SECTION II: RISK FACTORS

RISK FACTORS

An investment in our Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk and you should carefully consider all the information in this Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in our Equity Shares. This section addresses general risks associated with the industry in which we operate and specific risks associated with our Company. If any, or some combination, of the following risks actually occurs, our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition could suffer, the trading price of our Equity Shares could decline and you may lose all or part of your investment.

This Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. We have described the risks and uncertainties that our management believes are material, but these risks and uncertainties may not be the only ones we face. Additional risks and uncertainties, including those we are not aware of or deem immaterial, may also result in decreased revenues, increased expenses or other events that could result in a decline in the value of our Equity Shares. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of our Company and the Issue, including the merits and risks involved. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial or other implications of any of the risks described in this section. Investors are advised to read the risk factors carefully before taking an investment decision in this Issue. Investors should not invest in this Issue unless they are prepared to accept the risk of losing all or part of their investment, and they should consult their tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences to you of an investment in the Equity Shares.

To obtain a better understanding of our business, you should read this section in conjunction with other chapters of this Prospectus, including the chapters titled “Our Business”, “Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and “Financial Information” on pages 100, 184 and 151 respectively of this Prospectus, together with all other financial information contained in the Prospectus. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Prospectus.

The Risk factors have been determined on the basis of their materiality. The following factors have been considered for determining the materiality.

- i. Some risks may not be material individually but may be material when considered collectively.*
- ii. Some risks may have an impact which is qualitative though not quantitative.*
- iii. Some risks may not be material at present but may have a material impact in the future.*

Internal Risk Factors

1. Our customers may fail to maintain the 26% share capital in our company as mandated under the "Group Captive Consumption Scheme"

Our Company operates under Open Access Regulation under Electricity Act 2003. As per the regulation, Group Captive Power sale model is that Consumer's must have 26% stake in the Company should consume not less than 51% power what generated. If either or both case not satisfied then the entire power sale will be considered as Third party power sale and Cross subsidy surcharge will be levied to end user, which then will be borne by the Company and it will affect profitability of Company.

2. All our operating wind mills are acquired from the related parties “The KTM Jewellery Ltd” and “Mr.T.K.Chandiran” are on outright second hand basis.

We were acquiring wind turbines, approximate age of 6 - 7 years old from the KTM Jewellery Limited & Mr. T.K.Chandiran from the FY 2012-13. This may affect our power generating capability and any substantial repairs to these assets could affect the financial condition of our Company. Commercially many machines are generating power even after 25 years of its life cycle.

3. We are dependent on a small number of customers and our business is dependent on our continuing relationships with our customers, with whom we have not entered into long term arrangements.

We derive all of our revenues from a small number of customers. Our three customers contributed all of our total income for the financial year 2014-15 and for the Nine Months ended December 31, 2015. We may not be successful in winning significant business each year from our existing or future clients as the generation and supply of electricity is dependent on various factors. Furthermore, we do not have long term arrangements with our customers. We are supplying power to our customers on short and medium term basis for better price discovery. The potentiality that we possess is adequate to supply power to existing customers. Number of customers will be increased with increase in capacity addition. Based on the track record of 10 years of supply and demand in Tamil Nadu, there is a substantial demand for power.

4. We have a limited operating history, which may make it difficult to evaluate our past performance and prospects.

Our Company was incorporated in June 2012, by acquiring wind energy generators. Given our limited operating history in the wind power business, we may not succeed in addressing certain risks pertaining to companies in an early stage of growth, including our ability to acquire and retain customers or maintain adequate control of our costs and expenses. If we are unsuccessful in addressing business risks in time or at all, our business may be materially and adversely affected. Accordingly, investors should consider our business and prospects in light of the risks, losses and challenges that we face as an early-stage company.

For our business to succeed, amongst other things, we must successfully undertake the following activities:

- implement and successfully execute our business strategies;
- manage costs to ensure we can maintain competitive pricing with attractive margins;
- continue to develop our technology;
- respond to competitive developments;

There can be no assurance that we will be successful in undertaking such activities in time or at all. Our failure to successfully undertake one or more of the activities described above could materially adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. Further, our limited operating history may not provide a meaningful basis for evaluating our business, financial performance, prospects or results of operations, or to make a decision about an investment in our Equity Shares.

For further details in this regard, please refer to the chapters “Our History and Corporate Structure”, “Our Promoters, Promoter Group and Group Companies” and “Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 122,143 and 184, respectively.

5. The viability and level of wind energy generation is dependent on wind patterns, which are not constant and vary over time.

The viability of wind energy projects is primarily dependent on the wind patterns at project sites conforming to the patterns that had previously been recorded to determine the suitability of these sites for wind energy projects. Although the Company uses data collected by The National Institute of Wind Energy (“NIWE”) (Formerly Known as Centre for Wind Energy Technology (“C-WET”)) and conducts wind resource assessments based on long-term wind patterns at identified sites, there can be no assurance that wind patterns at a particular site will remain constant. Any changes in wind patterns at particular sites that have been previously identified as suitable for wind energy projects could affect our Company’s ability to generate the electricity and could also damage our reputation and prospects. Failure on the part of our Company to identify suitable locations or any subsequent changes in the wind pattern could have a material adverse effect on our Company’s business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

6. We rely on third party contractors for a substantial portion of our activities.

We engage independent third party contractors to provide a substantial portion of our activities, including (a) Repairs and Maintenance of our wind mills and solar farms, (b) infrastructure development at our sites, which includes building group and unit sub-stations, transmission lines, roads, foundations of turbines, electrical work at site, erection including crane services etc. and (c) designing and fabricating of our solar farms. There can be no assurance that the work performed by such contractors will be of satisfactory quality, completed in a timely manner, or at all. If the work is not completed and/or is not of acceptable quality, we may incur substantial additional costs to remedy any defects and our reputation could be significantly harmed. Moreover, there can be no assurance that skilled contractors will continue to be available at reasonable rates and in proximity to our projects, or at all. Furthermore, there is a risk that major contractors may experience financial or other difficulties, which may affect their ability to carry out work, thus delaying the completion of our projects, carrying out maintenance works or resulting in additional costs to us. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

7. All of our experience in operating the projects is derived from projects which we have acquired in the state of Tamil Nadu. Hence, we have limited experience operating projects outside Tamil Nadu.

All of our projects are located in the state of Tamil Nadu. As a result, most of our experience operating projects is derived from a single state in India. The experience that we have gained from our existing projects may not be fully relevant or applicable to the development/ operation of future renewable energy projects if any in other states of India and hence we may face limitations to geographical growth of business. We face additional risks if we undertake projects in other geographic areas in which we do not possess the same level of experience such as:

- adjusting our development and operational methods to different geographic areas;
- to comply with different legal and regulatory requirements;
- obtaining the necessary government and other approvals in time or at all;
- finding reputable turn-key contractors;
- attracting customers in a market in which we do not have significant experience; and
- hiring sufficiently experienced employees and absorbing increased management costs.

8. We have entered into, and will continue to enter into, related party transactions.

Our Company has entered into certain transactions with our related parties including our Promoter and the Promoter Group. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on the arm’s length basis, there can be no assurance that we could not have been achieved more favorable terms had such transactions not been entered into with related parties. Furthermore, it is likely that we will enter into related party transactions in the future. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operation. Pursuant to these transactions, it has determined transfer prices that it believes are at arm’s length. However, if the tax authorities of India or other jurisdictions were to challenge these or past transactions successfully or require changes in its transfer pricing policies, our Company could be required to re-determine transfer prices and/or pay additional taxes with respect to past transactions which may result in a higher tax liability to us and, as a result, our earnings would be adversely affected. Our Company believes that it operates in compliance with all applicable transfer pricing laws. However, there can be no assurance that we will be found to comply with transfer pricing laws, or that such laws will not be modified.

9. We generally rely on transmission lines and other transmission facilities that are owned and operated by government or public entities. Where we develop our own transmission lines, we are exposed to transmission line development risk, which may delay and increase the costs of our projects.

We often depend on electric transmission lines owned and operated by government or public entities to deliver the electricity we sell. Some of our projects have limited access to interconnection and transmission capacity. We may not be able to secure access to the available interconnection or transmission capacity at reasonable prices or at all. Moreover, in the event of a failure in the transmission facilities, we may lose revenues. Transmission limitations may cause us to curtail our production of electricity, impairing our ability to fully capitalize on a particular projects' potential. Any such failure could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In certain circumstances, we must develop a sub-station or transmission lines from our projects to nearby electricity transmission or distribution networks. In order to construct transmission and interconnection facilities, we must secure requisite approvals, permits and land rights, which may be difficult, impossible, or prohibitively expensive to acquire. We may not be successful in these activities and our projects that rely on such transmission and interconnection development may be delayed or experience cost overruns.

10. Changes in technology may render our current technologies obsolete or require us to make substantial capital investments.

Although we attempt to maintain the latest technology standards, the technology requirements for businesses in the power sector are subject to continuing change and development. Some of our existing technologies and processes in the power business may become obsolete, performing less efficiently compared to newer and better technologies and processes in the future. The cost of upgrading or implementing new technologies, upgrading our existing equipment or expanding capacity could be significant and could adversely affect our results of operations. Failure to respond to current and future technological changes in the renewable energy industry in an effective and timely manner may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

11. We experienced negative cash flows for in the past and we cannot assure you that we will be able to generate positive cash flows in the future.

We experienced negative cash flows from operating activities of ₹15.38 Lakhs for Financial Year 2015 and decrease in cash and cash equivalents for the Nine Months ended December 31, 2015 of ₹240.42 Lakhs. If we experience negative cash flows or are unable to generate positive cash flows in the future, it could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

12. The Objects of the Issue are based on quotations and the internal estimates of our management, and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. The deployment of funds in the project is entirely at our discretion and as per the details mentioned in the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue".

Our funding requirements and the deployment of the proceeds of this Issue are based on quotations received from third parties and management estimates and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or any independent agency. We may have to revise our quotations and management estimates from time to time and consequently, our funding requirements may also change. In addition, we have not entered into any definitive agreements to utilize the net proceeds of the Issue. Our management, in accordance with the policies established by our Board of Directors from time to time, will have flexibility in deploying the net proceeds of the Issue. Based on the competitive nature of our industry, we may have to revise our business plan and/ or management estimates from time to time and consequently our funding requirements may also change. In the case of increase in actual expenses or shortfall in requisite funds, additional funds for a particular activity will be met by means available to us, including internal accruals and additional equity and/or debt arrangements. If actual utilization towards the objects of the Issue is lower than the proposed deployment, such balance will be used for future growth opportunities, including funding other existing objects, if required. If estimated utilization of the Net Proceeds is not completely met in a Financial Year, it shall be carried forward. This re-schedulement or reallocation of our project and capital expenditure may have an adverse impact on our business prospects, financial condition, and cash flows.

We may make necessary changes to the utilization of net proceeds in such cases in conformity with the provisions of the Companies Act in relation to the change in the objects in a public issue. In the event of any variations in actual utilization of funds earmarked for the above activities, any increased fund deployment for a particular activity may be met from funds earmarked from any other activity and/or from our internal accruals. Further, the deployment of the funds towards the Objects of this Issue is entirely at the discretion of our Board of Directors and is not subject to monitoring by external independent agency. For further details of the Objects of the Issue, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” on page 60 of this Prospectus.

- 13. *We intend to utilize a portion of the Net Proceeds to set up a wind mill in the state of Tamil Nadu for ₹475 Lakhs and erection of 33KV Electricity Transmission Line for ₹50 Lakhs. Any delay in setting up of wind mill and not adhering to the schedule of implementation could have a material adverse effect on our business growth and prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

We intend to utilize a portion of our Net Proceeds to set up a Wind Energy Generator of 0.8 MW in the state of Tamil Nadu and erection of 33KV Transmission Line for Grid Connectivity. For details, see “Objects of the Issue” at page 60 of this Prospectus. Any failure to purchase equipment within our budget and as per schedule of implementation, could adversely impact our financial condition and also our growth prospects.

- 14. *We cannot assure you that we will make dividend payments.

We may not pay dividends to shareholders. Such payments will depend upon a number of factors, including our results of operations, earnings, capital requirements and surplus, general financial conditions, contractual restrictions including our debt covenants, applicable Indian legal restrictions and other factors considered relevant by our Board of Directors.

- 15. *Our flexibility in managing our operations is limited by the regulatory environment in which we operate. This environment is undergoing reform and we may not be able to respond effectively.

Our business is subject to complex regulations, both local as well as central government, supervised by multiple regulatory authorities and government bodies. For more information, please refer to the chapter titled “Key Industry Regulations and Policies” on page 117 of this Prospectus. To conduct our business, we must obtain licenses, permits and approvals, for which we may have made, or are in the process of making, an initial or renewal application. If we fail to obtain or retain any of these approvals or licenses, or renewals thereof, in a timely manner, or at all, our business may be adversely affected. Furthermore, our Government approvals and licenses are subject to numerous conditions, some of which are onerous and require expenditure. If we fail to comply or a regulator claims that we have not complied with these conditions, we may be required to incur costs to remedy the lack of compliance and/or the damage caused as a result or pay fines or other penalties for noncompliance, in which case our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. We cannot assure you that we would be able to continuously meet such conditions or be able to prove compliance with such conditions to the statutory authorities, and this may lead to cancellation, revocation or suspension of relevant licenses or approvals, which may result in the interruption of our operations and may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 16. *Our Promoters have given personal guarantees in relation to certain debt facilities provided to us, which if revoked may require alternative guarantees, repayment of amounts due or termination of the facilities.

Our Promoters have given personal guarantees in relation to certain debt facilities provided to us. In the event that any of these guarantees are revoked, the lenders for such facilities may require alternate guarantees, repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities, or even terminate such facilities. We may not be successful in procuring guarantees satisfactory to the lenders, and as a result may need to repay outstanding amounts under such facilities or seek additional sources of capital, which could affect our financial condition and cash flows.

17. There are certain Restrictive/Negative Covenants in some of the agreements which the Company has entered into, during the course of its business.

Our financing agreement include various restrictive conditions and covenants restricting certain corporate actions, and our Company is required to take the prior approval of Indian Bank (“the lender”) before carrying out such activities. For instance, our Company is required to obtain the prior written consent of the lender in the following instances:

- Effect any scheme of amalgamation or reconstitution;
- Implement a new scheme of expansion/modernization or take up an allied line of business or manufacture;

- Borrow or obtain credit facilities of any description from any other bank or credit agency or money lenders or enter into any hire purchase arrangement during the currency of the loan;
- Any material change in the project

Defaults under one or more of our Company’s financing agreements may limit our flexibility in operating our business, which could have an adverse effect on our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition. Compliance with the various terms of such financing arrangements, however, is subject to interpretation and there can be no assurance that we have requested or received all relevant consents from our lenders as contemplated under our financing arrangements. It may be possible for a lender to assert that we have not complied with all applicable terms under our existing financing documents. Further we cannot assure that we will have adequate funds at all times to repay these credit facilities and may also be subject to demands for the payment of penal interest.

