the National Single-Window System (NSWS), which streamlines the approval and clearance process for investors, entrepreneurs, and businesses sectoral along with PLI schemes, emerging growth prospects in tier-2 and tier-3 cities. Further, tax compliance for startups and foreign investors have been simplified where the Income Tax Act, 1961 has been amended in 2024 to abolish angel tax and to reduce income tax rate chargeable on income of a foreign company.

- As per World Investment report 2025, India ranking improved by one position to rank 15th place for global FDI destinations, attracting USD 27.6 billion as an FDI destination in 2024, up from 16th in 2023.

- India ranked as the 4th largest recipient of greenfield projects with 1,080 greenfield projects in 2024 announcements, as per the World Investment Report 2025.

Labour Market Scenario in India

A labour market, also referred as the job market is a significant component of any economy and is closely linked to the finance, commodities, and services markets. Labour market relates to the supply and demand for labour in any country where the supply is provided by the workers and demand by the employers.

In India, people aged between 15 to 59 years are typically considered working age population. According to census data, this employable population has experienced a 1.8% growth between 2011 and 2021. This increase far exceeds the growth in India's general population for the same period of 1.2% CAGR. With largest population base in the world (1.43 Bn in 2023<sup>3</sup>), the country has one of the world's largest workforces (including employed and those who are seeking employment). Based on 2011 census, the country total working age population is estimated to have grown from 735.42 Mn in 2011 to 875.45 Mn population in 2021, with share of workforce in the country's total population increasing from 60.75% in 2011 to 62.8% in 2021.

The employed workforce in agriculture, services and manufacturing sector grew at 4.8%, 4.6% and 2.9% CAGR during the above period, respectively. On annual basis, services sector observed highest annual addition in job to the tune of 8 million in FY 2023 followed by agriculture (4.8 million) and services (8 million), registering an employment growth of 3.3%, 1.9% and 2.7% during FY 2023, respectively.

Labour Market trend in India as per Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS)<sup>4</sup>

As per PLFS annual data, Indian labour market indicators have improved in the last six years. According to the annual Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) report, there is a significant surge in the all-India all-person labour force participation rate (LFPR)<sup>5</sup>, jumping from 49.8% in 2017-2018 to 60.1% in 2023-24.

Within urban areas, while the LFPR for males has remained steady at 74.5%, there has been a noteworthy surge in female LFPR, soaring from 20.4% in 2017-2018 to 28.0% in 2023-2024 an impressive 7.6% increase. Considering India's working-age population of 1 billion, divided with a 52:48 male-female ratio, this growth trajectory equates to a male workforce expansion of 5.7 million and a staggering 36.5 million increase in the female workforce.

Increasing Worker Population Ratio (WPR)

India's workforce is estimated to be nearly 643.3 million in 2023-24. As per PLFS, the estimated Worker Population Ratio (WPR) on usual status for persons of age 15 years and above in the country has exhibited an improvement, increasing from 46.8% in 2017-18 to 58.2% in 2023-24. A sharp rise in female LFPR and WPR in the past six years has been driven largely by rural women entering agriculture and allied activities. The steady improvement in female WPR indicates progress toward reducing gender disparity in India's employed workforce landscape; however, a significant gap between male and female participation still persists.

Unemployment Rate (UR)

Unemployment rate is another major indicator in the job market that measures the number of people from the total labour force who are willing and able to work but are not employed. In India, the unemployment rate on usual status for persons of age 15 years and above has exhibited a consistent decreasing trend over the years at the all-India level and for both males and females. India's demographic dividend is a stepping stone for a steady economic growth and its improving global competitiveness in manufacturing and services segment. The decline in the annual youth unemployment rate accompanies by increasing youth participation in the labour force suggest better utilisation of this dynamic resource.

Industrial distribution of workers

According to PLFS 2023-24, nearly 46% the work force is employed in agriculture, 24% in industry and 29.7 % in services while a granular break of employed workforce in industrial and service sector reveals, 11.4% in manufacturing, 30% in services, and 12% in the construction. About 73.20% of the country's workers in the non-agriculture sector were working in the informal sector in 2023-24 as against 71.8% in 2021-22.

Periodic Labour Force Survey 2023-24, Break is for the period July to June

The cumulative effect of less-than-adequate skill sets, the quality of jobs and shortage of employment opportunities in the formal sector has resulted in rising level of self-employed workforce due to which informal employment dominates the overall employment landscape in India. In the post-pandemic period, few people are employed in the formal sector compared to the pre-pandemic period while it stood at 26.8% in 2023-24 which as per the Bloomberg report is the lowest in 18 years.

Although the formal sector accounts for low share in India's employment landscape, the formal employment scenario is expected to improve driven by the government focussed effort towards improving employment generation coupled with improving employability. Certain economic indicators like rise in number of active/new companies registered, growth of start-ups and rapid rise in number of Unicorns in the country, improvement in the EPFO data points towards an improving job market condition in the formal sector.

Increase in the registered outstanding active companies with Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA)

As per CMIE data, outstanding active companies registered with the MCA in India at the end of FY 2025 grew to 1.85 Mn, witnessing 8% CAGR between FY 2019-24. Based on broader sectoral break-up available for FY 2025, around 66% of the outstanding active companies were registered in the services sector, 29% in the industrial sector and 5% in the agriculture and allied activities.

Between FY 2021-25, community, personal & social services sector that includes educator, healthcare services witnessed fastest expansion in terms of total outstanding registered companies growing at 18% CAGR followed by agriculture and allied services 12%.

Growth Trend in New Company Registration With MCA

Barring FY 2020 and FY 2023, the new company registration with MCA has observed growth between FY 2018-25, increasing at 7% CAGR. In FY 2025 registrations moderated with a 2.3% decline. Nearly 72% of the new registrations happened in the services segment, where new registrations grew at 5% CAGR. This expansion in service sector is expected to absorb increasing workforce in formal sector.

The IT-BPM industry plays a pivotal role in driving India's overall economic growth. Currently, the industry (excluding e-commerce) contributes nearly 7.3% to the country's GDP in FY 2025. The industry's export revenues touched USD 224.4 billion in FY 2024-25, recording a growth of 12.5% y-o-y driven by sustained global demand and digital transformation initiatives. The industry is also one of the largest employers in private organized sectors in the country, employing nearly 5.64 million people in FY 2025, with a net addition of around 200,000 employees during the year, maintaining a workforce composition of ~36% women employees. The sector continues to be one of the largest private sector employers of women in India. The IT/BPO sector has also enabled the growth of several ancillary industries such as transportation, real estate, catering, security, and housekeeping, highlighting its multiplier impact on India's economy.

Rise in Start Up and Unicorns:

Launched on 16th January 2016, the Start-up India initiative is fostering a favourable eco-system and is mushrooming the growth of start-ups in India. The scheme is aiding in transforming India to evolve as a Job creator instead of job seeker. The scheme has observed an exponential growth since the launch. As on 30th June 2025, over 1,80,683 entities have been recognised as startups by DPIIT, spread across all 36 States and Union Territories of the country. These startups and unicorns are not only developing innovative solutions and technologies but are also contributing in large-scale employment. The number of jobs reported by the recognised start-ups has increased from 93,527 in 2018 to over 17.28 lakh direct jobs by December 2024. About 75,935 recognised startups have at least one-woman director, highlighting the inclusive nature of India's startup ecosystem.

Employment Scenario in Factories

As per the Annual Survey of Industries (ASI), the employment in the organized manufacturing sector recovered to above the pre-pandemic level in 2021-22 accompanied by a wage growth. In FY 2022, the total person engaged in organised manufacturing sector surged to 17.2 million increasing from 15.6 million in 2017-18.

State-wise, the top six states in terms of the number of factories, were also the greatest factory employment creators where more than 40% of the factory employment created by Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, and Maharashtra. While the highest employment growth between FY 2018-22 has been witnessed by the state having higher share of youth population that is Chhattisgarh, Haryana, and Uttar Pradesh.

In terms of the sectoral share of factory employment (total persons engaged) in FY 2022, the food products industry (11.1%) remained the largest employer, followed by textiles (10%), primary metals (7%), wearing apparel (7%) and motor vehicles (7%).

In terms of total growth in employment generation between FY 2018-22, computers and electronics, rubber and plastic products, and chemicals sectors have taken a lead over other sector and have emerged as a sunrise sector as that Indian manufacturing is moving up the value chain and have emerged as sunrise sectors for manufacturing employment generation.

Rising Enrolment in EPFO

An important indicator to measure the formal sector job market conditions is the payroll data published by EPFO, which has shown consistent growth in net payroll additions. The net additions increased from 73.8 lakh in FY 2018 to 178.8 lakh in FY 2025, highlighting a strong and sustained expansion in the formal workforce.

Sources: CMIE Economic Outlook

Between FY 2018–2025, annual net payroll additions to the EPFO more than doubled, rising from 7.38 million to 17.88 million, indicating a robust recovery from the pandemic years. This growth has been aided by various government initiatives to boost employment generation and formalization of the workforce. The steady rise in payroll additions reflects the increasing number of people joining the formal employment framework, further strengthening India's labour market

Government Initiatives

Employment is the crucial link between economic growth and prosperity. Acknowledging the importance of India's demographic advantage on the country's economic output, the government has implemented different employment generation schemes/programmes like Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana (PMMY), Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS), Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme (PMEGP), Rural Self Employment and Training Institutes (RSETIs), Pt. Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Grameen Kaushalya Yojana (DDU-GKY), Deen Dayal Antodaya Yojana-National Urban Livelihoods Mission (DAY-NULM), etc which are expected to have a favourable impact on employment status in India.

