

Aparajita Bill: Probe in 21 days, trial in 30

ARCHIS MOHAN
New Delhi, 4 September

Facing protests in West Bengal and criticism from the Supreme Court over the rape and murder of a junior doctor in Kolkata's RG Kar Medical College and Hospital on August 9, the Mamata Banerjee-led state government has over the past few weeks tried to put the onus of arresting the perpetrators of the crime and ensuring justice is meted out to them expeditiously on the Centre.

As it braved protests from the civil society, doctors, the BJP, the Congress, and the Left parties in Bengal in the wake of the rape and murder of the 31-year-old doctor, the Trinamool Congress government had initially sought to project that it welcomed the handing over of the probe to the Central Bureau of Investigation. On Tuesday, in another instance of political manoeuvring, the state government introduced the Aparajita Women and Child (West Bengal Criminal Laws Amendment) Bill, 2024, in the state Assembly, which the House passed unanimously.

The Bill has enhanced punishment for rape, gangrape, rape that leads to the death of the victim or leaves her in a vegetative state. It has also proposed that the investigation into such a crime be concluded within 21 days of lodging of the FIR instead of two months, and trial completed within 30 days of the filing of the charge-sheet instead of 60 days.

It proposes setting up of district-level "Aparajita" special task forces under the Superintendent of Police (SP) to probe crimes against women and children, with a woman police officer leading the investigation. The duration of investigation can be extended from 21 days to another 15 days by an officer not below the rank of an SP after recording the reasons in writing in the case diary.

The Bill has sought to amend the relevant sections of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (Pocso) Act "in their application" to West Bengal "to enhance punishment" and "to constitute the framework" for "expeditious investigation and trial of the heinous act of violence against women and children".

In the Assembly, Mamata asked Leader of the Opposition Suvenud Adhikari to get Governor C V Ananda Bose to sign the Bill, and send it for Presidential assent.

Criminal laws fall under the Concurrent List of the Constitution. According to Article 254 (2) of the Constitution, a law made by a state legislature with respect to matters in the Concurrent List is void if it contradicts an earlier law made by Parliament, but it can prevail in that state if it receives the assent of the President.

The protests, including midnight candlelight marches, have been reminiscent of the protests in the wake of the 2012 gang rape and murder of 'Nirbhaya' in New Delhi. The protests had forced the then Congress-led UPA government to set up Justice J S Verma Committee, which had recommended amendments to the criminal law to provide for enhanced punishment and quicker trials in cases of sexual assault against women.

According to Kolkata-based political analyst Shikha Mukerjee, the urban electorate is annoyed with Mamata and her government. "But the protests by the civil society, including Pujya committees and football clubs, have until now remained non-political," she said.

KEY AMENDMENTS

Proposed by Aparajita Bill to BNS and BNSS

■ Completion of investigation of rape cases within 21 days of lodging an FIR, against 2 months under BNSS

■ Trial in rape cases to be completed within 30 days instead of 2 months under BNSS

■ Setting up of district-level Aparajita special task forces under Superintendent of Police, with a woman officer leading the probe

■ Setting up of special courts for fast-track trial of rape cases

■ Imprisonment of 3 to 5 years for disclosing victim's identity, also for printing/publishing court proceedings without permission

■ 6 months imprisonment for police, health officials for tampering with evidence and also for any person withholding information from STF

The Nirbhaya Act – specified life imprisonment for offenders, and death penalty if the victim dies or is left in a vegetative state

■ Expanded the scope of rape to include penetration of the mouth, anus, urethra or vagina with the penis or any other object without consent

■ Defined crimes of stalking and voyeurism and specified punishment for these crimes

■ Specified punishment for police and hospital authorities for dereliction of duty

India for development, not expansionism: PM in Brunei

India and Brunei elevated their ties to 'enhanced partnership' as PM Modi held wide-ranging talks with Sultan Hassanal Bolkiah covering defence, trade, and investment

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Bandar Seri Begawan, 4 September

Prime Minister Narendra Modi Wednesday said India supports a "policy of development, and not expansionism", a remark that appeared directed at China as he wrapped up a bilateral visit to Brunei, where the two countries also reiterated their commitment to "freedom of navigation" in the region.

India and Brunei elevated their ties to "enhanced partnership" as Prime Minister Modi held wide-ranging talks with Sultan Hassanal Bolkiah covering defence, trade, and investment.

"We support the policy of development, and not expansionism," Prime Minister Modi said at a banquet hosted by Sultan Bolkiah, without naming any country.

China is engaged in hotly contested territorial disputes in the South China Sea (SCS) and the East China Sea (ECS). China claims most of the South China Sea, while the Philippines, Malaysia, Vietnam, Brunei and Taiwan have counterclaims.

"We agree that a Code of Conduct should be finalised in this region," Modi said, adding that India has always given priority to Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) Centrality and will continue to do so.

"We support freedom of navigation and overflight under international laws like United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS)," said Modi, the first Indian Prime Minister to travel to Brunei on a bilateral visit.

'J&K statehood snatched to help two billionaires'

Kick-starting Congress' campaign in poll-bound Jammu and Kashmir (J&K), party leader Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday alleged that the Bharatiya Janta Party (BJP)-led central government has scrapped the J&K's statehood to "snatch" the rights and resources of the locals and to benefit outsiders, especially the country's top "two billionaires" by giving them contracts.

Gandhi, while addressing a rally in Ramban district's Banihal constituency, claimed that the Congress-National Conference alliance is set to form the government in J&K, which will "pressurise" the Centre to restore the UT's statehood and ensure that the resources are used for the welfare of local population.

The Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha also assured that the next state government will ensure that state's contracts are given to locals, government vacancies are filled and wages are increased.

"Joblessness in J&K is worse than what it is across the country," Gandhi said, accusing Modi of indulging in politics of optics but doing little to solve the unemployment crisis.

It was his first public meeting for the J&K polls. In his speech, Gandhi said the Opposition INDIA block has shaken Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "confidence", "denting" him "psychologically".

CONG, AAP EXPLORE 'WIN-WIN' DEAL

The Congress on Wednesday said an alliance with the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) for the Haryana Assembly polls is only possible in a "win-win" situation for both parties in which case, the AAP would be given seats in "single digit". The CPI(M) and the Samajwadi Party have also put forward a proposal. Meanwhile, former deputy chief minister Dushyant Chautala will contest from Uchana according to JJP-ASP's first list of candidates.
