An investment in our Equity Shares involves a high degree of financial risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider all the information in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus, particularly the “Financial Information of the Company” and the related notes, “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page 175, 115 and 232 respectively of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the risks and uncertainties described below, before making a decision to invest in our Equity Shares.

The risk factors set forth below are not exhaustive and do not purport to be complete or comprehensive in terms of all the risk factors that may arise in connection with our business or any decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Equity Shares. This section addresses general risks associated with the industry in which we operate and specific risks associated with our Company. Any of the following risks, individually or together, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects, which could result in a decline in the value of our Equity Shares and the loss of all or part of your investment in our Equity Shares. While we have described the risks and uncertainties that our management believes are material, these risks and uncertainties may not be the only risks and uncertainties we face. Additional risks and uncertainties, including those we currently are not aware of or deem immaterial, may also have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The financial and other related implications of risks concerned, wherever quantifiable, have been disclosed in the risk factors below. However, there are risk factors the potential effects of which are not quantifiable and therefore no quantification has been provided with respect to such risk factors. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of our Company and the terms of the Issue, including the merits and the risks involved. INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 1. Our business largely depends on our top 10 customers which contributed 89.69%, 82.90% and 87.50% of our revenue from operations in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. The loss of any of these customers could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from our top 10 customers. Loss of all or a substantial portion of sales to any of our top 10 customers, in particular for any reason (including, not securing the bid at the tender, due to loss of contracts or failure to negotiate acceptable terms, loss of market share of these customers in their industries, disputes with these customers, adverse change in the financial condition of these customers, could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Further, a significant portion of our contracts are awarded through a tender-based process, and we may not secure repeat business from all our customers, primarily due to our inability to successfully bid for and secure contracts through tenders floated by such customers. Any failure to secure repeat or new contracts may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. The following table sets forth our revenues from our top ten and top five customers in the periods indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024

Revenue from top 10 customers (₹Lakhs)	23,123.05	14,740.55	14,875.46
Revenue from top 10 customers as a percentage of Revenue from Operations	89.69%	82.90%	87.50%

Further, the value and timing of orders received from our top customers may vary depending on their capital expenditure plans, project implementation schedules, budget allocations, business requirements and other commercial considerations. Accordingly, any reduction in the volume of orders awarded by these customers, delays in project awards or execution, cancellation of projects, or termination or non-renewal of our contractual arrangements with such customers could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. In addition, our customers may alter their procurement or contracting strategies, execute projects through other contractors or in-house capabilities, defer or cancel planned projects, or award contracts to our competitors through competitive bidding processes. Further, our customers may seek revisions in commercial terms, including reductions in contract prices and there can be no assurance that we will be able to offset the impact of such price reductions through cost efficiencies, improved execution, or by securing new orders from existing or new customers, which could have an adverse effect on our revenue and business operations.

2. We derive a significant portion of our revenue from projects executed for power transmission and distribution sector. Any downturn or change in government policies towards the power sector may have an adverse impact on our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from projects executed for power transmission and distribution sector. The table below sets forth details of our revenue from operations derived from different categories of customers for the periods indicated:

Customer Industry	FY 2025-26		FY 2024-25		FY 2023-24

The demand for our EPC services in the power transmission and distribution sector is dependent on investments in the power management, including power generation, transmission and distribution infrastructure by government authorities and private sector customers. Any reduction in government or private sector capital expenditure, delays in project approvals or awards, changes in government policies, budgetary allocations, cancellation, deferment or interruption of projects, or adverse macroeconomic conditions could reduce the demand for our offerings and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

3. Significant increases or fluctuations in prices of, or delay or disruption in supply of requisite materials and equipment could affect our estimated costs, expenditures and timelines which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our operations are dependent upon the prices and availability of the material and equipment that we require such as transformers, switchgears, cables, conductors, transmission line materials, structural steel and other electrical components. The following table sets forth certain information relating to the total cost of the materials for the periods indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024
Purchase including change in inventory (₹Lakhs)	13,237.71	9,568.01	10,186.37
Total expenses	22,899.10	16,219.42	15,379.69
Cost of materials consumed as a percentage of total expenses (%)	57.81	58.99	66.23

The successful execution of our projects depends on the timely availability and procurement of various materials and equipment, including transformers, switchgears, cables, conductors, transmission line materials, structural steel and other electrical components. The prices and availability of such materials and equipment are subject to fluctuations due to changes in commodity prices, inflation, demand-supply dynamics, production capacity constraints, logistics costs, transportation disruptions, foreign exchange fluctuations, government policies, regulatory changes, import restrictions and geopolitical developments. Accordingly, any increase in the cost of materials and equipment that cannot be passed on to our customers may increase project costs, reduce our margins and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Further, we procure materials and equipment from third-party suppliers and manufacturers. Any disruption in the supply chain or delay in the delivery of critical materials and equipment due to supplier constraints, shortages, logistics disruptions, adverse weather conditions, labour unrest, transportation bottlenecks or other factors beyond our control may delay project execution, result in cost overruns, expose us to contractual liabilities, including liquidated damages, and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation.

4. We depend on a limited number of suppliers or contractors and we do not have long term agreements with most of our suppliers or contractors for our materials and equipment, any shortages or disruption in their supply could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

The cost of our offerings is dependent on our ability to source our materials, equipment or services at acceptable prices and maintain a stable and sufficient supply of our such materials, equipment or services. We are dependent on a limited number of suppliers or contractors for the supply of these materials, equipment or services. The table below sets forth details of our purchases from our top 5 and top 10 suppliers (including Contractors) for the periods indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024
Purchases from top 5 suppliers (₹Lakhs)	5,122.13	4,094.16	3,062.12
Purchases from top 5 suppliers as a percentage of total purchases	26.43%	30.00%	23.52%
Purchases from top 10 suppliers (₹Lakhs)	8,132.84	6,269.01	5,101.96
Purchases from top 10 suppliers as a percentage of total purchases	41.96%	45.94%	39.19%

We depend on a limited number of suppliers and manufacturers for the procurement of certain critical materials and equipment required for the execution of our EPC projects, including transformers, switchgears, cables, conductors, transmission line materials and other electrical equipment. The availability of such materials and equipment is dependent on the manufacturing capacity, operational performance and financial condition of these suppliers, many of whom have long production lead times and are required to comply with customer or project-specific technical specifications. Any disruption in our relationship with these suppliers, their inability or unwillingness to supply materials and equipment on commercially acceptable terms, delays in manufacturing or delivery, capacity constraints, quality issues, insolvency, or any interruption in their operations due to labour unrest, transportation disruptions, regulatory changes, geopolitical developments or other events beyond our control, may adversely affect our ability to procure critical materials and equipment in a timely manner. Although we seek to mitigate these risks by maintaining relationships with multiple suppliers wherever commercially feasible, there can be no assurance that alternate suppliers will be available on comparable terms or within the required timelines. Any such increase in procurement costs or disruption in the availability of materials and equipment, particularly where alternative sources are not readily available, may delay project execution, reduce project margins and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

5. Our revenues dependent upon our ability to effectively secure contracts awarded to us through the competitive bidding route. Consequently, our results of operations and cash flows may be adversely affected or fluctuate materially periodically if we are unable to secure new bids.

The power EPC industry in India is highly competitive, and we compete with several domestic and international contractors for the award of projects. Most of the projects in which we participate are awarded through competitive bidding processes conducted by government authorities, public sector undertakings, utilities and private sector customers. The award of contracts is based on several factors, including technical qualifications, execution capabilities, industry experience, financial strength, pricing, past performance and compliance with eligibility criteria prescribed by the customer. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in securing new projects or renewing existing contracts. Increased competition, aggressive pricing by competitors, changes in bid qualification criteria or our inability to meet customer requirements may reduce our success rate in competitive bidding, resulting in lower order inflows, reduced revenues and margins, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We have participated in multiple competitive bidding processes during Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. The table below sets forth the details of the projects awarded to us against the bids submitted during these periods.

Financial Year	Number of Tenders Submitted	Number of Tenders Awarded	Bid to Win Ratio (%)
FY 2025-26	25	12	48.00%
FY 2024-25	26	9	34.62%
FY 2023-24	23	8	34.78%

Bid to Win Ratio = (Number of Tenders Awarded ÷ Number of Tenders Submitted) × 100

Further, although we incur significant time and costs in identifying opportunities, preparing technical and commercial bids and participating in tender processes, there can be no assurance that we will be awarded the contracts for which we bid. Even where we submit the lowest bid, contracts may not be awarded to us due to technical evaluations, customer preferences, negotiations, reverse auctions or other commercial considerations. Further, delays in the award of projects, issuance of notices to proceed, availability of project sites, statutory approvals or litigation relating to the tender process may defer project commencement, require us to retain unutilised resources and increase project costs. Additionally, where projects are awarded on commercially aggressive terms or at lower margins due to competitive bidding, our profitability may be adversely affected. Any of the foregoing factors could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

6. We have high working capital requirement, if there are delays in the collection of receivables from our customers or we are unable to access suitable financing to meet working capital requirements, it could lead to material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations

Our business is working capital intensive and requires substantial funding for the procurement of materials and equipment, mobilisation of manpower, deployment of machinery and execution of projects prior to the receipt of payments from customers. Accordingly, trade receivables, contract assets and inventories constitute a significant portion of our current assets. The payment terms are governed by the specific terms agreed under each contracts with the customers. Further, certain contracts provide for retention money or other security deductions or issuance of performance bank guarantee for defect liability period, which are released only upon successful completion of contractual obligations or after the expiry of the defect liability period. Any delay in the certification of work completed, achievement of project milestones, release of retention amounts or receipt of payments from customers may increase our working capital requirements and adversely affect our liquidity and cash flows. Further, a significant portion of our customers comprises government departments, public sector undertakings, state electricity utilities and other government-controlled entities, where payment cycles may be relatively longer due to internal approval processes, budgetary constraints or administrative procedures. Any delay or default in payments by such customers may require us to rely on additional working capital borrowings, resulting in higher finance costs and adversely affecting our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Further, our projects require us to maintain adequate inventories of materials and equipment based on project execution schedules. Any delay in the procurement or availability of such materials and equipment may disrupt project execution, increase project costs and working capital requirements, and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. The table below sets forth certain key working capital parameters based on our Restated Financial Information for the periods indicated.

Particulars	Unit	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024

Net Working Capital	Amt. in Rs. Lakhs	6,291.25	5,729.17	4,225.72

Inventory holding period - Closing Inventories ÷ Purchase of material × 365 days

Trade Receivable holding period - Closing Trade Receivables ÷ Revenue from Operations × 365 days

Trade Payable holding period - Closing Trade Payables ÷ Purchase of material × 365 days

Net Working Capital - Current Assets – Current Liabilities

Further, our dependency on government agencies exposes us to potential risks associated with changes in government policies and regulations which could result in delays or premature closing of existing projects, thereby affecting our revenue streams. Furthermore, our working capital requirements are expected to increase in the future with the undertaking of larger or additional projects or projects with a long gestation period or deferred payment schedules. Factors such as reduced advance payments or longer payment schedules may increase receivables and current borrowings. Continued increases in our working capital requirements or our inability to obtain financing at favourable terms, or at all may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

7. Our operations are concentrated predominantly in the state of Maharashtra. Any adverse economic, political, regulatory or infrastructural developments in Maharashtra may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and growth prospects.

For the year ended on March 31, 2026, over 55% of our revenue from operations are concentrated in the state of Maharashtra. Further, our revenue from operations from the state of Maharashtra was ₹14,253.38 lakhs, ₹8,174.48 lakhs and ₹12,570.09 lakhs, constituting 55.29%, 45.97% and 73.94%, of our total revenue from operations for the Fiscal 2026, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024, respectively. Set forth below is a summary of our revenue from operations by geography for the periods indicated:

*Others includes West Bengal, Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Dadra & Nagar Haveli and Daman & Diu and Punjab.

The concentration of our operations in the state of Maharashtra, exposes us to several region-specific risks. Any slowdown or deferment in tendering activity or capital expenditure by state power utilities or other government authorities in these states could adversely affect our order inflow. In addition, procurement practices, eligibility criteria or tender conditions prescribed by certain state-owned utilities or other customers in these states may change from time to time, and there can be no assurance that we will continue to satisfy such revised requirements. Further, changes in the regulatory or policy framework governing the power transmission and distribution sector in these regions, or constraints relating to labour availability, logistics, right of way, statutory approvals, land access or site accessibility, may delay or disrupt project execution. Adverse climatic, geological or environmental conditions in these regions may also increase project costs or affect execution schedules. Any slowdown in the economic or industrial activity or changes in government spending priorities, may similarly reduce demand for power infrastructure projects. Although we have undertaken projects in states of Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Odisha & Uttar Pradesh and intend to further diversify our geographical presence across India, there can be no assurance that such expansion will be successful or achieved within the anticipated timelines. Until we establish a broader regional presence, our dependence on certain regions which majorly contribute to our revenue from operations, is likely to continue. Accordingly, any adverse economic, political, regulatory, environmental or sector-specific developments in these regions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and growth prospects.

8. We are subject to various laws and extensive government regulations and if we fail to obtain, maintain or renew our statutory and regulatory licenses, permits and approvals required to operate our business, including environmental, health and safety laws and other regulations, our business financial condition, results of operations and cash flows may be adversely affected.

Our business is subject to extensive statutory and regulatory requirements, and our inability to obtain, maintain or renew the requisite licenses, permits, registrations, approvals and consents, or to comply with applicable laws and regulations, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. In the ordinary course of our business, we are required to obtain and maintain various statutory registrations, licenses, permits, approvals and consents from governmental and regulatory authorities for undertaking our operations and executing projects. Several of these approvals are granted for a limited duration and are subject to periodic renewal, for instance, we are yet to apply for PTRC registration for office situated at 31, Gokul Nagar Society, Dhanera, Banaskantha, Gujarat, 385310, EEPC India Membership certificate which has expired on March 31, 2026 and registrations under the Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979 for site located at Nagaur, Rajasthan. We have applied for licence of interstate migrant worker, shop and establishment registration, PTRC registration and PTEC registration which are pending approval. For further details, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 250. Further, there can be no assurance that we will remain compliant with all applicable laws, regulations and the terms and conditions of such approvals at all times.

Further, we have obtained registrations under the Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979 in respect of project sites situated in the States of Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh. However, for the operation carried at project sites in the States of Maharashtra and Karnataka, no registrations or licences under the applicable provisions governing engagement of inter-state migrant workers have been obtained. Any failure to obtain, maintain or timely renew the requisite approvals, or any non-compliance with the conditions attached thereto or with applicable laws and regulations, may result in penalties, fines, suspension, cancellation or non-renewal of such approvals, restrictions on our operations, increased compliance costs or other regulatory actions, any of which could disrupt the execution of our projects and materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Further, amendments to applicable laws, regulations or government policies may require us to incur additional compliance costs or modify our business practices. As we expand our operations into new geographical regions or undertake projects in new jurisdictions, we may be required to obtain additional approvals and comply with local regulatory requirements, which may increase our compliance costs, affect project execution timelines and adversely impact our business.

9. Our Company has availed loans from banks and other financial institutions, which may be recalled on demand. Further, these agreements contain covenants that limit our flexibility in operating our business. If we are not in compliance with certain of these covenants and are unable to obtain waivers from the respective lenders, our lenders may accelerate the repayment schedules, and enforce their respective security interests, leading to a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition

As of March 31, 2026, we had outstanding borrowings of ₹3104.30 lakhs including both secured and unsecured borrowings. We have entered into various financing arrangements with banks and financial institutions to meet our working capital requirements, procure materials and equipment, finance capital expenditure and support the execution of our EPC projects. Our ability to service such indebtedness depends on our ability to generate adequate cash flows from operations. Our financing arrangements contain customary affirmative and negative covenants that, among other things, restrict our ability, without the prior consent of the relevant lenders, to incur additional indebtedness, create security interests over our assets, undertake mergers, acquisitions or restructuring transactions, alter our capital structure or constitutional documents, effect changes in shareholding or management beyond specified thresholds, dispose of material assets, declare dividends, make certain investments or enter into specified transactions. These covenants may limit our operational and financial flexibility and our ability to pursue business opportunities that may otherwise be in our best interests.

Further, certain of our borrowings are secured by charges over our current assets, movable and immovable properties. Any failure to comply with the terms of our financing documents, including financial covenant requirements or repayment obligations, or the occurrence of an event of default, may entitle our lenders to accelerate repayment of outstanding borrowings, enforce the security created in their favour, terminate or suspend available credit facilities, or trigger cross-default provisions under our other financing arrangements. Further, a portion of our borrowings bears interest at floating rates and is therefore exposed to fluctuations in market interest rates. Any increase in interest rates may increase our finance costs and adversely affect our profitability and cash flows. In addition, there can be no assurance that we will be able to refinance our indebtedness on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, if required. As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have obtained the requisite no-objection certificates and consents from our lenders in connection with the Issue. While there has been no material breach of our financing covenants, no material subsisting payment default or no restructuring or rescheduling of our borrowings during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we will continue to comply with such covenants or obtain the necessary lender consents in the future. Any breach of our financing arrangements or inability to service or refinance our indebtedness could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. For further details, see “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on page 227.

10. Costs incurred and time taken by us towards completing a project could vary substantially from the assumptions used by us while preparing the underlying bid. If we are unable to recover certain or all of the additional expenses incurred during the project, our business, financial condition, results of operation and cash flows may be adversely affected.

The bids that we prepare for submission as part of the tender process for projects include certain underlying assumptions that include the cost of materials & equipment, fuel, labour or other inputs, project duration, and conditions that we anticipate in connection with the projects. However, our actual expenses and the time taken in executing a project may vary based on a change in any such assumptions. We are susceptible to risks including rising fuel and power costs, costs associated with the material and equipment used and labour costs and unprecedented delays. Further, in certain instances, the tender documentation itself may contain errors which in turn could impact our assumptions thereby resulting in increased costs and execution delays. Any unexpected price fluctuations after placement of orders, shortage, delay in delivery, quality defects, or any factors beyond our control may result in an interruption in the supply of such materials and adversely affect our business, financial performance, results of operations, and cash flows. If our cost overruns are greater than the tender value, we may not be able to recover all of our cost overruns. Further, some of our contracts do not include any price variation or escalation clauses, in which case we bear the entire risk of price increases, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operation and cash flows.

11. Our business and revenues are significantly dependent on contracts awarded by governmental authorities and other entities owned and controlled by governments. Any adverse changes in government policies may in turn have an adverse impact on our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

A significant portion of our EPC revenue is derived from contracts awarded by government departments, state electricity distribution companies, public sector undertakings and other government-controlled entities. As of June 30, 2026, such projects constituted over 80% of our Order Book. Accordingly, our business is dependent on continued investments in the power sector by these entities and our ability to successfully qualify for and secure new EPC contracts. The table below sets forth details of our business and revenue earned from such customers for the periods indicated.

(Amount in Rs. Lakhs)

Particular	FY 2025-26		FY 2024-25		FY 2023-24
	Amount	% of total revenue	Amount	% of total revenue	Amount	% of total revenue
PSU's	14,061.01	54.54%	6,710.72	37.74%	5,805.39	34.15%
Non-Government	8,806.76	34.16%	9,788.43	55.05%	9,916.96	58.33%
Government	2,912.49	11.30%	1,281.40	7.21%	1,278.72	7.52%
Total Revenue	25,780.26	100.00%	17,780.55	100.00%	17,001.07	100.00%

Accordingly, any reduction in government spending on power infrastructure, delays in project approvals or awards, changes in procurement policies, budgetary constraints or adverse macroeconomic conditions may reduce the availability of new projects or delay the execution of existing projects. Any such developments could materially and adversely affect our order book, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

12. There are certain discrepancies/errors noticed in some of our corporate records relating to forms filed with the Registrar of Companies and other provisions of Companies Act, 2013. Any penalty or action taken by any regulatory authorities in future, for non-compliance with provisions of corporate and other law could impact the reputation and financial position of the Company to that extent

Certain discrepancies and inconsistencies have been observed in the historical statutory records and filings of our Company. These include, inter alia: (i) mismatch in the authorised share capital reported in the Annual Return (Form MGT-7) for Financial Year 2018-19, wherein the authorised share capital was disclosed as ₹12.61 crore instead of ₹15.00 crore; (ii) clerical error in reporting the profit before tax figures disclosed in the CSR filings for Financial Years 2020-21, 2021-22, 2022-23 and 2023-24 as compared to the corresponding financial statements and/or previous year's CSR filings and (iii) non-disclosure of the Director Identification Number (DIN) of the directors signing the financial statements for Financial Year 2020-21, as required under Section 158 of the Companies Act, 2013

Further, our Company has delayed the filing of certain statutory forms and returns with the Registrar of Companies ("ROC") within the prescribed timelines under the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made thereunder. Although, these have later been filed along with the payment of additional filing fees, but may result in penalties or other regulatory consequences. Any delays or inaccuracies in statutory filings, non-compliance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, or inability to produce historical statutory records when required may result in regulatory scrutiny, adjudication proceedings, penalties, additional compliance requirements, or adverse observations by the Registrar of Companies or other regulatory authorities. Any such non-compliance may adversely affect our Company's compliance record and reputation and may expose our Company and its officers to further regulatory actions.