In the Budget 2025-26, the government also announced a package of schemes and initiatives under the Pradhan Mantri Viksit Bharat Rozgar Yojana (earlier ELI scheme) to facilitate employment, skilling, and other opportunities for youth. The scheme has an outlay of ₹1 lakh crore and is expected to generate 3.5 crore jobs within 2 years, with incentives for both employers and employees.

Beside above, the government has introduced various demand led growth scheme which fosters well in transforming the employment landscape in India. The major ones include:

Make in India: This flagship program incentivizes domestic manufacturing across 25 key sectors, providing tax breaks, subsidies, and streamlined regulatory processes. This directly increases demand for industrial infrastructure to house new manufacturing units. Moreover, the manufacturing sector is undergoing a transition, as the industry shift to the new Industry 4.0 norm. Dubbed the new industry revolution, the focus here is on improving efficiency as well as pace of activity. Automation of process has become central to this new norm. Factory automation which utilizes sensors to foster machine to machine communication as well as real time monitoring is the hallmark of Industry 4.0. This shift is likely to result in higher demand for industrial robots, data collection & analysis tools, as well as other smart industry platforms while its progress will essentially depend on the upskilling of the country's workforce transforming the broader landscape of Indian employment structure.

Production Linked Incentive Scheme (PLI): Offering financial incentives for specific sectors like electronics, pharmaceuticals, and automobiles, the PLI scheme attracts global players and stimulates domestic production, leading to increased demand for manufacturing facilities. At present PLI scheme is active in 14 industrial sectors, manufacturing products ranging from electronics to medical devices. Of the approximately Rs. 4 trillion in expected capital expenditure by corporates under the PLI scheme over five to six years, Rs. 1 trillion has been invested by November 2023, representing around 25% of the total estimated capex. The current capex deployment has generated approximately Rs. 9 trillion in incremental sales, which is 20-25% of the total projected incremental sales of Rs. 35-40 trillion from the PLI scheme as of November 2023. As of November 2023, eight sectors, including phone/electronics, pharma, and food products, have received disbursements under the PLI scheme for FY2024. Additionally, two more sectors, textiles, and white goods, are expected to claim PLI incentives for FY 2024. Increasing domestic manufacturing as a part of PLI scheme is expected to favourable impact the overall employment landscape in India by generating about 6 Mn job in a span of 5 years and thereby supporting the business of staffing and recruitment industry.

Infrastructure Development: Massive investments in highways, ports, railways, and power grids create an enabling environment for efficient logistics and improved connectivity, boosting the attractiveness of industrial zones. The union budget for 2025-26 increased the capital investment outlay for infrastructure by 10.1% to INR 11.21trillion, equating to 3.4% of GDP.

Multiple flagship scheme focussing the development of infrastructure construction creates immense opportunities for staffing companies' key infrastructure sector. These are discussed below:

National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP)

If India is to become a USD 5 Trillion economy by 2027, as well as continue its strong economic growth, the country will have to spend close to USD 4.5 trillion on infrastructure construction by 2030. National Infrastructure Pipeline is the consolidated platform that captures the multiple infrastructure investment projects planned by the Government to propel Indian economy to USD 5 trillion mark.

In Union Budget 2019-20, the government announced to invest INR 100 trillion in infrastructure over the next five years. The National Infrastructure Pipeline aims to improve the ease of living for its citizen. National Infrastructure Pipeline will include projects in various sectors such as housing, safe drinking water, access to clean and affordable energy, world-class educational institutes, healthcare for all, modern railway stations, airports, bus terminals, metro and railway transportation, logistics and warehousing, irrigation projects, etc. These projects are classified as per their size and stage of development.

The National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) was launched with 6835 projects envisaging investment worth INR 103 trillion in December 2019. The project pipeline has now comprised of nearly 9,736 projects which is together worth nearly USD 1.82 billion covering 56 diverse industry segments. Of this nearly 2,014 projects are under various stages of development. With NIP spanning FY 2019 – 25 period, the remaining projects are expected to be developed in the next couple of years. This points to a flurry of infrastructure construction activity in the country, which in turn would create numerous opportunities for the staffing and recruitment firms.

PM Gati Shakti

PM Gati Shakti plan – National Master Plan for Multi Modal Connectivity – launched in October 2021 is a digital platform that is aimed at improving the coordination among multiple ministries and departments involved in infrastructure development in the country. The program covers all the infrastructure initiatives outlined under Bharatmala & Sagarmala initiatives, port development, dedicated freight corridor program of railways as well as development of special economic zones.

Skill Development Programs: Initiatives like "Skill India" and "Make in India Skill Development Centres" bridge the skill gap in the workforce, ensuring a readily available pool of skilled labour for new industrial units.

(1) Staffing Industry in India

Staffing is the process of recruiting, evaluating, and hiring a workforce to fill vacant positions in the firms. During the past years, the Indian economy has witnessed robust growth backed by infrastructure development and substantial growth in sectors such as e-commerce, retail, FMCG, logistics, manufacturing, hospitality, tourism, aviation, energy, public administration, non-financial services, real estate, building, etc. Due to the ongoing growth in the above sectors, India has added 46.7 million workforces in FY 2024, making the total employment 643.4 million. Companies in the staffing industry, provide different types of staffing solutions to cater to the demands of their clients from a wide range of industries for recruiting, evaluating, and hiring staff for specific job roles. There are numerous staffing services to cater to numerous demands. One of the most growing spaces in staffing is flexi staffing in which employers can hire the workforce for temporary periods that can be long or short. The types of staffing are as follows.

Flexi Staffing: Flexible staffing or flexi staffing is a dynamic model that allows business to adjust their workforce size and composition in response to varying requirements for specific projects. It integrates both temporary and contract staffing, offering enhanced flexibility. Temporary staffing under flexi staffing addresses short-term needs such as seasonal surges or urgent projects. Similarly, contract staffing provides workers for defined periods or projects, accommodating different contract lengths and scopes. Additionally, flexi staffing can involve outsourcing certain HR functions and leveraging external agencies to manage shifting staffing requirements. This method of hiring staff helps businesses remain agile, adapting quickly to changes in demand without the long-term commitments of permanent hires.

Temporary Staffing: Temporary staffing is also considered as flexi staffing or contract staffing. Temporary staffing refers to the short-term hiring of employees during a specific time. They are often assigned to work on projects or assignments of a client company. This solution is beneficial if there are special projects or when an organization experiences peak seasons. Due to its flexible nature in managing workforce needs, companies use temporary staffing to cover employees on leave. Companies don't incur long-term employment benefits or obligations, saving costs along the way.

Temp-to-hire: Starting with contract staffing, a staffing agency employee can work for a client for a trial period, during which the customer and the employee discuss the possibility of a long-term job arrangement. At the end of the trial period, typically 90 days or longer, the employer can decide if they want to make a long-term commitment with the employee or not.

Direct Hire: In this solution, the staffing agency is a recruitment partner that is on the lookout for a suitable candidate for the company. The agency will take most of the initial steps in the hiring process and the client is the one who makes the final call. This solution is suitable for organizations looking for candidates to fill open positions for an extended period.

Payrolling: Payrolling as a staffing solution engages an agency to manage payroll and administration for a certain number of workers. These workers may be temporary, rehired retirees, or even independent contractors. The agency typically handles tasks involving payroll processing, benefits, taxation, and more, allowing the company to concentrate on managing the worker's daily tasks without worrying about the burden of paperwork.

Flexi Staffing

According to the Indian Staffing Federation (ISF), India's flexi staffing industry employed around 1.8 million formal flexi workers as of FY 2024-25, with the sector adding 1.39 lakh new jobs, marking a 9.7% year-on-year growth. In addition, there are nearly 70 lakh (7 million) contract workers engaged through staffing firms across the country. Despite this expansion, contract staffing still represents only about 1% of India's total workforce, compared to 2.2% in Europe and Asia-Pacific, highlighting significant headroom for growth. The model continues to gain traction as staffing companies ensure timely salary payouts, medical insurance, and longer contract durations, while collaboration among workers, organizations, agencies, industry bodies, and the government is driving the creation of more formal employment opportunities with social security benefits. Key stakeholders involved in flexi staffing are as follows:

- Organization: Corporate or organisations across sectors like e-commerce, FMCG, logistics, and start-ups are using flexible staffing solutions to fulfil the changing needs.
- Flexi Workers: Individuals from a large segment of India's workforce, including gig workers, first-time job seekers, and those in the unorganized space.
- Staffing Agencies: These agencies work as mediators for organizations and flexi workers. They can handle all the steps for hiring flexi workers or they can collaborate with the client's human resources team. They formalize employment and offer benefits such as PF, ESIC, and paid leave.
- Government & Policy Makers: New labour codes of the Indian government aim to extend social security to gig and platform workers. Policymakers can regularize the Flexi staffing space with laws and legislation to protect Flexi workers.
- Industry Bodies: Industry bodies like the Indian Staffing Federation give trends and updates about the industry and engage with the policymakers to create a conducive environment for the flexi workers.

Key features of Flexi staffing

Flexi staffing has gained popularity due to its numerous benefits. Flexi staffing offers businesses a highly adaptable hiring solution, allowing them to smoothly adjust staffing levels in response to changing demands and requirements. Key features include cost efficiency by aligning labour costs with current needs, access to specialized skills temporarily, and reduced administrative burden. Flexi staffing provides a dynamic and responsive approach to workforce management. The key features of flexi staffing are as follows:

Cost advantage: Hiring temporary workers instead of permanent employees allows organisations to switch fixed costs to variable costs. Thereby minimising cost, as they have only the necessary number of employees on their roster and minimal bench. They save on hiring and training costs and reduced overtime for permanent employees.

