SC committee to Manipur: Identify, protect places of worship

APURVA VISHWANATH

With places of worship being vandalised in the other parts of the country, Manipur since May, a three-judge bench of the Manipur High Court, constituted by the Supreme Court of India, has ruled that the state government "must immediately identify all religious buildings in the state and provide them with security, restoration and encir- clement". The court has directed the state government to ensure "the protection of buildings or places of worship that has been destroyed/burnt in the vio- lence in Manipur".

Judge Sanat Kumar Das, one of the judges, in a separate dissenting opinion, has observed that the state government should immediately identify all religious buildings in the state "in answer to the need of the hour, in the face of the recurring violence in Manipur".

The government of Manipur should immediately identify all religious buildings in the state which would include mosques, jamiats, gurudwara, mandirs, jhular, churches, shrines, temples, saris, saros, mosques, etc., and all other religious buildings in the state, Das said. "These religious buildings should be declared as protected area and protected buildings for all time to come," the judge said.

Das ruled that the state government has to declare all religious buildings as protected areas in Manipur and protect them from destruction. "There is an urgent need to declare all religious buildings as protected areas in the state of Manipur," the judge said.

According to the court, the state government should identify all religious buildings in the state and declare them as protected areas. "The state government should immediately identify all religious buildings in the state and declare them as protected areas," the court said.