13. We are highly dependent on our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, Senior Management and our design and engineering team for our business. The loss of or our inability to attract or retain such persons, other employees, could have a material adverse effect on our business performance.

Our business and future growth depend on the continued services of our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, senior management and other skilled technical personnel, including our engineering, design and project execution teams. The loss of any such personnel, or our inability to attract, retain or replace them in a timely and cost-effective manner, could adversely affect our ability to execute projects, manage operations, implement our business strategy, maintain customer relationships and pursue growth opportunities. Further, we have not adopted a formal succession plan for our Key Managerial Personnel and senior management.

Although the absence of such a policy has not adversely affected us during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that it will not adversely affect our business in the future. Further, our engineering and design teams play a critical role in project planning, design optimisation and execution. Any deficiency in engineering design, technical evaluation or project planning may result in execution delays, cost overruns, contractual claims or reduced project profitability. In addition, the market for experienced engineering and project management professionals is highly competitive, and our inability to attract and retain such personnel on competitive terms may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

14. Any inability to grow, sustain or manage our revenue from operations, profitability or operations may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We may not be able to sustain our historical growth rates, revenue, profitability or successfully implement our business strategy. As per our Restated Financial Information, our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 was ₹25,780.26 lakhs, ₹17,780.55 lakhs and ₹17,001.07 lakhs, respectively. Our historical financial performance should not be regarded as indicative of our future performance, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to sustain our historical growth in revenue, profitability or margins.

Our future growth depends on several factors, including our ability to secure new orders, execute projects within the stipulated timelines and budgets, maintain customer relationships, attract new customers, mobilise adequate working capital, retain skilled personnel and effectively manage our costs. Our growth may also be affected by changes in government policies, capital expenditure in the power sector, competitive intensity, regulatory developments, adverse macroeconomic conditions and other factors beyond our control. Further, certain of our strategic initiatives are at various stages of implementation, and there can be no assurance that such initiatives will achieve the intended results or contribute to our long-term growth. Any inability to effectively implement our business strategy, manage our expansion plans or address operational and financial challenges may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

15. Our Order Book may not be representative of our future results and our actual income may be significantly less than the forecasted revenues in our Order Book, which could adversely affect our results of operations

Our Order Book represents the aggregate value of the unexecuted portion of our work orders/contracts under process and is an indicator of the visibility of our future revenues. As of June 30, 2026, our Order Book comprised 62 projects aggregating approximately ₹51,430.11 lakhs. In addition, we have been declared the L1 bidder for two projects aggregating approximately ₹14,498.43 lakhs, for which the respective work orders are awaited. Our Order Book is calculated based on the aggregate contract value of ongoing projects, less the value of work invoiced up to the relevant date, and reflects approved changes in the scope of work, where applicable. Accordingly, the methodology used to calculate our Order Book differs from the basis on which revenue from operations is recognised under the applicable accounting standards and may not be comparable with the methodologies adopted by other companies. Further, our actual revenue from operations may vary from our Order Book and should not be considered as a substitute for our financial performance or as a guarantee of future revenues or profitability. The projects included in our Order Book are subject to various execution and commercial risks, including delays in land acquisition, right of way, statutory approvals and clearances, changes in project scope, customer-driven modifications, supply chain disruptions, adverse site conditions, force majeure events, customer defaults and other factors beyond our control. Any delay, suspension, cancellation, reduction in scope or termination of projects may reduce the value or timing of revenue recognised from our Order Book and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Further, the profitability of projects forming part of our Order Book depends on our ability to accurately estimate project costs and execute projects within the stipulated timelines and budgets. Unanticipated increases in material, labour, subcontracting or other project costs, design changes, execution challenges or contractual disputes may reduce project margins or result in losses on individual contracts. In addition, delays in achieving contractual milestones or project completion may defer payments, retention releases or final settlements, thereby adversely affecting our liquidity and working capital requirements. Also, the timing of execution and revenue recognition of projects in our Order Book may vary significantly across reporting periods depending on the progress of individual contracts and the applicable accounting standards. Consequently, there can be no assurance that our Order Book will be realised within the expected timeframes or at the anticipated margins, or that it will translate into future revenues or profitability.

16. Our projects are exposed to various implementation and other risks and uncertainties which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our operations are subject to various risks including execution risks inherent to engineering and construction, commodity price fluctuations, risks attributable to the construction methodology involved and design risks. In particular:

- we may encounter unforeseen engineering problems, disputes with workers, force majeure events and change in plans and specifications;

- we may not be able to obtain adequate capital or other financing at affordable costs or obtain any financing at all to complete construction of any of our projects;
- we may not be able to provide the required guarantees under project agreements or enter into financing arrangements;
- we may experience shortages of, and price increases in, materials, skilled and unskilled labour, and inflation in key supply markets;
- geological, construction, excavation, regulatory and equipment problems with respect to operating projects and projects under construction;
- the relevant authorities may not be able to fulfil their obligation prior to construction of a project, in accordance with the relevant contracts resulting in unanticipated delays;
- the projects that we are engaged in may not receive timely regulatory approvals and/or permits for development and operation of our projects, such as environmental clearances, mining, forestry or other approvals from the central or state environmental protection agencies, mining, forestry, railway or other regulatory authorities and may experience delays in land acquisition by the government and procuring right of way and other unanticipated delays; and
- other unanticipated circumstances or cost increases.

Any of these factors may result in delays in project execution, cost overruns, reduced productivity or other operational challenges, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Further, our projects may face opposition from local communities, environmental groups or other stakeholders, or be affected by political disturbances, public protests, labour unrest or general strikes in the regions where our projects are located. Such events may disrupt project execution, delay project completion, increase project costs or require us to undertake additional obligations towards local communities. Any such delays or disruptions may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

17. Any downgrade in our credit ratings could increase our borrowing costs, affect our ability to obtain financing, and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition

The cost and availability of capital depends in part on our short-term and long-term credit ratings. Credit ratings reflect the opinions of ratings agencies on our financial strength, operating performance, strategic position and ability to meet our obligations. We have received the below credit ratings for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024
Long term rating	CRISIL BBB/Positive	ACUITE BBB/ Stable	CRISIL BBB-/ Stable
Short term rating	CRISIL A3+	ACUITE A3+	CRISIL A3

Any downgrade in our credit ratings could increase borrowing costs, result in an event of default under certain of our financing arrangements and adversely affect our access to capital and debt markets, which could in turn adversely affect our interest cost, our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. In addition, any downgrade in our credit ratings could result in a recall of existing facilities, increase the probability that our lenders impose additional terms and conditions to any financing or refinancing arrangements we enter into in the future, impair our future issuances of debt and equity, and our ability to raise new capital on a competitive basis, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, our borrowing costs and our access to debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. There can be no assurance that India's credit ratings will not be revised or changed by the credit rating agency or any of the other global rating agencies. Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect the Company's ratings or terms on which the Company is able to finance future capital expenditure. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares

18. We have had negative net cash flows in the past and may continue to have negative cash flows in the future.

We have experienced negative net cash flows in certain periods in the past and may continue to experience negative cash flows in the future. Negative cash flows may arise due to various factors, including increased working capital requirements, capital expenditure for expansion, fluctuations in operating performance, delays in realization of receivables, or adverse market and economic conditions. The following table sets forth our cash flow for the periods indicated:

(Amount in Rs. Lakhs)
Particulars	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Net cash flow from operating activities	(1,158.16)	2,108.00	777.01
Net cash flow from investing activities	(1,141.53)	(422.25)	(92.17)
Net cash flow from financing activities	1,205.24	(28.15)	(629.41)

Cash flows are a key indicator of the Company's ability to generate sufficient funds from its operations to meet expenditure requirements, service debt obligations, pay dividends, and undertake new investments without reliance on external financing. While the Company has generated positive cash flows from operating activities in the Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024, its net cash flows from operating activities in the Fiscal year 2026 and the net cash flows from investing activities have been consistently negative. Further, cash flows from financing activities have fluctuated across the periods. There can be no assurance that the Company will continue to generate adequate cash flows from operating activities in the future. In the event of continued or significant negative cash flows, we may be required to rely on external sources of funding, including debt or equity, to meet our operational and capital requirements. There can be no assurance that such funding will be available on acceptable terms or at all. Any inability to generate sufficient cash flows or secure additional financing in a timely manner may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. For further details, please refer to the sections titled “Financial Information of the Company” on page 175 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

19. We are required to furnish bank guarantees as part of our business. Our inability to arrange such guarantees or the invocation of such guarantees or our inability to fulfil any or all of the obligations under such bank guarantees may or may not adversely affect our cash flows and financial condition

In the ordinary course of our business, we are required to furnish bid security, earnest money deposits, performance bank guarantees, retention guarantees and letters of credit in favour of our customers and suppliers to secure our contractual and payment obligations. Such guarantees are generally required to be provided from the bidding stage until completion of the project and, in certain cases, during the defect liability period, in accordance with the terms of the relevant contracts. The availability of these facilities depends on our banking relationships, credit limits, financial condition and the availability of adequate security or collateral. Any reduction in sanctioned limits, inability to obtain or renew such facilities, or requirement to provide additional collateral may restrict our ability to bid for new projects, execute existing projects, procure materials and equipment or meet our contractual obligations. Further, any invocation of our bank guarantees or letters of credit due to actual or alleged non-performance or breach of contractual obligations may adversely affect our liquidity, banking arrangements, financial condition and reputation. The table below sets forth the details of the bank guarantees outstanding for the periods indicated.

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024
Bank Guarantee	5772.23	4415.89	3119.42
Total	5772.23	4415.89	3119.42

We may be unable to fulfil any or all of our obligations under the contracts entered into by us in relation to our ongoing projects due to unforeseen circumstances which may result in a default under our contracts resulting in invocation of the bank guarantees issued by us. If any or all the bank guarantees are invoked, it may result in a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

20. Our business may be subject to seasonality, which may contribute to fluctuations in our results of operations and financial condition.

Our business is subject to seasonal and other factors that may affect the execution of our projects and, consequently, our revenues and results of operations. Project execution activities, particularly civil works, foundation works, erection of transmission lines, substation works and other outdoor construction activities, may be adversely affected during periods of heavy rainfall, floods, cyclones, extreme temperatures or other adverse weather conditions. Such conditions may delay project execution, reduce labour productivity, disrupt the supply of materials and equipment, and increase project costs. Further, the timing of project awards, customer approvals, budgetary allocations by government authorities and utilities, availability of project sites and rights of way, and achievement of contractual milestones may vary across financial periods. As a result, our revenues and profitability may fluctuate from quarter to quarter and may not be indicative of our annual financial performance. Below table present the revenue earned by the company in quarter on quarter basis-

(Rs. in lakhs)
Quarter	Total Revenue	% of Revenue	Total Revenue	% of Revenue	Total Revenue	% of Revenue
	FY 2025-26		FY 2024-25		FY 2023-24
Quarter 1 (Apr – June)	5,127.97	19.89%	2,585.87	14.54%	3,962.15	23.31%
Quarter 2 (July – Sept)	5,230.71	20.29%	3,220.64	18.11%	4,278.51	25.17%
Quarter 3 (Oct – Dec)	5,949.13	23.08%	4,179.38	23.51%	4,369.75	25.70%
Quarter 4 (Jan – Mar)	9,472.45	36.74%	7,794.66	43.84%	4,390.66	25.83%
Total	25,780.26	100.00%	17,780.55	100.00%	17,001.07	100.00%

Accordingly, any prolonged adverse weather conditions, delays in project commencement or execution, or other unforeseen events, including natural disasters, pandemics, political disturbances or economic slowdowns, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

21. We may be required to enter into joint ventures or consortiums based on the requirements prescribed in tenders. The failure of a joint venture or consortium partner to perform its obligations could impose additional financial and performance obligations resulting in reduced profits or, in some cases, significant losses, and it may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We may, from time to time, execute projects through joint ventures or consortium arrangements, which expose us to risks associated with the performance of our partners. We generally execute projects independently. However, depending on the size, complexity or specific technical requirements of a project, we may enter into joint venture or consortium arrangements with other EPC contractors. However, as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we do not have any ongoing joint venture or consortium arrangements. In the event we undertake projects through such arrangements in the future, our ability to successfully execute such projects will depend, in part, on the financial strength, technical capabilities and timely performance of our joint venture or consortium partners. Any failure, delay or default by such partners in performing their contractual obligations may require us to deploy additional financial, technical and managerial resources, assume additional responsibilities or liabilities, or incur additional costs to ensure timely completion of the project. This may result in cost overruns, reduced project margins, contractual claims, liquidated damages or termination of the relevant contract. Further, disagreements with joint venture or consortium partners regarding project execution, governance or commercial matters may delay decision-making and adversely affect project execution. In certain arrangements, we may also be jointly and severally liable for contractual or statutory obligations, including obligations arising from the acts or omissions of our joint ventures or consortium partners. Although we have not experienced any material disputes or non-performance by joint venture or consortium partners during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such events may not occur in the future. Any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

22. Our Contingent Liability and Commitments could affect our financial position.

As on March 31, 2026, we have contingent liability amounting to Rs. 5,779.36 lakhs as disclosed in our financial statements and which could affect our financial position.

23. Our auditor has included certain audit remarks in one of our statutory auditors' reports during the last three Fiscals. Any recurrence of such remarks/qualification or similar matters in the future may adversely affect investors' perception of our financial reporting, business, financial condition and results of operations.

One of the statutory audit reports issued in respect of our financial statements during the last three Fiscals contained an audit remark/qualification. Although, the matter doesn't require any adjustment to the restated financial statements included in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Also, such remarks/qualification have been disclosed and addressed by our Company, there can be no assurance that similar matters will not arise in the future or that the measures implemented by us will be sufficient in all circumstances. Below are the details of the audit qualification included in the financial statements of the last 3 fiscal years –

a) Qualification which required adjustment in restated financial statements

Financial Year	Audit Remarks/Qualifications	Remark
FY 2023-24	NIL	Not Applicable
FY 2024-25	NIL
FY 2025-26	NIL

b) Qualification which does not require adjustment in restated financial statements

FY 2025-26	NIL	Not Applicable

Any recurrence of such audit qualification or similar observations may raise concerns regarding our financial reporting, accounting practices, internal financial controls or compliance framework. Such matters may result in increased scrutiny by regulatory authorities, stock exchanges, investors, lenders and other stakeholders, require us to incur additional costs to strengthen our internal controls and compliance processes, or adversely affect our ability to obtain financing or participate in bids and tenders where financial reporting and governance standards are considered. Further, any adverse perception regarding the reliability of our financial statements or the effectiveness of our internal financial controls may adversely affect investor confidence, our reputation and the market price of our Equity Shares following the Issue. Accordingly, any recurrence of audit qualifications or similar observations in the future could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

24. Our Company, its promoters and Directors are party to certain legal proceedings, any adverse decision in such proceedings may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Company, its promoters and Directors are party to certain legal proceedings. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts and forums. Mentioned below are the details of the proceedings involving our Company, Promoters, Directors, KMPs, SMPs and Group Companies as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus along with the amount involved, to the extent quantifiable.

For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Outstanding Litigations and Material Developments" on page 245 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Further, there can be no assurance that these litigations will be decided in favour of our Company, its promoters and Directors or consequently it may divert the attention of our management and Promoter and waste our corporate resources and we may incur significant expenses in such proceedings and may have to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and liabilities. If such claims are determined against us, there could be a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations, which could adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

25. We have leased and, or availed on license, the use of certain properties from which we operate our business. We cannot assure you that the lease, and, or license agreements will be renewed upon termination or that we will be able to obtain other premises on lease on same or similar commercial terms

We do not own some of our site offices located at Bhosari (Pune), Guntur (Andhra Pradesh), Guwahati (Assam), Bastar (Chhattisgarh), Banaskantha (Gujarat), Mewat (Haryana), Bidar (Karnataka), Betul (Madhya Pradesh), Bikaner (Rajasthan), Faizabad (Uttar Pradesh), Haridwar (Uttarakhand), Howrah (West Bengal) and Site staff accommodation located at Raighrh (Maharashtra), which are on a leasehold basis. Further, we may be required to re-negotiate rent or other terms and conditions of such agreements. For further details of our premises, see “Our Business - Property” on page 115. If we are unable to renew or extend such agreements on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, we may have to relocate our premises. While there have been no instances in the last three Fiscals where the Company was unable to renew any of its lease or license agreements on commercially favourable terms, we cannot assure you that we will own, or have the right to occupy, these premises in the future, or that we will be able to continue with the uninterrupted use of these premises, which may impair our operations and adversely affect our business operations. We cannot assure you that we will be able to renew the lease / license / rent agreements with third parties in a timely manner or at all. Further, the identification of a new location to house our operations and relocating our offices to the new premises may place significant demands on our senior management and other resources and also involve us incurring significant expenditure. Any inability on our part to timely identify a suitable location for our premises could have an adverse impact on our business.

Further, we have taken on lease a property situated at 3rd Floor, Lane No. 6, Daga Power House Gate No. 1, Jalan Industrial Complex, NH-6, Baniara Village, Domjur P.S., Bipra Noapara, Howrah, West Bengal – 711411 for a period of one year. However, the lease deed executed in respect of the said premises has not been registered as required under the applicable laws. The absence of registration constitutes non-compliance with the provisions of the applicable registration and stamp laws, including the West Bengal Stamp Act, and may result in the Company being liable for payment of the applicable stamp duty, penalty and other charges. Further, we have taken space arrangements for the offices situated at (i) Andhra Pradesh, (ii) Chhattisgarh, (iii) Gujarat, (iv) Haryana, (v) Karnataka, (vi) Madhya Pradesh, (vii) Rajasthan, (viii) Uttar Pradesh, (ix) Uttarakhand (x) Assam and (xi) West Bengal, for carrying on our business operations. Such arrangements may not provide the Company with exclusive possession or long-term occupancy rights and may be terminated, modified or discontinued by the respective occupants or owners at short notice. In such case, the Company may face disruption of its business operations, difficulties in establishing its legal right to occupy such premises, or challenges in obtaining or renewing statutory registrations, licences or approvals linked to such locations. Any termination, non-renewal or dispute relating to these arrangements, or any regulatory action arising therefrom, could adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. In addition, any regulatory non-compliance by the lessor or us or adverse development relating to the lessors’ title or ownership rights to such properties, may entail significant disruptions to our operations, especially if we are forced to vacate the leased spaces following such developments. Our profitability, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows could be adversely affected.

26. We have delayed payments of certain statutory dues and have also paid interest and fees towards such delayed payments

Our Company has delayed in making payments of statutory dues which were undisputed under certain statutory provisions. For the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, we have also paid interest and fees towards such delayed payments of certain statutory dues like GST, tax deducted at source, provident fund and ESI. Below are the details of the return furnished with delays in the last three Fiscals in the table below.

While no legal proceedings or regulatory action has been initiated against our Company or is pending in relation to such defective/incomplete filing of statutory return as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we cannot assure you that such legal proceedings or regulatory actions will not be initiated against our Company or that any fines will be imposed by regulatory authorities on our Company in this respect in the future. While we have implemented monitoring mechanism across establishment, compliance tracker with escalation mechanism in case of delays and have enhanced coordination between the accounts and finance department to ensure timely payments, there is no assurance that there will not be any future instance of delays in payment of statutory dues and any prolonged delay in payment of statutory dues may attract penalties from statutory authorities and in turn, our cash flow and financial conditions may be adversely affected to the extent we have to pay interest and penalties on the same.