Faster deployment: Staffing vendors have access to a vast candidate pool with varied skill sets, the latest tools for recruitment functions, and a larger team dedicated to talent hiring. It allows them to fulfil staffing requirements swiftly, efficiently, and effectively.

Flexibility: Flexi staffing permits organisations to increase or decrease employee strength corresponding to business requirements. It allows firms to be dynamic and bold in their business choices. Trying out an experimental product or service is less fraught with risk as it's easier to wrap up the project if it fails to deliver.

Competitive edge: A nimble team with the right skills is more effective than a cumbersome one. Especially in the tech industry, adding numbers does not necessarily mean an earlier resolution or project end-date. Hiring contingent workers who fit the project requirements is more likely to let the organisation be one-up on its competitors.

Specialist expertise: Some product development or project might require a specialist in a niche area on the team. Such experts usually are expensive resources. Moreover, their skill might not prove helpful for other ongoing projects or the ones in the pipeline. Additionally, these specialists would customarily be highly reluctant to switch or change to another field of expertise. A temporary hire is the best fit in such scenarios.

Complex projects: There are long-running projects with many highs and ebbs in the resource count according to the stage of the project. For example, the life cycle could consist of a small initial design team, a medium-sized development team, an extensive test team, and a small review team before the next iteration. Such projects are best done with a core team of permanent employees and an additional contingent unit that grows and shrinks as required.

Reduced administrative effort: Hiring a permanent employee entails more scrutiny and screening to ensure a culture fit, growth potential, and leadership skills than recruiting temporary workers. So, contract worker hiring is the way to go when a ramp-up is needed for a particular duration.

Reduced employee attrition: Employee burnout and stagnation are significant causes of attrition, especially for high-performing talent. Burnout can be avoided by bringing in temporary workers to ease the workload. An employee whose growth has stagnated can take on a change in role, while a contingent worker assumes the employee's previous responsibility. Economic downturns are a time of layoffs, and employees might quit if they get a more secure offer. Organisations can manage staff reductions by letting go of contingent workers and reassuring permanent employees about their job security.

On-the-job assessment: A temporary position can be offered to promising candidates to evaluate their performance on the job. This step ensures that only suitable candidates become permanent employees. It reduces attrition because the candidates get hands-on experience and can decide if the job interests them and whether they fit the organisation.

Key Growth Drivers

With the rapid integration of technology across all sectors, the demand for highly skilled workforce, which can be hired immediately for any specific project, has also been increasing. India is steadily catching up with the developed countries on increasing preference for flexi workers or formal contractual workers across all industries. According to the Annual Survey of Industries (ASI), the share of contract workers in India's formal manufacturing sector has continued to rise. In FY 2024, contract workers constituted 40.7% of the total workforce, up from 40.2% in FY 2023. This substantial increase shows the preference of businesses for flexi staffing. The key demand drivers of flexi staff are as follows:

Presence of large pool of resources: India has a large pool of working-age resources which has supported the growth of the Staffing Solutions market. Increasing preference for gig working among millennial is also contributing to the growth of this market. Deploying temporary staff with the required skill set lowers the time and effort spent on training.

Manpower scalability and flexibility: Workplace dynamics and requirements have changed radically over the last decade. Today organizations need skilled manpower to deal with the dynamic and bespoke industry demand. Opting for temporary staffing enables companies to recruit employees based on the demand situation. This helps in making the end user company agile to the needs of the industry while making the company lean and the manpower compliance management easy. Moreover, many organizations have fluctuating demand for manpower depending on seasonality economic scenario etc. where temporary staffing can address the issues. Choosing temporary staff enables user organizations to convert their fixed costs into variable costs.

Rise of the Gig Economy: As the gig economy grows, characterized by short term, project-based or freelance work, there is an increasing reliance on temporary staffing solutions. This shift is primarily driven by businesses' need for greater flexibility and agility in managing their workforce. Companies are now able to hire skilled workers for specific task or project without committing to long term employment contracts, which help them manage costs more effectively. According to a Industry report, India's gig workforce is projected to reach 23.5 million by FY 2030 up from 12 million in FY 2025. This means gig workers will constitute 6.7% of the non-agricultural workforce in India by the FY 2030 financial year, compared to over 2% in the FY 2025.

Ease of compliance: India has a complex regulatory compliance requirement with more than 1,500 Acts, 72,000+ compliances and 6,600+ filings across central and state governments. Labour laws have the maximum number of compliance and filing requirements. Various states have implemented their own rules leading to variations in submission dates, formats, regulatory authorities, and duty structures among others. Non-compliance can result in severe legal and financial implications for companies. With the adoption of flexi-staffing or temporary staff, compliance related to labour laws become the responsibility of staffing companies and this significantly reduces the efforts required from clients.

Shorter Hiring Process: By rapidly providing pre-screened and qualified candidates, these services help companies quickly fill position and meet immediate need, which is a crucial for maintain operational efficiency.

Growth forecast

The demand for the flexi staffing model is expected to accelerate further in FY 2025. With improved communication technologies like 5G and advancements in IoT, more jobs will be location-independent, facilitating remote work, and this will, in turn, boost work-life balance and encourage skilled workers on breaks to explore going back to work, at least for specific gigs or part-time. Companies and contingent workers will connect more efficiently as more businesses go digital and online digital platforms evolve.

The number of women in STEM courses in India has been steadily increasing, with a rise of 53,388 from 2018 to 2020, and it is expected to continue doing so. This increase will provide a more extensive and diverse talent pool and reduce the demand and supply gap for the IT and ITES sectors where flexi staffing is rising. Improved gender parity in STEM and other educational fields will break gender stereotypes, and hiring will be more inclusive. As per the Indian Staffing Federation (ISF), the volume of flexi workers in India is projected to be 10 million by 2030 from 5-5.5 million at present, showing the huge requirements of flexi workers.

The huge gap in gender equality in household chores is another factor that holds back women from the workforce. As more women become financially independent, cultural norms are slowly changing in India, and the younger generation is more progressive in their beliefs. As AI and IoT-enabled intelligent home appliances, which are better automated, are developed and become the norm, a more equitable distribution of household responsibilities can be expected. Lesser women will quit, and the representation of women at all levels, including middle and senior management, will rise. Flexi staffing will see a surge in women applicants. Many nations are facing an impending aging population and will see a shrinking labour force. Flexi staffing could help organisations solve the labour supply issue by providing flexible and part-time options to retired workers who could remain part of the working population. Moreover, The National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) for FY 2019–2025 is a key government initiative to provide world-class infrastructure to Indian citizens and improve their quality of life. Its objective is to improve project preparation and attract investments into the infrastructure segment. As government invest on large scale infrastructure, there is often a need for diverse range of skills and expertise on a temporary or project specific basis. This creates opportunities for propel the growth for the market.

Recruitment & Hiring Services Industry

India's recruitment & hiring sector has seen robust growth in recent years and is estimated to continue to grow in the coming years. India with a population of 1.4 billion people and with a growing economy, is home to a large and wide range of workforce. With growing infrastructure development, an increasing number of skilled workforces, and the integration of technology in every possible industry, India is becoming a key market for recruitment services. In India's hiring industry, there is a mix of large and small players, including multinational companies and domestic firms. The industry boasts a diverse industry including IT software, IT-BPM, Finance & banking, healthcare, manufacturing, etc.

A notable trend in the recruitment market is the shift towards skill-centric hiring. Employers are increasingly prioritizing specific skills and practical experience over formal qualifications, prompting recruitment agencies to refine their strategies to find talent that meets these nuanced requirements. This shift is driven by the growing demand for professionals skilled in areas such as artificial intelligence, data analytics, and cybersecurity, reflecting the broader trend of technology-driven demand across various sectors.

Recruitment and hiring services in India offer a range of tailored solutions to corporates, helping them meet their talent acquisition needs efficiently and effectively.

- These services include talent sourcing, where agencies identify and attract qualified candidates for specific roles, and executive search, which focuses on finding top-tier leadership talent for senior positions.
- Additionally, recruitment agencies provide services such as employer branding to enhance a company's appeal to potential candidates,
- Workforce planning to align hiring strategies with business objectives, and onboarding support to ensure new hires are smoothly integrated into the organization.

By leveraging their extensive networks and industry expertise, recruitment firms offer corporates a strategic advantage in navigating the complex and competitive job market in India.

India's position as a global outsourcing hub has further shaped the recruitment landscape, fuelling the demand for specialized skills, particularly in sectors like IT and customer service. Offshore recruitment agencies are actively sourcing talent capable of thriving in a globalized work environment. Simultaneously, the thriving start-up ecosystem in India has introduced a wave of innovation and new job roles, requiring a blend of technical skills and an entrepreneurial mindset. Recruitment agencies are increasingly catering to these unique demands, focusing on finding candidates who are not only technically proficient but also adaptable and innovative. Government initiatives aimed at enhancing skill development and promoting entrepreneurship are also playing a crucial role in transforming the employment landscape. These initiatives are creating new opportunities and driving recruitment agencies to align their strategies with the evolving market needs. As the job market continues to change, the ability to adapt remains a key requirement for both job seekers and recruitment agencies.