18. Our Company has unsecured loans from Mr.T.K.Chandiran who is one of our promoters which is repayable on demand. Any demand for repayment of such unsecured loans, may adversely affect our business Operations and financial condition of our Company

As on April 30, 2016, the outstanding unsecured loans payable to our promoter Mr.T.K.Chandiran is ₹477.26 Lakhs which are repayable on demand. Any demand from the promoter for repayment of such unsecured loans may adversely affect the financial condition and result of operations of our Company.

Equipment installed in our existing plant and new plant proposed to be set up may not function as planned and may be subject to breakdown or failure. Our growth strategies involve risks and difficulties, all or any of which may be beyond our control, and accordingly, there can be no assurance that we will be able to complete our scheduled expansions on time or at all and/or without incurring additional expenditures. If market conditions change, if operations do not generate sufficient cash flows or for any other reasons, we may decide to delay, modify or forego all or part of our growth strategies. Our future results of operations may be adversely affected if we are unable to implement our growth strategies successfully or at all.

23. The change in or elimination of government initiatives and incentives relating to renewable energy sources, and in particular to wind energy, may have a material adverse effect on the demand for wind energy.

In recent years, governments in many countries, including India, have enacted legislation or have established policies that support the expansion of renewable energy sources, such as wind and solar energy, and such support has been a significant factor in contributing to the growth of the wind energy industry. Support for investments in wind and solar energy is generally provided through Financial Year incentive schemes or public grants to the owners of wind and solar energy systems, for example through tax incentives promoting investments in wind and solar energy.

Internationally, there is increasing focus on reducing dependence on fossil fuels and cutting carbon dioxide emissions leading to additional taxes being imposed on those sources of energy. Such additional taxation has indirectly supported the expansion of power generated from renewable energy and, in turn, the wind energy and solar industry in general.

In the past, the decrease in, or elimination of, direct or indirect government support schemes for renewable energy, including wind energy, in a country has had a negative impact on the market for wind energy in that country. There can be no assurance that government support will continue at the same level or at all.

If direct and indirect government support for wind energy is terminated or reduced in any jurisdiction which is material for the Company's business, or if the government provides greater support to other sources of renewable energy, it would make producing electricity from wind and solar energy less competitive. In addition, there is a risk that government policies could change in a manner that makes it less attractive for investors to establish captive energy generating facilities in general, and wind energy projects in particular.

Governments in jurisdictions where the Company operates may introduce more attractive incentives for other forms of renewable energy such as solar or bio-mass which might affect the wind and solar energy industry generally and the Company's business in particular. The results of such changes may include attracting potential investors and customers towards other forms of renewable energy to benefit from investment tax credit schemes on other forms of renewable energy. This may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

24. Our Promoters and Directors may have interests in us other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits.

Our Promoters and Directors are interested in us to the extent of their shareholding in our Company and the dividend entitlements from it. In addition to the remuneration paid for services and reimbursement of expenses to our Directors for services rendered as our Directors, our Promoters and Directors may also be interested to the extent of any transaction entered into by us with any other company or firm or trust in which they are interested. For example, we have entered into a Trademark License Agreement dated September 24, 2015 with SCM Global Brands Private Limited, in which our Promoters Mr.T.K.Chandiran and Mrs.C.Selvi are shareholders.

25. Our Promoters and Directors have pecuniary or equity interests in certain of our Group Companies, which may under their constitution, are allowed to enter into similar businesses as our Company, which may create a conflict of interest. Further, we do not enjoy contractual protection by way of a non-compete or other agreement or arrangement with such Group Companies.

Our Promoters and Directors are promoters/ directors of our Group Company "The KTM Jewellery Limited", pursuant to its Memorandum of Association is authorised to carry out common business objects with our Company. Although it doesn't have any power generation capabilities as of now, "The KTM Jewellery Limited" also has generation of electricity as one of its objects. As these entities do not have any non-compete agreements in place, conflicts of interest may arise in allocating or addressing business opportunities and strategies amongst our Company and other companies/entities in which our Promoters and Directors hold equity shares or are the directors.

26. Our Promoters and Promoter Group will continue to retain majority control over the Company after the Issue, which will allow them to influence the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

Upon completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will own 69.12% of the post - Issue Equity Share capital of our Company. As a result, the Promoters and Promoter Group will have the ability to exercise significant influence over all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the election of directors and approval of significant corporate transactions. The Promoters and Promoter Group will also have an effective veto power with respect to any shareholder action or approval requiring a majority vote. Such concentration of ownership may also have the effect of delaying, preventing or deterring a change in control.

27. We may not be able to identify or correct defects or irregularities in title to the land upon which we own or intend to develop our power projects.

There may be various legal defects and irregularities in title to the lands on which we currently own or intend to develop our renewable energy projects, which we may not be able to fully identify or assess. Our rights in respect of these lands may be compromised by improperly executed, unregistered or insufficiently stamped conveyance instruments in the property's chain of title, unregistered encumbrances in favour of third parties, rights of adverse possessors, ownership claims of family members of prior owners, or other defects that we may not be aware of. Any defects or irregularities of title may result in loss of development rights over land, which will prejudice the success of our power projects and may require us to write off substantial expenditures in respect of a project. Any inability to identify defects or irregularities of title, and any inability to correct any such defects or irregularities of title may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Any decision to acquire land based on inaccurate, incomplete or dated information may result in risks and liabilities associated with acquiring and owning such parcels of land.

28. Our assets and operations are subject to hazards customary to the electricity generation industry

Our main assets include, among other things, WEGs, blades, transformers and interconnection infrastructure. Operating these assets involve risks and hazards that may adversely affect our operations, including equipment failures, natural disasters, environmental hazards and industrial accidents. These and other hazards can cause significant personal injury or death, severe damage to and destruction of property, plant and equipment, contamination of, or damage, to the environment and suspension of operations. We may also face civil liabilities or fines in the ordinary course of our business as a result of damages suffered by third parties, which may require us to make indemnification payments in accordance with applicable laws.

29. The viability of wind and solar energy projects is dependent on the price at which electricity can be sold

The viability of a wind energy project in a particular region is also dependent on the price at which electricity can be sold as well as the cost of wind and solar generated electricity compared to electricity generated from other sources of energy in such region. Wind and Solar energy projects require higher initial capital investment per kWh of energy produced as compared to that required for a fossil fuel-based power plant. The cost of electricity produced by wind and solar energy projects is dependent on the cost of establishment of the wind and solar energy projects themselves, including access to the electricity grid, financing costs, maintenance costs and wind conditions at the designated site. Continued investment in product techniques and technical advances in design has led to an overall reduction in the cost per kWh of power from wind and solar energy over a period of time. However, an increase in cost competitiveness or significant developments in technology for other sources of power generation would have a material adverse effect on our Company's business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

30. To expand our renewable energy business, we must find, and obtain control of suitable operating sites, which are in limited supply.

The viability of wind power projects is dependent on the wind patterns, which vary based on location and time. Our ability to execute future wind farm projects will depend on our ability to identify and obtain access to suitable parcels of land for development of wind farms. Our ability to obtain access to suitable parcels of land can be affected by a variety of factors, including, among others, location, weather pattern, the willingness of landowners to sell, lease or develop the land, the cost of acquiring or leasing the land, the availability and cost of financing and obtaining governmental permits and approvals for the development of wind farms. Some of those factors are beyond our control. We may be unable to identify and secure suitable plant locations or obtain the development rights in the land. Any failure to identify and obtain access to suitable parcels of land for development of any of our projects in a timely manner may materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operation.

31. We depend on a limited number of WEG suppliers and other suppliers

The purchase cost of WEGs represents approximately 70% of the overall cost of building a wind farm. There are a limited number of qualified WEG suppliers in India, and the price, supply and delivery lead times of WEGs largely depend on the market demand. In the past, worldwide demand for WEGs exceeded the supply, which led to delivery delays and price increases for WEGs and other necessary equipment. We are exposed to any changes in the market prices of WEGs when we negotiate new supply agreements, and the price trend of WEGs has a direct effect on our results of operations. If we are unable to manage our purchases of WEGs at prices acceptable to us or if the prices of WEGs increase significantly, profit margins of our wind power business may decrease and our results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. We cannot assure you that in the future we will be able to purchase a sufficient quantity of WEGs (and other necessary equipment) that meets our quality requirements at commercially acceptable terms, and in a timely manner. We also cannot assure you that our WEG suppliers will not delay delivery to us or prioritize delivery to other market participants, including our competitors. Even though we would expect our suppliers to compensate us for delays in delivery or other delays to perform their contractual obligations, we cannot assure you that such compensation would be adequate to cover the shortfall in revenue. Although we seek to expand and diversify our supplier base, our reliance on a few WEG suppliers and our existing limited relationships with other suppliers exposes us to certain risks, including the loss of any of these suppliers, the inability to find replacement suppliers at commercially acceptable terms, or an adverse change in the terms of our existing contractual agreements with our suppliers. The occurrence of any such events could delay our commercial operation, which in turn could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

32. Nearby objects may interfere with our wind farms

The operational performance of our wind farms depends on wind speeds and other climatic conditions at the relevant site. However, objects such as buildings, trees or other WEGs near our wind farms, especially in more built-up areas, may reduce our wind resources due to the disruption of wind flows, known as “wake effects.” Although we exercise care when selecting our wind farm sites, we typically only acquire land underlying our WEG pylons and the nearby infrastructure. Development on nearby land would have a negative wake effect on our wind farms. Such developments may reduce the operational performance of our wind farms, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

33. Electricity generation from solar energy systems depends heavily on suitable meteorological conditions.

If meteorological conditions are unexpectedly unfavourable, the electricity production from our solar energy systems may be substantially below our expectations and our ability to timely deploy new systems may be adversely impacted. The energy produced and revenue and cash receipts generated by a solar energy system depend on suitable solar and weather conditions, both of which are beyond our control. Furthermore, components of our systems, such as panels and systems, could be damaged during severe weather conditions like floods. Weather patterns could change, making it harder to predict the average annual amount of sunlight striking each location where we install. This could make our solar energy systems less economical overall. Any of these events or conditions could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

External Risk Factors

34. We have not prepared, and currently do not intend to prepare, our financial statements in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (“IND AS”). Our transition to IND AS reporting could have a material adverse effect on our reported results of operations or financial condition.

The ministry of company affairs in its circular dated 16-02-2015 has made it mandatory to apply the new Indian Accounting Standards based on IFRS for the preparation of financial statements for the periods starting 1st April 2016 for listed companies. Our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows or changes in shareholders’ equity may appear materially different under IND AS than under current Indian GAAP or our adoption of converged Indian Accounting Standards may adversely affect our reported results of operations or financial condition. This may have a material adverse effect on the amount of income recognized during that period and in the corresponding (restated) period in the comparative Financial Year period which is FY 2015-16.

35. Political instability or changes in the Government could adversely affect economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

Our business, and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares, may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. Elimination or substantial change of policies or the introduction of policies that negatively affect the Company’s business could cause its results of operations to suffer. Any significant change in India’s economic policies could disrupt business and economic conditions in India generally and the Company’s business in particular.

36. Financial instability in Indian financial markets could adversely affect our company’s results of operations and financial condition.

In this globalized world, the Indian economy and financial markets are significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial turmoil, say in the United States of America, Europe, China or other emerging economies, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors’ reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. Indian financial markets have also experienced the contagion effect of the global financial turmoil. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our Company’s business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of its Shares. Stock exchanges in India have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities.

37. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

38. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as other financial policies and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that affect our industry include Service tax, Securities Transaction Tax (STT), income tax and other taxes, duties or surcharges introduced on a permanent or temporary basis from time to time. Imposition of any other taxes by the Central and the State Governments may adversely affect our results of operations.

39. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause Our Company's business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunami, and floods in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operation as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

40. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on sale of Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws and regulations, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months is not subject to capital gains tax in India if securities transaction tax (STT) is paid on the transaction. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Any gain realized on the sale of equity shares held for more than 12 months to an Indian resident, which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax. Any change in tax provisions may significantly impact your return on investments.

41. Our business is dependent on economic growth in India.

Our performance is dependent on the health of the overall Indian economy. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. India economic growth is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements primarily resulting from export demand and movements in key imports, such as oil and oil products, and annual rainfall, which affect agricultural production. In the past, economic slowdowns have harmed the power generation sector. Any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

- Any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
- Any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse impact on economic conditions in India;
- Prevailing income conditions among Indian consumers and Indian corporations;
- Volatility in and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal Stock Exchange(s);
- Changes in India's tax, trade, Financial Year or monetary policies;
- Political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries;
- Prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets; and
- Other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India or the industries in which we operate.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW OF POWER GENERATION CAPACITY IN INDIA

The overall installed power generation capacity in the country has increased from 159,398 MW as on March 31, 2010 to 302,088 MW as on March 31, 2016 (CAGR of 11%), aided by large investments during the 11th plan period (2007-2012) and ongoing 12th plan period (2012-2017), especially from the private sector. This is subsequent to the enactment of Electricity Act, 2003 which encouraged large scale investments in the power sector. As a result, the share of private power generating companies in the overall installed power generation capacity has increased from 13% as on March 31, 2007 to 41% as on March 31, 2016 and remains the highest in the ownership mix of installed generation capacity.

RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR

The installed renewable energy based power generation capacity in India has increased from 16801 MW as on March 31, 2010 to 42849 MW as on March 31, 2016, led by large capacity additions in the wind based installations whose share in the overall renewable energy based capacity remains the highest at 62.7% as on March 31, 2016. This however has declined from about 67.9% seen at the end of FY2013 on account of increase in the share of solar based installations over the past 3-4 years subsequent to the launch of the National Solar Mission by Government of India. The share of other renewable sources such as biomass and small hydro in the overall renewable energy based capacity has come down marginally to 11.3% and 10.0% respectively as on March, 2016 from 12.8% and 12.9% respectively at the end of FY2013.

As on March 2016, installed wind energy based capacity stood at 26,867 MW which accounted for 8.9% of the overall installed capacity in the country, while solar capacity stood at 6763 MW accounting for 2.2% of the overall installed power generation capacity in the country. The wind power sector has witnessed record capacity addition of 3415 MW during FY2016, increasing by 48% over the capacity addition of 2308 MW achieved during FY2015 and also exceeding the target set by MNRE for FY2016 at 2400 MW. This growth in the wind sector was led both by the IPP segment with its focus on feed-in tariff based PPAs and by the non-IPP segment with the re-introduction of the accelerated depreciation benefit by GoI in the Union Budget presented in July 2014. A major portion of the wind energy capacity addition during FY2016 was driven by new projects in the state of Madhya Pradesh, given the attractive tariff (which was highest among all the major states with large wind energy potential at ₹5.92 per unit) being offered in the state in the period leading up to March 31, 2016. Prior to the withdrawal of the AD benefit in March 2012, wind energy capacity additions were primarily driven by corporate customers and financial investors looking to avail tax depreciation benefits. However, in the subsequent years, the demand from this segment has significantly reduced and the capacity additions have been mainly driven by the IPP segment, supported by policy and regulatory focus on renewable energy through measures such as National Action Plan on Climate Change (NAPCC), Renewable Purchase Obligation (RPO) requirement, Renewable Energy Certificate (REC) framework and upward revision in feed-in wind tariffs for wind energy across the key states having wind energy potential.