27. We face certain competitive pressures from the existing competitors and new entrants in both public and private sector. Increased competition and aggressive bidding by such competitors are expected to make our ability to procure business in future more uncertain which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The power EPC industry is highly competitive, and we compete with established domestic and international contractors for the award of projects. Most of our contracts are awarded through competitive bidding processes, where the award of projects depends on several factors, including technical qualifications, execution capabilities, past experience, financial strength, pricing and timely project delivery. Increased competition or aggressive pricing by competitors may reduce our ability to secure new orders or require us to bid at lower margins, which could adversely affect our profitability and growth prospects. Our competitiveness also depends on our ability to accurately estimate project costs, efficiently execute projects within stipulated timelines and budgets, effectively manage project risks and adopt evolving technologies and engineering practices. Any failure to maintain these capabilities, adequately manage project execution or respond to changing customer requirements and technological developments may adversely affect our ability to compete and secure new projects. Further, the entry of new competitors or expansion of existing competitors with greater financial, technical or operational resources may intensify competition and reduce our market share. If we are unable to maintain our competitive position, secure new orders or execute projects efficiently, our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected.

28. Premature termination of our projects could result in loss of payments due to us, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation.

Our contracts could be terminated prematurely for several reasons, including delay in execution of the project, failure to meet the required milestones in a timely manner, change in the scope of the project, failure to comply with the terms of the contract, force majeure events. While, none of our contracts have been terminated prematurely in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances may not occur in the future. In the event such premature termination occurs, we cannot assure you that we will receive payments for the work completed, or if such payments will be adequate to recover our costs, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation.

29. Our operations involve significant occupational health, safety and environmental risks, and any accidents, site incidents or non-compliance with applicable environmental, health and safety requirements may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

The execution of our EPC projects involves inherently hazardous activities, including construction, erection, testing and commissioning of substations, transmission lines and other electrical infrastructure. Our personnel and subcontractors are exposed to risks associated with working at heights, excavation, lifting operations, operation of heavy machinery and equipment, electrical hazards, fire, explosions, structural failures, adverse weather conditions and other occupational and operational risks. Such incidents may result in personal injury, fatalities, damage to property or equipment, interruption of project execution, environmental damage and third-party liability claims. Further, our operations are subject to various environmental, occupational health and safety laws, regulations, contractual requirements and customer specifications. We are required to comply with, among other things, regulations relating to pollution control, hazardous waste management, environmental protection, workplace safety and employee welfare. Failure to comply with such requirements, or the occurrence of any environmental incident or workplace accident, may result in penalties, regulatory action, suspension of project activities, contractual claims, reputational damage and increased compliance costs. Although we have implemented safety management systems, training programmes and operational controls designed to mitigate such risks, there can be no assurance that accidents, occupational illnesses, fatalities, environmental incidents or other unforeseen events will not occur in the future. In addition, we may be subject to claims, litigation or compensation arising from injuries to employees, contract labour, subcontractors or third parties, or for damage to property or the environment. While we maintain insurance coverage for certain operational risks, there can be no assurance that such insurance will be adequate to cover all losses or liabilities, or that claims under such policies will be honoured in full or on a timely basis. Any uninsured or inadequately insured loss, or any significant health, safety or environmental incident, could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation.

30. We have availed certain unsecured loans from our Promoter and Director which may be recalled prior to the maturity date or on demand.

As of March 31, 2026, we have availed certain unsecured borrowings, that may be recalled prior to the maturity date or on demand, from our promoters and directors to the tune of ₹632.85 lakhs, for the purpose of meeting our working capital requirements. While we have not faced any such instances where unsecured borrowings were recalled/ redeemed at a shorter notice, there can be no assurance that such unsecured borrowings will not be recalled / redeemed by our Promoter and Director in the future. In the event that our Promoter and Director choose to recall or redeem such unsecured borrowings at short notice, we may not have sufficient liquidity or cash flows to immediately meet such repayment obligations. Any failure to service these loans or meet the applicable repayment requirements could adversely affect our financial condition, business operations and cash flows. Further, if these unsecured loans are recalled at a time when our liquidity position is constrained, we may be required to seek alternative sources of financing, which may not be available on commercially favourable terms, or at all. Any additional borrowings undertaken to meet such repayment obligations may increase our finance costs and overall indebtedness. For details on our unsecured borrowings, please see “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on page 227.

31. We are exposed to risks associated with foreign exchange rate fluctuations.

Although our reporting currency is the Indian Rupee, certain portion of our operations involves transactions denominated in foreign currencies. Our international transactions expose us to foreign exchange risks arising primarily from foreign currency receivables. We generally do not hedge our net foreign exchange exposure and are therefore subject to fluctuations in exchange rates. Our net foreign exchange gains/(losses) for Fiscal 2026, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024 were ₹5.72 lakhs (Loss), ₹18.45 lakhs (Gain) and Nil, respectively. Adverse movements in foreign exchange rates could increase our costs, reduce our margins, or result in foreign exchange losses, particularly as we continue to expand our international operations. There can be no assurance that fluctuations in currency exchange rates will not materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

32. An inability to complete our ongoing projects and forthcoming projects by their respective expected completion dates or at all could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition

The successful execution of our projects depends on several factors, many of which are beyond our control, including timely availability of project sites, land acquisition, right of way, statutory approvals and clearances, customer approvals, availability of materials, equipment, subcontractors and skilled manpower, financing arrangements, design changes, adverse weather conditions, force majeure events and coordination with multiple stakeholders. Any delay or disruption in these factors may adversely affect project execution and completion schedules. Most of our EPC contracts require us to achieve specified project milestones and complete projects within agreed timelines, failing which we may be liable to pay liquidated damages, suffer deductions from contract payments, face invocation of performance bank guarantees or other performance securities, or, in certain circumstances, face suspension or termination of the relevant contract. In addition, delays may result in increased project costs, extended deployment of manpower and equipment, higher financing costs, lower project margins, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our projects may also be affected by defects in equipment or materials supplied by third parties, shortages or damage to materials at project sites, equipment breakdowns, theft, pilferage, quality issues, changes in project scope and other unforeseen execution challenges. Further, delays or disputes relating to project execution may result in litigation or other claims by our customers. Although we have not experienced any material delay attributable to our acts or omissions in the last three Fiscals, except for matters disclosed under “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 245, there can be no assurance that delays, contractual claims, liquidated damages, invocation of performance securities or termination of contracts will not occur in the future. Any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation.

33. Any failure to protect or enforce our rights to own or use trademarks could have an adverse effect on our business and competitive position.

Our corporate logo trademarks are critical to our business. As on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we own 8 trademarks and have applied for the registration of 8 trademarks, the current status is ready for examination. For details of the trademarks registered in the name of our Company please refer “Government and Other Approvals” on page 250 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. If our Company is unable to register the intellectual property rights we have applied, we may still continue to use the same but remain vulnerable to infringement and passing-off by third parties and will not be able to enforce any rights against them. We may also need to change our logo which may adversely affect our reputation and business and could require us to incur additional costs. Our efforts to protect our intellectual property may not be adequate and any third-party claim may lead to erosion of our business value and our reputation, which could adversely affect our operations. It may also lead to litigation and any such litigations could be time consuming and costly and their outcome cannot be guaranteed. Further, we may not be able to detect any unauthorized use or take appropriate and timely steps to enforce or protect our trademarks, which could result in loss of customers.

Also, while we take care to ensure that we comply with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty whether we are infringing any existing third-party intellectual property rights or not, which may force us to alter our offerings. We may also be susceptible to claims from third parties asserting infringement and other related claims. If similar claims are raised in the future, these claims could result in costly litigation, divert management’s attention and resources, subject us to significant liabilities and require us to enter into potentially expensive royalty or licensing agreements or to cease certain offerings. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on our business and competitive position. For details of the trademarks registered in the name of our Company please refer “Government and Other Approvals” on page 250 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

34. We are subject to stringent quality standards and any defect issues or failure by us, to comply with quality standards may lead to the cancellation of existing and future orders or exposure to potential product liability claims. Maintaining these standards incurs significant costs, and failure to uphold required accreditations may damage our brand and reputation, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, operations, cash flows, and reputation

The successful execution of our EPC projects depends on the quality of our engineering, procurement, construction, installation, testing and commissioning activities, along with the performance of equipment and materials procured from third-party suppliers and subcontractors. Any design errors, construction defects, equipment failures, non-compliance with technical specifications, industry standards, statutory requirements or customer-prescribed quality standards may result in project delays, rectification costs, contractual claims, liquidated damages, warranty obligations, defects liability claims, invocation of performance guarantees or other liabilities. Our projects are also subject to quality inspections, testing, commissioning requirements and acceptance by customers and regulatory authorities. Any failure to satisfy such requirements or obtain the necessary approvals and certifications may delay project completion, affect customer acceptance or require us to undertake corrective measures at our own cost.

Although we maintain quality assurance and quality control procedures and procure equipment and materials from approved vendors, we cannot assure that defects, deficiencies or failures will not occur or that our suppliers or subcontractors will consistently comply with the applicable quality and technical standards. Further, our contractual remedies against suppliers or subcontractors may not fully compensate us for the losses, costs or liabilities incurred by us. While we have not incurred any material liability or experienced any material contractual claims arising from defects in project execution during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such claims, warranty obligations or liabilities will not arise in the future. Any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation.

35. We depend significantly on skilled and unskilled labour and an inability to access skilled and unskilled labour at reasonable costs at our project sites may adversely affect our business. We operate in a labour - intensive industry and are subject to stringent labour laws and any strike, work stoppage or increased wage demand by our labourers or any other kind of disputes with our labourers could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We depend significantly on access to a large pool of skilled and unskilled labour which we engage for our project execution. The execution of our projects is labour-intensive and requires the timely deployment of skilled engineers, supervisors, technicians, operators and contract labour at project sites. Our manpower requirements vary depending on the size, complexity and geographical location of the projects. Any shortage or unavailability of suitably skilled personnel or contract labour, particularly in remote project locations, or any disruption arising from labour disputes, strikes, work stoppages, pandemics, adverse weather conditions or other factors beyond our control, may delay project execution, increase project costs and adversely affect our ability to meet contractual milestones.

Our operations are also subject to various labour and employment laws, including laws governing wages, social security benefits, occupational health and safety and engagement of contract labour. Any increase in statutory wages or employee benefit costs, amendments to labour laws, or non-compliance with applicable labour regulations by us or our contractors may increase our operating costs or expose us to penalties, claims and litigation. For instance, we engage personnel through contractors, we may be exposed to risks arising from non-compliance by such contractors with applicable labour laws, including payment of wages and statutory dues, for which we may, in certain circumstances, be held liable. Although, there have been no labour-related proceedings involving our company but a criminal Misc. Application has been filed by the Labour Enforcement Officer (Central), Bhusawal against Mr. Subhash Ramnarayan Sarda, Promoter & Director of the Company, which is currently pending before the Hon'ble Civil Judge (Junior Division), Parli, as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Any adverse decision in the aforesaid matter or any other matter or any new litigation proceeding being initiated against our company or promoters or directors or any labour shortages, industrial actions, contractor defaults or changes in labour laws may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

36. We are dependent on subcontractors for the execution of certain activities and third parties for the transportation to project sites. Any failure by such subcontractors or third parties to perform their obligations in a timely or satisfactory manner may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

In the ordinary course of our business, we engage subcontractors for the execution of certain activities under our EPC projects, including civil works, erection, installation, testing, commissioning and other specialised works, depending on the nature, size and location of the project. We also engage third-party transportation and logistics service providers for the movement and timely delivery of equipment, materials and other project components to our project sites. Our ability to execute projects within the stipulated timelines and budgets depends, in part, on the performance, financial stability, technical capabilities and availability of such subcontractors and logistics providers. Any delay, non-performance, financial distress or non-compliance by our subcontractors or logistics providers with applicable laws, contractual requirements, quality standards or safety requirements may result in delays in project execution, disruption in the supply of materials and equipment, cost overruns, damage, loss or theft of project materials during transit, contractual claims, liquidated damages, invocation of performance securities or reputational harm. In addition, any inability to renew contracts with labour contractors or the third parties for the transportation on commercially acceptable terms or at all may adversely affect our project execution capabilities. Further, shortages of capable subcontractors or transporters, increases in subcontracting or freight costs, labour disruptions, fuel price increases, adverse weather conditions, infrastructure constraints or other unforeseen events may adversely affect project execution and profitability. Although we monitor the performance of our subcontractors and logistics providers and enter into contractual arrangements with them, we remain responsible to our customers for the timely and satisfactory execution of our EPC contracts. Accordingly, any failure by such third parties to discharge their obligations may require us to deploy additional resources, engage alternate contractors or transporters at higher costs, or bear contractual liabilities that may not be fully recoverable from the defaulting party. Any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation.

37. Our Promoters have given personal guarantees for loan facilities obtained by our Company. Any failure or default by our Company to repay such loans in accordance with the terms and conditions of the financing documents could trigger repayment obligations on them

As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, certain working capital and other credit facilities availed by our Company are supported by guarantees provided by our Promoter, Subhash Ramnarayan Sarda, Sunil Bhimrao Gadekar, Ravi Virendrapratap Singh & Saroj Virendrapratap Sing. For further details, see “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on pages 227. If any of these guarantees are withdrawn, revoked or otherwise cease to be available, our lenders may require us to provide alternate security or guarantees, revise the terms of the facilities, reduce or withdraw the sanctioned limits, accelerate repayment of outstanding borrowings or terminate the relevant credit facilities. There can be no assurance that we will be able to arrange such alternate security or guarantees on acceptable terms or within the required timeframe. Any such action by our lenders may adversely affect our liquidity, increase our financing costs, restrict our ability to raise additional funds or utilise existing credit facilities, and materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

38. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage or accurately report our financial risk. Such failure of our internal processes or procedures could harm us by impairing our ability to attract and retain clients and subject us to significant legal liability and reputational harm.

Effective internal financial controls and compliance systems are essential for the accurate preparation of our financial statements, safeguarding of assets, prevention and detection of fraud, compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and efficient management of our operations. As our business expands, our internal control framework may require continuous strengthening to address evolving operational and regulatory requirements. Although we have established internal control and compliance mechanisms and have not identified any material weakness or experienced any material failure of our internal controls during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that deficiencies, control failures or instances of fraud or non-compliance will not arise in the future. Any inability to maintain or strengthen our internal controls or to timely identify and remediate deficiencies may result in financial misstatements, regulatory actions, operational disruptions, financial losses and reputational harm, which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

39. A shortage, non-availability or adverse price movement of electricity, power & fuel may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business operations, including project execution, operation of construction equipment and machinery, fabrication and testing activities (where applicable), transportation of materials and operation of project offices and sites, require a continuous supply of electricity, diesel and other fuels. Accordingly, our operating costs are exposed to fluctuations in electricity tariffs and fuel prices. For Fiscal 2026, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024, our power and fuel expenses amounted to ₹119.41 lakhs, ₹87.98 lakhs and ₹63.17 lakhs, respectively, representing 0.52%, 0.54% and 0.41%, respectively, of our total expenses. Any interruption, shortage or non-availability of electricity, diesel or other fuels, or any significant increase in their prices, may disrupt project execution, reduce operational efficiency, delay project completion and increase our operating costs. Although certain of our contracts contain price variation or escalation provisions, there can be no assurance that we will be able to recover the entire increase in energy costs from our customers. Further, prolonged disruption in the supply of electricity or fuel at our project sites may require us to procure power or fuel from alternate sources at higher costs or temporarily suspend certain project activities. Any such disruption or increase in energy costs could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

40. Our company has made investment in property and mutual fund for which no provisions have been made for decline in the value of our investments.

Our company has made investment in property and mutual fund. Some of these investments may continue to yield return at rates lower than prevailing market rates, and there is no assurance of consistent returns in the future. Further, we have not made any provisions for a decline in the value of our investments. In the event that the fair value of any investment falls below its carrying amount and such decline is considered other than temporary, our financial position and results of operations may be adversely affected. Below are the details of the investments made by our company as on March 31, 2026 -

Particulars	As on March 31, 2026
a) Investment in Immovable Property	47.73
b) Investment in Mutual Funds	232.82

Total Investment	280.55

41. We have issued Equity Shares during the preceding one year at a price that may be below the Issue Price.

We have, in the preceding one year prior to the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, issued Equity Shares that may be lower than the Issue Price. For further details, see “Capital Structure” on page 70. The price at which such Equity Shares were issued is not indicative of the Issue Price, or the price at which the Equity Shares will be traded going forward. Further, we may, in the future, continue to issue Equity Shares at prices that may be lower than the Issue Price, subject to compliance with applicable law. Any issuances of Equity Shares by us may dilute your shareholding in our Company, thereby adversely affecting the trading price of the Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through any issuance of new securities.

42. Failure to deal effectively with any fraudulent transactions and illegal activity affecting the sensitive information of our stakeholders could harm our business and reputation and expose us to liability.

Our operations involve interactions with a wide range of stakeholders, including customers, government authorities, utilities, subcontractors, suppliers, consultants, employees and other business partners. In the course of our business, we collect, process and store commercial, financial, contractual and personal information. Any unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration, loss or misuse of such information, whether due to cyberattacks, phishing, malware, ransomware, system failures, employee misconduct or other security breaches, could disrupt our operations, compromise confidential information and expose us to contractual claims, regulatory actions and reputational damage. We are also required to comply with applicable data protection and privacy laws, including the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023. Any failure to comply with applicable data protection requirements, including those relating to lawful processing, security safeguards, breach reporting and grievance redressal, may result in penalties, restrictions on data processing and other regulatory actions. Although we have implemented information security measures, internal controls and monitoring mechanisms designed to protect our systems and data and have not experienced any material cybersecurity incident, data breach or fraud that has had a material adverse effect on our business during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such measures will be adequate to prevent future incidents. Further, any fraudulent, illegal or collusive acts by our employees, subcontractors or other business associates may expose us to financial losses, contractual liabilities, regulatory scrutiny and reputational harm. Any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

43. We could be adversely affected by employee misconduct or errors that are difficult to detect and any such incidences could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

Our business depends on the integrity, competence and diligence of our employees, engineers, project personnel, subcontractors and other service providers engaged in the execution of our projects. Any misconduct, negligence, fraud, wilful default, safety violations, non-compliance with applicable laws or contractual obligations, or human error by such personnel may result in project delays, quality defects, accidents, financial losses, contractual claims, regulatory investigations, penalties or litigation. Certain of our customer contracts require us to indemnify customers against losses arising from the negligent acts or omissions of our personnel or persons engaged by us, including subcontractors. Although we maintain internal controls, supervision and compliance mechanisms to monitor the conduct of our employees and third parties, there can be no assurance that such measures will prevent or detect all instances of misconduct or negligence. While we have not experienced any material adverse impact arising from employee or subcontractor misconduct during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such incidents will not occur in the future. Any such event may result in financial liabilities, legal proceedings, loss of customer confidence, reputational damage and could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

44. Our inability to collect receivables from our customers or default in payment by them could result in the reduction of our profits and affect our cash flows.

Our business typically involves milestone-based billing and extended credit periods, particularly for projects executed for government authorities, public sector undertakings, state utilities and other infrastructure customers. Consequently, we are exposed to the risk of delays in the realization of trade receivables and non-recovery of amounts due from customers. Although we have established credit evaluation and monitoring procedures, there can be no assurance that such measures will prevent delays, disputes or defaults in payments. As of March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, our trade receivables amounted to ₹5,038.02 lakhs, ₹4,419.16 lakhs and ₹1,789.71 lakhs, respectively, representing 19.54%, 24.85% and 10.53%, respectively, of our revenue from operations.

Delays in certification of work completed, approval of invoices, release of milestone payments, or settlement of variation and escalation claims may further extend our collection cycle. In addition, deterioration in the financial condition or creditworthiness of our customers, adverse macroeconomic conditions, budgetary constraints, liquidity issues, insolvency or other financial stress may result in delayed payments, requests for revised payment terms or defaults. Any significant delay or failure in the collection of trade receivables may increase our working capital requirements, necessitate additional borrowings, increase finance costs and adversely affect our liquidity, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

45. Our management will have discretion in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds, including interim use, and any deviation from the proposed Objects of the Issue may adversely affect the returns on your investment.