In summary, the recruitment and hiring industry in India is experiencing significant transformation due to technological advancements, changing employer expectations, and government-led initiatives. Recruitment agencies are at the forefront of this evolution, playing a vital role in connecting talent with opportunity and navigating the ever-changing dynamics of the Indian job market.

Traditional staffing V/S tech-enabled / SaaS-based recruitment solutions

Adoption of Digital Solutions in the Recruitment Process: The recruitment function is undergoing accelerated digital transformation, with enterprises increasingly shifting from traditional staffing-led hiring models to technology-enabled and SaaS-based recruitment solutions. While traditional staffing companies primarily operate through service-based, placement-driven models with high manual involvement, enterprises are now adopting digital platforms to improve efficiency and scalability. Industry benchmarks suggest that approximately 75–85% of mid-to-large enterprises deploy Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS), while 60–70% use AI-based resume screening tools. Video interviewing platforms have achieved adoption levels of nearly 65–75%, particularly following the shift toward remote and hybrid work models. Additionally, 40–55% of organizations use recruitment chatbots for candidate engagement, and over 50% integrate recruitment analytics dashboards into their HR processes. This shift reflects a broader transition from manpower-intensive recruitment models to automated, data-driven digital ecosystems.

Efficiency Gains and Measurable Business Impact: Unlike traditional staffing companies—where hiring timelines are often dependent on recruiter bandwidth and manual coordination—tech-enabled recruitment solutions deliver measurable efficiency gains through automation. Enterprises integrating ATS, AI screening, and video interviewing tools report a 30–45% reduction in time-to-hire and a 20–35% decline in cost-per-hire. Recruiter productivity improves by 25–40% as repetitive administrative tasks are automated. Automated scheduling reduces coordination time by 50–60%, while candidate drop-off rates decline by 15–25% due to faster engagement cycles. These improvements demonstrate how SaaS-based platforms enhance operational efficiency compared to traditional placement-driven models.

Integration of an End-to-End Digital Recruitment Ecosystem: Organizations are increasingly building integrated recruitment ecosystems that combine ATS platforms, AI-based screening tools, video interviewing solutions, recruitment chatbots, and HRMS systems. This integration creates a seamless hiring workflow covering sourcing, screening, interviewing, offer management, and onboarding. By centralizing candidate data within unified dashboards, enterprises gain enhanced visibility into hiring funnel metrics, source effectiveness, compliance tracking, and workforce analytics. Such ecosystem-driven recruitment improves scalability, enhances governance, and reduces reliance on manual coordination.

Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) Platforms: Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) platforms constitute the core infrastructure of modern digital recruitment by centralizing candidate applications, automating resume parsing, and ranking profiles through skill-based matching algorithms. These systems integrate seamlessly with HRMS, payroll, and onboarding modules, ensuring a streamlined transition from hiring to broader employee lifecycle management. By digitizing workflows such as application tracking, interview scheduling, and approval hierarchies, ATS platforms enhance transparency, standardization, and administrative efficiency. Additionally, built-in analytics dashboards provide visibility into recruiter productivity, hiring funnel performance, and source effectiveness. Delivered through a SaaS-based subscription model, ATS solutions offer scalable deployment across geographies and business units, making them suitable for both large enterprises and growing SMEs.

Video Interviewing Platforms: Video interviewing platforms have become a critical component of digital hiring strategies, particularly for high-volume and geographically dispersed recruitment needs. These platforms support both live and asynchronous (one-way) interviews, enabling recruiters to assess candidates more efficiently and flexibly. When integrated with ATS systems, video interviewing tools allow centralized candidate tracking and seamless progression across hiring stages. Advanced features such as AI-driven scoring, speech analysis, and structured evaluation templates enhance standardization and help reduce bias in assessments. Organizations leveraging video interviewing solutions report up to 40–50% faster initial screening cycles along with significant reductions in travel and coordination costs, positioning these platforms as a key enabler of scalable recruitment in hybrid and remote work environments.

Sector-Wise Digital Penetration Trends: Digital recruitment adoption is highest in IT, technology, BFSI, and e-commerce sectors, where rapid scaling and remote hiring necessitate automation. Manufacturing and traditional industries show moderate adoption, driven by gradual digitization efforts. MSMEs display relatively lower penetration levels due to cost sensitivity; however, increasing availability of affordable SaaS-based recruitment tools is improving accessibility. Overall, the market is steadily transitioning from service-led recruitment toward platform-driven, technology-enabled hiring models focused on efficiency, analytics, and improved candidate experience.

How Staffing/recruitment happens in the public domain

Recruitment in the public domain, encompassing government departments, Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs), and statutory bodies, operates within a structured, rule-based, and highly regulated framework designed to ensure transparency, fairness, and adherence to constitutional mandates. Unlike private-sector hiring, which is typically faster and commercially flexible, public-sector recruitment is formal, documentation-intensive, and governed by statutory procedures. The process is centralized and merit-driven, with clearly defined eligibility criteria, reservation provisions, and procedural safeguards to ensure institutional accountability.

In addition to direct recruitment, public institutions may engage manpower through tender-based outsourcing mechanisms for contractual roles. Such engagements are governed by public procurement norms, commonly under the L1 (lowest bidder) model or, in certain cases, Quality and Cost-Based Selection (QCBS) frameworks. Unlike private-sector recruitment, which is typically faster and commercially negotiated, public sector staffing involves slower, tender-driven vendor selection processes, strict statutory compliance requirements, and layered administrative approvals. This makes public domain recruitment more procedural, compliance-heavy, and time-intensive compared to private-sector hiring models.

Public sector staffing engagements are highly compliance-driven, requiring strict adherence to labour laws, statutory registrations, tax regulations, and contractual obligations. Agencies must ensure timely PF and ESI remittances, minimum wage compliance, valid PAN and GST registrations, and maintain detailed payroll and audit documentation, all subject to periodic inspections. In tender-based contracts, additional requirements such as performance bank guarantees, service-level adherence, and structured reporting further reinforce regulatory oversight, with non-compliance potentially leading to penalties, payment suspension, or contract termination.

Delays in Vendor Payments in the Public Domain

Vendor payment delays are a structural characteristic of public sector staffing and tender-based contracts. While procurement frameworks emphasize transparency and compliance validation, payment cycles are often prolonged due to multi-layered approval mechanisms, documentation verification requirements, and budgetary release procedures. Invoice settlement may require attendance reconciliation, validation of statutory remittances such as PF and ESI, compliance certification, and formal administrative approvals before funds are released. As a result, receivable cycles commonly extend to 60–120 days.

However, staffing agencies remain obligated to disburse employee salaries and deposit statutory contributions within fixed monthly timelines, irrespective of payment receipt. Given that many public sector contracts operate under competitive L1 frameworks with compressed service margins, this extended payment cycles create additional operational and financial pressure. Agencies must fund payroll and compliance obligations upfront, increasing working capital requirements and short-term financing dependence. Consequently, the combination of slow tender-based selection, strict compliance requirements, and delayed payments distinguishes public sector staffing significantly from private-sector engagements and materially impacts liquidity management for staffing companies.

Strengthening Public Domain Recruitment through Tech-Enabled / SaaS-Based Solutions

Public sector recruitment and tender-based staffing frameworks are traditionally documentation-intensive, compliance-driven, and administratively layered. While such structures promote transparency and procedural integrity, they often lead to extended hiring timelines, manual verification dependencies, and limited real-time visibility into compliance status. The integration of SaaS-based recruitment and compliance management platforms offers an opportunity to modernize these processes by enhancing operational efficiency, strengthening governance controls, and improving audit readiness without diluting statutory safeguards.

Technology enablement can significantly improve both recruitment and vendor management functions. Through digitized tender and vendor management systems, authorities can facilitate online bid submissions, automate eligibility validation, and monitor empanelled vendors in real time, thereby improving transparency and accountability beyond traditional L1-based evaluation models. Simultaneously, integrated compliance monitoring tools can automate tracking of PF and ESI contributions, validate statutory challans, generate compliance certifications, and issue dashboard-based alerts for filing deadlines or wage revisions. Such real-time visibility reduces compliance risk, minimizes manual bottlenecks, and supports structured oversight across departments and service providers.

Working Capital Dynamics in the Staffing Industry

Staffing businesses operate within a structurally working capital-intensive framework due to the inherent design of their revenue and cost structure. Unlike product-led or SaaS-based models, staffing companies function as intermediaries that deploy manpower to client organizations while assuming responsibility for salary disbursement, statutory remittances, and payroll administration. A substantial portion of the revenue generated is pass-through employee cost, with only a limited-service margin retained by the firm. This dynamic creates an inherent timing mismatch between cash inflows and outflows.

A key driver of working capital requirements is the mandatory monthly disbursement of employee salaries and statutory contributions, irrespective of the client's payment cycle. In several engagements—particularly with large corporate and public sector entities—receivable periods may extend from 60 to 120 days. Despite this, staffing companies must meet fixed payroll timelines and deposit statutory dues such as Provident Fund (PF) and Employee State Insurance (ESI) within prescribed deadlines. The resulting gap between cash outflow for payroll and cash realization from clients necessitates the maintenance of liquidity buffers or reliance on short-term financing arrangements.

The working capital burden is further heightened by compliance-related cash commitments. Statutory remittances must be deposited upfront, and in tender-based contracts, performance bank guarantees or security deposits may temporarily block funds. Given that staffing margins are typically limited—often in the low to mid-single-digit range, any delay in receivable collections can directly impact cash flow stability and overall profitability. Consequently, revenue growth does not automatically translate into improved liquidity; instead, expansion often requires proportionately higher working capital support.