In respect of solar energy segment, share of solar based capacity within the renewable energy segment has improved considerably from almost negligible levels as on March 2010 to 15.8% as on March 2016. The growth has been driven by favorable policy support both by the GoI as well as improving regulatory framework by Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (CERC) and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (SERCs). In addition, reduction in capital costs for solar power projects resulting in improved cost competitiveness has also played a role. Some states like Gujarat, Rajasthan, Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Haryana, Jharkhand, Maharashtra, Odisha, Tamil Nadu, Telangana and Karnataka have also come out with favorable policies to support the sector. The solar power capacity addition stood at 3019 MW in FY2016, reporting a significant jump of 171% as against the capacity addition of 1112 MW in FY2015, driven by capacity additions in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and Telangana. GoI has also now significantly revised its solar based capacity addition target under Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission1 (JNNSM) from 22 GW to 100 GW (which includes 40 GW of off-grid / roof-top based installations and 60 GW of grid connected utility scale solar projects). As on March 7, 2016, Rajasthan accounted for 21.9% of overall solar energy based capacity (5775 MW) in the country followed by Gujarat with 17.7% share and Madhya Pradesh with 11.7% share.

RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR IN TAMIL NADU

As on March 31, 2016, the total installed power generation capacity in Tamil Nadu stood at 25393.9 MW. This comprised of 50% thermal based capacity, 9% hydro, 4% nuclear and 37% renewable energy based capacity, signifying the importance of renewable energy capacity in the state. Wind power projects alone account for ~80% (7.6 GW as on March 31, 2015) of the total renewable capacity of 9511 MW in the state, while solar power capacity in the state stood at 636 MW as on March 7, 2016. Installed wind power capacity in Tamil Nadu accounts for 28% of the all India wind power capacity. This is due to presence of high wind potential sites in the state coupled with the benefits from the investments, both for financial investors as well as captive consumers in the past. However, there has been a significant slowdown in wind based capacity addition in the state over the past 4 year period on account of [a] relatively lower preferential tariff for supply to state discom for wind power projects in Tamil Nadu as compared to other high wind potential states such as Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh [b] grid evacuation challenges faced by wind power projects in the states resulting in backing down of wind farms and [c] weak financial profile of the state distribution utility i.e. TANGEDCO (Tamil Nadu Generation and Distribution Corporation Limited) resulting in long delays in realizing payments for energy sales by the wind power projects in the past along with discontinuation of GBI and AD benefits for a brief period. Following are the key highlights of the wind and solar power policies in the state.

INVESTMENT PLANS BY IPP SEGMENT IN THE RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR

Wind

Operational wind based capacity in the IPP segment for major players stood at ~8000 MW as on March 31, 2016, constituting 30% of the overall wind based capacity, increasing from 26% as on March 31, 2015. Further, the IPPs have laid out large investment plans for the next three-four period, as seen from the capacity commitment provided by various IPPs (Chart 19) during the Renewable Energy Global Investors Meet & Expo (RE-Invest 2015) organized by the Ministry of New & Renewable Energy (MNRE), Government of India in February, 2015. IPPs have committed cumulative wind power capacity addition of 45000 MW over the five-year period from 2015 to 2019.

Solar

Private companies, both domestic and foreign, have put in place significant investment plans in the domestic solar sector in the coming future driven by the ambitious plans of the Central Government towards expanding the solar installations in the country as part of JNNSM as well as various State Government initiatives. As part of the government-sponsored renewable energy investment summit, RE-INVEST, which concluded on February 17, 2015, about 140 companies committed towards setup of 217.3 GW of renewable energy power, which includes 166.2 GW of solar power during the period 2015-2019. While these are non-binding commitments, it does provide an indication on the extent of interest in the solar power sector in the country.

You should read the section “Forward-Looking Statements” for a discussion of the risks and uncertainties related to those statements and also the section “Risk Factors” for a discussion of certain factors that may affect our business, financial condition or results of operations. Our actual results may differ materially from those expressed in or implied by these forward-looking statements.

All financial information included herein is based on our restated financial information included in the chapter titled “Financial Statements” starting on page 151 of this Prospectus.

Our Company, promoted by Mr.T.K.Chandiran and Mrs.C.Selvi, is engaged in the business of power generation from renewable energy sources, wind and solar. Our Company was incorporated as “Nachas Wind Energy Private Limited” on June 05, 2012 as a private limited company under the Companies Act, 1956, with the Registrar of Companies, Tamil Nadu, Coimbatore. The name of our company was changed to “KKV Agro Powers Private Limited” vide a fresh certificate of incorporation pursuant to change of name dated May 12, 2015 issued by Registrar of Companies, Tamil Nadu, Coimbatore. Subsequently our Company was converted into public limited Company and the name of our company was changed to “KKV Agro Powers Limited”, pursuant to fresh certificate of incorporation consequent upon change of name on conversion to public limited company dated May 18, 2015, issued by Registrar of Companies, Tamil Nadu, Coimbatore.

Our Company has started its operations by acquiring the windmills of 1.5MW located at Udumalpet from M/s The KTM Jewellery Limited on June 7, 2012 and 1.25MW located at Tirunelveli from Mr T.K.Chandiran, one of the promoters of our Company, on June 7, 2012. Later, on December 15, 2014, our Company has acquired the wind mills of 1.5MW located at Palladam, Tirupur from M/s. The KTM Jewellery Limited. Further the Company on 1st April 2015, has acquired the windmills of 1.25MW located at Tirunelveli and 0.5MW located at Palladam, Tirupur from M/s. The KTM Jewellery Limited totaling to 6MW of windmill operations. Also our Company has developed a solar project of 1 MW at Tirupur. All our projects are located in the state of Tamil Nadu.

As on December 31, 2015, our total portfolio of operating projects included 7 MW of aggregate installed capacity, which comprised of 6.0 MW of wind energy projects and 1.0 MW of solar project. Our Company is currently in the process of acquiring additional capacity of 0.8 MW of wind energy generators in Tamil Nadu as mentioned in the section ‘Objects of the issue’.

Our Company operates under “Group Captive Power Scheme” notified under the Electricity Act, 2003 by Ministry of Power, Government of India. As per the scheme, 51% of the power produced by a power generating company is consumed by its captive users while holding at least 26% of the paid up capital of the producer. Also, such users shall consume the electricity in proportion to their shareholding.

The current scope of operations of our Company includes:

- A) Renewable Energy Power Generation
- B) Renewable Energy Certificates Trading

We generate power for captive consumption which is being sold to The KTM Jewellery Limited, SKM Animal Feeds and Foods (India) Private Limited and Space Textiles Private Limited.

Also our Company trades in Renewable Energy Certificates earned by it, pursuant to the scheme framed by the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission. Our Company has sold Renewable Energy Certificates worth ₹3.6 Lakhs for FY15 and ₹24.61 Lakhs for the nine months ended December 31, 2015.

We generated revenues of ₹190.03 Lakhs, ₹261.93 Lakhs and ₹357.75 Lakhs in FY2013, FY2014 and FY2015 respectively with respective profits of ₹53.35 Lakhs, ₹94.46 Lakhs and ₹67.21 Lakhs. Our Company has sold 5.4 MU, 4.8 MU and 6.2 MU in FY2013, FY2014 and FY2015 respectively.

OUR STRENGTHS

We believe the following are our competitive strengths:

a) We derive benefit from the fact that our existing operational facilities are located in Tamil Nadu, which has favourable geographical configuration for high wind energy generation

As on March, 2016, 28% of the country's total wind assets of 26,867 MW are located in Tamil Nadu. Tamil Nadu has some of the most potent wind passes in the country for high generation of wind power like Coimbatore, Dindigul, Tirunelveli, Tuticorin, Kanyakumari, Radhupuram, Muppandal, Rameshwaram etc. All of our windmill projects are located in the state of Tamil Nadu.

b) We have a source of assured revenues.

Our company has assured source of revenue as we have entered into power purchase agreement with SKM Animal Feeds and Foods (India) Private Ltd, Space Textiles Private Ltd and The KTM Jewellery Ltd to sell power generated from our power generating units at an agreed rate.

All our power generating units have been tied up with power purchase agreements as stated above for the sale of 100% power generated from the plants for term of three years from the date of said agreements and may be renewed for such additional period on mutual understanding.

c) We operate in the rapidly growing renewable energy sector, which benefits from increasing demand for electricity and regulatory support

We believe the renewable energy sector in India has strong development potential in light of the prevailing demand-supply gap and government policies and related legislation promoting the use of renewable energy resources, growing awareness of the importance of reducing dependency on fossil fuels for environmental and energy security reasons.

Electricity consumption in India is increasing rapidly, largely due to India's rapid population and economic growth. According to the report issued by ICRA the wind based capacity addition 3415 MW during FY2016, increasing by 48% over the capacity addition of 2308 MW achieved during FY2015. This growth in the wind sector was led both by the IPP segment with its focus on feed-in tariff based PPAs and by the non-IPP segment with the re-introduction of the accelerated depreciation benefit by GoI in the Union Budget presented in July 2014.

In respect of solar energy segment, share of solar based capacity within the renewable energy segment has improved considerably from almost negligible levels as on March 2010 to 15.8% as on March 2016. The growth has been driven by favorable policy support both by the GoI as well as improving regulatory framework by Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (CERC) and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (SERCs).

To help meet the growing demand for electricity and cope with continuing supply deficits, the GoI has put in place policies to encourage private sector investment in the creation of additional power generation capacity and, in particular, the development of the renewable energy sector, such as higher tariffs and tax benefits. We believe that the confluence of factors driving the growth in demand for electricity in India as well as the GoI's policies aimed at incentivizing the development of the renewable energy sector will provide significant growth opportunities in the Indian wind energy and biomass (including co-generation) power sectors.

d) We have a flexible business model that is scalable and sustainable and that enables us to deliver predictable growth from a diversified and balanced portfolio of projects

Our business model is based on the ability to expand our business through setting up as well as acquisition of a portfolio of renewable energy power plants. We believe our business model is adaptable to changing environmental and financial conditions, which enables us to deploy our capital efficiently and effectively. As part of this approach, we believe the following are key factors in the expansion of our generation capacity:

Scalability: Our development plans focus on the expansion of our generation capacity and development portfolio to enhance shareholder value by incremental additions to our base of operating projects while capitalizing on our strengths and experience from our existing businesses for greater profitability. In the past we have acquired our power generation equipment to grow inorganically and we may continue to do so in the future.

Sustainability: We believe that the demand for electricity generated by independent power producers in India will be sustainable for the foreseeable future. While electricity demand will continue to increase, the supply of electricity from conventional energy sources will not be able to meet expected demand, leading to continuing power deficits in the foreseeable future. Due to the availability of renewable energy resources in India and the GoI's explicit support for the renewable energy sector, we believe that renewable energy will play an increasingly significant role in the overall power generation sector and demand for electricity from renewable energy sources will continue to grow.

Predictability: We are able to estimate our costs to maintain our projects with some degree of certainty due to their relatively small size as compared generally to conventional energy plants.

OUR STRATEGIES

Our objectives are to enhance our position as a leading independent renewable energy producer in India and executing the following strategies.

a) Enhancement of capacities

Currently, we own windmills to generate 6 MW power and 1 MW of Solar power. Our vision has always been to be a large player in this field and we have been raising our capacities every year. Our current project to set up a 0.80 MW windfarm in Tamil Nadu is an indication of our strategy to expand our business.

Our Company also intends to increase its generating capacity by acquiring renewable energy assets in the market, including the assets owned by third parties which are not focused on power generation as a principal business, improve their performance through better maintenance and increasing availability of Wind Electricity Generators thereby increasing our market share. Our Company also intends to locate the new plants close to either demand centres, in order to balance the need to generate at the lowest cost with the ability to bring electricity to market effectively.

b) Improve profitability by enhancing efficiency

We intend to continue to improve the efficiency of our existing wind energy plants and implement best practices throughout our business in order to drive profitability growth. In particular, we plan to focus on achieving the following:

- Continue to focus on low cost power generation, optimization of capacity utilization and technology upgradation;
- To focus on system upgradation, loss reduction, theft control, consumer service orientation, quality power supply

As per Section 195 of the IT Act, any income (including capital gains other than long term capital gains exempt under Section 10 (38) of the IT Act) payable to non-resident, may fall within the ambit of with-holding provisions, subject to the provisions of the relevant tax treaty. Accordingly, income tax may have to be deducted at source in the case of a non-resident at the rate prescribed under the domestic tax laws or under the tax treaty, whichever is beneficial to the assessee unless a lower withholding certificate is obtained from the tax authorities.

Under Section 196D of the Income Tax Act, 1961, no deduction of tax at source shall be made in respect of capital gains arising on sale proceeds to FIIs on transfer of equity shares.

Economic Outlook

INDIAN ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Growth of India's GDP (at constant 2011-12 prices) is estimated by the CSO to have improved to 7.6% in FY2016 (according to Advance Estimates released in February 2016) from 6.6% in FY2014 and 7.2% in FY2015. Moreover, growth of Gross Value Added (GVA) at basic prices (at constant 2011-12 prices) is expected to have risen to 7.3% in FY2016, from 5.4% in FY2014 and 6.3% in FY2015. However, the recovery in economic activity has been uneven and narrowly focused in areas such as roads, railways and power transmission, some of which benefitted from the robust capital spending by the Government of India (GoI).

India's GDP growth is expected to improve modestly to 7.8% in FY2017 from ICRA's projection of 7.4% for FY2016, benefitting from an anticipated pickup in domestic consumption. The Union Government's Budget Estimates (BE) for 2016-17 indicate continued fiscal consolidation, with a reduction in the fiscal deficit to 3.5% of GDP.

ENERGY SECTOR OVERVIEW IN INDIA

The overall installed power generation capacity in the country has increased from 159,398 MW as on March 31, 2010 to 302,088 MW as on March 31, 2016 (CAGR of 11%), aided by large investments during the 11th plan period (2007-2012) and ongoing 12th plan period (2012-2017), especially from the private sector. This is subsequent to the enactment of Electricity Act, 2003 which encouraged large scale investments in the power sector. As a result, the share of private power generating companies in the overall installed power generation capacity has increased from 13% as on March 31, 2007 to 41% as on March 31, 2016 and remains the highest in the ownership mix of installed generation capacity.

Energy Demand Supply Scenario in India

Despite an increase in the power generation capacity from 159,398 MW as on March, 2010 to 302,088 MW as on March 31, 2016, the demand supply gap has persisted in India. Nonetheless, the all India energy deficit level has reduced to 2.1% (which is equivalent to 23 billion units) during FY2016, as compared to 3.6% (which is equivalent to 38 billion units) during FY2015 and is lower than the 4.2% reported during FY2014. This decline in deficit levels can be attributed to improved energy availability led by sizeable capacity addition in the thermal segment.

Source: ICRA research, CEA

The peak deficit level during FY2016 also reported a decrease to 3.2% (equivalent to 4903 MW) from that at 4.5% (equivalent to 7006 MW) during FY2015. This can be attributed to relatively low peak deficits in a few states such as Tamil Nadu, Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. Overall 11 out of 29 states had peak deficit higher than the all India average during FY2016. Nonetheless peak deficit level on all India basis has remained significantly lower (i.e. average 3.9%) in FY 2015 & FY 2016 as compared with the past periods (average at 8.5% for the period between FY2011 and FY2014) which is mainly due to improved availability of power led by capacity addition and continued pattern of subdued demand from Industrial segment.