We intend to utilize the Net Proceeds of the Issue as set forth in “Objects of the Issue”, with respect to funding our incremental working capital requirements and for general corporate purposes. The funding requirements mentioned as a part of the objects of the Issue are based on internal management estimates which in turn, is based on current conditions and is subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances, costs, other financial condition or business strategies. Further the deployment of the Net Proceeds will be at the discretion of our Board and the management of our Company will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds received by our Company from the Issue. However, the Monitoring Agency appointed for this Issue and our Audit Committee will monitor the utilization of the proceeds of this Issue and prepare the statement for utilization of the proceeds of this Issue. Further in accordance with Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, a company shall not vary the objects of the Issue without our Company being authorized to do so by our shareholders by way of special resolution and other compliances in this regard. Our Promoters shall provide exit opportunity to such shareholders who do not agree to the proposal to vary the objects, at such price, and in such manner, as may be prescribed by SEBI, in this regard. Various risks and uncertainties, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds to achieve profitable growth in our business. We cannot assure you that use of the Net Proceeds to meet our future capital requirements, fund our growth and for other purposes identified by our management would result in actual growth of our business, increased profitability or an increase in the value of our business and your investment.

46. In addition to normal remuneration, other benefits and reimbursement of expenses of some of our directors (including our Promoter) and Key Management Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company.

Some of our Directors (including our Promoter) and Key Management Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding, payment of rent, loan, and dividend entitlement in our Company, in addition to normal remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses. We cannot assure you that our directors or our Key Management Personnel would always exercise their rights as Shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company. As a result, our directors including our promoters will continue to exercise significant control over our Company, including being able to control the composition of our board of directors and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting, and our other Shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. This concentration of control may lead to overlapping responsibilities and could limit diversity in management perspectives. Our directors may take or block actions with respect to our business, which may conflict with our best interests or the interests of other minority Shareholders, such as actions with respect to future capital raising or acquisitions. Also, our ability to attract and retain independent professionals could be affected due to the dominant control. We cannot assure you that our directors will always act to resolve any conflicts of interest in our favour, thereby adversely affecting our business and results of operations and prospects.

47. Any penalty or demand raised by statutory authorities in future may adversely affect the financial position of our Company.

Our operations are subject to various central, state and local laws and regulations, including those relating to Goods and Services Tax (“GST”), income tax, labour laws, employee welfare legislations, social security contributions, environmental regulations and other statutory requirements applicable to the power EPC industry. Compliance with these laws involves complex legal and factual interpretations and may give rise to differences in interpretation with the relevant regulatory or tax authorities regarding the applicability of provisions, exemptions, deductions or the treatment of specific transactions. Our Company has, in the past, experienced certain instances of delays or non-compliances under applicable tax and labour laws. Further, we may have balances recoverable from or payable to statutory authorities, the realisation or settlement of which may depend upon assessments, audits, interpretations of law, changes in regulations, judicial pronouncements or clarifications issued by the relevant authorities from time to time. Although we endeavour to comply with all applicable statutory requirements and have taken corrective measures wherever necessary, there can be no assurance that regulatory authorities will not initiate proceedings or raise additional tax demands, interest, penalties or other liabilities in respect of prior or current periods. Any such demand, adverse order or non-compliance may result in financial liabilities, litigation, penalties or reputational harm and could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

48. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule.

The proposed fund requirement for funding our incremental working capital requirements and for general corporate purposes, as detailed in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” is to be funded from the proceeds of this IPO. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule. We therefore, cannot assure that we would be able to execute our future plans/strategy within the given timeframe. For details, please refer to the Chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 82 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

49. Our failure to keep our technical knowledge confidential could erode our competitive advantage.

Our business is dependent on our technical expertise, engineering capabilities, project execution methodologies, costing models, bidding strategies, project management processes and other proprietary know-how developed through our experience in the sector. We rely on internal policies, confidentiality arrangements and access controls to safeguard such information. However, there can be no assurance that these measures will prevent unauthorised access, disclosure, misuse or misappropriation by employees, consultants, subcontractors, vendors or other third parties. Further, our ability to enforce confidentiality and contractual obligations may be limited by applicable laws or practical considerations in certain jurisdictions. If our proprietary information, technical know-how or business processes are disclosed or become available to competitors, or if we are otherwise unable to adequately protect our intellectual capital, our competitive advantage, ability to secure new projects and market position may be adversely affected, which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

50. None of our Directors have prior experience of holding a directorship in a company listed on the Stock Exchanges

None of our Directors have prior experience of directorship in any of the companies listed on recognized stock exchanges, therefore, they will be able to provide only limited guidance in relation to the affairs of our Company post listing. While our Whole-time Directors have experience in the power EPC industry, directors of listed companies have a wide range of responsibilities, including, among others, ensuring compliance with continuing listing obligations, monitoring and overseeing management, operations, financial condition and trajectory of the company. We cannot assure you that our Directors will be able to adequately manage our Company after we become a listed company, due to their lack of prior experience as directors of companies listed on recognized stock exchanges. Accordingly, we will get limited guidance from them and accordingly, may fail to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls, procedures and internal control as required for a listed entity under the applicable law. For further details, please see chapter titled “Our Management” on page 153.

51. Technological failures or insufficient innovation in enhancing our project execution capabilities could negatively affect operational efficiency and competitive positioning.

Our business requires continuous adoption of evolving engineering practices, project management tools, digital technologies, design software, automation, and construction methodologies to improve project execution, operational efficiency and cost competitiveness. We also rely on engineering software and IT systems for project planning, design, procurement, scheduling, monitoring and execution. The implementation and integration of new technologies may involve substantial capital expenditure, implementation risks, system integration challenges, operational disruptions and additional training requirements. There can be no assurance that such investments will achieve the anticipated operational efficiencies, cost savings or returns. Further, the costs of maintaining, upgrading or replacing such technologies may be higher than anticipated. The power EPC industry is subject to continuous technological advancements, and our competitors may adopt newer technologies or engineering solutions more rapidly or efficiently than us. If we fail to timely adopt or effectively implement new technologies, engineering practices or digital solutions, or if our technology investments do not perform as expected, our project execution capabilities, operational efficiency, cost competitiveness and ability to secure new projects may be adversely affected. Although we have not experienced any material adverse impact arising from technological failures or delays in technology adoption during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such events will not occur in the future. Any such occurrence could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

52. Expansion challenges in domestic and global markets could expose us to geographic and market specific risks, impacting revenue stability and growth

Our growth strategy includes expanding our presence in existing and new domestic markets and selectively pursuing opportunities in international markets. Such expansion is subject to various risks, including our ability to identify suitable business opportunities, pre-qualify for projects, establish relationships with customers, suppliers and subcontractors, recruit and retain qualified personnel, and effectively manage projects in unfamiliar markets. Expansion into new domestic and international markets may also expose us to additional risks, including changes in regulatory and tax regimes, local licensing and approval requirements, political and economic uncertainties, foreign exchange fluctuations, changes in trade policies, restrictions on cross-border operations, and increased compliance obligations. Further, we may face intense competition from established local and international contractors, which may affect our ability to secure projects on commercially acceptable terms. Our expansion plans may require significant investments in resources, infrastructure and working capital, and there can be no assurance that such investments will generate the anticipated returns or that we will successfully execute projects in new markets. Any inability to effectively manage our expansion strategy, integrate operations, or address the risks associated with new geographies may adversely affect our growth prospects, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

53. Failure or disruption of our information technology (“IT”) systems may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

We have implemented various IT solutions to cover certain areas of our operations including drawing and designing, accounting, workforce management, execution, MIS reporting and site operations. However, these systems are potentially vulnerable to damage or interruption from a variety of sources, which could result in a material adverse effect on our operations. An IT malfunction could disrupt our business or lead to disclosure of, and unauthorized access to sensitive information. Our ability to keep our business operating depends on the proper and efficient operation and functioning of various IT systems, which are susceptible to malfunctions and interruptions (including those due to equipment damage, power outages, computer viruses and a range of other hardware, software and network problems). Such malfunctions or disruptions could interrupt our business operations and result in economic losses. Any failure of our information technology systems could also cause damage to our reputation which could harm our business. Further, any failure in overhauling or updating our IT systems in a timely manner will cause our operations to be vulnerable and inefficient. Hence, any failure or disruption in the operation of these systems or the loss of data due to such failure or disruption (including due to human error or sabotage) may affect our ability to plan, track, record and analyse our business process, financial information, meet business objectives or otherwise conduct our normal business operations, which may increase our costs and otherwise materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. Further, we are dependent on external vendors for certain elements of our operations and are exposed to the risk that external vendors or service providers may be unable to fulfil their contractual obligations to us and the risk that their business continuity and data security systems prove to be inadequate. Failure to perform any of these functions by our external vendors or service providers could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows.

54. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest with the equity shareholders.

We have entered into transactions with related parties in the past. These transactions principally include interest paid, loan repayment among others. While all such transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, in accordance with the Companies Act and other applicable regulations pertaining to the evaluation and approval of such transactions, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. All related party transactions that we may enter into post-listing, will be subject to Board or Shareholder approval, as applicable, and in compliance with the applicable accounting standards, provisions of Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law, in the interest of the Company and its minority Shareholders. Further, it is likely that we may enter into additional related party transactions in the future. For further information on our related party transactions, see "Summary of Related Party Transactions" and "Restated Financial Statements – Annexure Y – Related party disclosure" on pages 57 and 213, respectively.

55. Our insurance may be insufficient to cover all losses associated with our business operations.

Our operations are subject to various risks and hazards inherent in the power EPC services, including breakdowns, failure or substandard performance of equipment, third party liability claims, labour disturbances, employee fraud and infrastructure failure, fire, theft, robbery, earthquake, flood, acts of terrorism and other force majeure events. Our Company has not obtained certain insurance policies, including General Liability Insurance, Group Health Insurance, Professional Indemnity Insurance and Group Personal Accident Insurance. The absence of such insurance coverage exposes our Company to uninsured risks arising from third-party claims, employee medical and accident-related liabilities, professional negligence claims and other unforeseen events. In the event of any such occurrence, we may be required to bear substantial financial liabilities from our own resources, which could adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, any significant uninsured event may also adversely affect the Company's reputation and goodwill. There can be no assurance that the Company will not incur material losses or be subject to regulatory proceedings, claims or other liabilities arising from the aforesaid deficiencies in its insurance arrangements, which could have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, our insurance coverage expires from time to time. We apply for the renewal of our insurance coverage in the normal course of our business. While none of our insurance policies are due for renewal as of date, we cannot assure you that such renewals in the future (on expiry) will be granted in a timely manner, at acceptable cost or at all.

Further, there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time, or that we will take sufficient insurance to cover all our losses. In addition, our insurance may not provide adequate coverage in circumstances including losses arising on account of third-party claims that are either not covered by insurance or the values of which exceed insurance limits, economic or consequential damages that are outside the scope of insurance coverage and claims that are excluded from coverage. If our arrangements for insurance or indemnification are not adequate to cover claims, we may be required to make substantial payments and our results of operations and financial condition may therefore be adversely affected.

56. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters may be less than the Issue Price

The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters may be less than the Issue Price. The details of the average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares held by our Promoter are set out below:

Sr. No.	Name of the Promoters	No. of Shares held	Average cost of Acquisition (in ₹)
1.	Subhash Ramnarayan Sarda	52,53,912	8.00
2.	Sunil Bhimrao Gadekar	52,53,788	8.00

3.	Ravi Virendrapratap Singh	125	8.00
4.	Saroj Virendrapratap Sing	52,53,800	0.00

As certified by M/s. R K Jagetiya & Co., Chartered Accountants (FRN: 146264W), by way of their certificate dated August 24, 2026.

57. Our Promoters and Promoter Group will continue to retain a majority shareholding in us after the Issue, which will allow them to exercise significant influence over us.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will hold the majority of our outstanding Equity Shares. Accordingly, our Promoters and Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant influence over our business and all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the composition of our Board of Directors, the adoption of amendments to our constitutional documents, the approval of mergers, strategic acquisitions or joint ventures or the sales of substantially all of our assets, and the policies for dividends, investments and capital expenditures. This concentration of ownership may also delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of our Promoters and Promoter Group. Further, the Promoters' shareholding may limit the ability of a third party to acquire control. The interests of our Promoters and Promoter Group, as our Company's controlling shareholder, could conflict with our Company's interests, your interests or the interests of our other shareholders. There is no assurance that our Promoters and Promoter Group will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in our Company's favour.

58. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and the Issue Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions, and will be determined by our Company, in consultation with the BRLM. Furthermore, the Issue Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company, in consultation with the BRLM through the Book Building Process. These will be based on numerous factors, including factors as described under "Basis for Issue Price" on page 89 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Issue. The factors that could affect the market price of the Equity Shares include, among others, broad market trends, financial performance and results of our Company post-listing, and other factors beyond our control. We cannot assure you that an active market will develop or sustained trading will take place in the Equity Shares or provide any assurance regarding the price at which the Equity Shares will be traded after listing.

59. Any variation in the utilization of our Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior shareholders' approval

We propose to use the Net Proceeds to be used for funding incremental working capital requirement and for general corporate purposes. For details, see "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 82. The proposed deployment of Net Proceeds has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or other independent agency and is based on internal management estimates based on current market conditions. We cannot currently determine with any certainty if we would require the Net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds from the Issue as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus without obtaining the Shareholders' approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilisation of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the Shareholders' approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such Shareholders' approval may adversely affect our business or operations. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds shall be on account of a variety of factors such as our financial condition, business and strategy and external factors such as market conditions and competitive environment, which may not be within the control of our management, and may be subject to various other approvals, which includes, amongst others obtaining prior approval of the shareholders of the Company. Various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth in this "Risk Factors" section, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds to achieve profitable growth in our business. Accordingly, the use of the Net Proceeds to fund our growth and for other purposes identified by our management may not result in actual growth of our business, increased profitability or an increase in the value of our business and your investment.

60. Subsequent to listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measures and Graded Surveillance Measures by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of investors

SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, in the past, have introduced various pre-emptive surveillance measures with respect to the shares of listed companies in India (the "Listed Securities") in order to enhance market integrity, safeguard the interests of investors and potential market abuses. In addition to various surveillance measures already implemented, and in order to further safeguard the interest of investors, the SEBI and the Stock Exchanges have introduced additional surveillance measures ("ASM") and graded surveillance measures ("GSM"). ASM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities with surveillance concerns based on certain objective parameters such as price-to-earnings ratio, percentage of delivery, customer's concentration, variation in volume of shares and volatility of shares, among other things. GSM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities where their price quoted on the Stock Exchanges is not commensurate with, among other things, the financial performance and financial condition measures such as earnings, book value, fixed assets, net worth, other measures such as price-to-earnings multiple and market capitalization. Upon listing, the trading of our Equity Shares would be subject to differing market conditions as well as other factors which may result in high volatility in price, and low trading volumes as a percentage of combined trading volume of our Equity Shares. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors or other circumstances may trigger any of the parameters prescribed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing our securities under the GSM and/or ASM framework or any other surveillance measures, which could result in significant restrictions on trading of our Equity Shares being imposed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges. These restrictions may include requiring higher margin requirements, limiting trading frequency or freezing of price on the upper side of trading, as well as mentioning of our Equity Shares on the surveillance dashboards of the Stock Exchanges. The imposition of these restrictions and curbs on trading may have an adverse effect on the market price, trading and liquidity of our Equity Shares and on the reputation and conditions of our Company. Any such instance may result in a loss of our reputation and diversion of our management's attention and may also decrease the market price of our Equity Shares which could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

61. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law, including in relation to class actions, may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face more challenges in asserting their rights as a shareholder in an Indian company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

62. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares held as investments in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a Stock Exchange held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to long-term capital gains in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the Stock Exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty relief. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of Securities Transaction Tax ("STT"), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short-term capital gains tax in India. In terms of the Finance Act, with effect from July 24, 2024, taxes payable by an assessee on the capital gains arising from transfer of long-term capital assets (introduced as Section 112A of the Income-Tax Act, 1961) shall be calculated on such long-term capital gains at the rate of 12.5%, where the long-term capital gains exceed ₹125,000. Under the Finance Act 2020, any dividends paid by an Indian company will be subject to tax in the hands of the shareholders at applicable rates. Such taxes will be withheld by the Indian company paying dividends. The Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purpose of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action including dividends. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning Equity Shares. Unfavorable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals.

63. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange, any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Issue.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. Investors' book entry, or 'demat' accounts with depository participants in India, are expected to be credited within one working day of the date on which the Basis of Allotment is approved by the Stock Exchanges. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with a depository participant could take approximately two Working Days from the Bid/Issue Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within three Working Days of the Bid/Issue Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

64. The trading of our securities on the SME platform may be subject to risks related to limited liquidity and dependence on market makers.

Low trading volumes or lack of active participation by investors could result in price volatility and difficulty in buying or selling our shares. Continuity and performance of market makers are critical for maintaining liquidity, and any disruption in their operations could adversely impact market depth and investor confidence. Reduced liquidity may limit marketability of our shares, potentially affecting valuation and investor perception. Market makers may also face operational, regulatory, or financial challenges that could impair their ability to support trading. Any sustained decrease in liquidity or market-making activity could negatively affect trading efficiency and shareholder returns. Consequently, uncertainties around liquidity and market maker continuity may materially and adversely affect market prices, investors' confidence and reputations.

65. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities or other equity-linked instruments by us may dilute your shareholding and sale of Equity Shares by the Promoters or any principal shareholder may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, convertible securities or securities linked to Equity Shares, including through exercise of employee stock options, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in our Company. Any future equity issuances by us or disposal of our Equity Shares by the Promoters or any of our other principal shareholders or any other change in our shareholding structure or any public perception regarding such issuance or sales, may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of our Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that our existing shareholders including our Promoters will not dispose of Equity Shares after the completion of the Issue (subject to compliance with the lock-in provisions under the SEBI ICDR Regulations) or pledge or encumber their Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of a shareholder's investment in the Equity Shares and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the Issue Price. We may also issue convertible debt securities to finance our future growth or fund our business activities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

66. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchange. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time taken for such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares, may reduce the proceeds received by Shareholders. The exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

67. We have not commissioned an industry report for the disclosures made in the section titled 'Industry Overview'. These disclosures are based on publicly available data, which may be inaccurate, incomplete or not comparable.

The industry data included under chapter titled "Industry Overview" beginning on page 101, of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus, have been sourced from publicly available data which is believed to be reliable but we cannot assure you that they are complete or reliable. Such data may also be produced on a different basis from comparable information compiled with regards to other countries. Therefore, discussions of matters relating to India, its economy or the industries in which we operate that is included herein are subject to the caveat that the statistical and other data upon which such discussions are based may be incomplete, inaccurate or unreliable. Due to incorrect or ineffective data collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced elsewhere and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, we cannot assure you that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy, as the case may be, elsewhere.

68. Our Company's ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our Company's earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our Company's financing arrangements

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in certain years or in the foreseeable future. Our Company does not have any formal dividend policy for the Equity Shares. The declaration and payment of dividends will be recommended by the Board of Directors and approved by the Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act 2013. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. For further details, see "Dividend Policy" on page

174. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders' investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value or having appreciated, will not get impaired for any reasons whatsoever. Further, our Promoters will continue to hold a significant portion of our post-Issue Paid-up Equity Share capital and will have a significant ability to control the payment and the rate of dividends. Therefore, we cannot assure you that our Company will be able to declare dividends, of any particular amount or with any frequency in the future.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

69. Our business is dependent on the Indian economy. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our business is closely linked to the performance of the Indian economy and the level of investment in the power and infrastructure sectors. Adverse economic conditions, including a slowdown in economic growth, inflation, high interest rates, reduced availability of credit, exchange rate volatility, disruptions in financial markets or decline in public and private sector capital expenditure, may reduce investments in power transmission and distribution infrastructure and adversely affect our business operations. The Indian economy and securities markets are also influenced by global economic and geopolitical developments. Financial market volatility, trade disputes, geopolitical conflicts, changes in international trade policies, sovereign debt concerns, global recessions or other macroeconomic disruptions may reduce investor confidence, restrict access to capital, increase financing costs and adversely affect the availability of funding for infrastructure projects. Further, changes in the policies, regulations, budgetary allocations or priorities of the Government of India or state governments, particularly those relating to the power and infrastructure sectors, may impact the award, execution or funding of projects. Any of the foregoing factors could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and the market price of our Equity Shares.