Moreover, the scale-driven nature of the staffing model intensifies capital requirements. As the number of employees under management increases, aggregate monthly payroll obligations rise correspondingly. Unlike SaaS-based platforms, where incremental revenue generation requires minimal incremental capital deployment, staffing firms must finance each additional manpower engagement. Therefore, effective receivables management, prudent client credit assessment, and access to structured working capital financing are essential to ensure operational continuity and sustainable growth.

Long Debtor Cycles and Elevated Cash Requirements

The staffing industry inherently operates with extended debtor cycles, particularly when serving large enterprises and government clients. These customers typically follow structured and multi-layered payment approval processes, which can extend receivable timelines to 60–120 days or longer. Invoice verification often involves attendance reconciliation, compliance documentation review, statutory validation, and multiple internal approval stages before payment release. While such processes enhance governance and control, they contribute to elongated cash conversion cycles for staffing providers.

Despite these delayed inflows, staffing companies are obligated to meet fixed and time-bound cash outflows, including monthly salary payments, statutory contributions, and administrative expenses. This structural imbalance between receivable realization and payroll obligations increases liquidity pressure. The situation is more pronounced in public sector contracts, where budgetary release mechanisms and compliance scrutiny can further extend payment timelines.

As a result, the industry naturally demands substantial working capital support to bridge the gap between cash outflows and inflows. Companies operating at scale must maintain strong liquidity management practices, access to credit facilities, and disciplined receivables monitoring to ensure operational continuity. Extended debtor cycles are therefore not an isolated challenge but a structural characteristic of the staffing sector, particularly in engagements with large corporate and government institutions.

Margin differences: High-level differentiation in margins between manpower services and scalable technology platforms.

Staffing as a Low-Margin, High-Volume Business Model

The traditional staffing industry operates on structurally thin margins due to its markup-based revenue model and high-cost obligations. Revenue is typically earned as a percentage of the employee's gross salary, around 3–8% in public sector and large enterprise contracts (often L1-driven) and 8–15% in private sector engagements. However, since this margin is calculated on payroll cost rather than value-added services, profitability remains inherently constrained. A substantial portion of invoiced revenue is pass-through in nature, covering wages, statutory contributions (PF, ESI, gratuity), bonuses, insurance, and payroll taxes, with only the service fee retained by the agency.

The model is further burdened by working capital intensity and operational complexity. Staffing firms must disburse salaries and statutory dues upfront despite receivable cycles of 60–120 days, creating liquidity pressure and financing costs. Growth is labour-intensive and linear, each new contract requires additional recruiters, compliance personnel, payroll processing capacity, and administrative oversight. As headcount scales, so do documentation, statutory, and grievance management requirements, increasing execution risk. Consequently, profitability depends largely on volume expansion, geographic scale, and disciplined operational efficiency rather than pricing power or margin expansion.

Technology-Driven Recruitment as a High-Margin, Scalable Model

Technology-enabled or SaaS-based recruitment solutions operate on an asset-light, subscription-driven model that inherently supports higher margins and scalability. Revenue is typically generated through recurring subscription fees, per-user licenses, or enterprise platform contracts, without assuming employee wage liabilities or statutory compliance obligations associated with manpower deployment. As a result, gross margins are significantly higher, often in the range of 60–80%, with core costs largely limited to software development, cloud infrastructure, and customer support.

Once the platform infrastructure is established, the incremental cost of adding new clients remains relatively low, enabling strong operating leverage and non-linear revenue growth. Recurring revenue visibility, multi-year contracts, and high retention rates enhance financial predictability. Additionally, the ability to upsell complementary modules such as video interviewing, AI-based screening, and analytics dashboards increases average revenue per user, while digital deployment facilitates rapid geographic expansion without the need for physical branch infrastructure

Comparison of Two Models

Key Parameter	Traditional Staffing (Low-Margin, High-Volume)	Technology-Driven Recruitment (High-Margin, Scalable)
Business Model & Revenue Structure	Revenue is directly linked to manpower deployment. Earnings come from service markups on payroll or placement fees. Growth depends on increasing employee headcount under management.	Revenue is generated through recurring SaaS subscriptions, licensing fees, and platform usage. Income is not linked to employee deployment but to software adoption.
Margin Profile & Profitability Drivers	Operates on compressed margins (often low to mid-single-digit EBITDA), especially in competitive or public sector contracts. Profitability depends on scale, cost control, and operational efficiency.	Operates on structurally higher gross and EBITDA margins due to operating leverage. Margins expand as the customer base grows since incremental costs are relatively low.
Scalability & Growth Nature	Linear scalability, each new contract requires proportional increases in recruiters, compliance staff, payroll processing, and administrative infrastructure.	Exponential scalability, once the technology platform is built, additional customers can be onboarded with limited incremental cost, enabling rapid multi-geography expansion.
Working Capital & Cash Flow Intensity	High working capital requirement due to upfront salary payments and statutory dues despite delayed client receivables (often 60–120 days). Growth increases funding pressure.	Low working capital intensity with predictable recurring subscription revenue and minimal receivable risk. No payroll financing obligations.

Transition in Hiring Space: Integration of Technology

The recruitment landscape in India has evolved dramatically with the integration of advanced technology and digital tools. As industries have digitized globally, talent acquisition has also shifted from traditional methods to more efficient, technology-driven processes. The COVID-19 pandemic accelerated this transformation, pushing companies to adopt online recruitment strategies and remote work models. This digital shift, coupled with the emergence of the gig economy, has necessitated innovative approaches to hiring, retention, and development of human capital in an increasingly volatile market. Technology is now a cornerstone of modern recruitment, offering solutions that enhance efficiency, reduce biases, and widen the talent pool.

Increasing Usage of Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS):

The adoption of Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) is rapidly increasing as organizations seek to optimize their hiring processes. An ATS serves as a centralized hub that automates job postings, manages applications, tracks candidates' progress, and facilitates seamless communication between hiring teams and candidates. Beyond these basic functions, modern ATS solutions offer advanced capabilities like resume parsing, which automatically extracts and organizes relevant information from resumes for easy evaluation. This software also provides automated screening based on predefined criteria, enhancing the accuracy and efficiency of shortlisting candidates. Additionally, ATS platforms offer analytics and reporting tools, helping organizations assess key recruitment metrics and maintain compliance with employment laws, thereby improving hiring outcomes and candidate experience. According to the recent estimation by JobScan, in 2025 over 97.8% of Fortune 500 companies use ATS.

Integration of Video Interviewing Software:

Video interviewing software is revolutionizing recruitment by providing flexibility and cost-efficiency to both employers and candidates. This technology enables recruiters to conduct remote interviews, saving time and reducing expenses associated with traditional in-person interviews. Advanced video interviewing tools incorporate AI features like facial recognition, sentiment analysis, and voice modulation, allowing for a more comprehensive assessment of a candidate's skills, personality, and cultural fit. The capability for asynchronous interviews, where candidates can record responses at their convenience also speeds up the hiring process and allows recruiters to review them on their schedules, enhancing decision-making efficiency.

Pre-Employment Assessment Tools & Onboarding Software:

Organizations are increasingly using pre-employment assessment tools to make informed hiring decisions. These tools evaluate candidates' skills, cognitive abilities, personality traits, and cultural fit, providing data-driven insights to select the best talent. Coupled with onboarding software, firms can ensure new employees are smoothly integrated into their job roles and the company culture. These platforms automate the delivery of training modules, resource allocation, and personalized onboarding experiences, which improves employee engagement, reduces turnover, and ensures compliance with organizational policies.

Automated Resume Screening Applications:

Automated resume screening applications have become essential in recruitment, particularly for companies handling a high volume of applications. These AI-powered tools use natural language processing (NLP) and machine learning algorithms to screen resumes for specific keywords, qualifications, and experiences that match job descriptions. This automated approach speeds up the initial screening process and eliminates human bias, resulting in a more objective selection of candidates. As a result, recruiters can focus more on strategic aspects of hiring, such as evaluating cultural fit and potential for growth within the organization.

Increasing Usage of AI/ML in Recruitment Processes:

Integrating Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) into recruitment is transforming how companies attract, screen, and select candidates. AI-powered tools such as chatbots provide personalized interactions, conduct initial screenings, and offer real-time feedback to candidates, enhancing the overall candidate experience. Predictive analytics tools analyse data from various sources, including social media, to identify candidates most likely to succeed in a role. AI-driven video interviewing tools use facial recognition and sentiment analysis to assess candidate suitability, while candidate matching tools use sophisticated algorithms to pair candidates with the most fitting roles. Companies in India are already leveraging AI platforms to reduce time-to-hire and improve candidate quality, making AI a game-changer for modern recruitment strategies.

These advanced tools not only save time and resources but also improve accuracy, eliminate biases, and ensure a more holistic approach to talent acquisition. Technology & AI in recruitment are paving the way for smarter, more efficient hiring practices, with a focus on both technical skills and cultural fit.

(1) Major Demand Drivers for Recruitment Technology Solutions:

The demand for recruitment technology in India is growing rapidly, driven by the need for efficient high-volume hiring, cost reduction, and data-driven decision-making. The rise of digital transformation, remote work trends, and the growth of Global Capability Centres (GCCs) are pushing organizations to adopt advanced tools like AI-driven platforms and automated screening applications. Enhancing candidate experience and ensuring compliance with labour laws also play a significant role in this trend. Startups, SMEs, and large enterprises alike are leveraging these technologies to stay competitive and attract top talent in a dynamic job market. Overall, recruitment technology is becoming essential for optimizing hiring processes and improving outcomes.