The energy deficit level in Tamil Nadu has declined to 0.7% (equivalent to 0.69 billion units) FY2016 from the peak level of 17.5% (equivalent to 16 billion units) seen during FY2013. Also, the peak deficit level has declined to 0.3% in FY2016 from the high of 13.2% in FY2013. The decline in deficit levels can be attributed to the slowdown in demand growth and also availability of electricity from new capacities in the thermal segment as well as commissioning of the 1000 MW Nuclear power plant in Kudankulam, Tamil Nadu. A major share of the generation from this nuclear power plant is being supplied to Tamil Nadu.

The long-term demand outlook for electricity in India remains strong given the low per capita electricity consumption at 760kwh in 2012. This is much lower than the average per capita electricity consumption in developed countries such as USA, Australia, France and Germany and also as compared to the other BRICS nations (Brazil, Russia, China and South Africa). Further the latent demand potential is significant in India given that a large section of population (300 Million) is without access to electricity and the constrained supply to rural / urban parts of the country by the state owned discoms due to their own limited paying capacity. This provides for significant growth potential for electricity consumption in India and in turn for addition of generation capacity.

Trends in Fuel mix of installed capacity

In terms of fuel mix, the overall installed capacity constitutes 61% coal based capacity as on March 31, 2016 which increased from 54% as on March 31, 2007. The domination of coal based generation mix in the overall installed capacity can be attributed to the large availability of coal reserves in India coupled with the limited availability of petroleum reserves, geological challenges for hydro capacity and political challenges in implementing nuclear energy. While the share of hydro and gas based capacity has come down during this period. However, the share of renewable energy capacity has increased from 6% as on March 31, 2007 to 14% as on March 31, 2016 led by increased investment in wind energy sector and lately in the solar power sector.

RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR

The installed renewable energy based power generation capacity in India has increased from 16801 MW as on March 31, 2010 to 42849 MW as on March 31, 2016, led by large capacity additions in the wind based installations whose share in the overall renewable energy based capacity remains the highest at 62.7% as on March 31, 2016. This however has declined from about 67.9% seen at the end of FY2013 on account of increase in the share of solar based installations over the past 3-4 years subsequent to the launch of the National Solar Mission by Government of India. The share of other renewable sources such as biomass and small hydro in the overall renewable energy based capacity has come down marginally to 11.3% and 10.0% respectively as on March, 2016 from 12.8% and 12.9% respectively at the end of FY2013.

Trends in Wind & Solar based Capacity Addition in India

Source: ICRA research, MNRE, CEA

As on March 2016, installed wind energy based capacity stood at 26,867 MW which accounted for 8.9% of the overall installed capacity in the country, while solar capacity stood at 6763 MW accounting for 2.2% of the overall installed power generation capacity in the country. The wind power sector has witnessed record capacity addition of 3415 MW during FY2016, increasing by 48% over the capacity addition of 2308 MW achieved during FY2015 and also exceeding the target set by MNRE for FY2016 at 2400 MW. This growth in the wind sector was led both by the IPP segment with its focus on feed-in tariff based PPAs and by the non-IPP segment with the re-introduction of the accelerated depreciation benefit by GoI in the Union Budget presented in July 2014.

A major portion of the wind energy capacity addition during FY2016 was driven by new projects in the state of Madhya Pradesh, given the attractive tariff (which was highest among all the major states with large wind energy potential at ₹ 5.92 per unit) being offered in the state in the period leading up to March 31, 2016. Prior to the withdrawal of the AD benefit in March 2012, wind energy capacity additions were primarily driven by corporate customers and financial investors looking to avail tax depreciation benefits. However in the subsequent years, the demand from this segment has significantly reduced and the capacity additions have been mainly driven by the IPP segment, supported by policy and regulatory focus on renewable energy through measures such as National Action Plan on Climate Change (NAPCC), Renewable Purchase Obligation (RPO) requirement,

Renewable Energy Certificate (REC) framework and upward revision in feed-in wind tariffs for wind energy across the key states having wind energy potential.

In respect of solar energy segment, share of solar based capacity within the renewable energy segment has improved considerably from almost negligible levels as on March 2010 to 15.8% as on March 2016. The growth has been driven by favorable policy support both by the GoI as well as improving regulatory framework by Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (CERC) and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (SERCs). In addition reduction in capital costs for solar power projects resulting in improved cost competitiveness has also played a role. Some states like Gujarat, Rajasthan, Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Haryana, Jharkhand, Maharashtra, Odisha, Tamil Nadu, Telangana and Karnataka have also come out with favorable policies to support the sector. The solar power capacity addition stood at 3019 MW in FY2016, reporting a significant jump of 171% as against the capacity addition of 1112 MW in FY2015, driven by capacity additions in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu and Telangana. GoI has also now significantly revised its solar based capacity addition target under Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (JNNSM) from 22 GW to 100 GW (which includes 40 GW of off-grid / roof-top based installations and 60 GW of grid connected utility scale solar projects). As on March 7, 2016, Rajasthan accounted for 21.9% of overall solar energy based capacity (5775 MW) in the country followed by Gujarat with 17.7% share and Madhya Pradesh with 11.7% share.

Demand outlook & Capacity Requirements

The National Institute of Wind Energy (NIWE – formerly C-WET) has reassessed the wind potential in India at 100 m hub height based on latest available wind data and actual land availability using data sources of National Remote Sensing Centre, Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO). As per the latest study, NIWE has estimated the all India wind power potential as 302 GW, which is threefold increase from the estimated potential of 103 GW at 80 m hub height. The estimated wind potential is 302 GW at 100m hub height while the actual installed wind power capacity stands at 26.9 GW as on March 31, 2016 resulting in untapped wind power potential of 275 GW.

A large part of the India's wind energy potential is situated in a few states in Southern and Western parts of India such as Gujarat, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Madhya Pradesh. These states account for almost 98% of the country's wind potential and also 99.8% of the wind capacity installed as on March 2016. Wind energy potential in India has been harnessed to the extent of only about 9% of the overall estimated potential, even though Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh have made considerable progress in harnessing the potential with installed capacity being more than 21% of the estimated potential. The harnessed potential is considerably low in states such as Andhra Pradesh/Telangana, Gujarat and Karnataka wherein the untapped potential is more than 90%. Nonetheless Maharashtra has made some progress in installing wind power stations with the installed wind power capacity being 10% and above of the estimated potential.

With a strong focus on promotion of renewable energy and also in view of the multiple challenges associated with traditional sources of energy over the past 3-4 years, the Government of India has initiated measures to augment renewable energy capacity with a target to achieve 175 GW of installed renewable capacity by FY2022. The 175 GW is proposed to comprise of 100 GW solar power generation capacity, 60 GW wind power generation capacity, 10 GW biomass power generation capacity and 5 GW small hydropower generation capacity. The target for wind power capacity is primarily among the seven wind rich states, while the solar capacity is distributed across the states with major contribution from Andhra Pradesh/Telangana, Gujarat, Haryana, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand.

The NAPCC, released in June 2008 by the Government of India, has suggested a roadmap for increasing the share of renewable energy in the country's total generation capacity, and has recommended the minimum renewable energy purchase obligation (RPO) target at 5% of the overall energy requirements in FY2010, with a 1% year-on-year (y.o.y) increase for the next 10 years, i.e. 15% by end of FY2020. Subsequently, JNNSM was launched in January 2010, with an objective of augmenting solar energy based capacity to 22,000 MW by FY2022 in three phases. Later in January 2011, the National Tariff Policy was amended to prescribe solar-specific RPO to be increased from a minimum of 0.25% in FY2012 to 3% by FY2022 (as also suggested under JNNSM). In January 2016, the GoI revised the solar RPO target from 3% to 8% by FY 2022 so as to be in line with the revised solar capacity installation targets of 100,000 MW by FY2022.

Key Challenges for Renewable Energy Sector in India

Preferential tariff norms by SERCs in key states having wind resource potential vary and are inconsistent with CERC's generic tariff norms: Among the seven key states which contribute about 98% of overall wind potential in the country, except Maharashtra, & Rajasthan, none of the states have adopted CERC's tariff principles based on wind power density (WPD) specific zones, while SERCs in other states (which have a low wind potential) such as Haryana, Uttarakhand, Orissa & Punjab have followed CERC's tariff principles. The preferential tariff regulations by SERCs stipulate a specific control period (usually of up to three /five year) during which the estimated tariff remain fixed, unlike CERC's generic tariff norms where tariff is revised for every year of the control period. This implies that tariff estimation does not take into account the impact of inflation/indexation on the cost structure during this period. Also, tariff norms in respect of normative assumptions for capital cost as well as O&M and finance cost vary across the states, as against the same as outlined by CERC. In addition, preferential tariffs in few of the states do not factor the adjustment in tariff, in case the project developer avails the benefit of higher depreciation.

RPO norms vary across the States and continue to remain lower than norms prescribed under NAPCC across majority of the states: SERCs in 21 out of the total 29 states have put in place regulations (including draft RPO regulations) stipulating RPO norms till FY2017, which are required to be met by the obligated entities, including distribution licensees, group captive and open access consumers. Of the remaining states, SERCs in some of the states such as Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and Arunachal Pradesh have put in provisions for continuation of the RPO for subsequent years at the levels approved for FY2013, FY2015 and FY2015 respectively, i.e. until new RPO norms are approved by them. Further, the RPO norms continue to vary across the states in terms of both, quantum of RPO and also the period of RPO trajectory approved by the SERCs. The RPO levels vary from 2.00% to 12.50% in FY2017. Also, SERCs in only 13 out of the 29 states have stipulated RPO norms till FY2019, while only 6 states have stipulated RPO norms till FY2022 (including draft regulations). Further, the RPO levels for majority of the states continue to remain lower than the RPO trajectory suggested under NAPCC (which specifies a minimum RPO target of 5% in FY2010, to be increased by 1% every year for a period of 10 years to reach 15% by FY2020). SERCs in only 3 states i.e. Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka (draft) and Tripura have stipulated RPO norms at greater than or equal to the target of 12% as suggested by NAPCC in FY2017. On the contrary, RPO levels in 11 states still remain less than or equal to 6.0% (i.e. 50% of RPO target level as suggested by NAPCC for FY 2017).

Weak compliance of RPO norms continues to adversely affect the demand for RECs: One of the key demand drivers for wind and solar power capacities is the compliance of RPO norms by the obligated entities, including discoms. However, the RPO compliance remains weak across majority of the states. This is owing to weak enforcement of the RPO norms by the SERCs and also unwillingness of the discoms to meet the RPO norms through procurement of RECs. This is despite the fact that SERCs in some of the states have directed the distribution utilities to purchase RECs to meet any shortfall in achieving the RPO target from available RE sources and the cost of such RECs has been included as part of the annual revenue requirement. Owing to weak compliance of RPO norms as well as inadequate monitoring of the RPO compliance by state nodal agencies and SERCs, demand for RECs from obligated entities has been adversely affected over the last 3-4 year period. As a result, the non-solar REC prices have continued to remain depressed i.e. at the floor price of ₹ 1500 per REC since August 2012, declining from ₹ 2201 per REC observed in April, 2012. Cleared volume as a proportion of sell bids for non-solar RECs declined to 2.6% in FY2015 from that of 22.1% in FY2013. While there has been some improvement during the last four months of FY2016, the cleared volume as a proportion of sell bids for non-solar RECs continuous to remain low at 2.8% in FY2016. Weak compliance of the RPO norms in turn, has impacted the cash flow position of REC based projects. The inventory of unsold non-solar REC inventory remains high at 13.18 million (which is equivalent to ₹ 19.77 billion at floor price levels) as on April 30, 2016, increasing from 10.58 million as on March 31, 2015. The solar REC inventory stands at ~3.41 million as of April 30, 2016 up from ~1.58 million in March 2015. At the floor price of ₹ 3,500/REC it sums up to more than Rs 11.93 billion.

Exposure to counter party credit risks with respect to state owned distribution utilities

State owned distribution utilities or distribution licensees, being key obligated entities to meet RPO norms, are off-takers for wind and solar energy projects in most cases. Wind and solar energy generation companies / IPPs remain exposed to counter party credit risk, given that utilities in majority of the states have weak financial profile and expose the project developers to counter-party credit risks especially given that the tariff rates for wind and solar projects still remain relatively higher than tariffs for conventional fuel based projects. The median cost coverage ratio for distribution segment still remains below 0.9 times for FY2014 and accumulated book losses for the distribution utilities is estimated at about ₹ 3.5 trillion as on March 2014. While discoms with relatively stronger credit profile as in Gujarat have been meeting their payments in a prompt manner, delays of up to four to six month have been witnessed for RE projects with weaker state utilities such as in Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh & Madhya Pradesh in the past periods. ICRA hence notes that the fundamental improvement in the financial position of the discoms, which are the principal obligated entities to meet the renewable portfolio obligation norms, remains crucial for the renewable energy sector, which in turn will enable these entities to honor their RPO norms in a more sustained manner.

Given the weak financial profile of the state electricity distribution segment, the GoI has approved UDAY, the acronym for Ujwal DISCOM Assurance Yojana, on November 5, 2015 with the objective of financially turning around State-owned distribution companies. This scheme intends to achieve this by: (a) reducing the interest cost of discoms principally through takeover of 75% of their debt (50% in H2 FY2016 and 25% in FY2017 by the respective State governments and reducing the interest rate for the balance 25%, (b) improving the operational efficiencies of the discoms via reduction in AT&C loss levels, (c) reducing the cost of power purchase of discoms by improving the supply of domestic coal to power generating companies and (d) enforcing financial discipline on discoms through alignment with State finances. In addition, the scheme envisages benefits such as (a) access to additional/priority funding for implementation of capital expenditure schemes, and (b) higher availability of cheaper linkage coal and low-cost power from central public sector undertakings, subject to the performance milestones being met. There are however no explicit cash incentives to State governments for debt takeover or loss reduction under this scheme.

State governments in 18 States - Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh - have agreed in principle to participate in UDAY. Within this, ten States, namely, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Haryana, Gujarat, Jharkhand, Jammu & Kashmir, Punjab, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh (accounting for ~45% of overall debt on the books of discoms as on September 2015), have signed MoUs with the Ministry of Power for implementation of the scheme. During FY2016, State governments in eight states have issued bonds amounting to ₹ 98.96 billion towards takeover of debt on the books of the discoms. While the coal reform measures such as coal swapping and linkage rationalization are expected to be driven more by efforts at the Ministry of Coal, achieving reduction in AT&C losses, demand-side interventions and savings in interest costs would call for sustained efforts by the State governments and discoms. Besides, improving the financial profiles of the discoms would require adequate and timely tariff revision by the SERCs concerned, along with periodic pass-through of fuel and power purchase cost fluctuations and timely and adequate subsidy release by the State governments.