70. Natural disasters, fires, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other events could materially and adversely affect our business

Natural disasters such as droughts, epidemics, pandemics and actual or threatened war, terrorist activities, political unrest, civil strife, and other geopolitical uncertainty as well as other force majeure events may impede our operations and adversely affect our sales results, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, developments in the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine and in the Middle East countries, have resulted in and may continue to result in a period of sustained instability across global financial markets, induce volatility in commodity prices, adversely impact availability of natural gas, increase in supply chain, logistics times and costs, increase borrowing costs, cause outflow of capital from emerging markets and may lead to overall slowdown in economic activity in India. Also, our operations may be adversely affected by fires, natural disasters, and/or severe weather, which can result in damage to our property or inventory and generally reduce our productivity and may require us to evacuate personnel and suspend operations. Any terrorist attacks or civil unrest or any other adverse social, economic, and political events in India could have a negative effect on us. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

71. Changing laws, rules or regulations and legal uncertainties including taxation laws, or their interpretation, may significantly affect our financial statements

Our operations are subject to extensive central, state and local laws and regulations governing, among other matters, the power sector, public procurement, environmental protection, labour and employment, taxation, corporate governance, health and safety, foreign exchange, and other statutory requirements. The regulatory framework applicable to the power and infrastructure sectors continues to evolve. Changes in laws, regulations, government policies, technical standards, bidding guidelines, environmental norms, taxation, import-export policies or other statutory requirements, or changes in the interpretation or enforcement thereof by regulatory authorities or courts, may increase our compliance costs, delay project execution, require additional approvals, affect our eligibility to participate in tenders, alter project economics or otherwise adversely affect our business. Further, amendments to tax laws, including those relating to income tax, Goods and Services Tax ("GST"), customs duties or other indirect taxes, or changes in the availability or utilisation of tax credits, exemptions or incentives, may increase our tax liabilities or operating costs. Our ability to avail input tax credit under the GST regime also depends, in part, on the compliance by our suppliers and other counterparties with applicable GST requirements. Any failure by such parties to comply with applicable tax laws may adversely affect our ability to claim input tax credits and increase our costs. Judicial pronouncements, regulatory clarifications and changes in the interpretation of applicable laws, including those relating to labour, taxation, environmental compliance or other statutory obligations, may also require us to incur additional compliance costs or modify our business practices. Any failure to comply with applicable laws or obtain or maintain the required approvals, licences or registrations, or any adverse regulatory or judicial action, may result in penalties, litigation, suspension of operations, cancellation of contracts or other regulatory sanctions, which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

72. Any downgrading of India's sovereign debt rating by an international rating agency could have a negative impact on our business, results of operations and cash flows

Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. Any adverse revisions to credit ratings for India and other jurisdictions we operate in by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such funding is available. A downgrading of India's credit ratings may occur, for example, upon a change of government tax or fiscal policy, which is outside our control. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favorable terms and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

73. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations

While we are incorporated in India, and our operations are based in India along with certain operations with overseas customers. As a result, we are highly dependent on prevailing economic conditions in India and other economies and our results of operations and cash flows are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian and global economies. Other factors that may adversely affect the economy, and hence our results of operations and cash flows, may include:

- i) high rates of inflation in India and in countries where our customers are based could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenue, and as such decrease our operating margins;
- ii) any slowdown in economic growth or financial instability in India and in countries our customers are based;
- iii) any exchange rate fluctuations;
- iv) any scarcity of credit or other financing, resulting in an adverse impact on economic conditions and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- v) prevailing income conditions among customers and corporates;
- vi) volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, the relevant markets principal stock exchanges;
- vii) changes in existing laws and regulations in India and in countries where our customers are based;
- viii) political instability, terrorism or military conflict in the region or globally, including in various neighbouring countries;
- ix) occurrence of natural or man-made disasters;
- x) any downgrading of debt rating of India by a domestic or international rating agency; and
- xi) instability in financial markets.

74. If inflation rises in India, increased costs may result in a decline in profits

Inflation rates could be volatile, and we may continue to face high inflation in the future, similar to what India had witnessed in the past. Increasing inflation in India can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of transportation, salaries, and other expenses relevant to our business, which may adversely affect our business and financial condition. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our operating expenses, which we may not be able to pass on to customers, whether entirely or in part, and the same may adversely affect our business and financial condition. Further, high inflation leading to higher interest rates may also lead to a slowdown in the economy and adversely impact credit growth. If we are unable to increase our revenues sufficiently to offset our increased costs due to inflation, it could have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. While the Government of India has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect, and there can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not rise in the future. Any increase in inflation will have an impact on our costs and financial condition.

75. We may be affected by competition law in India and any adverse application or interpretation of the Competition Act could adversely affect our business

The Competition Act, 2002, of India, as amended ("Competition Act"), regulates practices having an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India. Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding, or action in concert, which causes or is likely to cause an adverse effect on competition, is considered void and may result in the imposition of substantial penalties. Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment, or the provision of services, or shares the market or source of production or provision of services in any manner, including by way of allocation of geographical area or number of customers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an adverse effect on competition and is considered void. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise. On April 11, 2023, the Competition (Amendment) Bill 2023 received the assent of the President of India to become the Competition (Amendment) Act, 2023 ("Competition Amendment Act"), amending the Competition Act and giving the CCI additional powers to prevent practices that harm competition and the interests of consumers. It has been enacted to increase the ease of doing business in India and enhance transparency. The Competition Amendment Act, inter alia, modifies the scope of certain factors used to determine adverse effect on competition, reduces the overall time limit for the assessment of combinations by the CCI and empowers the CCI to impose penalties based on the global turnover of entities, for anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominant position. The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions which may have an adverse effect on competition in India. Consequently, all agreements entered by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Further, the CCI has extraterritorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct, or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct, or combination has an adverse effect on competition in India. However, the impact of the provisions of the Competition Act on the agreements entered by us cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. We may be affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, or any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI or if any prohibition or substantial penalties are levied under the Competition Act, it would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and prospects.

76. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and other accounting principles, such as Ind AS, IFRS and U.S. GAAP, which may be material to investors' assessments of our financial condition, result of operations and cash flows.

Our restated summary statements of assets and liabilities, restated summary statements of profit and loss and cash flows for the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 have been prepared in accordance with the Indian GAAP. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of US GAAP, IFRS or any other system of accounting principles on the financial data included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of US GAAP, IFRS or any other accounting principles. Ind AS, US GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from Indian GAAP. Accordingly, the degree to which the Restated Financial Information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Ind AS, Indian GAAP and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

77. Financial instability, economic developments and volatility in securities markets in India or other countries may also cause the price of the Equity Shares to decline

The Indian economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors' reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located in other countries, including India. For instance, the economic downturn in the U.S. and several European countries during a part of Fiscals 2008 and 2009 adversely affected market prices in the global securities markets, including India. In addition, China is one of India's major trading partners and there are rising concerns of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy as well as a strained relationship with India, which could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries. Negative economic developments, such as rising fiscal or trade deficits, or a default on national debt, in other emerging market countries may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in Indian securities markets and indirectly affect the Indian economy in general. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy, including the movement of exchange rates and interest rates in India. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity and the price of the Equity Shares.

78. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law

As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Such regulatory restrictions could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that any required regulatory approvals for borrowing in foreign currencies will be granted to us without onerous conditions, or at all. Limitations on foreign debt may have an adverse effect on our business growth, financial condition and results of operations.

Means of Finance

Since, the entire fund requirement is to be funded from the proceeds of the Issue and existing identifiable internal accruals, there is no requirement to make firm arrangements of finance under Regulation 230(1)(e) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations through verifiable means towards at least 75% of the stated means of finance, excluding the amounts to be raised through the proposed Issue or through existing identifiable internal accruals.

Subject to applicable law, if the actual utilization towards the Objects is lower than the proposed deployment, such balance will be used for general corporate purposes to the extent that the total amount to be utilized towards general corporate purposes will not exceed 15% of the Gross Proceeds or Rs 10 Crores in accordance with Regulation 230(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. We believe that such alternate arrangements would be available to fund any such shortfalls. Further, in case of variations in the actual utilization of funds earmarked for the purpose set forth above, increased funding requirements for a particular purpose may be financed by surplus funds, if any, available in respect of other purposes for which funds are being raised in the Fresh Issue. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company. The Objects may be varied in the manner provided in “Objects of the Issue – Variation in Objects” on page 82.

As we operate in a competitive environment, our Company may have to revise its business plan from time to time and consequently our fund requirements may also change. Our Company’s historical expenditure may not be reflective of our future expenditure plans. Our Company may have to revise its estimated costs, fund allocation and fund requirements owing to various factors such as economic and business conditions, increased competition and other external factors which may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling or revising the planned expenditure and funding requirements, including the expenditure for a particular purpose at the discretion of the Company’s management.

For further details on the risks involved in our business plans and executing our business strategies, please see the section titled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 21 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

This may entail rescheduling and revising the funding requirement for a particular Object or increasing or decreasing the amounts earmarked towards any of the aforementioned Objects at the discretion of our management, subject to compliance with applicable law. By offering flexibility, Company expects to stimulate increased sales volume and foster stronger customer relationships. This adjustment aligns with the strategy to expand operations while ensuring financial sustainability.
Creditors	Past trend of Trade payables holding days has been in the range of 25 days to 111 days approximately during the financial year 2023-24 to 2025-26. Further, the Company will not be allowed to carry forward and set off any credit under section 206 of the Act, if any, commonly referred to as MAT credit.

The Company has opted for the lower corporate tax rate under section 115BAA of the erstwhile Income-tax Act, 1961 in Assessment Year 2020-2021 and has filed Form 10-IC with the Income-tax authorities on 15th October 2020, i.e., within the specified due date for filing Income-tax return.

b. Deductions in respect of employment of new employees – Section 146 of the Act

As per Section 146 of the Act, the Company to whom Section 63 of the Act applies and where total income includes profits and gains derived from business, is entitled to a deduction of an amount equal to thirty percent in respect of additional employee cost (relating to specified category of employees) incurred during the previous year. Such deduction is available for a period of three assessment years effective from the year in which such employment is provided. The eligibility to claim the deduction is subject to fulfilment of prescribed conditions specified in Section 146 of the Act. The Company is also required to submit the prescribed form with the Income-tax authorities within the specified due date.

B. Special Tax Benefits available to the Shareholders of the Company

a. Capital gains

Characterization of gains from transfer of shares

- The characterization of the gains/losses, arising from sale/transfer of shares as business income or capital gains would depend on the nature of holding and various other factors. The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) has clarified in a circular that income arising from transfer of listed shares and securities, which are held for more than 12 months would be taxed as “Capital Gains” unless the shareholder itself treats these as its stock-in-trade and income arising from transfer thereof as its business income.

Taxability on transfer of listed shares held as capital asset

- As per Section 198 of the Act, long-term capital gains arising from the transfer of equity shares are taxed at the rate of 12.5% (without indexation). Further, the surcharge on such long term capital gains is restricted to 15%.

Section 198 of the Act stipulates that Securities Transaction Tax (STT) must be paid both at the time of acquisition and sale of equity shares, subject to the fulfilment of additional conditions prescribed under Notification No. 60/2018/F. No. 370142/9/2017-TPL dated 1 October 2018. It is important to note that tax under Section 198 will be levied only if the aggregate capital gains in a financial year exceed INR 1,25,000.

- As per Section 196 of the Act, short-term capital gains arising from transfer of equity shares on which STT is paid at the time of sale (also subject to the conditions of circular mentioned above), shall be taxed at the rate of 20%. Further, surcharge on such short-term capital gains under Section 196 of the Act is restricted to 15%

Deductions in computing capital gains

In terms of Section 72 of the Act, in order to arrive at the quantum of capital gains, the following amounts would be deductible from the full value of the consideration:

- a) Cost of acquisition of shares; and
 - b) Expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with transfer of shares
- b. Other provisions

Treaty benefits

As per Section 159(4) of the Act, non-resident shareholders will be entitled to be governed by the beneficial provisions under the respective Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (DTAA), if any, applicable to such non-residents. This is subject to fulfilment of conditions prescribed to avail treaty benefits

Set-off and carry forward of losses

As per Section 111 of the Act, short-term capital losses incurred during the year are allowed to be set-off against short-term or long-term capital gains of the said year. Balance losses, if any may be carried forward for eight tax years for claiming set-off against subsequent years’ short-term or long-term capital gains. Long-term capital losses incurred during the year are allowed to be set-off only against long term capital gains. Balance loss, if any, could be carried forward for eight years for claiming set-off against subsequent year’s long-term capital gains.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

The global economic outlook has shifted markedly as the conflict in the Middle East has generated major disruptions in energy markets. Before the outbreak of the conflict, global activity seemed to be on a firm footing, supported by strong growth in some major economies and better-than expected global trade, amid robust growth in artificial intelligence (AI)-related technology exports and a slight decline in tariff levels. The conflict, however, has led to a marked deterioration in the global outlook, with about two-thirds of economies around the world facing weaker growth prospects. Disruptions to flows of energy and other commodity supplies from the Gulf region have led to sharp commodity price increases. Overall, commodity prices are expected to rise by 22 percent in 2026, in contrast to the 7 percent decline expected in January. This reflects a baseline assumption that shipping through the Strait of Hormuz remains severely disrupted through July, with shipping volumes haltingly resuming thereafter, and approaching pre-conflict levels by the end of the year. These disruptions are projected to keep energy prices elevated, with the Brent crude oil price averaging $94/barrel (bbl.) in 2026, an increase of 36 percent over 2025 and more than 50 percent above the January projection. European natural gas prices are anticipated to rise about 30 percent in 2026, on tightened liquefied natural gas (LNG) availability globally. The conflict has also severely disrupted global fertilizer trade, triggering sharp price increases that reflect the Gulf’s large share of global fertilizer exports and the surge in natural gas prices, a key input for nitrogen fertilizers.

While conflict-related disruptions are weighing on commodity trade flows, an improved trade policy environment and buoyant AI-related investment provide countervailing support to global trade. This is in part attributable to a slight decline in U.S. tariffs following a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that struck down tariffs imposed on international economic emergency grounds, alongside trade liberalization efforts by other countries. The increase in commodity prices has led to a notable resurgence of inflationary pressures. Headline inflation has picked up in both advanced economies and emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), though the impact was attenuated somewhat by the introduction of fuel subsidies and price caps in some economies. In addition, core inflation has firmed across many EMDEs and in some large economies. As a result, headline inflation expectations have risen broadly.

D. Consensus expectations for inflation

The sharp escalation in geopolitical stress also resulted in elevated volatility across financial markets. Concerns about inflationary pressures have pushed up bond yields as well as breakeven rates of inflation in major advanced economies, and expectations of near-term monetary policy easing have dissipated. In addition, equity markets weakened in the initial weeks of the conflict but many have mostly recovered following the ceasefire, largely as a result of AI optimism. Across EMDEs, equity prices declined, bond yields increased, and currencies came under pressure amid capital outflows, with only a partial recovery for some commodity importers after hostilities eased. In contrast, financial conditions in energy-exporting EMDEs outside the Middle East, and other EMDEs with improved policy frameworks and substantial buffers, have recovered more quickly. In this context, global growth is forecast to slow this year to 2.5 percent, the lowest rate since the COVID-19 pandemic, as higher energy prices, rising inflation, tighter monetary conditions, and weaker trade weigh on activity. The expected deceleration is driven by slowing growth in advanced economies and EMDEs reliant on imported energy, as well as sharply weaker exports in economies in the Middle East directly exposed to the conflict. Global growth is envisaged to pick up to 2.8 percent on average in 2027–28 as energy prices moderate, financial conditions ease, and trade recovers. Growth in advanced economies is forecast to slow this year, to 1.5 percent, from 1.8 percent in 2025, mainly due to the impact of substantially higher energy prices. The United States—a large oil producer—is proving resilient to the disruptions in global energy markets, with the adverse impacts of the conflict expected to be offset by fiscal easing and continued AI-related investment.

F. Growth by country group relative to January

Sources: Bloomberg; Consensus Economics; Haver Analytics; J.P. Morgan; UN Comtrade; World Bank.

Growth in the euro area is projected to face somewhat greater headwinds due to the region's reliance on natural gas and oil imports, but nevertheless the outlook remains only slightly weaker than January forecasts following better than-anticipated data in late 2025 and a solid start to 2026. Growth in advanced economies is expected to edge up to 1.7 percent in 2027–28 as energy prices decline, inflation pressures subside, monetary conditions ease, and uncertainty recedes. Growth in EMDEs is anticipated to decelerate to 3.6 percent in 2026—0.4 percentage point below January projections. The expected near-term deceleration across EMDEs depends on their degree of exposure to the conflict and its associated disruptions, with growth in those economies directly affected by hostilities tumbling from 3.9 percent in 2025 to close to zero in 2026. Over 2027–28, lower energy prices, renewed monetary easing, and a recovery in trade are envisaged to underpin a broad-based pickup in activity, with growth rebounding to 4.2 percent over 2027–28. The outlook for low-income countries (LICs) has also deteriorated notably, with the conflict amplifying pre-existing vulnerabilities, including food insecurity, elevated inflation, constrained fiscal space, and weak policy buffers. In addition, beyond the human toll, the recent Ebola outbreak may weigh on activity in some large LIC economies.

In per capita terms, growth in EMDEs in 2026 is projected to slow to its weakest pace since the pandemic, with the conflict and lingering disruptions impacting EMDEs to varying degrees. In EMDEs excluding China and India, subdued per capita income growth is expected to lead to nearly a decade of lost income convergence with advanced economies by 2028. Weaker growth prospects, combined with constrained fiscal space and declining official development assistance (ODA), are stripping away critical buffers for the most vulnerable countries, widening existing development gaps and exacerbating food insecurity and poverty, especially in LICs and economies in fragile and conflict-affected situations (FCS). The outlook is subject to substantial downside risks. In particular, a further surge in energy prices and a sharper acceleration in inflation could weigh on global growth, with the impact potentially amplified by financial market stress. Specifically, if energy supply disruptions prove more severe than currently assumed and are accompanied by substantial financial stress, global growth could fall to just 1.3 percent in 2026, and inflation would rise to 4.4 percent.

Growth could also be weaker if trade tensions and trade policy uncertainty escalate, or if global financial conditions tighten in response to rising inflationary pressures or heightened fiscal concerns in major economies, or if equity market valuations decline, especially in the technology sector. In addition, activity could be disrupted by the rising frequency of weather related natural disasters with worsening economic impacts. On the upside, increased spending on AI-related investment that broadens across geographies and lifts exports of countries embedded in AI supply chains could boost global growth in the short run. In the longer term, higher productivity related to effective AI adoption could raise trend global growth, including through the adoption of small AI solutions in EMDEs.

A. Level of per capita GDP as a share of advanced economies

B. Change in global inflation and output in alternative scenarios in 2026

Global policy action is essential to confront continued challenges. The conflict in the Middle East is likely to exacerbate food insecurity, warranting coordinated global action to bolster emergency food aid mechanisms and establish humanitarian corridors to prevent further deterioration. Global cooperation is also needed to bolster multilateral trading arrangements, deepen and diversify trade partnerships, and modernize cross-border investment frameworks, alongside efforts to enhance supply chain finance to ease liquidity constraints and reduce nontariff barriers within regional value chains. Additionally, accelerating the energy transition is key to addressing environmental and energy security challenges. Clean energy investment has risen significantly, but its rate of growth has slowed in recent years. At the national level, EMDE central banks will need to carefully calibrate their policy stance to guard against inflation becoming entrenched while limiting the drag on growth, alongside heightening vigilance to financial stability risks amid renewed market volatility and shifts in risk appetite. EMDE fiscal policy makers face mounting challenges as elevated debt and borrowing costs, along with new pressures—including those related to spending on security needs and higher energy prices—are increasingly constraining fiscal space. In particular, rising debt burdens increase borrowing costs and further erode fiscal space. This in turn constrains resources for infrastructure, public services, and other investments needed to support private sector growth and job creation. Lower and more volatile revenues, sharp commodity price swings, and limited buffer accumulation during good times create especially difficult fiscal policy challenges for commodity-exporting EMDEs. Weak revenue mobilization, particularly in LICs, where refinancing risks and interest burdens have increased, is adding to debt sustainability concerns.

C. Global potential growth scenarios

D. Number of people experiencing severe food insecurity

EMDEs face a major jobs challenge as 1.2 billion young people are expected to reach working age by 2035. The jobs imperative cuts across the broader policy agenda, particularly at a time when the global economy finds itself at another difficult juncture. Headwinds stemming from conflict related disruptions, higher borrowing costs, heightened uncertainty, and constrained fiscal space, will have a direct bearing on EMDEs' ability to increase investment and productivity in job-rich sectors and create employment. These challenges come as the effects of generative AI technologies on Labor markets are still unfolding and likely to be uneven across EMDEs. In response, policy action must be calibrated not only to stabilize the near-term outlook, but also to lay the structural foundations for sustained growth. EMDEs can tackle these challenges through a steadfast commitment to the fundamentals of long-term growth and job creation: greater food and energy security, better foundational infrastructure, practical diffusion of technology, and openness to trade and diversification, all underpinned by fiscal discipline, strong institutions, enabling regulation, investment in human capital, and the catalytic role of private capital mobilization. In particular, countries need to reverse the decline in private investment, which has been on a downward trend since the 2000s. In this context, a comprehensive set of structural reforms could help policymakers boost private investment substantially.