Managing High-Volume Hiring and Competition for Talent

With a growing economy, industries in India are expanding, and thus recruiting high volumes of candidates is creating demand for skilled talent across all industries. India's vast and growing talent pool presents challenges for organizations to efficiently manage large volumes of applications. Recruitment technologies, such as Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS), automated screening tools, and AI-driven platforms, have become essential for filtering and shortlisting candidates quickly, reducing time-to-hire, and improving the quality of hires. As competition for top talent intensifies across various industries, companies are investing in innovative recruitment technologies to enhance their employer branding, improve engagement with potential candidates, and expedite the hiring process, thereby gaining a competitive edge in the job market.

Digital Transformation and Remote Recruitment Solutions

The shift towards digital transformation and the increasing prevalence of remote work, accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic, have pushed organizations to adopt digital recruitment solutions. Video interviewing software, remote onboarding tools, and AI-powered assessments have become crucial for companies to connect with candidates and evaluate them virtually. These digital tools ensure business continuity in a hybrid or remote work environment, enabling companies to adapt to the evolving landscape and attract talent from diverse locations without geographical constraints.

Efficiency, Cost Reduction & Data Driven Hiring

Organizations are increasingly focused on optimizing their hiring processes and reducing recruitment costs. The demand for technologies that automate repetitive tasks like resume screening, interview scheduling, and candidate communication is on the rise. Recruitment technology helps streamline these processes, saving time and resources for HR teams. Additionally, companies are relying on data analytics to make informed hiring decisions. Recruitment technology provides advanced analytics and reporting features that offer insights into key recruitment metrics, such as source of hire, time-to-fill, and candidate quality, enabling HR teams to refine their strategies and improve overall hiring outcomes.

Enhancing Candidate Experience and Skill-Based Hiring

Improving the candidate experience has become a crucial factor in attracting top talent. Recruitment technologies, such as AI-powered chatbots, personalized communication tools, and mobile-friendly platforms, enhance the candidate journey by providing timely updates, feedback, and seamless interactions, which in turn boosts employer branding and candidate satisfaction. Moreover, there is a growing emphasis on skill-based hiring and evaluating candidates beyond just their resumes. AI and machine learning (ML) are transforming recruitment by automating processes, eliminating biases, and predicting hiring outcomes. Tools like resume parsers, candidate matching systems, pre-employment assessments, psychometric tests, and skill-based evaluations help companies identify candidates who possess the right skills, cognitive abilities, and cultural fit.

Compliance, Startups, and Global Capability Centres (GCCs)

In India, Compliance has become a central factor in India's recruitment landscape, with companies required to adhere to a wide array of labour laws, tax regulations, and social security mandates. Recruitment technology plays a vital role here by automating processes such as documentation, payroll management, record-keeping, and audit trails, reducing risks of non-compliance and ensuring transparency. As firms expand across states with diverse regulations, the reliance on digital compliance solutions is increasing, making recruitment platforms not just hiring tools but also governance enablers.

At the same time, India's booming startup ecosystem and the rapid expansion of Global Capability Centres (GCCs) are driving demand for advanced recruitment solutions. As of June 2025, over 1.80 lakh startups have been recognized, making India the world's third-largest startup hub, while 1,700+ GCCs employ around 1.9 million professionals with projections to cross 2,100 centres and 2.5 million employees by 2030. Startups demand cost-effective, scalable recruitment tools to compete with larger players, whereas GCCs increasingly require sophisticated, globally compliant solutions for high-skill hiring in R&D, AI, cloud, and cybersecurity. Together, these developments are reshaping India's employment landscape and accelerating the adoption of recruitment technology. Demands for technology solutions in the recruitment & hiring space are going to rise in upcoming years due to the robust demands from the companies. As digital transformation accelerates, the adoption of recruitment technology will continue to grow, catering to the diverse needs of both large enterprises and emerging startups in the recruiting sector.

(1)Growth Outlook:

India's workforce, now numbering nearly 643.3 million as of FY 2024, underscores a rapidly evolving labour market marked by significant growth and diversification. Agriculture and services remain dominant job creators, with agriculture employing 46% of the workforce and services accounting for 30%. Meanwhile, the formal sector has seen considerable progress, employing about one-fourth of the workforce in 2024, signalling a shift towards more structured employment opportunities. This shift towards the formal sector is accompanied by a substantial increase in the workforce, with 46.7 million additions in FY24 alone.

As the demand for skilled talent across various sectors is set to rise, particularly in the formal sector, companies will face the challenge of managing large-scale hiring processes efficiently. The surge in job opportunities in the formal sector will drive the need for advanced recruitment technology solutions. Tools such as Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS), AI-driven screening, and automated recruitment platforms will become essential in streamlining recruitment processes, ensuring effective talent acquisition, and meeting the growing demands of a rapidly evolving job market.

Furthermore, the startup ecosystem, supported by government initiatives like Startup India, Standup India, Atal Innovation Mission, and the Fund of Funds for Startups (FFS), plays a crucial role in driving economic growth and job creation. These programs provide essential resources, including funding, mentorship, tax benefits, and regulatory support, fostering innovation and entrepreneurship across the country. As these startups grow and expand, they will contribute significantly to job creation, further increasing the demand for skilled talent and advanced recruitment technologies to manage high-volume hiring needs.

Moreover, the rapid expansion of Global Capability Centres (GCCs) in India is reshaping the hiring landscape, particularly within the IT sector. The anticipated surge of 12-15% in IT hiring in CY2024, driven by the growth of GCCs, underscores the demand for highly skilled professionals to manage complex technological processes. This growth in formal sector jobs will necessitate the use of advanced recruitment technologies to handle large-scale hiring efficiently. AI and machine learning will be pivotal in transforming recruitment processes by automating repetitive tasks, improving candidate screening, and providing data-driven insights for optimizing hiring strategies.

As the India's economy continues to grow, businesses will continue to expand, and new startups will continue to emerge. This is expected to create an increasing emphasis on utilizing advanced recruitment technologies to manage high-volume hiring needs. Platforms leveraging AI-driven algorithms and data analytics will become essential for organizations to navigate the complexities of large-scale recruitment. These technologies will enable companies to identify and attract the right talent, reduce time-to-hire, and enhance overall recruitment efficiency.

By investing in recruitment technology and fostering a supportive environment for startups and businesses, India is well-positioned to meet its ambitious job creation targets and sustain economic growth. This strategic focus will allow companies to manage large-scale hiring efficiently, build a robust and skilled workforce, and ensure that India continues to make significant strides in its economic development.

Competitive Landscape for Tech-focused staffing companies

The competitive landscape in the staffing and recruitment industry is characterized by the presence of large organized workforce management companies, mid-sized regional staffing firms, and emerging technology-driven recruitment platforms. Competition varies significantly across segments, with traditional staffing providers competing primarily on scale, pricing, compliance capability, and geographic reach, particularly in public sector and large enterprise contracts where tender-based selection and L1 pricing models dominate. In contrast, technology-enabled recruitment platforms compete on product innovation, automation capabilities, analytics integration, and scalability. The market structure, therefore, reflects a clear divergence between manpower-intensive service providers operating on thin margins and asset-light SaaS players leveraging technology to drive efficiency, differentiation, and higher-margin growth.

Competitive Scenario

It is estimated that there are over 10,000 firms operating in the recruitment & staffing space, lending the industry its fragmented nature. However, these firms – in the unorganized sector – often cater to the lower-level employee requirement and temporary staffing. Organized players which include home grown players like Quest and Team Lease and MNCs like Adecco operates across all segments, from temporary staffing to employee training. The organized segment is thus better placed to benefit the changes that is happening in the staffing & recruitment industry in India.

Key factors Shaping Competition:

The competition in India's Flexi staffing industry is shaped by various factors that influence how agencies operate and compete for both clients and talent. These factors collectively drive the industry's growth and determine the competitive dynamics. Key factors shaping competition are as follows:

- Market Demand and Sectoral Growth: High demand in sectors like e-commerce, FMCG, and IT increases competition among agencies to provide flexible staffing solutions.
- Technological Advancements: Agencies leveraging AI, digital platforms, and remote work technologies gain a competitive edge in streamlining processes and expanding reach.
- Regulatory Environment: Compliance with evolving labour regulations and new social security measures impacts agency operations and their competitive standing.
- Talent Pool and Skill Availability: The competition to attract and retain skilled workers, particularly in technology sectors, is intense, with a focus on building diverse and inclusive teams.
- Cost Efficiency and Flexibility: Agencies offering cost-effective and flexible staffing solutions are better positioned to thrive in a market focused on minimizing overheads.
- Cultural Shifts and Workforce Preferences: Changing attitudes toward work-life balance and flexible job arrangements are driving competition, with agencies that cater to these preferences gaining an advantage.
- Globalization and Economic Factors: The entry of multinational companies and the liberalization of the Indian economy push local agencies to meet higher international standards.

The submitted bids undergo technical evaluation by the tendering authority. In certain cases, the Company is invited to make a technical presentation or clarification before the evaluation committee.

5. Financial Evaluation and L1 / L2 Determination

Post technical qualification, financial bids are opened and evaluated. Bidders are ranked based on quoted rates, and results are declared as L1, L2, etc., as per the tender methodology.

6. Award of Work Order

Based on the evaluation outcome, the Government authority issues the Letter of Award (LoA) / Work Order to the successful bidder(s), following which the contract is executed and project implementation is initiated.