Key Growth Drivers for Renewable Energy Sector in India

Favorable policy and regulatory framework in place for Renewable Energy sector

A. Regulatory Framework: CERC plays a key role in enabling the regulatory framework for renewable energy. Generic terms for determination of tariff for power procurement from renewable energy based sources as laid out by CERC, serve as guiding principle for tariff determination by the SERCs. In line with the requirements of Electricity Act-2003, CERC came out with generic tariff norms for the wind energy sector in September 2009 and subsequently, SERCs in all the key states (with wind energy potential) have issued preferential tariff regulations. CERC in the past has issued the tariff regulations for renewable energy projects in September 2009 as well as tariff orders for the initial control period of three years (FY2010 - FY2012), thereafter the second control period has been set for five years by CERC starting from FY2013. The latest order for generic tariff norms was issued in April 2016 for projects to be commissioned in FY2017. The key features of generic tariff norms by CERC include [a] single part tariff levellised over the useful period of project, which is 25 years for wind power projects; however, the PPA period for wind power projects is 13 years [b] Capital cost during the control period of five years (starting from FY2013) is determined based on indexation of normative capital cost with wholesale price index of steel and wholesale price index of electrical machinery [c] the tariff estimation for wind project is specific to the wind power density (WPD) in the location in accordance with the assessment study of C-WET and normative operating cost parameters. Nonetheless, option is open for project-specific tariff for new RE technologies [d] Remunerative 20% pre-tax return on equity (RoE) for the first 10 years and 24% pre-tax RoE for the remaining 15 years and [e] The tax benefit of higher level of depreciation / accelerated depreciation, if availed by the developer would be considered for tariff estimation (so that the tariff in such cases is net of higher depreciation benefit) so as to keep the overall pre-tax return on equity at the same level.

Mixed trend in revision in preferential feed-in tariff by SERCs for wind projects during FY2017; also the norms remain inconsistent across states: SERCs in most of the states have issued preferential tariff regulations for wind energy projects. Average preferential tariffs approved by SERCs are usually of 'single part' nature based on the normative principles and vary between ₹ 4.2/kwh to ₹ 5.7/kwh across states, depending upon the assumptions w.r.t. PLF as well as cost parameters (capital & operating related).

Trends in feed-in tariffs across the key states having wind potential

#Tariff without AD benefit, *Tariff for wind zone-1 without AD benefit, ^Tariff in Jaisalmer, Jodhpur and Barmer districts without AD benefit, Proposed; Source: ICRA research, Tariff orders by SERCs

SERCs in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu have revised the preferential feed-in tariff by 0.2%, -19.3%, -2.6% and 18.5% respectively for the new wind projects in their respective states to be commissioned w.e.f April 1, 2016. In case of the Madhya Pradesh, the steep downward revision in wind tariff is owing to revision in normative PLF assumption from 20% to 23% coupled with the downward revision in normative capital cost assumption. The downward tariff revision in Maharashtra for wind power projects commissioned during FY2017 is owing to revision in normative assumptions related to escalation rate for O&M costs and interest costs. The upward tariff revision in Tamil Nadu is led by revision normative assumption related to capital cost, O&M cost and higher interest costs coupled with the adoption of levelled tariff as against the earlier norm of using average tariff over the life of the project. The SERC in Andhra Pradesh has approved the tariff for FY2017 at ₹ 4.84 per unit, which is similar to the tariff approved for FY2016 at ₹ 4.83 per unit. The SERC in Gujarat has floated a discussion for determining tariff for wind power projects commissioning in the next control period (previous tariff was valid till March 31, 2016) and has proposed to revise the tariff to ₹ 4.19 per unit as against the earlier tariff of ₹ 4.15 per unit. SERC in Rajasthan is yet to issue the tariff orders for wind power projects to be commissioned in FY2017. In case of Karnataka, the tariff is valid till October 2018.

Renewable Purchase Obligation Norms in place by SERCs: Both the Electricity Act, 2003 & National Tariff Policy, 2006 have stipulated provision of RPO i.e. a certain fixed proportion out of the overall energy requirements in the distribution licensee area is to be sourced from renewable energy sources. Subsequently, the NAPCC released in June 2008 by the Government of India suggested a minimum renewable purchase target of 5% of the total energy procurement in FY2010, to be increased by 1% every year for a period of 10 years to reach 15% by FY2020. Over the last three-five year period, SERCs in many of the states have put in place regulations for compliance of RPO norms which are required to be met by the obligated entities. As per the RPO regulations, the obligated entities are distribution licensees, group captives and customers availing open access. The RPO norms can be met by the obligated entities either by entering into PPAs with renewable energy assets and/or by purchasing RECs. RPO regulations laid out by SERCs also specify the provision of RPO regulatory charges to be paid by the obligated entity, in case it fails to comply with the RPO target and as per the same, SERC may direct the obligated entity to deposit a certain amount as SERC may determine on the basis of the shortfall in units of RPO, and the forbearance price of REC as decided by the CERC; separately in respect of solar and non-solar RPO. However, RPO levels vary widely across the states, given that overall RPO levels vary from 2.00% to 12.50% in FY2017 across the states.

Renewable Energy Certificate (REC) framework in place to facilitate the obligated entities to meet the RPO targets set by SERCs: CERC introduced the REC mechanism in January 2010 to promote the development of renewable energy and to facilitate obligated entities to meet the RPO targets set by the respective SERCs. Under this mechanism, obligated entities which are unable to meet the RPO targets can meet the shortfall by purchasing RECs from renewable energy generators in other states. For eligibility under the REC framework, renewable projects: (a) would require accreditation from the state agency as notified by the SERC concerned; (b) will not have any PPA with distribution utility at a preferential tariff determined by the SERC; and (c) will sell the electricity generated either to the distribution licensee of the area in which the eligible entity is located, at a price not exceeding the average pooled purchase cost (APPC) of such distribution licensee, or to any other licensee or to an open access consumer at a mutually agreed price, or through power exchange at the market-determined price. RECs are of two types – a) solar RECs for solar power generators and b) non-solar RECs for other renewable power generators. CERC has set the price range for the RECs, called the cap price and floor price, which is determined separately for solar and non-solar RECs. One REC is equivalent to 1000 kWh. The RECs are traded on the power exchanges for market-based price discovery based on the actual demand and supply situation, although subject to the price range i.e. floor & cap levels as set by CERC. Currently, the floor and cap price for non-solar REC is at ₹ 1.5/unit and ₹ 3.3/unit respectively, while for solar REC the floor and cap price is ₹ 3.5/unit and ₹ 5.8 per unit respectively. These are valid till March 31, 2017.

B. Policy Framework: As mentioned earlier, GoI has recently scaled up the target for capacity addition in renewable energy sector to 175 GW by FY 2022. Target for cumulative capacity of 175 GW comprises of 100 GW of solar capacity [which is mix of 60 GW as utility scale and 40 GW as roof-top based], 60 GW of wind based capacity, 10 GW of biomass based capacity and balance being small hydro. For solar energy segment, cumulative capacity target has been considerably increased from earlier level of 22 GW to 100 GW by FY2022. Policy support in respect of solar energy segment for development of grid connected solar capacity continues to remain strong and GoI has provided support essentially in two modes so far i.e. 1) mechanism of “bundling” of solar power with relatively inexpensive thermal power from the unallocated quota of CPSUs and 2) mechanism of providing Viability Gap Funding (VGF) to make available solar power at reduced price.

C. Fiscal Benefits & Tax Incentives:

Generation Based Incentive

In December 2009, Government of India introduced a Generation Based Incentive (GBI) scheme for grid connected wind power projects for promoting the development of wind power projects with an objective of facilitating investments through the IPP route and provides a transition from investment based incentive to an outcome based incentive. This scheme provided an incentive of 50 In December 2009, Government of India introduced a Generation Based Incentive (GBI) scheme for grid connected wind power projects for promoting the development of wind power projects with an objective of facilitating investments through the IPP route and provides a transition from investment based incentive to an outcome based incentive. This scheme provided an incentive of 50 paise for every unit generation by wind power projects commissioned between December 2009 and March 2012 with a cap of ₹6.2 million per MW over a 10 year period subject to a maximum benefit of ₹1.55 million per MW during any one year. Subsequently, this benefit was discontinued w.e.f April, 2012. Later in February 2013, the GBI scheme was reinstated by Government of India by allocating ₹8 billion towards the same in the Union budget for FY2013-14. In September 2013, the scheme was formally notified by Government of India and subsequently in December 2013, the operational guidelines for the implementation of the scheme were issued by the nodal agency i.e. IREDA (Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency). The scheme is available for projects commissioned on or after April 1, 2012 and for the entire 12th plan period. Incentive will be provided at the rate of 50 paise per unit of electricity injected into the grid by wind power projects for a period of up to 10 years with a cap of ₹ 10 million per MW (as against ₹ 6.2 million per MW) , subject to a maximum benefit of ₹ 2.5 million in any one year.

Accelerated depreciation benefit

Accelerated depreciation of 80% for tax purpose is the key financial incentive for non-IPP segment. Also, an additional 20% depreciation has been allowed for the first year of operations. CERC in its order dated April 2016 has estimated the benefit from accelerated depreciation to be equivalent to ₹ 0.60/kWh (levellised) for solar PV project and ₹ 1.25/kWh (levellised) for solar thermal project. In case of wind power projects, CERC has estimated the levellised benefit from accelerated depreciation to be in the range of ₹ 0.44 per unit to ₹ 0.71 per unit as the wind PLF varies from 32% to 20%. However the accelerated depreciation benefit shall be reduced to 40% from April 2017 onwards which will impact the benefit of AD for non-IPP segment.

Income tax benefits

As per Section 80 IA of the Income Tax Act, power projects are entitled for 10 year tax holiday; however, MAT (minimum alternate tax) is applicable at the rate of 18.5% (plus surcharge at 12% and education cess at 3%) on the book profits during this period.

Improving cost competitiveness of renewable energy (Wind & Solar PV) against the conventional fuel sources

Comparison for cost of generation based on varying fuel mix

Source: ICRA research

The cost of generation for the power projects, which are based on pit-headed coal, remains the most cost competitive as compared with the other fuel sources.. However, dependence on imported coal and significant increase in capital costs for recently commissioned and under-construction coal based power projects has increased the cost of generation for these projects as reflected from the tariffs quoted by IPPs in the competitive case-I bidding over the last 3-4 year period. In case of gas based capacity, the uncertainty over domestic gas availability has resulted in dependence on costlier imported fuel which is expected to continue at least over the medium term and has resulted in upward pressure on the overall cost of generation. As a result, generation from wind energy has become more cost-competitive with the all India average preferential tariff for wind energy projects across major wind states estimated at ₹ 4.8 per unit (though varies between ₹ 4.2/unit to ₹ 5.7/unit across the key states). On the other hand, solar PV tariff level has witnessed a significant decline owing to the fall in module prices and steady improvement in module efficiency. Competitively bid solar PV quoted tariffs have come down significantly, with the recent bidding for NTPC orders being won at Rs 4.34/kWh. Overall, the cost competitiveness of solar PV tariff has improved considerably over the last 2-3 year period. In addition, both the wind and solar PV based power projects remain favorably placed with relatively much lower construction period in comparison to the conventional thermal based projects, which are exposed to significant execution related risks due to long delays in land acquisition and statutory clearances.

Key Regulatory Developments

APTEL's directions for compliance of RPO norms: Taking note of the weak compliance of the RPO regulations by obligated entities as well as weak enforcement and monitoring of the RPO regulations by state commissions, APTEL in its order dated April 20, 2015 has issued directions to State/Joint Commissions for stricter implementation of Renewable Energy Regulations in their respective states through [a] timely issuance of orders related to RPO targets and preferential tariff regulations, [b] SERCs must direct obligated entities to meet the RPO targets within the stipulated timeframe by incorporating the renewable energy purchase as part of the tariff petition for the ensuing year and annual performance review for the current year [c] monitoring of compliance of the RPO periodically as provided for in the Regulations [d] suggestions and objections of the public shall be invited in the review proceedings and decisions taken after considering the suggestions/objections, as per law. This judgment is based on a petition filed by Associations of Wind Energy Generators, Developers and Manufacturers of Wind Turbine and Association of developers of small hydro power projects.

In ICRA's view, the above directions by APTEL, if implemented in all seriousness by the State/Joint Commissions, would provide a boost to the RE sector in the country. It would be a positive development for the project developers given the sizeable capacity enhancements required to meet the RPO norms set as per the NAPCC. Further, the REC market would also receive a boost as the number of buyers would increase. Nonetheless, the implementation of the above mentioned directions by SERCs across the country remains to be seen.

Supreme Court's judgment on ruling of RERC to impose RPO norms on captive power plants and open access users

The state electricity regulatory commission in Rajasthan, viz. Rajasthan Electricity Regulatory Commission (RERC), had announced the RPO norms as per its notifications of March 2007 and December 2010, which made it obligatory for captive power plants (CPP) and open access (OA) consumers to purchase minimum energy from renewable sources and to pay surcharge in case of shortfall in meeting out the RE obligation. Hindustan Zinc Ltd, Ambuja Cements Ltd, Grasim Industries Ltd and 14 other companies challenged the RPO regulations enacted by RERC in the Rajasthan High Court. The petitioners contested that RERC did not have the authority to pass the order of RPO and impose surcharge as CPP and OA consumers were de-licensed activities under the Electricity Act 2003 (EA 2003). The petitioners also contested that a Regulatory Commission has been authorized to regulate electricity purchase and procurement process of distribution licensees only, whereas a captive generating plant cannot be said to be a distribution licensee. In its order of August 2014, the Rajasthan High Court dismissed the petition citing that the word 'total consumption' used in the EA 2003 should be considered as total consumption in the area of distribution licensee in all modes. Also, the objective behind imposition of RE obligation upon CPP and OA consumers is to promote generation of electricity from renewable sources, which would have long lasting impact in protecting environment. The order of the Rajasthan High Court was subsequently challenged in the Supreme Court.

In its order dated May 13, 2015, the Hon'ble Supreme Court upheld RERC's authority to enforce RPO regulations on CPP and OA consumers, and dismissed the appeal of the petitioners, citing that the provisions requiring purchase of minimum percentage of energy from renewable sources of energy have been framed with an object of fulfilling the constitutional mandate with a view to protect environment and prevent pollution in the area by utilizing renewable energy sources as much as possible in larger public interest. In ICRA's view, the above order by Hon'ble Supreme Court would enable stronger enforcement of the RPO obligations across the country.

