

Haldiram's in talks to buy rival snack maker Prataap

M SRIRAM
Mumbai, January 18

SNACKS MAKER HALDIRAM'S is in talks to acquire a majority stake in listed rival Prataap Snacks, which is valued at $350 million, to expand its presence in the potato chip market, two people with direct knowledge of the matter said.

Prataap Snacks shares jumped about 13% to their highest levels since 2018 after the news, before paring some gains to close 9.7% higher.

The talks are at an early stage and a valuation has not been discussed, though it could be at a premium to Prataap's stock price. Haldiram's is considering a majority stake of at least 51%, but a final number has not been decided, said the sources, who declined to be named as the discussions are confidential.

Prataap is best known for its Yellow Diamond brand of chips and competes with Pepsi's Lay's brand and other snack-makers in a market where local, unorganised food sellers still domi-

DEAL DETAILS

- Prataap Snacks is valued at $350 million
- Deal valuation not discussed, may be at a premium to Prataap stock price

nate the fried chips segment.

Venture capital firm Peak XV Partners, formerly Sequoia Capital India, owns around 47% of Prataap Snacks and is looking to fully exit its stake in Prataap, the sources added.

Haldiram's CEO Krishan Kumar Chutani, Prataap CEO Amit Kumat, and Peak XV all declined to comment.

Prataap made its stock market debut in 2017 and had annual revenues of around $200 million last year. It says it sells over 12 million packets of its salty snacks daily, which are priced as low as ₹5.

However, unlisted Haldiram's, a family-run business founded in 1937, is a much larger manufacturer of packaged snacks with revenue of over $1 billion and runs 150 restaurants across the country. Last year, Reuters reported the company was seeking a $10 billion valuation in deal talks with conglomerate Tata group and other strategic investors it wanted to bring on board, but the talks didn't materialise over valuation concerns.

"A deal (with Prataap) will help Haldiram's tap the potato chips segment. Consumers often prefer western flavoured snacks over local ones," said one of the sources.

Prataap has 14 manufacturing plants across nine Indian states. Though smaller unorganised companies dominate India's fried snacks landscape, branded products have boomed in recent years as consumers become health conscious and have higher disposable incomes to spend on packaged goods.

Moneycontrol reported on December 19 that Prataap's founders and Peak XV were looking to sell a stake to investors and conglomerates, but did not name buyers.

Local snack makers like Prataap have struggled with inflationary pressures and rising competition in India.

Smartphone shipments fall 2% to 148.6 mn

JATIN GROVER
New Delhi, January 18

SMARTPHONE MAKERS' SHIPMENTS to retail outlets or carriers fell 2% to 148.6 million units in 2023, data from market research firm Canlys showed. The fall can be attributed to weakness in demand and higher inventory with the dealers, especially during the first half of 2023, analysts said.

In the latter half, however, shipments picked up pace owing to increase in demand during the festive season, which in a way restricted the yearly fall in exports and drove the market towards stability. In the October-December quarter, smartphone shipments rose 20% year-on-year to 38.9 million units, according to Canlys.

This year, Canlys expects the Indian smartphone market to grow by mid-single digits, driven by affordable 5G phones and the pandemic period replacement cycle. Replacement cycle means consumers discarding their old phones to buy new ones.

"Vendors are entering 2024's 'Election Year' with improved indicators for the consumer market with manageable inflation, a steady interest rate and clear visibility of a stable government to come into power," said Sanyam Chaurasia, senior analyst at Canlys. He said the biggest challenge for vendors this year will be to manage the rising bill of materials costs.

In 2023, Samsung maintained the top position with a market share of 19% and shipments of 28.4 million units. Vivo secured second position with a share of 18% and shipments of 26.1 million, followed by Xiaomi with 17% market share and shipments of 25.1 million.

Owing to the festive season, Apple ended the year with a 7% share, up from 4% in 2022. "Apple got the opportunity to push the latest iPhone 15 series during festive sales, contributing more than 50% to its shipments in Q4," Chaurasia said.

auto, building construction and utensils did well," Jindal Stainless MD Abhyuday Jindal said.

However, sales volume dipped on a standalone basis by 6% quarter-on-quarter to 512,015 metric tonne.

JSL also received board approval to acquire the remaining stake in its Spain subsidiary Iberjindal. At present, it holds 65%. "On the valuation front, discussions are on... We expect the deal to be concluded in the next two-three months," CFO Anurag Mantri said.

The company also got board approvals to divest its 26% stake in Jindal Coke.

More startup founders chose profit over growth last year

AYANTI BERA
Bengaluru, January 18

NEARLY TWO-THIRD of the country's startup founders continued to prioritise profit over growth in 2023 for the second year in a row, said a report by venture debt firm InnoVen Capital. It said that 62% of founders said profitability as a bigger focus area, compared to 55% in 2022.

The survey was of over 100 startup founders across stages and sectors. Of them, 30% claimed to be Ebitda profitable in 2023, up from 19% in the preceding year.

A downturn in the funding environment since mid-2022 had pushed startups across the board to focus on efficiency and profitability, often to justify their high valuation.

"We are now seeing a higher appreciation for sustainable business models, more focus on unit economics/ profitability and realistic valuation expectations," said Ashish Sharma, managing partner, InnoVen Capital.

While 2023 saw the lowest funding in seven years for tech startups, most founders expect this year to see improvements in the funding scenario. As many as 85% are optimistic about raising their next round at a higher valuation this year.

Despite this, hiring sentiment is largely tepid, with 61% of the founders surveyed expecting the pace of hiring to stay at the same levels or go down compared to last year.

Founders largely agreed that artificial intelligence is the most-hyped sector at the moment, while B2B and manufacturing still remains underhyped, the report said. Last year saw scores of founders building AI-based solutions.

Jindal Stainless profit rises 35%

Mumbai, January 18

JINDAL STAINLESS (JSL) has posted a 34.5% rise in consolidated net profit at ₹691 crore for the third quarter ended December, beating Street estimates, mainly driven by growth in the domestic market.

The country's largest stainless steel manufacturer had posted a net profit of ₹513 crore for the same quarter last fiscal.

During the quarter under review, JSL's revenue rose 1% to ₹9,127 crore from ₹9,063 crore recorded during the same period of last year. A consensus