E. Impact of rising government debt on interest rates

F. Impact of major structural reforms on private investment in EMDEs

Against this background, the World Bank Group is assisting EMDEs in confronting the near-term impact of the conflict in the Middle East using a three-part plan. First, it is providing immediate liquidity. Using instruments such as the Crisis Preparedness and Response Toolkit, countries can now draw on prearranged contingent financing, existing project balances, and fast-disbursing instruments—and they can move quickly without new approvals. This can provide clients with between $20 and $25 billions of support to respond quickly to the stresses caused by the conflict. The immediate response includes protecting poor and vulnerable people through social safety nets and targeted transfers, supporting fiscal needs of governments, providing working capital and liquidity support for firms and farms, maintaining access to critical imports and trade finance, and reducing the risk of financial sector distress. Second, the World Bank is reprioritizing projects already in the pipeline. The World Bank Group will reorient parts of its portfolio and pipeline to support the crisis response as needed, while staying anchored in medium-term development priorities. This could expand available resources by $50 to $60 billion over the next six months. Third, it is scaling up the balance sheet if needed. The World Bank Group has the headroom to increase support through new financing, guarantees, private sector support and, if needed, the use of crisis buffers and front-loading. If the conflict and economic fallout persist, this financing could be increased to $80 to $100 billion over 15 months.

GLOBAL CONTEXT

The conflict in the Middle East is affecting the global economic context through several distinct transmission channels. Global trade flows, particularly for energy, have been disrupted, with the near cessation of shipping through the Strait of Hormuz. Severe disruptions are expected to last through July, easing gradually in subsequent months. Reduced flows of commodities from the Gulf region have pushed energy prices sharply higher, contributing to increased cost pressures and heightened consumer inflation. Against the backdrop of intensifying inflationary pressures, global monetary conditions are expected to tighten.

GLOBAL TRADE

Following the U.S. Supreme Court ruling striking down the use of tariffs on international economic emergency grounds, the U.S. administration introduced a temporary 10 percent tariff surcharge under a different law, set to expire in late July. Together with sector- and country-specific measures, the U.S. effective tariff rate has declined slightly, to about 12 percent from about 14 percent earlier this year. While trade policy uncertainty remains elevated, several initiatives are expected to support trade growth and diversification. They include recent free trade agreements between the European Union and Mercosur, India, and Australia respectively, and between the United Kingdom and India. They also include unilateral market access initiatives such as China's zero-tariff treatment for African countries and the U.S. reauthorization of the African Growth and Opportunity Act. Despite these supporting factors, growth in global goods and services trade is projected to decelerate from 4.8 percent in 2025 to 2.9 percent in 2026, reflecting a reversal of the earlier front-loading activity in anticipation of higher trade barriers; the delayed impact of tariffs; and the effects of the conflict in the Middle East, including disruptions related to the closure of the Strait of Hormuz. Partially offsetting these headwinds, goods trade is envisaged to be supported by continued robust demand for AI-related products. Meanwhile, services trade growth is set to ease, in part reflecting rising travel and transport costs due to higher fuel prices. Compared with previous projections, however, trade growth in 2026 is 0.7 percentage point higher, reflecting continued resilience, strong AI-related activity, lower global tariffs, and recent trade agreements. Global trade growth is then projected to firm to an average of 3.2 percent in 2027–28, broadly in line with global output, as the adverse effects of tariffs and policy uncertainty ease. Tariff rates in effect as of mid-May 2026 are assumed to prevail throughout the forecast period. e trade outlook remains subject to substantial downside risks. A re-escalation of the conflict in the Middle East and increased geopolitical tensions could further disrupt goods trade logistics, including maritime and air transport. Uncertainty about the safety of key shipping routes, together with higher fuel prices, could raise shipping costs and weigh on goods trade (Brancaccio, Kalouptsi, and Papageorgiou 2023; von Below and Vézina 2016). In addition, prolonged geopolitical stress could lead to sharp declines in services trade, particularly tourism (Mulabdic and Yotov 2025). A renewed escalation of trade tensions, potentially extending to third countries and involving secondary sanctions—measures targeting firms or countries trading with sanctioned entities—as well as uncertainty around previously concluded trade agreements, could further dampen trade growth prospects.

Commodity markets

The near halt of shipping through the Strait of Hormuz has triggered enormous disruptions in commodity markets—particularly crude oil, LNG, and fertilizers—since early March. Amid large price swings reflecting geopolitical shifts, spot Brent crude, European natural gas, and urea prices in April averaged 80, 31, and 106 percent above their January levels, respectively. e outlook remains highly sensitive to the duration and intensity of these disruptions. The baseline assumes the most acute phase of disruptions ends in July, with shipping volumes through the Strait of Hormuz returning near pre-conflict levels by the end of 2026. More prolonged impediments to shipping would imply materially higher prices for key commodities than assumed in the baseline, with broader spillover to inflation and economic activity. In particular, market stress and disorderly price surges could emerge if crude oil and oil products inventories are drawn down to critical levels. Any reversal of recent increases in oil exports from producers outside the Gulf region could accelerate this process. Moreover, further damage to oil and gas infrastructure in the Middle East could keep energy prices higher in the medium term, even when acute disruptions abate.

Against this backdrop, average commodity prices are projected to rise by about 22 percent in 2026, a sharp reversal from the 7 percent decline anticipated in January, driven mainly by the surge in energy prices. Brent crude oil is forecast to average $94/bbl. in 2026, $34 higher than projected in January, reflecting unprecedentedly large oil supply disruptions that are expected to ease gradually in the second half of this year. Average natural gas prices are also projected to rise in 2026, by a sharp 30 percent in Europe, but only 2 percent in the United States. These forecasts reflect markedly tighter global LNG availability that raises wholesale natural gas prices in East Asia, Europe, and other gas-importing regions. Price pressures extend beyond energy. Industrial metal prices are expected to increase by about 18 percent in 2026 on tighter supply conditions and firm demand, including from the energy transition, electrification, and data centre infrastructure. The average price of precious metals could be about 42 percent higher than last year, supported by strong safe-haven demand. Fertilizer and food markets are also affected. Pre-conflict, economies in the Gulf region supplied about 20 percent of urea and diammonium phosphate (DAP) fertilizer exports, as well as extensive inputs for fertilizer production. Average fertilizer prices are therefore expected to climb by 38 percent this year. Even so, food commodity prices are expected to firm by only 3 percent in the baseline, owing to ample recent grain production globally.

The conflict nonetheless poses significant food security risks. It directly threatens food security in the Middle East by disrupting food imports in the Gulf region, raising domestic food inflation as supplies are rerouted through longer and costlier overland channels. More broadly, a longer than-anticipated trough in Middle East exports would further lift agricultural input costs and raise the risk of reduced fertilizer use, weaker crop yields, and higher food prices. Under adverse scenarios, up to an additional 70 million people could face acute hunger and food insecurity over the forecast period (World Food Security Outlook 2026). Beyond developments in the Middle East, the possible emergence of El Niño weather conditions could push food prices above current expectations.

Global inflation

Before the onset of the conflict in the Middle East, global headline and core inflation had remained broadly stable, albeit above pre-pandemic levels and with notable cross-country differences. However, with the interruption of the supply of crucial commodities, particularly oil and natural gas, as well as broader disruptions to global supply chains, global headline inflation picked up, driven by higher input costs and consumer energy prices despite the introduction of fuel subsidies and price caps in some economies. In the United States, this pickup occurred against a backdrop of the pass through of tariff costs to consumer prices (Cavallo, Llamas, and Vazquez 2025). Although the impact of higher energy prices on core inflation has been subdued so far, underlying price pressures persist, with about one-fourth of economies seeing accelerating core prices amid some impact on producer costs and transportation prices. This increase is a notable challenge for a relatively high share of economies, particularly EMDEs, where core inflation is already elevated relative to headline targets.

A. Global headline and core CPI inflation

B. Consensus expectations for inflation

Sources: Bloomberg; Consensus Economics; Haver Analytics; J.P. Morgan; World Bank.

Surveys of professional forecasters indicate that CPI inflation is projected to edge up in 2026 across advanced economies and EMDEs on the back of higher energy prices. In contrast, the increase for 2027 has been modest, suggesting that headline inflation is expected to moderate due to abating energy price pressures as the conflict winds down and central banks keep monetary policy more restrictive than previously envisaged. The concentration of higher inflation projections in the near term suggests that survey respondents anticipate conflict-driven inflationary pressures to be temporary, indicating that overall expectations remain well anchored. In all, global headline inflation is projected to pick up to 4 percent this year, with advanced economies and EMDEs seeing headline inflation rise due to increases in energy costs. Global inflation is expected to moderate to 3.1 percent next year as the average crude price declines from $94/bbl. in 2026 to $76/bbl. in 2027, consistent with the baseline assumption that the current conflict in the Middle East subsides, energy supplies through the Strait of Hormuz resume after July, and energy production curtailed earlier in the conflict.

gradually recovers. Core inflation is assumed to be relatively stable amid anchored medium-term inflation expectations. Nevertheless, the inflation outlook remains highly uncertain because of the intensity and duration of the commodity market disruption.

Global financial developments

After easing substantially in the second half of last year, global financial conditions tightened following the onset of the conflict in the Middle East. Risk appetite recovered as the ceasefire began, and financial market volatility, which had been elevated across asset classes, receded. However, given heightened uncertainty about how the conflict will proceed, conditions remain tighter than before the conflict for some economies as investors continue to evaluate the impact on inflation and growth. Concerns about rising inflation due to higher commodity prices and energy supply disruptions have pushed up bond yields as well as breakeven rates of inflation in major advanced economies, especially in Europe. Expectations for central bank policy easing in major economies have dissipated, with the possibility of rate hikes in the euro area and the United Kingdom in the near term, while the U.S. Federal Reserve is now envisaged to raise its policy rate by late 2026 or early 2027. Correspondingly, the U.S. dollar index is higher than its pre-conflict level.

The broader risk-off sentiment in financial markets affected equity markets to varying degrees. In the United States, conflict-related risk aversion added to investor worries about the size of AI investments relative to their payoffs and the potential for AI to replace certain business models. However, equity prices bounced back to reach all-time highs after the ceasefire, driven by strong earnings and renewed optimism about AI, despite uncertainty about the resolution of the conflict. Equity markets elsewhere experienced larger declines reflecting the greater impact of the conflict on growth and inflation, especially for energy importers, and the recovery has been more sluggish in some cases. High-yield corporate bond spreads widened at the start of the conflict, in both the United States and the euro area, but have recovered since as risk sentiment improved. In EMDEs, financial conditions initially tightened, with only a partial recovery for some commodity importers after the ceasefire. Investors have differentiated across EMDEs based on their energy exposure and ability to adjust to the shock, which is reflected across asset classes. While bond spreads on foreign-currency-denominated debt widened and local-currency bond yields increased during the conflict, the changes were more pronounced for commodity importers, especially where the rise in oil prices could strain fiscal positions and exacerbate inflation. Deteriorating risk sentiment also led to equity price declines, portfolio outflows from EMDEs, and currency depreciation, leading some authorities to intervene in foreign exchange markets to alleviate pressures. Sovereign debt issuance by EMDEs slowed amid higher market volatility. However, equity markets, portfolio flows, and issuance rebounded strongly as risk appetite recovered, despite uncertainty regarding the duration of the conflict and its impact. Energy exporters outside the Middle East and EMDEs with improved policy frameworks and substantial buffers have benefited the most. However, higher borrowing costs are set to put pressure on rising sovereign debt burdens, and issuance is expected to moderate if geopolitical uncertainty persists.

INDIAN ECONOMY OVERVIEW

Growth has remained robust, despite some moderation. Real GDP expanded by 7.8% year-on-year in the quarter ending in December (Q3 FY2025–26), easing from 8.4% in the previous quarter. High-frequency indicators, including softer industrial production, suggest a loss of momentum. Retail indicators and survey based measures of consumer sentiment point to an easing of private consumption as higher food and energy prices weigh on households' real purchasing power. At 3.5% year-on-year in April, headline inflation has picked up since early 2026, driven primarily by food prices, but core inflation has remained broadly stable and below the mid-point of the central bank's target band of 4% ± 2%. The depreciation of the rupee relative to the US dollar of around 7% since the beginning of the year has added to inflationary pressures by raising import costs, particularly for fuel and fertilisers, with partial pass-through to consumer prices. Labour market conditions are softening, with the employment rate declining from 40.5% in December to 39.5% in April. India's crude oil and natural gas dependence on the Middle East is substantial, with crude oil imports accounting for about 46% of total imports in 2024 and natural gas for about 57%. Energy import prices have risen sharply in recent months, but only part of that has fed into domestic energy prices. Reductions in excise duties on petrol and diesel and the removal of import duties on selected petrochemical inputs, alongside export levies on refined products, have helped to contain the pass-through from international prices to domestic inflation. Rationing measures have prioritised natural gas supply to households and transport, while expanding access to kerosene through the public distribution system and increasing the availability of small LPG cylinders for migrant workers. The recent reduction in US import tariffs lowered the average effective tariff rate on India by 23 percentage points, reducing pressures on exporting sectors.

The Reserve Bank of India reduced the monetary policy rate from 6.5% in January 2025 to a broadly neutral level of 5.25% in February 2026 and average lending rates have fallen. Non-food bank credit (bank credit net of food procurement-related lending) expanded by 15.9% year-on-year in March. However, recent developments point to a re-emergence of inflationary pressures. Headline inflation has begun to rise, driven primarily by higher food prices as favourable base effects fade. Higher oil and gas prices are adding both direct and indirect pressures, increasing transportation and production costs across sectors. The depreciation of the rupee is further amplifying imported inflation by raising the domestic cost of fuel, fertilisers and other tradable goods. In this context, a temporary increase in the policy rate of around 25 basis points is projected by the end of the first quarter of FY2026-27 to help maintain inflation within the $4\% \pm 2\%$ target band and anchor expectations. As inflationary pressures recede over the projection horizon, monetary policy is expected to ease in FY2027-28. Fiscal policy is projected to become expansionary in FY2026-27 to cushion the impact of higher energy prices. The FY2026-27 budget envisaged a reduction in the fiscal deficit from 4.4% of GDP in FY2025-26 to 4.3% of GDP. However, measures adopted to mitigate the energy price shock are expected to widen the deficit by around 0.4% of GDP relative to the budgeted path. These measures will provide near-term support to household real incomes and limit the impact on consumption but will also slow the pace of public debt reduction, which is expected to reach 54.7% in FY2027-28. Fiscal policy is expected to return to a moderate consolidation path in FY2027-28 as energy prices stabilise and temporary support measures are phased out.

The FY26 was an unusually challenging year for the economy on the external front. Heightened uncertainty in global trade and the imposition of high, penal tariffs created stress for manufacturers, particularly exporters, and affected business confidence. The government responded by using this crisis as an opportunity to push through key measures such as GST rationalisation, faster progress on deregulation, and further simplification of compliance requirements across sectors. FY27 is therefore expected to be a year of adjustment, as firms and households adapt to these changes, with domestic demand and investment gaining strength. That said, it must be acknowledged that the external environment remains uncertain, which shapes the overall outlook.

The outlook for the global economy remains dim over the medium-term, with downside risks dominating. At the global level, growth is expected to remain modest, leading to broadly stable commodity price trends. Inflation across economies has trended downward, and monetary policies are therefore expected to become more accommodative and supportive of growth. However, certain key risks persist. If the AI boom fails to deliver the anticipated productivity gains, it could trigger a correction in overly optimistic asset valuations, with the potential for broader financial contagion. Additionally, a protraction of trade conflicts would weigh on investment and further weaken the global growth outlook. These forces collectively suggest that downside risks to global growth remain prominent, although a fragile stability holds for now.

For India, these global conditions translate into external uncertainties rather than immediate macroeconomic stress. Slower growth in key trading partners, tariff induced disruptions to trade and volatility in capital flows could intermittently weigh on exports and investor sentiment. At the same time, ongoing trade negotiations with the United States are expected to conclude during the year, which could help reduce uncertainty on the external front. While these risks remain manageable, they reinforce the importance of maintaining adequate buffers and policy credibility.

Against this backdrop, the domestic economy remains on a stable footing. Inflation has moderated to historically low levels, although some firming is expected to occur going forward. Balance sheets across households, firms and banks are healthier, and public investment continues to support activity. Consumption demand remains resilient, and private investment intentions are improving. These conditions provide resilience against external shocks and support the continuation of growth momentum. The forthcoming rebasing of the CPI series in the coming year will also have implications for inflation assessment and warrant careful interpretation of price dynamics.

Importantly, the cumulative impact of policy reforms over recent years appears to have lifted the economy's medium-term growth potential closer to 7 per cent. With domestic drivers playing a dominant role and macroeconomic stability well anchored, the balance of risks around growth remains broadly even. Taking these considerations together, the Economic Survey projects real GDP growth in FY27 in the range of 6.8 to 7.2 per cent. The outlook, therefore, is one of steady growth amid global uncertainty, requiring caution, but not pessimism.

POWER SECTOR IN INDIA

Power is one of the most critical components of infrastructure, playing a central role in economic growth and social development. For India, building and maintaining adequate power infrastructure has been vital to sustaining high growth and improving quality of life. Guided by the principle of universal access to affordable and sustainable electricity, the Ministry of Power has transformed the sector in recent years by creating a single national grid, strengthening distribution networks, and achieving near-universal household electrification. India's power sector is among the most diversified in the world, drawing from conventional sources such as coal, lignite, natural gas, oil, hydro, and nuclear power, as well as non-conventional sources including wind, solar, and biomass. Rapidly rising electricity demand continues to drive capacity expansion, making large-scale additions to generation capacity essential for the future.

Electricity demand has been rising sharply. In FY25, India consumed 1,694 billion units of power, 33% higher than FY21, representing a five-year CAGR of 7.4%. Peak power demand is expected to reach 277 GW in FY26, and overall energy demand is projected to grow at 6-6.5% annually over the next five years, underscoring the scale of opportunities and challenges for the sector.

MARKET SIZE

India is the third-largest producer and consumer of electricity in the world, with an installed capacity of 505 GW as of October 2025. In FY25, the country generated 1,821 BU of power, a 5% YoY increase over FY24. Peak demand reached a record 2,29,715 MW in August 2025, with 1,50,472 million units supplied, reflecting rising consumption amid strong economic growth, according to the National Load Despatch Centre (NLDC).

The sector continues to see rapid growth in renewable energy. India added 29.52 GW of renewable capacity in FY25, and a record 20.10 GW of renewable energy capacity in April-August FY26, a 123% increase YoY, taking total Renewable Energy to 250.64 GW (excluding 8.78 GW of Nuclear capacity) as of October 2025, and moving firmly toward the 500 GW non-fossil 2030 goal. By the end of October 2025, solar energy contributed 129.9 GW, wind 53.60 GW, biomass 10.76 GW, small hydropower 5.16 GW, waste-to-energy 0.86 GW, and hydropower 50.35 GW. Nuclear power capacity stood at 8.8 GW. India recorded its highest renewable energy share as renewables met 51.5% of the country's 203 GW electricity demand in July 2025, up from 6% in FY15.

Electricity consumption remains led by industry at 41.8%, followed by households at 24.3%, agriculture at 17%, and commercial use at 8.3%. Consumption growth has been steady, with power use rising 33% between FY21 and FY25 at a five-year CAGR of 7.4%. India met a record peak demand of 250 GW in June 2025, highlighting the scale of demand growth.

ADVANTAGE IN INDIA

Growing Demand

- India is the third-largest producer and consumer of electricity worldwide, with an installed power capacity of 505 GW as of October 2025.
- Growing population along with increasing electrification and per-capita usage will provide further impetus. Power consumption in India in FY23 logged a 9.5% growth to 1,503.65 Billion Units (BU).
- The all-India peak power demand in FY26 is expected to be 277 GW. In FY25, India consumed 1,694 billion units of electricity, an increase of 33% over FY21, translating into a 5-year CAGR of 7.4%.
- India's energy demand is expected to grow in the range of 6–6.5% over the next five years, ratings agency ICRA.

