

EMPLOYMENT UNDER MGNREGA

Demand for work declines in FY23

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, April 27

IN AN INDICATION that the labour market is now recovering post the pandemic as economic activities have gained momentum, the number of people who availed employment under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) declined by 16.9% in 2022-23 from year ago. The data indicates that employment availed under the flagship scheme has fallen to levels lower than even FY21, when the pandemic was still underway.

According to official data, about 102.5 million people demanded work under the scheme in FY23 as against 123.4 million in FY24. Meanwhile, the number of people who availed work under the scheme also declined by 17.4% to 87.6 million in FY23 as against 106.1 million in FY22. In FY21, the number of people who demand and availed employment under the scheme was even higher at 133.1 million and 11.9 million respectively.

The average number of households that completed 100 days of work also fell substantially from 5.9 million last fiscal to 3.6 million in FY22.

Experts believe that labour market conditions have shown some improvement with many workers returning to urban centres as the pandemic has eased and activities such as construction have picked up.

"With the end of rabi sowing, the demand for work under Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS) recorded a slight uptick in March month-on-month (m-o-m). They-o-y growth rate remains in negative territory, indicating improved rural labour market conditions as compared with a year ago," said the article on State of the Economy in the Reserve Bank of India's monthly bulletin for April 2023.

To protect rural labourers from the hardships of higher inflation, the daily wages under MGNREGS have been revised by the central government by 2-10% (₹7-26/day) with effect from April 1, 2023, it further said.

Indus Towers on Vi: Comfortable with current monthly collections

JATIN GROVER
New Delhi, April 27

EVEN AS INDUS TOWERS is pushing Vodafone Idea to pay its past dues, the towers company management on Thursday said as far as the telecom operator is clearing its monthly bills they are comfortable with it.

Vodafone Idea is among Indus Towers' key customer and owes the tower company over ₹7,000 crore, according to industry estimates. While not naming the customer, the towers company made a provision for doubtful debts worth ₹5,453.3 crore till March end pertaining to Vodafone Idea.

For Indus Towers, clearance of the past dues by Vodafone Idea as well as continuity in the monthly payments going forward is critical to generate sufficient cash flows, analysts said.

"There have been some positive developments during the quarter (like) the government decided to convert interest dues (of Vodafone Idea) into equity. Given the fact that we have made collections, we are closely watching the situation and engaging with the customer...and expedite the collections for our past receivables," said Prachur Sah, managing director and chief executive officer of Indus Towers during the post-earnings call.

Owing to delay in fundraise, Vodafone Idea could not materialise its earlier committed payment plan wherein it agreed to repay part of the monthly billing till December 2022 and the remaining dues till December 2022 between January and July 2023. The company, however, has been paying an amount equivalent to monthly billing from January 2023, Indus Towers said.

"We have seen improvement certainly from what we were collecting in the past (from Vodafone Idea) and pretty much we are in the range of 90-100% collection in this quarter," said Vikas Poddar, chief financial officer of Indus Towers. Further, there have not been any discussions on the new payment plan related to Vodafone Idea's past dues, Poddar added.

Owing to improvement in collections, Indus Towers' operating free cash flows during the January-March quarter improved to ₹1,155 crore from a negative cash flow of ₹621 crore in the preceding quarter.

Despite the improvement in the cash flows, the company said it would see the collections trend for some more time and the working capital conditions before declaring any dividends for the shareholders.

"In the working capital evaluation, there is a bit of stress that we see. We really need to see the free cash flow generation for some more to be comfortable with the situation of working capital," Poddar said, adding the company really needs to be confident for some more quarters before coming out with any dividend plans.

Indus Towers' revenue from operations fell marginally quarter-on-quarter (QoQ) to ₹6,752.9 crore. The company, however, reported a net profit of ₹1,399.1 crore during the January-March quarter largely owing to a fall in provision for doubtful debts for Vodafone Idea.

Besides the financial challenges, Indus Towers continue to see a strong business opportunity from the rollout of 5G in the country, especially in the form of increased loading of equipments on the sites, demand for leaner sites, and increased data capacity from 5G.

Demographic profile of India an opportunity

SURABHI
New Delhi, April 27

INDIA CROSSING CHINA in population is an opportunity because it will create a large domestic market thanks to the young people who are ready to offer their services and labour to the world, said Manish Sabharwal, vice chairman, TeamLease Services.

He also said that economic growth upwards of 7% combined with structural reforms is the best way to reduce our underemployment and raise wages.

In an interview to FE, he, however, stressed that economic growth is important but the shape of the economy matters almost as much as size. "The last decade globally has shown that the best way to reduce poverty is not fiscal or monetary policy but creating high productivity enterprises that create high paying jobs," he said.

His comments come in the backdrop of the latest report by United Nations Population Fund, which said that India is set to become the most populous country by overtaking China by mid-2023.

"Population size is not good

"Population size is not good or bad per se; what matters is whether your people are productive."

or bad per se; what matters is whether your people are productive," Sabharwal said, adding that at one level India's population growth rates slowed more organically because we were a democracy and let economic growth, women's empowerment and education take their natural course. "China enforced a one child policy that means it will lose workers equal to France's population in the next few years," he pointed out.