II. Participation through Back-to-Back / Partner-Led Model

In cases where the Company does not independently meet the eligibility criteria (such as turnover thresholds, past project value, or empanelment requirements), it participates through partnerships with eligible organizations. The process is as follows:

This allows hiring managers to evaluate the platform through live use cases, often resulting in subsequent conversion to paid accounts. High-potential prospects are identified and engaged through account-based marketing. This includes personalized product demonstrations and integration with broader HR solutions offered by ERP implementation partners, who include TalSuite as part of their deployment packages. Client retention activities are supported by quarterly business reviews, which are used to present platform-generated performance data. The system includes automated tracking features to monitor post-hiring obligations such as warranty or replacement timelines. The staffing industry in India is witnessing strong growth driven by evolving business models, labour law reforms, increasing demand for skilled talent, greater adoption of flexible workforce models and digital transformation across enterprises.

By focusing on automation, data-driven decision-making and platform-based solutions, HyreFox seeks to address structural inefficiencies prevalent in traditional staffing models and create scalable value for recruiters, employers and job seekers alike. ### Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 (“IBC”) provides a unified legal framework for insolvency and bankruptcy proceedings in India. It applies to companies, limited liability partnerships, and individuals, and is administered by the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI), with adjudication by the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) for corporate entities. Under the IBC, a corporate insolvency resolution process (CIRP) may be initiated by financial or operational creditors upon a default of ₹1 crore or more.

The process includes a moratorium on proceedings, appointment of an insolvency professional, and approval of a resolution plan. While the IT sector is predominantly asset-light, companies remain subject to the provisions of the IBC, including potential exposure to proceedings involving clients, vendors, or other counterparties. Creditors in such proceedings may include service providers and trade creditors. The Code also contains provisions on avoidance transactions, wrongful trading, and potential liabilities of directors and key managerial personnel during the insolvency process. Our Company has not been subject to any insolvency proceedings under the IBC as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. However, we remain subject to its provisions in the ordinary course of business.

Transfer of Property Act, 1882

The Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (“TPA”) is the principal legislation governing the transfer of movable and immovable property in India, except where specifically excluded by other laws. The Act sets out the legal framework relating to the sale, mortgage, lease, exchange, and gift of property between living persons. While the primary operations of our Company relate to human resource consultancy, staffing services and technology-enabled HR platforms, we may, in the ordinary course of business, acquire, lease, or license immovable property for purposes such as factory premises, warehouses, offices, or other operational facilities. Such transactions are governed by the relevant provisions of the TPA, including those relating to leases (Sections 105–117) and sales (Sections 54–56). Compliance with the TPA ensures that property-related agreements entered into by our Company are validly executed, legally enforceable, and effective in safeguarding the Company’s interests as an owner, lessee, or licensee of property.

The Registration Act, 1908 (“Registration Act”)

The Registration Act was passed to consolidate the enactments relating to the registration of documents. The main purpose for which the Registration Act was designed was to ensure information about all deals concerning land so that correct land records could be maintained. The Registration Act is used for proper recording of transactions relating to other immovable property also. The Registration Act provides for registration of other documents also, which can give these documents more authenticity. Registering authorities have been provided in all the districts for this purpose.

Specific Relief Act, 1963

The Specific Relief Act, 1963 governs the enforcement of civil rights in India and provides remedies such as specific performance of contracts, injunctions, and declaratory reliefs. The Act is applicable in cases where monetary compensation is inadequate and equitable relief is required to enforce contractual obligations. The Act also applies to agreements involving intellectual property, technology use, and confidentiality obligations. Courts are empowered under this legislation to order the specific performance of a valid contract, subject to certain conditions, and to grant injunctions restraining a party from breaching contractual terms or misusing proprietary or confidential information. Following recent amendments, specific performance is available as a general remedy for breach of contract, which further strengthens the enforceability of contractual commitments relevant to our business operations.

The Indian Contract Act, 1872 (The Contract Act)

The Contract Act is the legislation which lays down the general principles relating to formation, performance and enforceability of contracts. The rights and duties of parties and the specific terms of agreement are decided by the contracting parties themselves, under the general principles set forth in the Contract Act. The Contract Act also provides for circumstances under which contracts will be considered as “void” or “voidable”. The Contract Act contains provisions governing certain special contracts, including indemnity, guarantee, bailment, pledge, and agency.

The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881

In India, the laws governing monetary instruments such as cheques, promissory notes and bills of exchange, are contained in the Negotiable Instrument Act, 1881 (“NI Act”) which is largely a codification of the English Law on the subject. To ensure prompt remedy against defaulters and to ensure credibility of the holders of the negotiable instrument, a criminal remedy of penalty was inserted in the NI Act in form of the Banking, Public Financial Institutions and Negotiable Instruments Laws (Amendment), 1988 which were further modified by the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 2002. The Act provides effective legal provision to restrain people from issuing cheques without having sufficient funds in their account or any stringent provision to punish them in the event of such cheque not being honoured by their bankers and returned unpaid.

Indian Stamp Act, 1899

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899 governs the imposition of stamp duty on instruments evidencing transfer or creation of rights or obligations. Stamp duty is payable on a range of documents, including share certificates, lease deeds, loan agreements, service agreements, and other contractual instruments. In the course of our business, our Company enters into various agreements that may also attract stamp duty under applicable state laws. Failure to pay appropriate stamp duty may result in such documents being inadmissible as evidence in legal proceedings and may attract penalties.

Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996

The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 provides the statutory framework for domestic arbitration, international commercial arbitration, and conciliation in India, and is largely based on the UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration. The Act seeks to promote efficient, time-bound, and cost-effective resolution of commercial disputes outside the traditional judicial process, while also providing for the recognition and enforcement of foreign arbitral awards in India. The Act is relevant in the context of contracts with customers, vendors, suppliers, contractors, and service providers. Many such agreements incorporate arbitration clauses as the preferred mode of dispute resolution, both for domestic and cross-border transactions. The provisions of the Act therefore provide an important framework for addressing potential contractual disputes in a manner that is enforceable and aligned with international standards of alternative dispute resolution.

BUSINESS / KEY INDUSTRY / TRADE RELATED LAWS & REGULATIONS:*The Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 (“Data Protection Act”)

The Data Protection Act received the assent of the President of India on August 11, 2023. However, the provisions of the Data Protection Act are yet to be notified. The Data Protection Act aims to provide for the processing of digital personal data in a manner that recognises both the right of individuals to protect their personal data and the need to process such personal data for lawful purposes. The Data Protection Act provides that personal data may be processed only for a lawful purpose after obtaining the consent of the data principal to whom the personal data relates, or for certain legitimate uses. A notice must be given before seeking consent. It further imposes certain obligations on data fiduciaries including (i) ensuring the accuracy, consistency and completeness of personal data processed, (ii) building reasonable security safeguards to prevent a data breach, (iii) informing the Data Protection Board of India (the “DPB”) and affected persons in the event of a breach, and (iv) erasing personal data upon the data principal withdrawing consent or as soon as the purpose has been met and retention is not necessary for legal purposes (storage limitation). In case of government entities, storage limitation and the right of the data principal to erasure will not apply. The Central Government will establish the DPB to carry out the functions such as (i) monitoring compliance and imposing penalties, (ii) directing data fiduciaries to take necessary measures in the event of a data breach, and (iii) hearing grievances made by data principals. The DPB members will be appointed for two years and will be eligible for re-appointment. The Central Government will prescribe details such as the number of members of the DPB and the selection process.

Under the Data Protection Act, the Central Government may notify certain companies as significant data fiduciaries basis the volume and sensitivity of personal data processed by them. These significant data fiduciaries will be required to fulfil certain additional obligations under the Data Protection Act including appointment of a data protection officer who shall be the point of contact between such fiduciaries and individuals for the grievance redressal mechanism provided under the Data Protection Act. Further, such significant data fiduciaries shall also be required to (i) appoint an independent data auditor who shall evaluate their compliance with the Data Protection Act; and (ii) carry out periodic data protection impact assessment, which shall be a process comprising a description of the rights of data principals, the purpose of processing of their personal data, and assessment and management of the risk to their rights.

TAX RELATED LAWS & REGULATIONS:

Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (the “GST Act”)

Goods and Services Tax (GST) is a comprehensive indirect tax on manufacture, sale and consumption of goods and services throughout India to replace taxes levied by the central and state governments. It was introduced as The Constitution (One Hundred and First Amendment) Act 2016, following the passage of Constitution 101st Amendment Bill. The GST is governed by the GST Council and its Chairman is Union Finance Minister of India - Arun Jaitley. This method allows GST-registered businesses to claim tax credit to the value of GST they paid on purchase of goods or services as part of their normal commercial activity. Administrative responsibility would generally rest with a single authority to levy tax on goods and services. Exports would be considered as zero-rated supply and imports would be levied the same taxes as domestic goods and services adhering to the destination principle in addition to the Customs Duty which will not be subsumed in the GST. Introduction of Goods and Services Tax (GST) is a significant step in the reform of indirect taxation in India. Amalgamating several Central and State taxes into a single tax would mitigate cascading or double taxation, facilitating a common national market. The simplicity of the tax should lead to easier administration and enforcement. From the consumer point of view, the biggest advantage would be in terms of a reduction in the overall tax burden on goods, which is currently estimated at 25%-30%, free movement of goods from one state to another without stopping at state borders for hours for payment of state tax or entry tax and reduction in paperwork to a large extent.