Attractive Opportunities

- India's wind energy sector is making significant strides towards achieving the ambitious target of 100 GW of production by 2030, according to the Indian Wind Turbine Manufacturers Association (IWTMA)

Policy Support

India has unveiled a comprehensive plan worth Rs. 9.15 lakh crore (US$ 109.50 billion) to enhance its power infrastructure and meet a projected demand of 458 GW by 2032. This initiative, led by the Ministry of Power under Prime Minister Narendra Modi, aims to strengthen the national power grid and boost energy security.

Higher Investments

INDIAN INFRASTRUCTURE INDUSTRY

Infrastructure is a key enabler in helping India become a US$ 26 trillion economy. Investments in building and upgrading physical infrastructure, especially in synergy with the ease of doing business initiatives, remain pivotal to increase efficiency and costs. Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi also recently reiterated that infrastructure is a crucial pillar to ensure good governance across sectors.

The government's focus on building infrastructure of the future has been evident given the slew of initiatives launched recently. The US$ 1.3 trillion national master plan for infrastructure, Gati Shakti, has been a forerunner to bring about systemic and effective reforms in the sector, and has already shown a significant headway. Infrastructure support to the nation's manufacturers also remains one of the top agendas as it will significantly transform goods and exports movement making freight delivery effective and economical.

The infrastructure sector is a key driver of the Indian economy. The sector is highly responsible for propelling India's overall development and enjoys intense focus from the Government for initiating policies that would ensure the time-bound creation of world-class infrastructure in the country. The infrastructure sector includes power, bridges, dams, roads, and urban infrastructure development. In other words, the infrastructure sector acts as a catalyst for India's economic growth as it drives the growth of the allied sectors like townships, housing, built-up infrastructure, and construction development projects.

To meet India's aim of reaching a US$ 5 trillion economy by 2025, infrastructure development is the need of the hour. The government has launched the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) combined with other initiatives such as 'Make in India' and the production-linked incentives (PLI) scheme to augment the growth of the infrastructure sector. Historically, more than 80% of the country's infrastructure spending has gone toward funding for transportation, electricity, and water, and irrigation.

While these sectors still remain the key focus, the government has also started to focus on other sectors as India's environment and demographics are evolving. There is a compelling need for enhanced and improved delivery across the whole infrastructure spectrum, from housing provision to water and sanitation services to digital and transportation demands, which will assure economic growth, increase quality of life, and boost sectoral competitiveness.

NATIONAL ELECTRICITY PLAN

India is now amongst the fastest developing countries in the world in terms of GDP as well as the electricity consumption. Electricity demand in the country has increased at a CAGR of about 5 % during the period 2017-22. During the period 2022-24, electricity demand has increased at a CAGR of about 9.46 %. The development of an efficient, coordinated, economical and robust electricity system is essential for smooth flow of electricity from generating station to load centers and for optimum utilization of resources in the country in order to provide reliable, affordable, uninterrupted (24x7) and Quality Power for All.

Transmission system establishes the link between source of generation on one side and distribution system, which is connected to ultimate consumer, on the other side. Transmission planning is a continuous process of identification of transmission system addition requirements, their timing and need. Need for augmentation of transmission system could arise from the following:

- a) Addition of electricity generation capacity
- b) Increase in electricity demand
- c) System strengthening that may become necessary to achieve reliability.

The transmission systems that are in place in the country consist of Inter-State Transmission System (ISTS) and Intra State Transmission System (Intra-STs). ISTS is developed by the Inter-State Transmission Licensees. On the other hand, Intra-State Transmission System is developed by State Transmission Utilities / Intra-State Transmission Licensees.

As per Section 3 of the Electricity Act 2003, Central Electricity Authority (CEA) has been entrusted with the responsibility of preparing the National Electricity Plan (NEP) in accordance with the National Electricity Policy and to notify such plan once in five years. The National Electricity Plan (Volume I) on Generation Planning was published on 31.05.2023. Draft National Electricity Plan (Volume II) on Transmission, had been published for suggestions and comments of stakeholders, including public on 24th January, 2024. The National Electricity Plan (Volume II: Transmission) has been finalized considering relevant comments received from the stakeholders. The National Electricity Plan (Volume II: Transmission) covers the review of development of transmission system during the period 2017-22, detailed plan for the period 2022-27, and perspective plan for the period 2027-32

REVIEW OF TRANSMISSION SYSTEM AUGMENTATION DURING THE PERIOD 2017-22

1,04,400 ckm of transmission lines and 3,27,889 MVA of transformation capacity in sub-stations at 220 kV and above voltage levels were planned to be added during the period 2017-22. Against this target, 88,865 ckm (85 % of the target) of transmission lines and 349,685 MVA transformation capacity (107 % of the target) has been added during 2017-22. In addition, 14,000 MW of HVDC bi-pole capacity as planned has also been added during 2017-22 as detailed below:

Transmission System Type / Voltage Class	Unit	Target for 2017-22	Achievement during 2017-22	% Achievement wrt Target

(a) HVDC $\pm$ 320 kV/ $\pm$ 800 kV Bipole	ckm	3531	3819	108%
(b) 765 kV	ckm	25670	19783	77%
(c) 400 kV	ckm	36770	36191	98%
(d) 230/220 kV	ckm	38429	29072	76%
Total-Transmission Lines	ckm	104400	88865	85%

(a) 765 kV	MVA	116700	89700	77%
(b) 400 kV	MVA	125535	152306	122%
(c) 230/220 kV	MVA	85654	107679	125%
Total – AC Sub-stations	MVA	327889	349685	107%
HVDC
(a) Bi-pole + Monopole	MW	14000	14000	100%
(b) Back-to-back capacity	MW	0	0
Total - HVDC	MW	14000	14000	100%

At the end of 2021-22 (31.03.2022), the length of transmission lines and transformation capacity in sub-stations (220 kV and above voltage level) was 4,56,716 ckm and 10,70,950 MVA respectively. The HVDC bi-pole capacity including back-to-back capacity was 33,500 MW. There has been more increase in the transmission system at higher voltage levels (400 kV and 765 kV level). This aspect of growth in transmission system highlights the requirement of transmission network to carry bulk power over longer distances and at the same time optimize right of way, minimize losses and improve grid reliability. Few of the planned transmission systems got delayed because of Right-of-Way (RoW) issues, delay in getting forest clearance, contractual issues, delay in land acquisition for sub-stations, COVID-19 pandemic etc. In addition, some transmission system not included in the target were commissioned during 2017-22.

TRANSMISSION SYSTEM PLANNED FOR THE PERIOD 2022-27

Expansion of transmission system depends on the projected electricity demand and the generation capacity addition. As per 20th EPS Report, peak electricity demand during 2026-27 is 277 GW and the installed generation capacity required to meet this electricity demand is 609.6 GW on all-India basis as per National Electricity Plan (Vol I: Generation). Details are given below:

Installed Generation Capacity (MW) by 2026-27 as per NEP (Generation)

	Coal	Gas	Hydro	PSP	Nuclear	Wind	Solar	Biomass	Small Hydro	Total	BESS
All - India	235133	24824	52446	7446	13080	72896	185566	13000	5200	609591	8680

However, based on inputs from MNRE/SECI regarding RE potential zones materialising by 2026-27 and considering the connectivity applications submitted by RE generation developers to CTUIL as well as information regarding RE capacity to be integrated to intra-state network as furnished by STUs, about 111 GW of wind and 208 GW of solar generation capacity is likely to be commissioned by 2026-27. Transmission system has to be planned for the additional RE potential zones. Hence, for planning of transmission system, the installed electricity generation capacity by 2026- 27 has been considered as 669 GW as given below:

Installed Generation Capacity (MW) likely by 2026-27 considered for Transmission Planning

	Coal	Gas	Hydro	PSP	Nuclear	Wind	Solar	Biomass	Small Hydro	Total	BESS
All - India	235133	24824	52446	7446	12080	110951	208260	13000	5200	669340	8680

Based on the planned generation capacity addition and projected electricity demand, 1,14,687 ckm of transmission lines and 7,76,330 MVA of transformation capacity (220 kV and above voltage levels) are planned to be added during the period 2022-27. In addition, 1,000 MW of HVDC bi-pole capacity is also planned to be added during 2022-27. With the planned addition, the length of transmission lines and transformation capacity in sub-stations (220 kV and above voltage level) would become 5,71,403 ckm and 18,47,280 MVA respectively. The HVDC bi-pole capacity including back-to-back capacity would increase to 34,500 MW.

14,625 ckm of transmission lines and 75,902 MVA of transformation capacity (220 kV and above voltage levels) has been added during the year 2022-23. 14,203 ckm of transmission lines and 70,728 MVA of transformation capacity (220 kV and above voltage levels) has been added during the year 2023-24. Target of transmission system augmentation during 2024-25 is 16,667 ckm of transmission lines and 1,16,490 MVA of transformation capacity (220 kV and above voltage level). In order to provide reactive power support to the grid under steady state as well as under dynamic conditions, adequate reactive compensation in the form of bus reactors, line reactors and Static Compensators (STATCOMs) have been planned. Further, space provision is being kept for addition of reactors and STATCOMs at the upcoming substations, especially the substations associated with integration of RE generation.

INTER-REGIONAL TRANSMISSION LINKS (TILL 2027)

There has been substantial growth in inter-regional power transmission capacity to facilitate smooth flow of power from surplus to deficit regions and for optimum utilization of the country's generation resources. Aggregate inter-regional transmission capacity by the end of 2021-22 was 1,12,250 MW. Inter-Regional transmission capacity addition planned during the period 2022-27 is 30,690 MW. With this, the Inter-Regional transmission capacity would increase from 1,12,250 MW during 2021-22 to 1,42,940 MW by the end of 2026-27 as given below:

Inter-Regional Transmission Capacity (MW)
Inter-Regional corridors	At the end of 2021-22 (31.03.2022)	Addition planned during the period 2022-27	At the end of 2026-27 (31.03.2027)

East - North East	2,860	690	3,550
Total	112,250	30,690	1,42,940

Inter-regional transmission capacity of 6,490 MW has been commissioned during 2022-24 (till 31st March, 2024), 7,400 MW capacity is under construction, 8,400 MW capacity is under bidding and 8,400 MW capacity is planned and has to be taken up for bidding/construction during the year 2024-25. The Inter-regional transmission capacity as on 31st March, 2024, was 1,18,740 MW.

ESTIMATED COST OF TRANSMISSION SYSTEM DURING THE PERIOD 2022-27

Estimated expenditure of Rs. 4,25,222 Crore would be required for implementation of additional transmission system in the country (transmission lines, sub-stations, reactive compensation etc.) during the period 2022-27.

PERSPECTIVE TRANSMISSION PLAN FOR THE PERIOD 2027-32

Considering the planned generation capacity addition and projected electricity demand, about 76,787 ckm of transmission lines and 4,97,855 MVA of transformation capacity in the substations (220 kV and above voltage level) are planned to be added during the period 2027-32. In addition, 32,250 MW of HVDC bi-pole capacity is also planned to be added during 2027-32. With the planned addition, the length of transmission lines and transformation capacity in sub-stations (220 kV and above voltage level) would become 6,48,190 ckm and 23,45,135 MVA respectively. The HVDC bi-pole capacity including back-to-back capacity would increase to 66,750 MW by 2031-32. Details are given below:

Business process flow

Business process flow of the company is given below: -

1. Business development and tender identification

The business process commences with identification and evaluation of project opportunities through power utilities, public sector undertakings (“PSUs”), consultants, government tenders and enquiries from corporate customers. The company evaluates technical feasibility, eligibility requirements, financial viability and project execution capabilities before participating in tenders (PSU and Government clients) or pre-bid meetings (for corporate clients) with prospective clients.

2. Tendering bid submission & contract award

Following identification of suitable opportunities, the company prepares technical and commercial bids based on project specifications, estimated costs, execution timelines and vendor quotations. Upon successful evaluation of bids by the client, the company receives a Letter of Intent (“LOI”) or Letter of Award (“LOA”), following which contractual terms relating to project scope, timelines, payment milestones and execution conditions are finalized through formal agreements. Based on the contract requirements and the conditions specified in the Letter of Award, we arrange bank guarantees against security deposits. Insurance policies covering worker safety, compensation, equipment damage, and third-party liabilities as applicable based on the tender conditions are secured to ensure optimal coverage at competitive rates. These measures protect both the client and our Company, mitigating financial and operational risks.

3. Engineering, design and procurement

After award of the project, detailed engineering and design activities are undertaken, including site surveys, preparation of technical drawings, system layouts, equipment specifications and project execution schedules. Simultaneously, procurement activities are initiated for sourcing key equipment and materials such as transformers, conductors, cables, switchgear and protection systems from approved vendors and original equipment manufacturers (“OEMs”), along with logistics coordination and quality inspections.

4. Mobilization, civil construction & site preparation

Thereafter, manpower, machinery, tools and project execution teams are mobilized to the project site. Site preparation activities, including establishment of temporary infrastructure, storage facilities and utilities, are undertaken alongside civil and structural works such as foundation construction, erection of support structures, control rooms and equipment foundations in accordance with approved project specifications.

5. Erection, installation, testing & commissioning

Upon completion of civil readiness, erection and installation activities are carried out for transmission towers, transformers, switchgear, cables, panels, bus systems and associated electrical infrastructure. Following installation, testing and commissioning activities, including relay testing, system integration checks, trial runs and energization, are undertaken to verify operational performance and compliance with technical and safety standards.

6. Project handover, O&M and defect liability support

After successful commissioning and client inspection, the completed project is handed over along with technical documentation, as-built drawings and test certificates. Upon satisfactory testing and client review, formal completion certificates are issued. This marks the official handover of the project and marks the start of the defect liability period. Our Company remains responsible for rectifying any defects arising from materials or workmanship during the defect liability period. Upon the successful completion of the work, any security deposit furnished in accordance with the terms of the contract is released. Further, retention money, typically constituting a fixed percentage of the contract value, is released either against the release of running account payments upon completion of the defect liability period, or against the submission of a performance bank guarantee in accordance with the terms of the contract.

QUALITY CONTROL

We are an ISO certified company in Quality Management System (QMS). We adhere to the quality management standards from the bidding stage until the completion and commissioning of the project. At present we hold ISO: 9001-2015 Certificate bearing No: QM 03 02210, which remain valid until May 28, 2027. In order to comply with the QMS, we have developed quality procedures, reviews and means to ensure quality from the submission of pre-qualification bids to submission of financial offers ranging from site visits, review of offer, deliberation to participate in bidding, and acceptance of contract, to the execution of the work. During work execution, contract is reviewed on periodical basis or whenever there are amendments or changes in the contract by the client. The review findings are put up to the concerned team for necessary compliance and corrective action.

Collaborations/ Tie Ups/ Joint Ventures:

We undertake projects across multiple industries, including electricity transmission, cement, irrigation, mines, port, aluminium, sugar, ethanol, solar etc which have different technical and execution complications. Further, projects undertaken by government entities, public sector undertakings (PSUs) and utilities may require consortium or JV participation to satisfy prescribed technical, financial and execution eligibility criteria. We undertake strategic alliances, consortium or joint venture (JV) arrangements for participation in EPC projects where project requirements, technical qualifications, financial eligibility or execution requirements warrant such arrangements. As part of this strategy, we have entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with a company which is a channel partner of an OEM and is authorised to manufacture electrical panels in accordance with its specifications. The collaboration is intended to facilitate participation in projects requiring specialised electrical panel solutions, subject to the terms of the respective project contracts and the MoU.

INFRASTRUCTURE FACILITIES:

1) Plant & Machinery

Our Company operates under an asset-light business model, a substantial portion of the plant and machinery required for project execution is sourced through rental or hiring arrangements from third-party suppliers and equipment providers. The requirement for such plant and machinery varies depending on the nature, scope and location of the project. Accordingly, we engage external vendors for the provision of equipment and machinery required for project execution, based on project-specific requirements and contractual obligations.

2) Availability of material and components for our projects

The execution of our projects requires the procurement and supply of various materials, equipment and components at project sites, depending on the scope of work specified under the relevant contract or work order. The materials and equipment required for a project vary based on its nature, technical specifications and customer requirements. For some of our projects, materials are procured from vendors approved by the customer and at rates specified under the relevant work order or contract. In certain contracts, provisions relating to price variation may apply, pursuant to which we may be entitled to receive compensation from the customer for changes in the prices of specified materials in accordance with the terms of the contract.

The principal materials, equipment and components used in the execution of our projects include transmission line, towers, transformers, substation equipment, HT and LT power cables, MV/LV panels, MCC, PCC, control cables, bus bars, switchgear systems, conductors, protection relays, SCADA systems, remote terminal units (RTUs), programmable logic controllers (PLCs) and control panels. The availability of such materials and equipment in the required quantity, quality and timelines is an important factor in the execution of our projects. Accordingly, procurement activities are planned in accordance with project schedules and customer requirements.

3) Power and Water:

The requirement for water at our project sites is generally met either by the customer or through local sources arranged by us. Power requirements at project sites are generally met through temporary electricity connections obtained from the relevant power distribution authorities. In addition, diesel generator ("DG") sets may be deployed as a backup source of power, depending on project requirements and site conditions.

Sales and Marketing

During the Financial Years 2026, 2025 and 2024, approximately 65.84%, 44.95% and 41.67%, respectively, of our revenue from operations was derived from projects executed for government controlled entities and public sector undertakings. Orders from government entities, public sector undertakings and utilities are generally awarded through competitive bidding processes. Tender notices are published through e-procurement portals, official websites and other prescribed channels. Our tender and business development team identifies bidding opportunities, evaluates the technical, commercial and financial requirements, and submits bids based on the prescribed eligibility criteria, project specifications, execution methodology, past project experience and commercial terms.

For corporate customers, we secure orders through direct engagement with customers operating across sectors including power, cement, mining, metals, sugar and other industrial infrastructure sectors. Our business development activities include identifying project opportunities, understanding customer requirements, submitting technical and commercial proposals and participating in commercial and contractual discussions.

Competition

The power EPC segment is highly competitive, with participation from established national EPC companies, regional contractors and specialized electrical infrastructure players in tenders floated by state utilities, government entities, public sector undertakings (“PSUs”) and corporate clients. The sector is characterized by stringent tender qualification criteria relating to net worth, solvency, technical capability, prior project execution experience and availability of skilled manpower and equipment, further, these requirements often encourage consortium or joint venture (“JV”) arrangements for large-scale projects.

Further, EPC contracts are generally awarded through competitive bidding processes, resulting in pricing pressure across the industry. Market participants differentiate themselves based on timely execution capabilities, adherence to quality and safety standards, ability to mobilize manpower and equipment efficiently across geographically diverse project locations, strong vendor and subcontractor networks and long-standing client relationships. Operational efficiency, financial strength and project execution track record continue to remain key competitive factors within the sector.

Health Safety & Environment

We are committed to best practices and compliance with applicable health, safety and environmental legislation and other requirements in our operations. In order to ensure effective implementation of our practices, we have implemented a safety, health and environment policy wherein we are committed to, inter alia, the maintenance of a safe workplace and providing the necessary training to employees at our workplace. We believe that we comply in all material respects with applicable occupational health and safety laws, regulations and other contractual requirements relevant to health and safety of employees at our project sites.

Information Technology

Information technology forms an integral part of our business operations and supports various functions including project execution, accounting, documentation, and operational monitoring. We use IT systems and software applications for management of business processes, maintenance of records, communication, and reporting across our offices and project sites. Implementation of SAP B1 is under process and expected to be implemented by September 2026. Implementation of SAP B1 will automate the process and help to get proper MIS reports. Our IT infrastructure includes systems intended to support continuity of operations, data management, and information security. We maintain antivirus software, firewall protection, data backup systems, and uninterruptible power supply (“UPS”) infrastructure for support of our IT environment and business.

