

Sharing your password could mean sharing your finances.

Share your ideas, share your music, share your photographs, but don't share your password. Revealing your trading password to anyone is an open invitation to misuse.

Trades may be made on your behalf without your knowledge. And when you do get to know about it, it may be too late.

Do remember to change your password periodically, especially if you access your account from cyber cafes or public computers.

@NSEIndia

www.nseindia.com

For more details, log onto www.nseindia.com or contact your SEBI registered broker

Disclaimer: Investment in securities market are subject to market risks, read all the related documents carefully before investing. Client should read the Risk Disclosure Document issued by SEBI and relevant Exchanges and their terms & conditions on www.nseindia.com