Forecasting, Scheduling & Deviation Settlement Mechanism for wind and solar power generators connected to inter-state transmission system: As per provisions of Indian Electricity Grid Code (IEGC) regulations of 2010, wind power generators are subject to scheduling & forecasting requirements with the basic purpose of ensuring grid discipline and hence, are subject to Unscheduled Interchange (UI) implications. CERC vide its order August 7, 2015 has notified amendments to the CERC (IEGC) Regulations, 2010 and CERC (Deviation Settlement Mechanism and related matters) Regulations, 2014 approving regulations for scheduling and forecasting of generation by wind and solar power generators which are regional entities i.e. projects connected to the inter-state transmission system. As a result, these regulations will not have any impact on the majority of the wind and solar projects which are connected to the intra-state transmission system. Subsequent to the notification of these regulations by CERC, SERCs in the states of Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Odisha and Jharkhand have issued draft regulations on forecasting & scheduling which are applicable for wind and solar power generators connected to the state grid and selling power within the state. However, these regulations vary across the states as well as with the regulations approved by CERC. For example, the settlement of deviation charges is based on a pre-determined rate (increasing from ₹ 0.5 per unit to ₹ 1.5 per unit with increase in deviation proportion) in case of regulations proposed in these states as against the CERC notified mechanism of linking the settlement rate with PPA tariff or Average Power Purchase Cost (APPC) as applicable. Once approved by SERCs, these regulations will have a negative impact on cash flows & project IRR for the wind projects, if actual overall deviation (mix of over-generation and under-injection) exceeds 30% of the scheduled. This is also because if the variation is above +/-35%, deviation charges are highest at ₹ 1.5 per unit for deviation volume in energy generation. Further, wind and solar power generation by nature is variable and intermittent which may translate into a risk of wide fluctuations in actual resource availability which in turn makes it challenging for the sector for forecasting, though the same is possible to some extent through robust technical/statistical modeling with the use past generation/weather conditions data.

Amendments in National Tariff Policy approved by the Union Cabinet: On January 20, 2016, the Union Cabinet, chaired by the Hon'ble Prime Minister, approved a number of recommendations proposed by the Ministry of Power in the National Tariff Policy, 2006. The key amendments impacting the RE sector include

[a] It has been decided that 8% of the total power consumption will be from solar energy (excluding hydro power) by March 2022

[b] New coal/lignite based thermal power plants would have a Renewable Generation Obligation (RGO) i.e. they would have to establish/purchase/procure a specified amount of power from renewable sources if they are setting up thermal power capacity after a specified date

[c] There will be no inter-state transmission charges and losses applicable to solar and wind power until further notification from Government of India

[d] There will be compulsorily procurement of 100% power produced from all the Waste-to-Energy plants in the State by the Distribution Companies to meet the objectives of Swachh Bharat Mission

[e] Hydro projects to be exempted from competitive bidding till August 2022

[f] Cross subsidy formula has been revised to balance interest of open access customers and discoms

ICRA believes that these changes are positive for the promotion of renewable energy sector and demonstrate the continuous focus of the Government towards achieving this. However, compliance of the new RPO norms by SERCs and overall execution of the amendments will continue to remain a key area of focus.

RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR IN TAMIL NADU - WIND AND SOLAR POWER POLICY

As on March 31, 2016, the total installed power generation capacity in Tamil Nadu stood at 25393.9 MW. This comprised of 50% thermal based capacity, 9% hydro, 4% nuclear and 37% renewable energy based capacity, signifying the importance of renewable energy capacity in the state. Wind power projects alone account for ~80% (7.6 GW as on March 31, 2015) of the total renewable capacity of 9511 MW in the state, while solar power capacity in the state stood at 636 MW as on March 7, 2016. Installed wind power capacity in Tamil Nadu accounts for 28% of the all India wind power capacity. This is due to presence of high wind potential sites in the state coupled with the benefits from the investments, both for financial investors as well as captive consumers in the past. However, there has been a significant slowdown in wind based capacity addition in the state over the past 4 year period on account of [a] relatively lower preferential tariff for supply to state discom for wind power projects in Tamil Nadu as compared to other high wind potential states such as Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh [b] grid evacuation challenges faced by wind power projects in the states resulting in backing down of wind farms and [c] weak financial profile of the state distribution utility i.e. TANGEDCO (Tamil Nadu Generation and Distribution Corporation Limited) resulting in long delays in realizing payments for energy sales by the wind power projects in the past along with discontinuation of GBI and AD benefits for a brief period. Following are the key highlights of the wind and solar power policies in the state.

Upward revision in feed-in tariff for new wind power projects: Tamil Nadu Electricity Regulatory Commission (TNERC) notified the tariff for wind power projects at ₹ 3.51 per unit in the state of Tamil Nadu vide its order dated July 31, 2012, which was valid till July 31, 2014. Subsequently, TNERC approved the continuation of this tariff beyond July-2014, i.e. until the new tariff is notified. The commission vide its order dated March 31, 2016 has approved revised tariff for wind power projects to be commissioned during FY2017 and FY2018 in Tamil Nadu. A brief comparison of the normative assumptions in the recent tariff order issued by TNERC vis-à-vis the earlier order issued in 2012 and the CERC tariff order for wind power projects to be commissioned in FY2017 is provided here:

TNERC has revised the levelized tariff upwards from ₹ 3.51 per unit to ₹ 4.16 per unit for wind power projects to be commissioned over FY2017 and FY2018 based on the revised assumptions pertaining to normative capital costs, operating costs as well as cost of financing. TNERC has adopted the levelized tariff mechanism (uniform over the tariff period of 25 years) as against the earlier norm of averaging the tariff over 20 years. This is in line with the tariff determination process adopted by CERC and SERCs in other major wind states. The commission has also approved separate tariff for projects availing the accelerated depreciation benefit at ₹ 3.7 per unit. However, the approved changes for wind tariff norms in Tamil Nadu continue to deviate against the CERC's generic tariff norms in terms of absence of tariffs linkage with wind power density and lower depreciation rate. Also, the tariff determination process has been significantly delayed with previous tariff order issued in July 2012 with tariff validity was till July 2014. However, the upward revision in tariff approved by TNERC is a positive for new wind energy projects in the state and augurs well for improvement in fresh capacity addition in the state, given the high wind energy potential with attractive PLF level. Nonetheless, realization of this potential is critically dependent on the extent of improvement in transmission bottleneck in the state as well as payment discipline by state owned utility.

Key highlights of the Tamil Nadu State Solar Energy Policy

The state solar power policy has set a target of achieving 3000 MW of solar power capacity by FY 2015 comprising a mix of 1500 MW (Utility Scale), 350 MW (roof-top solar based) and 1150 MW (REC based) projects; w.r.t. utility scale projects, demand for 1000 MW will be based on Solar Purchase Obligation (SPO) [i.e. at 6% from 2014] to be imposed by State Government on HT consumers and balance 500 MW will be based on GBI provided by GoI. The policy also stated that the statutory clearances that are essential for the development and commissioning of solar energy projects will be handled by TEDA (Tamil Nadu Energy Development Agency) in co-ordination with the concerned departments/agencies. Guaranteed single window clearance will be provided through TEDA in 30 days so that the plants can be commissioned in less than 12 months. Also, the projects shall be exempted from electricity tax to the extent of 100% of electricity generated from solar power used for self consumption/sale to utility for 5 years. Implementation of the state policy has however faced significant hurdles, given the regulatory uncertainties arising out of disallowance by Appellate Tribunal for Electricity on the Solar Purchase Obligations set by State Government for specific category of consumers. Unlike the other states, the SERC in Tamil Nadu released a solar tariff order in September 2014, wherein the tariff rates for solar PV and solar thermal projects were finalized. This order was valid for one year and was further extended to March 31, 2016 by TNERC. Subsequently the commission through its order dated March 28, 2016 has approved revised tariff for solar power projects to be commissioned during FY2017 in Tamil Nadu. As shown in table below, the tariff approved by TNERC in this order is at Rs 5.10/unit (without accelerated depreciation) on a normative capital cost of ₹ 50.5 million per MW and CUF of 19%. This is slightly lower the tariff approved by CERC for FY2017 at ₹ 5.68 per unit (without accelerated depreciation) at a normative capital cost of ₹ 53.0 million per MW and CUF of 19%. A brief comparison of the normative assumptions in the tariff order issued by TNERC and the CERC tariff order for solar power projects to be commissioned in FY2017 is provided here:

NIWE has reassessed the wind potential in India at 100 m hub height based on latest available wind data and actual land availability using data sources of National Remote Sensing Centre, Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO). As per the latest study, NIWE has estimated the all India wind power potential as 302 GW, which is threefold increase from the estimated potential of 103 GW at 80 m hub height. The wind power potential in the state of Tamil Nadu is now estimated at 33.8 GW at 100 m hub height as against 14.2 GW estimated at 80 m hub height. As against the estimated potential of 33.8 GW, the installed wind capacity in the state as on March 31, 2016 stood at 7.6 GW signifying 78% untapped wind power potential. Also, the GoI in the union budget for FY2016 announced a renewable energy capacity target of 175 GW by the year FY2022 from the level of 36 GW as on March, 2015. The revised target of 175 GW comprises of 100 GW of solar power generation capacity, 60 GW wind power generation capacity, 10 GW biomass power generation capacity and 5 GW small hydropower generation capacity. Ministry of New & Renewable Energy (MNRE), GoI has identified state wise break-up of wind based capacity addition target to be achieved by the year FY2022 so as to achieve the all India cumulative target of 60 GW comprising of cumulative target for wind capacity addition in Tamil Nadu at 11.9 GW.

Trends in Merchant Tariffs

Source: ICRA research, CERC and Indian Energy Exchange

The average price of bilateral-based short-term traded power declined to ₹4.13 per unit during FY2016 from ₹4.28 per unit during FY2015. On the other hand, the average price for electricity transacted through power exchanges decreased to ₹2.72 per unit in FY2016 from ₹3.49 per unit reported during FY2015. However, the average traded price for short term electricity purchases in the Southern region has remained relatively higher as compared to the average prices at national level. During FY2016, the average traded price for electricity transacted on Indian Energy Exchange (IEX) in the Southern region was about ₹3.8 - ₹4.3 per unit as against the national average of ₹2.72 per unit. This is owing to the transmission constraints between the Southern region and other regions resulting in high dependence on procurement from short term sources for discoms in the this region. Nonetheless, the gap between the prices in other regions and Southern region has been reducing with improvement in the transmission capacity as well as commissioning of new thermal and renewable power generation capacities in the Southern region.

CERC	20% to 32% based on wind power density in that particular zone

Source: ICRA research, Wind Tariff orders by respective SERCs and CERC

Tamil Nadu Electricity Regulatory Commission (TNERC) while approving the tariff order for wind power projects in Tamil Nadu has approved the normative PLF for wind power projects in the state at 27.15%. This is in deviation to the wind zone based tariff mechanism as adopted by CERC and SERCs in other states such as Maharashtra and Rajasthan (partially). Also, the normative PLF approved by TNERC is higher at 27.15% as against the normative PLF in other states such as Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat, Karnataka and Madhya Pradesh.

Viability of Open Access sale for Wind Power projects in Tamil Nadu

Wind based power developers have various options for sale of power generated by the WTGs, which include [a] sale to discoms at preferential tariff [b] sale to discoms at average pooled power purchase cost (APPC) rate and availing RECs [c] captive consumption and [d] sale to third party consumers through open access. Under the provisions of Electricity Act, 2003, non-discriminatory use of transmission and distribution infrastructure of the state licensees is permitted by any consumer with demand greater than or equal to 1 MW for procuring electricity from the source of their choice. This is subject to regulations and charges as approved by the respective SERCs to be paid by the consumers for using the transmission and distribution infrastructure. Below table illustrates the charges payable by HT industrial consumers for availing open access for procurement from wind power generators in Tamil Nadu.

Open Access Charges for HT Industrial Customers (33 KV) for procuring Wind Power in Tamil Nadu
Open Access	Unit	Approved by TNERC as per the latest tariff order	Applicable for RE Projects
Wheeling Charges	Rs./unit	0.1887	0.08
Transmission Charges	Rs./MW/day	2903	1161
Cross Subsidy Surcharge for injection and drawl at 33 kV for HT Industrial consumers	Rs./unit	3.39	1.69
SLDC Charges	Rs/MW/month	60000	60000
Banking Facility		Allowed for 12 months
Banking Charge		5%

Source: ICRA research, SERC Tariff Orders

The applicable open access charges for HT industrial consumers procuring from wind power projects is only 40% of the approved wheeling and transmission charges. Further, the cross subsidy surcharge applicable from procurement from wind power projects through third party PPAs is 50% of the approved cross subsidy surcharge. However, the overall open access charges remain relatively high in the state owing to the high level of cross subsidy surcharge approved by TNERC and non-exemption from levy of cross subsidy surcharge for procurement RE projects. Apart from these charges, the consumers will also have to bear the actual line losses (for wheeling and transmission) as specified in the respective orders by TNERC.

The average realization from HT industrial consumers for TANGEDCO as approved by TNERC in its tariff order dated December 12, 2014 is relatively high at about ₹ 8.2 per unit owing to high cross subsidization requirements and growing cost of supply. Further, given the delay in tariff rationalization, the tariffs for HT industrial consumers are likely to increase going forward. In such a scenario, power procurement through open access, including from wind power IPPs is expected to be viable for HT industrial customers. This is positive for both industrial customers as well as wind power IPPs, given that the viable tariff for procurement through open access by HT industrial consumers is expected to be higher than the preferential tariff approved by SERCs for wind power IPPs in Tamil Nadu, as well as the same (inclusive of open access & other applicable charges) is estimated to be at a discount to grid tariff for the industrial consumers.

Given the intermittent & infirm nature of wind energy generation (as the most of the generation happens normally during the six month period (April – September) in a year), banking facility is required for wind power IPPs which allow them to inject the surplus power into the grid and draw the same for consumption at a later date within the banking period allowed which is a typically 12 month period. This is particularly required for wind power producers adopting the third party sale route, as generation pattern is not likely to match with the consumption pattern. The continuation of the banking facility in Tamil Nadu remains critical for projects adopting sale through open access. This is in view of the fact that TANGEDCO and the state government recommended withdrawal of the banking provision in the past.

Structural Issues in Tamil Nadu

Weak Financial Profile of the State Distribution Utility

Source: CEA, ICRA research, PFC report on performance of state distribution utilities

- The gap between average cost of supply per unit and average realization per unit has remained high for TANGEDCO, i.e. increasing from ₹ 1.48 per unit in FY2009 to ₹ 2.06 per unit in FY2011 and subsequently lowering to ₹ 1.74 per unit in FY2013. For FY2014, the per unit gap increased to ₹ 1.8 per unit. The high revenue gap can be attributed to the non-revision of tariffs in line with the increase in cost of supply for a prolonged period of time. This has adversely affected the financial profile of the utility and in turn resulted in long delays in meeting the payment obligations to power generating companies in the past periods.
- In view of the weak financial position of TANGEDCO, the lenders agreed to implement a financial restructuring package (FRP) in March, 2013 as notified by the Government of India. Under the FRP scheme, short term liabilities amounting to about ₹ 127 billion were restructured with 50% of these liabilities amounting to ₹ 63.8 billion taken over by Government of Tamil Nadu (GoTN). The remaining 50% were restructured with a moratorium on principal repayments for three years till March 2015. The FRP scheme involved several conditions such as lowering the gap between cost of supply and tariff realization, reduction of T&D losses, fixing tariff on a regular basis and setting up of the State Electricity Distribution Responsibility Act.
- However, the implementation of these conditions remained poor with tariff orders being issued with a delay of 3 months for FY2014 and with a delay of 9 months for FY2015. Further, the tariff revision approved for FY2014 at 4% remained inadequate in relation to the cost of supply. Though the tariff revision approved for FY2015 was higher at 16%, given the delay in issuance of the order, the additional revenues from the revised tariff were inadequate to meet the revenue gap. As a result, the regulatory asset position for TANGEDCO is estimated to increase from ₹ 236.77 billion at the end of FY2013 to ₹ 281.36 billion at the end of FY2015. This is despite the amortization of the regulatory asset during FY2014 and FY2015 based on the share of short term liabilities to be taken over by Government of Tamil Nadu.
- The weak financial position of the state utility and consequent delays in realizing payments from the discom has forced the project developers to adopt the open access route for sale of power to industrial and commercial consumers under group captive mode, resulting in loss of revenues from such consumers to the state discom and also hampering the growth of renewable energy capacity in the state. The state of Tamil Nadu is also yet to participate in UDAY (Ujwal Discom Assurance Yojana) scheme as notified by Government of India in November 2015 for financial turnaround of the state owned distribution utilities.