Human Resource

Our workforce is important for execution of our projects and maintenance of quality and safety standards across operations. Our business requires skilled and technically qualified personnel for execution of projects. Further, we depend on our employees for project planning, engineering, procurement, supply, installation, testing, commissioning, and maintenance activities. Our employees include engineers, project managers, supervisors, technicians, and other support personnel engaged across various operational and administrative functions. A. CORE BUSINESS LAWS

The Electricity Act, 2003 (“Electricity Act”) and Electricity Rules, 2005 along with Indian Electricity Grid Code and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions Regulations

The Electricity Act is a central legislation and provides for; inter alia, generation, transmission, distribution, trading and use of electricity. Under the Electricity Act, the transmission, distribution, and trade of electricity are regulated activities which require licenses from the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (“CERC”), the Indian Electricity Grid Code (IEGC), the State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (“SERCs”) or a joint commission (constituted by an agreement entered into between two or more state governments or the central government in relation to one or more state governments, as the case may be). Under the Electricity Act, the appropriate commission, guided by, inter alia, the methodologies specified by the CERC with the aim of promotion of co-generation and generation of electricity from renewable sources of energy, shall specify the terms and conditions for the determination of tariff. The Electricity Act requires the GOI to prepare the national electricity policy and tariff policy, from time to time, in consultation with the state governments and Central Electricity Authority.

The Electricity Rules, 2005 (the “Rules”), as amended, were framed under the Electricity Act and provide the requirements in respect of captive generating plants and generating stations. The authorities constituted under the Rules may give appropriate directions for maintaining the availability of the transmission system of a transmission licensee.

Central Electricity Authority (Measures relating to Safety and Electric Supply) Regulations, 2023 (“CEA Regulations”)

The CEA Regulations supersede the Central Electricity Authority (Measures relating to Safety and Electric Supply) Regulations, 2010. The CEA Regulations have been enacted by the Central Electricity Authority, constituted under the Electricity Act, to provide for measures relating to safety and electric supply. The CEA Regulations provide for the general safety requirements pertaining to construction, installation, protection, operation and maintenance of electric supply lines and apparatus. Further, as per the CEA Regulations, installations, defined under the CEA Regulations as any composite electrical unit used for the purpose of generating, transforming, transmitting, converting, distributing, or utilizing electricity, already connected to the supply system of the supplier or trader must be periodically inspected and tested at intervals not exceeding five years, by the electrical inspector or a supplier directed by the relevant State Government. In case the owner fails to rectify the defects in the installation pointed out by the electrical inspector in his inspection report, the electrical inspector has the authority to disconnect the electric supply for such installation after serving the owner of such installation with a notice for not less than 48 hours.

The Central Electricity Authority (Technical Standards for Construction of Electrical Plants and Electric Lines) Regulations, 2022

The Central Electricity Authority (Technical Standards for Construction of Electrical Plants and Electric Lines) Regulations, 2022 have been issued under the Electricity Act, 2003 to prescribe uniform technical standards for the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of electrical plants, electric lines, and associated works across India. These regulations lay down detailed specifications relating to structural design, electrical safety, earthing systems, conductor clearances, protection mechanisms, and reliability parameters to ensure the safe and efficient transmission and distribution of electricity.

The Regulations aim to promote consistency, safety, and interoperability in the construction and operation of electrical infrastructure, thereby minimizing risks to human life, property, and the environment. Compliance with these standards is mandatory for all entities engaged in the erection, installation, or maintenance of electrical plants and lines, including contractors and service providers executing electrical and infrastructure projects.

The Central Electricity Authority (Technical Standards for Connectivity to the Grid) Regulations, 2007 (as amended)

The Central Electricity Authority (Technical Standards for Connectivity to the Grid) Regulations, 2007, issued under the Electricity Act, 2003, prescribe the minimum technical and operational standards to be complied with by generating stations, substations, renewable energy projects, and consumers seeking connectivity to the inter-state or intra-state transmission or distribution grid. These Regulations ensure that all grid-connected installations operate safely, reliably, and in harmony with the national power system without causing instability or power quality issues.

Right of Way Guidelines for Transmission Lines, 2015

The Right of Way (RoW) Guidelines for Transmission Lines, 2015, issued by the Ministry of Power, Government of India, provide a standardized framework for determining compensation and resolving issues relating to the use of land for laying and maintaining transmission lines and towers. These Guidelines prescribe the methodology for payment of compensation towards land use and damage, specify safety clearances, and outline procedures for obtaining approvals from landowners and local authorities.

The Guidelines aim to facilitate timely development of power transmission infrastructure while balancing public interest, landowner rights, and project execution efficiency. They apply to all transmission utilities, contractors, and implementing agencies engaged in the construction, operation, or maintenance of transmission lines.

These rules ensure that only qualified and technically competent contractors undertake electrical installation and maintenance work in accordance with CEA Safety Regulations, 2010.

Maharashtra Electrical Licensing Board Rules, 2017

The Maharashtra Electrical Licensing Board Rules, 2017 regulate the process for granting and renewing licenses for electrical contractors, supervisors, and wiremen to ensure safety and standardization in electrical work. The rules define the roles of the Electrical Inspector and the Licensing Board in processing applications, specify mandatory forms and procedures for different license classes (A, B, C), and require all work to be performed under the direct supervision of qualified, licensed personnel. They also establish competency requirements, renewal processes with penalties for delays, and provisions for enforcement and appeals, mandating that contractors maintain detailed records to ensure accountability and compliance with safety standards.

Gujarat Electrical Licensing Rules, 2013; Chhattisgarh Electrical Licensing Rules, 2006; Karnataka Electrical Contractor and Supervisor Licensing Rules, 2012; The Rajasthan Electrical Inspectorate (Formation of Technical Committee and Grant of Licence, Competency Certificate to Work and Permit to Work) Rules, 2016

All these codes have received the assent of President of India with effect from November 21, 2025. While the Central Government has notified the implementation as of November 2025, various States and Union Territories are still in the final stages of notifying their specific rules. Therefore, a "dual compliance" period may exist in some regions where legacy state rules still apply alongside the new Central Codes.

Brief descriptions of each of the codes are given below:

Code of Wages, 2019

The Code aims to consolidate the laws relating to wages and bonus and matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. It received the assent of President of India on August 08, 2019 and through notification dated November 21, 2025, the GoI brought into force the said code. The Code contains procedure for fixing minimum wage, limit for fines and deductions in wages, minimum and maximum bonus, calculation of allocable and available surplus, as well as gender neutral consideration in fixing wages. The Code has given the power to Central Government to fix a “floor wage” and the State governments cannot fix any minimum wage less than the “floor wage”. The Code will apply to all employees. The central government will make wage-related decisions for employments such as railways, mines, and oil fields, among others. State governments will make decisions for all other employments. Wages include salary, allowance, or any other component expressed in monetary terms. This does not include bonus payable to employees or any travelling allowance, among others. The central or state government may fix the number of hours that constitute a normal working day. In case employees work in excess of a normal working day, they will be entitled to overtime wage, which must be at least twice the normal rate of wages. The Code prohibits gender discrimination in matters related to wages and recruitment of employees for the same work or work of similar nature. Work of similar nature is defined as work for which the skill, effort, experience, and responsibility required are the same. It subsumed four separate legislations, namely, the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976.

The Code on Social Security, 2020, aims to create a universal social security system for all workers, including those in the gig and platform economy. It mandates the establishment of a Social Security Fund to provide benefits such as provident fund, employment injury benefits, housing, educational schemes for children, skill upgradation, funeral assistance, and old-age homes. The Code also outlines the roles and responsibilities of various bodies such as the Central Board of Trustees of the Employees' Provident Fund and the Employees' State Insurance Corporation in administering social security schemes. a) Recognition of Gratuity Liability and Leave Encashment Liability:

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the accounting treatment of gratuity and Leave Encashment Liability in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 15 – Employee Benefits.

In the earlier audited financial statements, gratuity expense was accounted for on management estimate basis. However, as required under AS 15, gratuity is required to be recognized on an accrual basis based on actuarial valuation. Also, the company was not taking account for of Leave Encashment Liability.

Accordingly, for the purpose of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company has recognized gratuity liability based on the actuarial valuation report and Leave Encashment Liability, and the corresponding employee benefit expense in the respective periods. This has resulted in recognition of gratuity expense and leave encashment expense under Employee Benefit Expenses and the corresponding gratuity liability and leave encashment liability in the balance sheet for the relevant periods.

b) Adjustment on account of Deferred Tax:

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the computation and recognition of deferred tax in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 22 – Accounting for Taxes on Income.

Accordingly, deferred tax balances have been recomputed for the periods presented considering the impact of (i) recognition of gratuity liability based on actuarial valuation in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 15 – Employee Benefits and Leave Liability (ii) adjustment relating to depreciation differences (iii) provision for doubtful debt & (iv) allowance/disallowance under MSME and Section 43B of Income Tax Act, 1961.

Consequently, the Deferred Tax Asset / Liability balances have been restated for the relevant periods to reflect the above adjustments in the Restated Financial Statements.

c) Adjustment in Provision for Income Tax:

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements for the purpose of the proposed SME Public Issue, certain accounting adjustments have been made relating to recognition of interest accrued but not due on term loans, prepaid expenses, provision of expenses on mercantile system of accounting, and recording of certain prior period items in the respective financial years to which they relate.

Consequent to the above adjustments, the taxable income for the relevant periods has been recomputed, and accordingly the provision for income tax has been recalculated. This has resulted in changes in the current tax expense recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss and the carrying amount of the provision for income tax in the Balance Sheet for the respective periods presented in the Restated Financial Statement. For More details, refer Annexure AB enclosed with the Restated Financial Statement.

d) Adjustment in Depreciation and Property, Plant and Equipment

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the computation of depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 10 – Property, Plant and Equipment.

It was observed that in the earlier audited financial statements, depreciation was calculated on monthly basis rather than on a daily basis, and the rate of depreciation applied to 2-wheeler vehicle and site container were not as per schedule II. Accordingly, depreciation for the relevant periods has been recomputed and necessary adjustments have been made in the Restated Financial Statements.

Consequently, the depreciation expense, carrying value of Property, Plant and Equipment, and loss on sale of assets have been restated for the respective periods presented.

e) Adjustment relating to Foreign Exchange Fluctuation

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the accounting of foreign currency transactions in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 11 – The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates.

It was observed that in the earlier audited financial statements, certain balances relating to overseas suppliers and customers, were not restated at the closing exchange rate prevailing at the respective year end.

Accordingly, such foreign currency monetary items have been restated at the closing exchange rate for the respective periods in the Restated Financial Statements, and the resultant foreign exchange gain or loss has been recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Consequently, the carrying amounts of the above balances have been adjusted in the Restated Financial Statements.

f) Adjustment relating to Interest Accrued but Not Due

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the accounting of interest on borrowings. It was observed that in the earlier audited financial statements, interest for the broken period between the last EMI/payment date and the year-end on certain borrowings was not accrued. Accordingly, in the Restated Financial Statements, interest accrued but not due on such borrowings has been recognized on an accrual basis.

Consequently, the finance cost for the respective periods has been increased, with a corresponding recognition of interest accrued but not due under Other Current Liabilities in the balance sheet.

g) Adjustment relating to Prior Period Items

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed certain expenses which were accounted for in periods other than the period to which they pertained.

Accordingly, Nepal Branch Write Off has been recognized in the respective financial years to which they relate. Necessary adjustments have been made in the Statement of Profit and Loss and the corresponding balances have been adjusted under the relevant heads in the Balance Sheet in the Restated Financial Statements.

h) Adjustment relating to Prepaid Expenses

During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements, the Company reviewed the computation of certain prepaid expenses.

It was observed that certain prepaid expenditures, including insurance expense, Keyman insurance, LC Charges were not calculated in the earlier audited financial statements. Accordingly, such prepaid expenses have been computed and recognized in the respective periods to which they relate in the Restated Financial Statements.

Consequently, the relevant expenses in the Statement of Profit and Loss have been adjusted, with corresponding changes in prepaid expenses classified under Short-Term Loans and Advances in the Balance Sheet for the respective periods.

i) Adjustment relating to stock

During the course of the year-end restatement, the Company identified an error in the valuation of inventories under the FIFO method. Furthermore, it was noted that taxes on stock had previously been included as part of the inventory valuation. The valuation discrepancy has been corrected to reflect the correct valuation.

j) Adjustment relating to Provision for Doubtful Debt

During restatement, the Management has reassessed the recoverability of outstanding trade receivables for all the periods covered by these Restated Financial Statements. Based on such reassessment, including consideration of the ageing of receivables, historical collection experience, customer-specific circumstances and other relevant factors, the Management has applied a systematic and consistent basis for determining the provision for doubtful trade receivables for the years ended 31 March 2023, 31 March 2024, 31 March 2025 and 31 March 2026.

In the audited financial statements, the Management had considered the outstanding trade receivables to be recoverable based on the circumstances and information available at the respective reporting dates and, accordingly, provision for doubtful trade receivables was not recognised.

For the purpose of these Restated Financial Statements, the recoverability of such receivables has been reassessed and the provision has been determined using a consistent methodology across all periods presented.

The above adjustments have been made to ensure consistent application of the basis of assessment of recoverability of trade receivables across all periods covered by the Restated Financial Statements.

a) Adjustment relating to MSME

During the course of the year-end restatement, the Company identified an error in the classification of MSME parties and in the calculation of interest payable on MSME dues. The misclassification and incorrect computation have been rectified, and the necessary adjustments have been incorporated in the restated financial statements.

3. Ageing of the Trade receivable, along with any amount involved in disputes, if any as required by Schedule III of Companies Act, 2013 is disclosed as below. Ageing of debtors is based on the date of transaction in case there is no credit period agreed at the time of Supply, accordingly there is no balance disclosed under 'Not Due' category.
4. During the preparation of the Restated Financial Statements in connection with the proposed SME IPO, the management reassessed the recoverability of outstanding trade receivables as at the end of each reporting period presented and has now adopted a structured policy for provisioning of doubtful trade receivables. It was observed that in earlier financial statements, no systematic provisioning policy had been applied for long outstanding trade receivables, particularly balances outstanding for more than one year.

The impact of such restatement has been adjusted in the respective years to which it relates and subsequent recoveries, if any, against the amounts provided shall be recognised as income in the year of recovery.

In some cases, Receipt from debtors are accounted in books basis of confirmation of bank advice which is being received after submission of stock and book debts statement to the bank. 4. Purchases are getting finalized and accounted in books after submission of stock statement to the bank because of receiving of invoices with delay from sites, and reconciliation of GST 5. In Financial, trade payables includes supplier for services and expenses (other than goods) which is not submitted in periodic returns to the bank. 6. Total Income

Our total income increased by ₹7,802.85 lakhs, or 42.85%, from ₹18,211.80 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹26,014.65 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The increase was primarily attributable to the growth in revenue from operations, which increased by ₹7,999.71 lakhs, or 44.99%, during Fiscal 2026. The increase in revenue from operations was primarily driven by higher execution of contracts relating to substations and transmission lines. Revenue from our Substations up to 400 KV voltage segment increased by ₹7,004.50 lakhs and the revenue from Transmission Lines up to 220 KV increased by ₹2,533.93 lakhs. Further, the other income decreased by ₹196.86 lakhs, or 45.66%, from ₹431.25 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹234.39 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The decrease was primarily due to lower interest income on fixed deposits and other non-operating income during the year.

Revenue from Operations

Our revenue from operations increased by ₹7,999.71 lakhs, or 44.99%, from ₹17,780.55 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹25,780.26 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The increase was primarily attributable to higher execution of engineering, procurement and construction ("EPC") contracts during the year. Revenue from the Substations up to 400 KV voltage segment increased by 76.36% to ₹16,176.89 lakhs in Fiscal 2026 from ₹9,172.39 lakhs in Fiscal 2025, while revenue from the Transmission Lines up to 220 KV segment increased by 119.33% to ₹4,657.41 lakhs from ₹2,123.48 lakhs during the same period. Accordingly, the combined contribution of these two segments increased to 80.82% of revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026 from 63.53% in Fiscal 2025. From an industry perspective, revenue from the Power transmission & Railway sector increased by ₹8,295.80 lakhs, or 126.45%, from ₹6,560.34 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹14,856.14 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. In addition, execution of projects in the Irrigation, Port and Aluminium sectors contributed ₹3,135.44 lakhs during Fiscal 2026, further supporting revenue growth and partially offsetting the decline in revenue from certain other sectors, including Sugar, Solar and Ethanol. The increase in revenue from operations was further supported by improvement in project wins during Fiscal 2026. Our bid to win ratio increased to 48.00% from 34.62% in Fiscal 2025, reflecting a higher proportion of successful bids. The increase in projects awarded, together with timely execution of ongoing contracts and achievement of contractual billing milestones, resulted in higher revenue recognition during Fiscal 2026.

Other Income

Other income decreased by ₹196.86 lakhs, or 45.66%, from ₹431.25 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹234.39 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The decrease was primarily due to lower interest income on fixed deposits and other non-operating income during the year.

As a percentage of total income, purchase of stock-in-trade decreased from 53.34% in Fiscal 2025 to 51.68% in Fiscal 2026. The increase in absolute terms was in line with the higher volume of project execution during the year, while the reduction in its proportion to total income indicates improved material cost absorption and execution efficiency.

Change in Inventories of Work-in-Progress and Finished Goods

The change in inventories of work-in-progress and finished goods was an expense credit of ₹146.83 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 as compared to ₹206.32 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The movement reflects changes in inventory levels and project execution during the respective financial years.

Finance Costs

Finance costs increased by ₹241.15 lakhs, or 134.49%, from ₹179.31 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹420.46 lakhs in Fiscal 2026. The increase was primarily due to higher direct project execution expenses, particularly labour contract expenses, which increased in line with the higher volume of projects executed during the year. The increase was also attributable to higher hire charges, labour cess, site-related expenses, freight inward, professional fees for site services and employee travel expenses, along with an increase in professional and consultancy fees, vehicle running expenses, Keyman insurance and provision for doubtful debts. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in sundry balances written off and certain other administrative expenses.

The profit after tax margin improved from 8.09% in Fiscal 2025 to 8.91% in Fiscal 2026. The increase in profit after tax was primarily attributable to the increase in revenue from operations, which increased by ₹7,999.71 lakhs, or 44.99%, from ₹17,780.55 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 to ₹25,780.26 lakhs in Fiscal 2026, due to higher execution of engineering, procurement and construction ("EPC") contracts during the year. However, the increase in total expenses remained broadly aligned with the growth in business. Although finance costs increased during the year due to higher working capital requirements, the increase in operating profit was sufficient to offset the impact of higher borrowing costs, resulting in improved profitability.

Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process: Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes Bidding by Anchor Investors. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹20 to ₹24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., ₹22.00 in the above example. The Issuer, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Manager, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below ₹22.00. All Bids at or above this Issue Price are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (“DPIIT”) makes policy announcements on FDI through press notes and press releases which are notified by the RBI as amendments to the FEMA. The DPIIT also issues the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy (“FDI Policy”) from time to time. The regulatory framework pertaining to foreign investment, over a period of time, thus, consists of acts, regulations, master circulars, press notes, press releases, and clarifications among other amendments.

India’s current FDI Policy issued by the DPIIT with effect from October 15, 2020, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT till October 15, 2020. All the press notes, press releases, clarifications on FDI issued by DPIIT till October 15, 2020 stand rescinded as on October 15, 2020. In terms of the FDI Policy, Foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies either through the automatic route or the Government route, depending upon the sector in which foreign investment is sought to be made. In terms of the FDI Policy, the work of granting government approval for foreign investment under the FDI Policy and FEMA Regulations has now been entrusted to the concerned Administrative Ministries/Departments.

In accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the FDI Policy and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020 issued on December 8, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India.

Further, the existing individual and aggregate investment limits for an FPI in our Company are not exceeding 10% of the total paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company for each FPI and the total holdings of all FPIs in the Company shall not exceed 24% of the total paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company. The RBI, in exercise of its power under the FEMA, has also notified Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 (“Rules”) and Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 to prohibit, restrict or regulate, transfer by or issue security to a person resident outside India. The aggregate limit of 24% in case of FPIs may be increased up to the sectoral cap/statutory ceiling, as applicable, by the Company concerned by passing of resolution by the Board of the Company to that effect and by passing of a special resolution to that effect by its Shareholders. With effect from April 1, 2020, the aggregate limit of 24% has increased to the sectoral cap applicable to the Indian Company which in case of the Company is 100% provided that the Company complies with conditions provided under the FDI Policy. As per the Rules, the aggregate limit as provided above was permitted to be decreased by the Company to a lower threshold limit of 24% or 49% or 74% as deemed fit, with the approval of its Board of Directors through a resolution and also of its shareholders by means of a special resolution, before March 31, 2020. The aggregate limit of 10% in case of NRIs and OCIs together may be raised to 24 % if a special resolution to that effect is passed by the shareholders of the Company.
