■ NSE Expected to File Draft Papers for IPO Next Week

NEW DELHI The National Stock Exchange (NSE) is likely to file draft papers with Sebi next week for its much-awaited IPO, expected to be one of the biggest in recent times. The initial public offer, which has been in the works for quite sometime, would see existing shareholders offloading shares through the OFS route.

Putting speculations to rest, NSE announced in June this year its plans to get listed and that IPO papers would be filed by January 2017.

An NSE official said the exchange is likely to submit the draft red herring prospectus (DRHP) for the IPO early next week.