Grid Evacuation Challenges

Wind power generation is inherently seasonal in nature and is heavily influenced by monsoon season in India, wherein the generation normally picks up with the onset of Southwest monsoon in May and the peak generation season normally lasts till August / September. The generation during this 4-5 month period accounts for about 80% of the aggregate yearly generation and apart from seasonality, wind power generation is also highly variable on daily basis. This poses significant challenge to grid stability and this is even more significant in case of Tamil Nadu, given that the wind power capacity in Tamil Nadu is more than 7600 MW and constitutes 30% of the overall power generation capacity in the state. This coupled with inadequate transmission infrastructure in the state results in congestion in the transmission network during the peak wind generation season and the available wind capacity is not fully utilized. This is also accentuated due to inadequate inter-state transmission infrastructure for exporting power from the high wind potential sites in Tamil Nadu to energy deficit regions in other states. This has led to backing down of wind farms and consequently sub-optimal utilization of the wind power capacity in Tamil Nadu.

In July 2012, Power Grid Corporation of India Ltd (PGCIL) released a comprehensive report on green energy transmission corridor, as Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (MNRE) and Forum of Indian Regulators (FOIR) entrusted PGCIL to do the study for the same, given the large scale capacity addition envisaged in RE and in turn, the increasing requirements of grid integration/inter-connection. Key highlights of the study by PGCIL are as follows:

- 41,000 MW of RE capacity may be added in the 12th Plan period through Wind (30,000 MW), Solar (9,500 MW) and Small Hydro (1,500 MW) projects, thus taking the total installed RE capacity to about 66,000 MW by end of FY2017. Further, envisaged RE capacity within RE rich states (namely Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan and small hydro in Himachal Pradesh & Karnataka) would be more than their proposed RPO targets in FY2017. Therefore, surplus RE generation would be required to be transferred to other non-RE rich states. The cost of the proposed scheme, which includes both intra-state and inter-state transmission system strengthening requirements, is estimated at ₹ 425 billion.

Cost of Proposed Grid Strengthening/Integration Scheme	(Amount in Rs. billion)
Intra-state System Transmission Strengthening	204
Inter-state System Transmission Strengthening	188
Energy Storage	20
Dynamic Reactive Compensation System	5.6
Establishment of Renewable Energy Management Centre	2.2
Real Time Monitoring System (including optic fibre links)	0.5
Total	425

Source: PGCIL report on Transmission network

- While the gestation period for implementation of transmission strengthening network may take about 24 to 30 months, in relation to gestation period of 6 to 12 months for RE project, efforts should be made for faster implementation of the schemes identified.
- State transmission utilities (STU) having the expertise in transmission system development including obtaining statutory clearances should take the lead. Also, given the increasing issues related to Right of Way in execution of the projects, multiple lines in one common section may not be possible in future and hence, there is a need to adopt pocket wise common last mile connectivity development approach. Support may also be provided by some expert agency in the form of consultancy with sound project management skill and technical expertise to STUs.
- Inter-state transmission strengthening across states may need a review in case of change in renewable capacity addition programme in certain pockets of RE rich states. In addition, any delays or revisions in the implementation programme of intra-state strengthening schemes can also impact requirement of the proposed inter-state transmission requirements.

In February 2014, Government of Tamil Nadu has approved a project for strengthening of the intra-state transmission infrastructure as part of the Green Energy Corridor project with an outlay of ₹1593 crore to be implemented by Tamil Nadu Transmission Corporation with funding support from the German lending agency, KfW. During Q1-FY2016, the board of PGCIL has approved investment plans for strengthening of inter-state transmission network as part of the Green Energy Corridor project under three parts (PART A, B and C) with cumulative funding outlay of ₹74.32 billion. These projects are scheduled to be completed within 36 months from the date of investment approval. In addition, PGCIL also plans to construct inter-state transmission capacity for solar power parks. Of the targeted solar power capacity of 100,000 MW by FY2022, GoI plans to achieve 20000 MW from 25 solar parks. PGCIL plans to build inter-state transmission system for connecting 9 of these solar parks with load centers at an estimated investment of ₹90 billion. Given the growing capacity addition expected in the wind and solar energy sector, it remains important for the utilities to take a proactive approach in strengthening the intra-state transmission network beyond the inter-connection point. However, the weakening financial position of state discoms, especially in high wind potential states like Tamil Nadu & Rajasthan and risk of delays in execution of planned investments continue to remain key areas of concern.

Investment Plans by IPP Segment in the Renewable Energy Sector

Wind

Operational wind based capacity in the IPP segment for major players stood at ~8000 MW as on March 31, 2016, constituting 30% of the overall wind based capacity, increasing from 26% as on March 31, 2015. Further, the IPPs have laid out large investment plans for the next three-four period, as seen from the capacity commitment provided by various IPPs during the Renewable Energy Global Investors Meet & Expo (RE-Invest 2015) organized by the Ministry of New & Renewable Energy (MNRE), Government of India in February, 2015. IPPs have committed cumulative wind power capacity addition of 45000 MW over the five-year period from 2015 to 2019.

Solar

Private companies, both domestic and foreign, have put in place significant investment plans in the domestic solar sector in the coming future driven by the ambitious plans of the Central Government towards expanding the solar installations in the country as part of JNNSM as well as various State Government initiatives. As part of the government-sponsored renewable energy investment summit, RE-INVEST, which concluded on February 17, 2015, about 140 companies committed towards setup of 217.3 GW of renewable energy power, which includes 166.2 GW of solar power during the period 2015-2019. While these are non-binding commitments, it does provide an indication on the extent of interest in the solar power sector in the country. Some of the key companies in the solar sector to make sizeable investment commitments are mentioned below.

OUR STRENGTHS

We believe the following are our competitive strengths:

a) We derive benefit from the fact that our existing operational facilities are located in Tamil Nadu, which has favourable geographical configuration for high wind energy generation

As on March, 2016, 28% of the country's total wind assets of 26,867 MW are located in Tamil Nadu. The state has some of the most potent wind passes in the country for high generation of wind power like Coimbatore, Dindigul, Tirunelveli, Tuticorin, Kanyakumari, Radhupuram, Muppandal, Rameshwaram etc. All of our windmill projects are located in the state of Tamil Nadu.

b) We have a source of assured revenues.

Our company has assured source of revenue as we have entered into power purchase agreement with SKM Animal Feeds and Foods (India) Private Ltd, Space Textiles Private Ltd and The KTM Jewellery Ltd to sell power generated from our power generating units at an agreed rate.

All our power generating units have been tied up with power purchase agreements as stated above for the sale of 100% power generated from the plants for term of three years from the date of said agreements and may be renewed for such additional period on mutual understanding.

c) We operate in the rapidly growing renewable energy sector, which benefits from increasing demand for electricity and regulatory support

We believe the renewable energy sector in India has strong development potential in light of the prevailing demand-supply gap and government policies and related legislation promoting the use of renewable energy resources, growing awareness of the importance of reducing dependency on fossil fuels for environmental and energy security reasons.

Electricity consumption in India is increasing rapidly, largely due to India's rapid population and economic growth. According to the report issued by ICRA the wind based capacity addition 3415 MW during FY2016, increasing by 48% over the capacity addition of 2308 MW achieved during FY2015. This growth in the wind sector was led both by the IPP segment with its focus on feed-in tariff based PPAs and by the non-IPP segment with the re-introduction of the accelerated depreciation benefit by GoI in the Union Budget presented in July 2014.

In respect of solar energy segment, share of solar based capacity within the renewable energy segment has improved considerably from almost negligible levels as on March 2010 to 15.8% as on March 2016. The growth has been driven by favorable policy support both by the GoI as well as improving regulatory framework by Central Electricity

Regulatory Commission (CERC) and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions (SERCs).

To help meet the growing demand for electricity and cope with continuing supply deficits, the GoI has put in place policies to encourage private sector investment in the creation of additional power generation capacity and, in particular, the development of the renewable energy sector, such as higher tariffs and tax benefits. We believe that the confluence of factors driving the growth in demand for electricity in India as well as the GoI's policies aimed at incentivizing the development of the renewable energy sector will provide significant growth opportunities in the Indian wind energy and biomass (including co-generation) power sectors.

d) We have a flexible business model that is scalable and sustainable and that enables us to deliver predictable growth from a diversified and balanced portfolio of projects

Our business model is based on the ability to expand our business through setting up as well as acquisition of a portfolio of renewable energy power plants. We believe our business model is adaptable to changing environmental and financial conditions, which enables us to deploy our capital efficiently and effectively. As part of this approach, we believe the following are key factors in the expansion of our generation capacity:

Scalability: Our development plans focus on the expansion of our generation capacity and development portfolio to enhance shareholder value by incremental additions to our base of operating projects while capitalizing on our strengths and experience from our existing businesses for greater profitability. In the past we have acquired our power generation equipment to grow inorganically and we may continue to do so in the future.

Sustainability: We believe that the demand for electricity generated by independent power producers in India will be sustainable for the foreseeable future. While electricity demand will continue to increase, the supply of electricity from conventional energy sources will not be able to meet expected demand, leading to continuing power deficits in the foreseeable future. Due to the availability of renewable energy resources in India and the GoI's explicit support for the renewable energy sector, we believe that renewable energy will play an increasingly significant role in the overall power generation sector and demand for electricity from renewable energy sources will continue to grow.

Predictability: We are able to estimate our costs to maintain our projects with some degree of certainty due to their relatively small size as compared generally to conventional energy plants.

OUR STRATEGIES

Our objectives are to enhance our position as a leading independent renewable energy producer in India and executing the following strategies.

a) Enhancement of capacities

Currently, we own windmills to generate 6 MW power and 1 MW of Solar power. Our vision has always been to be a large player in this field and we have been raising our capacities every year. Our current project to set up a 0.80 MW windfarm in Tamil Nadu is an indication of our strategy to expand our business.

Our Company also intends to increase its generating capacity by acquiring renewable energy assets in the market, including the assets owned by third parties which are not focused on power generation as a principal business, improve their performance through better maintenance and increasing availability of Wind Electricity Generators thereby increasing our market share. Our Company also intends to locate the new plants close to either demand centres, in order to balance the need to generate at the lowest cost with the ability to bring electricity to market effectively.

b) Improve profitability by enhancing efficiency

We intend to continue to improve the efficiency of our existing wind energy plants and implement best practices throughout our business in order to drive profitability growth. In particular, we plan to focus on achieving the following:

- Continue to focus on low cost power generation, optimization of capacity utilization and technology upgradation;
- To focus on system upgradation, loss reduction, theft control, consumer service orientation, quality power supply

Competition

India is facing a power deficit scenario where demand for electricity outstrips its supply. Currently in the FY 2016 the peak demand deficit is at 3.2%, while average deficit is at 2.1%. Because of this demand supply gap signifying the potential of power generation in general and green power in particular, we feel that there is space for all players and negates the scope of competition.

Technology and process

Wind Power Generation Process

Wind rotates wind electric generator blades, in the same way in which it does for small mill firkin. In case of firkin, the wind passes through and energy does not get utilized, but in case of the wind turbine the passing through wind does lot of work. With the help of the energy of the wind, wind turbine rotates the generator and produces the electricity. This production of the electricity is mainly dependent on the velocity of the wind. Only higher wind velocity makes the wind energy project viable. The potential of generation of the power increases with the velocity of the wind i.e. by doubling the velocity of the wind, the potential of the power in wind increases by eight times.

The state of art technology of wind turbine generator converts the kinetic energy of the wind into mechanical energy. The kinetic energy of wind is transferred though blades of wind generator into mechanical energy and drives the shaft of the generator. This mechanism transfers the rotary movement to the generator through gears and mechanical energy is converted into the electrical energy. The electrical energy is then supplied into the grid after stepping-up to a required electrical voltage.

The wind turbine system consisting of blades, shafts, gears and generator, is controlled by the sophisticated computer controlled system installed at the base of the tower, which also have sensors to sense the wind speed and its directions to switch on and off the wind turbine generator.

Wind Electric Generator

The WEG manufacturers have their own design of Wind Turbine. In general, the wind machine consists of following major components:

- a) Tower (Lattice or Tubular)
- b) Nacelle
- c) Rotor Blades
- d) Gear Box & Transmission System
- e) Generator / Converter
- f) Yawing System
- g) Microprocessor based Control Panel
- h) Power & Grid System
- i) Breaking / Control System

The wind turbines are available in a wide range from 225 KW capacity to large machines of 2.1 MW capacities. The Wind Electric Generator is a simple machine which converts the mechanical energy received from wind to electrical energy. Here the wind speed is the prime mover, which makes the rotor blades to rotate and converts the kinetic energy of the wind into mechanical energy. The mechanical energy developed by the rotor is transferred to the generator coupled to the high-speed shaft. Thus the generator is made to rotate at high speeds. Through this rotation the generator converts the kinetic energy into the electrical energy. This electrical energy produced from the Wind Electric Generator is then transferred to the nearest grid, sub-stations through the transformers which step-up the electrical voltage to minimize the transmission losses in transmission system. The components of wind turbines are designed to last for 20 years. The actual lifetime of a wind turbine depends both on the quality of the turbine and the local climatic conditions and maintenance.

Wind Mill Specifications/Details

Wind energy is renewable in nature and is generated through non-conventional methods. Wind energy is considered as a viable option for generation of power as the technology for electricity generation from wind has been developed fully for smooth and trouble free operation as well for its economic viability.

Wind Farm layout

Generally, wind farms are established by locating WEGs in rows perpendicular to the predominant wind direction with spacing of $5D$ between WEGs and each of such rows are installed with a spacing of $7D$ between them, D being the diameter of the rotor area. This is required to avoid Wake Effect from the WEGs installed in front along the wind direction. In the design of wind farm layout, wind rose pattern plays an important role. The best wind rose pattern for the wind farm is unidirectional wind. In the proposed site, the predominant wind direction is southwest during the main wind season i.e April to September. Single row layout will have the best Array efficiency*.

However, the limitation in land availability makes it difficult to achieve such a formulation for a large wind farm. A wind farm layout for 9MW will depend on the selection of the WEGs make and size. The WEGs shall be located facing the predominant wind direction to capture maximum wind potential at the site. The spacing adopted will result in reduction of the wake effects and will be finalized during micro-sitting exercise at site depending on the site conditions and shape of the land.