The Act outlines the principles for determining the place of supply, apportionment of tax between the Centre and the States, and provisions relating to zero-rated supplies, such as exports and supplies to Special Economic Zones (SEZs). The IGST framework is particularly relevant to businesses engaged in inter-state service delivery, cross-border transactions, or export of software and IT-enabled services.

Foreign investment in India is regulated by the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (“FEMA”), together with the rules, regulations, and notifications issued by the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) thereunder, and the consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy (“FDI Policy”) issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (“DPIIT”), Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, from time to time. The FDI Policy consolidates various press notes, press releases, and circulars governing foreign investment in India. In addition, the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 and the Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 regulate the manner of making investments, pricing, valuation, transfer of ownership, and reporting requirements for investments by persons resident outside India.

The regulatory framework under FEMA and the FDI Policy prescribes conditions relating to downstream investment by Indian companies owned or controlled by foreign entities, and governs the transfer of ownership or control of Indian companies in sectors where foreign investment is subject to caps or conditionalities. Depending on the nature of the investment, foreign investment into India may be permitted either through the automatic route (which does not require prior government approval) or the approval route (which requires prior approval from the Government of India). As per the current FDI Policy, foreign direct investment of up to 100% is permitted under the automatic route for services in HR consultancy, staffing, and technology-enabled platforms, subject to compliance with applicable laws and regulations. However, additional policy considerations apply in case of investments from countries sharing land borders with India or in activities requiring government approval under Press Note 3 (2020).

Ownership Restrictions of Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs)

Foreign investment in Indian companies is governed by the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (“FEMA”) and the rules and regulations issued thereunder by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT). Foreign Institutional Investors (“FIIs”), along with Foreign Portfolio Investors (“FPIs”), were permitted to invest in Indian securities in accordance with the applicable guidelines until the FII regime was merged into the broader FPI framework. Under the current regulatory framework, FPIs are permitted to invest in equity shares of listed Indian companies, subject to sectorial caps and other terms and conditions as specified by the RBI and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”). Investments by FPIs are subject to individual and aggregate holding limits. As per prevailing regulations:

- The aggregate limit for FPI investment in the capital of a listed Indian company is generally capped at 24% of the paid-up equity capital;
- This limit may be increased up to the sectorial cap applicable to the relevant industry with the approval of the company’s board and its shareholders through a special resolution.

For companies engaged in the in the human resource technology and services sector, providing recruitment, staffing, training, counselling, and digital HR solutions to corporates, industries, and government bodies, foreign investment is permitted up to 100% under the automatic route, as per the consolidated FDI Policy issued by the DPIIT. However, the actual permissible holding by FPIs may still be subject to applicable aggregate limits, unless specifically enhanced by a resolution of the shareholders. The monitoring of FPI investment limits is undertaken by depositories, and once the prescribed threshold is breached, further purchases by FPIs may be restricted unless prior approval mechanisms are in place.

Further, the Foreign Exchange Management (Overseas Investment) Directions, 2022 (“ODI Directions”) were introduced to be read with the ODI Rules and the ODI Regulations.

The new regime simplifies the framework to cover wider economic activity and thereby, significantly reducing the need for specific approvals. Investment may be made by an Indian entity only in a foreign entity engaged in activities permissible under the law in force in India and the host jurisdiction. Any manner of Overseas Direct Investment (“ODI”) by an Indian entity shall be made as prescribed in the ODI Rules, namely: (i) subscription as part of MoA or purchase of equity capital, (ii) acquisition through bidding or tender procedure, (iii) acquisition of equity capital by way of rights issue or allotment of bonus shares, (iv) capitalisation of any amount due from the foreign entity subject to applicable conditions, (v) swap of securities, and (vi) merger, demerger, amalgamation or any scheme of arrangement.

Replacing the earlier Foreign Trade Policy 2015–2020, the FTP 2023 adopts a long-term and open-ended approach, aimed at enhancing India’s global trade competitiveness by providing a stable, responsive, and technology-enabled policy environment.

PAT margin (PAT / Revenue from operations)	20.16%		19.69%		9.53%

The PAT margin of our Company grew from ~10% in FY 2023 to ~20% in FY 2024. This is majorly due to the below mentioned reasons:

- The cost of services rendered declined from ~13% of total revenue in FY 2023 to ~8% in FY 2024. This reduction is primarily attributable to the nature of key components of such costs, including consultancy charges and database charges, which are largely fixed in character and do not increase proportionately with the growth in revenue or total income.

- Employee benefits expense decreased from ~58% of total revenue in FY 2023 to ~54% in FY 2024. This decline is primarily attributable to a change in the Company's revenue mix during FY 2024. The Company commenced revenue generation from new service verticals, including content development and IT sales and services, wherein a significant portion of the employee costs is fixed in nature. Consequently, with the increase in overall revenue, the proportion of employee benefits expense to total revenue moderated during the year.
- Other expenses decreased from ~8% of total revenue in FY 2023 to ~4% in FY 2024. This reduction is primarily attributable to the nature of key components of such costs, including rent, electricity, office expense and communication charges, which are largely fixed in character and do not increase proportionately with the growth in revenue or total income.
- The above decrease was further supported by decrease in finance costs (from ~5% in FY 2023 to ~3% in FY 2024) and depreciation expense (~from 3% in FY 2023 to ~2% in FY 2024) which are again fixed in nature and do not increase proportionately with the growth in revenue or total income.
- These were offset by increase in tax expense from ~3% in FY 2023 to ~10% in FY 2024.
- All these factors combined resulted in increase of PAT margin from 9.53% to 19.69%.

Furthermore, the PAT margin of our Company increased marginally from 19.69% in FY 2024 to 20.16% in FY 2025.

FISCAL 2025 COMPARED WITH FISCAL 2024

Cost of services rendered increased from ₹58.47 Lakhs for the year ended March 31, 2024 to ₹76.11 Lakhs for the year ended March 31, 2025, reflecting an increase of approximately 30%. This rise is primarily attributable to higher consultancy expenses, which include payments to trainers and content creators, increasing from ₹30.77 Lakhs in FY 2024 to ₹46.84 Lakhs in FY 2025. The increase in such costs is commensurate with the significant growth of approximately 114% in revenue from the content development vertical during FY 2025.

Employee benefits expense:

Employee Benefit Expenses increased from ₹415.68 Lakhs (~54% of total income) in year ended March 31, 2024, to ₹593.46 Lakhs (~53% of total income) in year ended March 31, 2025 with a resultant increase of ~43% in year ended March 31, 2025. The increase in such cost is directly related to the increase in revenue from Contractual Hiring segment of the Company.

Finance costs:

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

We operate in a working capital-intensive industry, that is, we require large amounts of funds in the normal course of business to continue providing the services and hence our principal liquidity requirement has been to finance our working capital needs. Our normal operating cycle ranges between seven to eight months.

For more details regarding our operating cycle and working capital requirements, please refer “Objects of the Issue”, chapter beginning on page 73 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

To fund these costs, we have historically relied on raising short term and long-term borrowings, including working capital financing, loans from related parties and others combined with the cash generated from operating activities. Our short-term liquidity requirements relate to servicing our borrowings and financing our working capital requirements. Our long-term liquidity requirements include capital expenditures required to expand and maintain our operations.

We expect to meet our working capital requirements for the next 12 months primarily from the cash flows of our business operations, net IPO proceeds and other available financial means. As on September 30, 2025, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, we had cash and bank balances of ₹ 29.86 lakhs, ₹ 426.65 lakhs, ₹ 71.09 lakhs and ₹ 34.71 lakhs respectively. Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and balances with banks in current accounts.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE

For the half year ended September 30, 2025 and financial years ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, our net capital expenditure (including additions to Intangible Asset under development) was ₹ 91.60 lakhs, ₹ 129.73 lakhs, ₹ 92.48 lakhs and ₹ 22.30 lakhs respectively. This primarily consists of capitalization of intangible assets as detailed below:

Capitalization of Intangible Assets

Our Company capitalizes intangible assets in accordance with the requirements of Accounting Standard (AS) 26 – Intangible Assets, issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). Intangible assets primarily comprise internally developed software solutions and technology tools that are expected to provide future economic benefits.

For internally generated intangible assets, capitalization is undertaken only upon establishing the technical feasibility of the project. The technical feasibility analysis sets out the framework for development, confirms the viability of the intended functionality, and evidences the likelihood of successful completion for commercial use or sale.

The capitalization of development costs is carried out in line with AS 26, which mandates that only directly attributable expenditure incurred during the development phase be recognized as an intangible asset. Accordingly, our Company tracks and allocates employee time spent on development activities through detailed timesheets maintained on a project-wise basis. Using the time allocation method, the proportionate cost of payroll, along with attributable overheads directly linked to the development process, is capitalized as part of the intangible asset value.

Expenditure incurred during the research phase, or that which does not meet the recognition criteria of AS 26, is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred. Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses, if any. Amortization is charged over the estimated useful life of the asset, as determined by the nature of the software, the pace of technological change, and industry practices.

The capitalization of intangible assets ensures that the financial statements appropriately capture the value of resources invested in building and improving the technology capabilities of our Company. This approach reflects the sustained efforts made towards development of proprietary tools, while also aligning the recognition of costs with the future economic benefits expected to accrue to the Company, thereby presenting a fair and consistent view of our financial position and performance.

Details of expenses capitalized (including additions to Intangible Asset under development) during the past three financial years and stub period is provided below:

In case of pending civil litigation proceedings wherein the monetary amount involved is not quantifiable, such litigation has been considered 'material' only in the event that the outcome of such litigation has a bearing on the operations or performance of the Company.