 Array efficiency is the actual output from cluster of turbines compared with that output which would be obtained without any interference. The array efficiency depends on spacing between turbines and nature of wind regime.*

Power Generation Process from a Solar Photo Voltaic Power Plant

1. Photovoltaics (PV) is the nomenclature for the method of converting solar energy into direct current electricity using semiconducting materials that exhibit the photovoltaic effect, a phenomenon commonly studied in physics, photochemistry and electrochemistry. A photovoltaic system employs solar panels composed of a number of solar cells to supply usable solar power. The process is both physical and chemical in nature, as the first step involves the photoelectric effect from which second electrochemical process take place involving crystallized atoms being ionized in a series, generating an electric current.
2. Power generation from solar PV has long been seen as a clean sustainable energy technology which draws upon the planet's most plentiful and widely distributed renewable energy source – the sun. The direct conversion of sunlight to electricity occurs without any moving parts or environmental emissions during operation.
3. Solar cells produce direct current electricity from sun light which can be used to power equipment or to recharge a battery. The first practical application of photovoltaics was to power orbiting satellites and other spacecraft, but today the majority of photovoltaic modules are used for grid connected power generation. In this case, an inverter is required to convert the DC to AC. There is a smaller market for off-grid power for remote dwellings, boats, recreational vehicles, electric cars, roadside emergency telephones, remote sensing, and cathodic protection of pipelines
4. Photovoltaic power generation employs solar panels composed of a number of solar cells containing a photovoltaic material. Materials presently used for photovoltaics include monocrystalline silicon, polycrystalline silicon, amorphous silicon, cadmium telluride, and copper indium gallium selenide/sulfide. Copper solar cables connect modules (module cable), arrays (array cable), and sub-fields. Because of the growing demand for renewable energy sources, the manufacturing of solar cells and photovoltaic arrays has advanced considerably in recent years
5. A photovoltaic power station, also known as a solar park, is a large-scale photovoltaic system (PV system) designed for the supply of merchant power into the electricity grid. They are differentiated from most building-mounted and other decentralised solar power applications because they supply power at the utility level, rather than to a local user or users. They are sometimes also referred to as solar farms or solar ranches, especially when sited in agricultural areas. The generic expression utility-scale solar is sometimes used to describe this type of project.

Important Components In Solar Photovoltaic Power Station Are As Follows:

1. Solar Panel Or Solar Module.
2. Solar Inverter
3. Dc And Ac Cables
4. Stepup Transformer
5. Panel Mounting Structure
6. String Monitoring Box [Smb]
7. SCADA
8. Transmission Line

STEP 1: Solar panel or Module converts Suns radiation to DC power.

STEP 2: Inverter converts DC power to AC power.

STEP 3: DC and AC power generated are transmitted via DC and AC Cables.

STEP 4: Power thus converted to AC is 440 V. It is stepped up to 33 KV using 440V/ 33 kV stepup Transformer.

STEP 5: Power thus stepped up to 33 KV is then transmitted to nearest Substation and supplied to utility.

INTRODUCTION

“Electricity” is a concurrent list subject at Entry 38 in List III of the seventh Schedule of the Constitution of India, this means that both the Central government and state governments are empowered to establish policy and laws for electricity sector. The Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Government of India (“MNRE”), previously known as the Ministry of Non-Conventional Energy Sources, is the nodal agency of the Government of India for all matters relating to non-conventional or renewable energy, including wind and solar energy. The wind power program in India was initiated in 1983-84. In 1981, the Commission on Alternative Sources of Energy (“CASE”) was constituted and was charged with the responsibility of formulating policies in respect of renewable or nonconventional sources of energy and their implementation, developing and implementing programmes for development of new and renewable energy apart from coordinating and intensifying research and development in the sector. In 1982, the Department of Non-Conventional Energy Sources (“DNES”) was created under the Ministry of Energy, Government of India for promoting activities relating to development, trial and induction of variety of renewable energy technologies for use in different sectors. In 1992, the MNRE started functioning as a separate Ministry of the Government of India to develop all areas of renewable energy. Thereafter, MNRE has issued various policy guidelines to all the states with a view to promote commercial development and private investment in this sector. The guidelines pertain to areas such as preparation of detailed project reports, micro-sitting, selection of wind turbine equipment, operation and maintenance and performance evaluation. Various states in India have introduced renewable energy policies following the MNRE’s Guidelines.

Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Government of India:

The mandate of the MNRE includes research, development, commercialization and deployment of renewable energy systems and devices for various applications in rural, urban, industrial and commercial uses. In order to ensure quality of wind farm projects and equipment, the MNRE introduced the MNRE Guidelines. The MNRE Guidelines were superseded by the revised guidelines issued on June 13, 1996, and have been periodically updated since. The MNRE Guidelines, inter alia, make provision for proper planning, installation at specific approved sites, selection of quality equipment, implementation and performance monitoring of wind power projects. The MNRE Guidelines were made mandatory through revised guidelines issued on May 24, 1999. In 1987, MNRE established the Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency Limited (“IREDA”), a financial institution under the administrative control of the MNRE to complement the role of MNRE. IREDA is involved in extending financial assistance and related services to promote deployment of renewable energy systems in India. In addition, MNRE has established the The National Institute of Wind Energy (“NIWE”) (Formerly Known as Centre for Wind Energy Technology (“C-WET”)) at Chennai, India, which is the major specialized technical institution, performing inter alia, functions such as, development of components and sub-systems, testing of WTGs, certification of wind turbines and identifying resource rich regions of India.

Strategic Plan for New and Renewable Energy Sector for the Period 2011-17 (“Strategic Plan”)

The Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (“MNRE”) has prepared this Strategic Plan for the period 2011-17 (Covering the last year of the 11th plan and the next 5 years period of the 12th plan) and perspective till 2022, which seeks to articulate the goals of the Ministry, the strategy to be adopted by it during this period to achieve these goals and the corresponding action plan. MNRE’s Strategic Plan inter-alia sets out as its key components:

- Vision, Mission and Objectives to be achieved by the end of the year 2022
- Strategy for promoting the sector and achieving desired outcomes
- Implementation plan outlining the timelines, resources required and tools for tracking and measuring success.

The vision of MNRE is to upscale and mainstream the use of new and renewable energy sources in furtherance of the national aim of energy security and energy independence, with attendant positive impact on local, national and global environment. One of the key objectives of the MNRE is promotion of grid-interactive renewable power generation projects.

The Strategic Plan has also inter-alia provided a sector specific implementation plan. For the purposes of the Wind Power sector, the implementation plan includes inter-alia the following activities, which are ongoing:

- Wind Resource Assessment: Updating/ expansion of existing data base and off-shore resource assessment.
- Regular interaction with all stakeholders to periodically address policy, regulatory, evacuation transmission matters for wind power.
- Regular interaction with States to periodically address land acquisition, E&F clearance and State policy issues.

In terms of the Strategic Plan, the MNRE is to continue to work closely with Central and State Regulatory Agencies to promote facilitative framework for promotion of renewable energy technologies which includes a wide array of issues.

Guidelines for Wind Power Projects (“Wind Power Guidelines”)

To ensure quality of wind farm projects and equipment, MNRE introduced the “Guidelines for Wind Power Projects”. The Wind Power Guidelines were issued for the benefit of inter-alia the erstwhile State Electricity Boards, State Nodal Agencies, manufacturers, and developers of the wind farms and end-users of energy to ensure proper and orderly growth of the wind power sector. These Wind Power Guidelines have been reviewed and amended from time to time. The Wind Power Guidelines, inter-alia, provides for proper planning, selection of quality equipment and implementation, performance and monitoring of wind power projects. The erstwhile State Electricity Boards and State Nodal Agencies are responsible for clearance of wind power projects and issue of No Objection Certificates subject to certain conditions laid down in these Wind Power Guidelines which inter-alia includes type approval and quality system certification of wind turbines and other equipment used. The Wind Power Guidelines were amended to inter-alia allow manufacturers of wind turbines to provide self certification of the quality and performance of their equipment. In the event that their machines are found not to perform as per the performance certified by them, such manufacturers would be penalized. This facility of self certification was amended to inter-alia extend it to the machines which are already under testing or certification by the erstwhile Centre for Wind Energy Technology (“C-WET”) and any other machines that may be offered and are taken up for testing and certification for the period stated therein. Under these Wind Power Guidelines, the erstwhile C-WET formulated a Type Approval Provisional Scheme – 2000 (“TAPS-2000”) which covers testing/certification of wind turbines. This TAPS-2000 scheme has further been reviewed and amended from time to time.

Wind and Solar power generation under The Electricity Act, 2003 (“Electricity Act”)

Under the Electricity Act 2003, which repealed all the earlier enactments pertaining to this sector, the activity of generating power does not require any license or permission. Persons engaged in the generation of electricity from wind and solar power are required to register the project being undertaken with the relevant state nodal agency and obtain permission for inter-grid connectivity from the utility. The electricity generated from the wind and solar power project can be used for captive consumption, sale to utilities or for transaction under open access as per 96 prevailing state policy and regulatory orders, if any. Various Indian state commissions have mandated a certain percentage of energy procurement from renewable energy sources, and have also set tariffs for such procurement by various distribution companies.

The tariffs are based on relevant tariff orders/regulations passed by different regulatory commissions for specific states. Charges for captive users and sales to third party consumers, along with cross subsidy surcharge are at times independent of the tariff orders/regulations passed by the commission for specific technology. In this regard, the rates for captive/third party sales may change from year to year, or may be fixed (if specified in the purchase contract for the wind energy generator). Further, the Electricity Act, 2003 also mandates that all regulatory commissions should procure certain percentage of power generation from renewable energy sources by all distribution companies. As far as the tariff and wheeling charges are concerned, it is stipulated that they should be decided by respective regulatory commissions as provided under the Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998, as amended (the “ERC Act”).

The CERC has introduced the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions for Tariff Determination from Renewable Energy Sources) Regulations, 2009, as amended, (the “Tariff Regulations”) which are applicable in all cases where the CERC determines tariff for a generating station or a unit thereof under Section 62 read with Section 79 of the ERC Act. The regulations set out (a) the eligibility criteria for these regulations to be applicable to certain wind power projects having a specified wind power density and using new WTGs, and (b) the manner in which the tariff applicable to power projects may be evaluated, for example, the applicability of these regulations is subject to the wind power project, among other criteria. Chapter 3 of the Tariff Regulations specify the technology-specific parameters for projects involving wind energy. In certain cases, the tariff may be assessed on a case-to-case basis.

Electricity Rules, 2005

In order to develop the electricity Industry and protect consumers, “Ministry of Power” has notified, Electricity Act and rules thereunder. To enable surplus power generation and to loosen the tight grip of state electricity boards, the Ministry of Power, Government of India has issued these rules notifying “Group Captive Power Consumption Scheme”.

Salient features of this Scheme are:

- 1) Captive generating plant was defined as one in which captive consumers
 - (a) hold a minimum of 26% of the ownership.
 - (b) consume not less than 51% of the aggregate generation computed on an annual basis
- 2) If the generating plant was set up by a registered cooperative society the consumers collectively have to consume not less than 51% of the aggregate generation implying that in case of any other form of entity, this obligation is to be in proportion to the ownership rights.
- 3) The tariff determined by CERC for generating companies shall not be subject to re-determination by the state commission.
- 4) The licenses to trade electricity for interstate operations is issued by the Central Commissioner.

As such, electricity generation companies can freely sell electricity to the captive consumers with little intervention from state electricity boards.

The National Tariff Policy, 2006 (“National Tariff Policy”)

The Electricity Act inter-alia empowers the Central Government to formulate the National Tariff Policy and also inter-alia requires that the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission and State Electricity Regulatory Commissions are guided by the tariff policy in discharging their functions. Accordingly, the Ministry of Power has formulated the National Tariff Policy which lays down the following objectives:

- Ensuring availability of electricity to consumers at reasonable and competitive rates;

- Ensuring financial viability of the sector and attracting investments;
- Promoting transparency, consistency and predictability in regulatory approaches across jurisdictions and minimizing perception of regulatory risks;
- Promoting competition, efficiency in operations and improvement in quality of supply.

The National Tariff Policy has inter-alia laid emphasis on the importance of providing adequate return on investment in the power sector. Accordingly, the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (“CERC”) in consultation with the Central Electricity Authority would be required to formulate operating norms for generation and transmission and tariff structures on the basis of the aforesaid objectives embodied in the National Tariff Policy. The State Electricity Regulatory Commissions are further required to adopt such norms formulated by the CERC in consultation with the CEA. The National Tariff Policy also mandates that in terms of the Electricity Act, the Appropriate Commission shall specify the minimum percentage for purchase of energy produced from non-conventional energy sources.

The Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998

The Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998 provides for the establishment of a Central Electricity Regulatory Commission and State electricity Regulatory Commissions, rationalization of electricity tariff, transparent policies regarding subsidies, promotion of efficient and environmentally benign policies and matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. The main object of act is to solve the problems that impede India's power sector to respond to the rapidly growing demand for energy brought about by economic liberalisation.

G.O.Ms.No.58 Energy (A1) Department dt. 17.3.1999 of Tamil Nadu

Consequent to the enactment of Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998; the government of Tamil Nadu has established the Tamil Nadu State Electricity Regulatory Commission for rationalisation of electricity tariff, transparent policies regarding subsidies, promotion of efficient and environmentally benign policies and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. In addition the TNERC has powers and duties as stated in the Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998.

Indian Electricity Grid Code (“IEGC”)

The Indian Electricity Grid Code (IEGC) is a regulation made by the Central Commission in exercise of powers under Section 79 read with Section 178 of the Act. The IEGC also lays down the rules, guidelines and standards to be followed by various persons and participants in the system to plan, develop, maintain and operate the power system, in the most secure, reliable, economic and efficient manner, while facilitating healthy competition in the generation and supply of electricity. The main objective is to bring together a single set of technical and commercial rules, encompassing all the Utilities connected to/or using the inter-State transmission system (ISTS)

Tamil Nadu Electricity Grid Code (“TNEGC”)

The TNERC by exercising its powers under section 86(1) of the Electricity Act, 2003 has specified the "Tamil Nadu Electricity Grid Code"(TNEGC). The Grid standards specified under the TNEGC shall be consistent with the "Indian Electricity Grid Code"(IEGC). The code defines main functions connected with the network(viz., generation, transmission, distribution and supply) and also lays down the rules, guidelines and standards to be followed by various players(utilities and participants) in the system to plan, develop, expand, maintain and operate the power system in the most efficient, reliable, safer and economic manner. This grid code is consistent with the Indian Electricity Grid Code and national Grid Standards formulated by Central electricity authority.

Tamil Nadu Energy Development Agency

TEDA is a government undertaking established as a society under the Societies Registration Act in 1985 with the onus of promoting and proliferating the New and Renewable energy sources in Tamil Nadu. It also acts as the Nodal agency for Renewable energy related interests in the state. TEDA works towards creating awareness and migrating the state from using fossil fuels to renewable energy.

Comprehensive Tariff Order no.3 of 2016 on Wind Energy by TNERC on 31-03-2016

TNERC has issued a comprehensive tariff order for electricity generated by wind energy projects in Tamil Nadu considering various normative tariff assumptions like tariff period, capital cost per megawatt, O&M cost, depreciation, PLF, ROE etc. The tariff announced for wind energy projects is ₹4.16/Unit and ₹3.70/Unit*(*adjusted for higher depreciation benefit).
