ADANI GROUP'S POWER EXPORT ALSO UNDER REVIEW

Dhaka to scrutinise India biz deals for fair pricing

SHUBHAJIT ROY
Dhaka/New Delhi,
September 11

THE INTERIM GOVERNMENT of Bangladesh, led by Muhammad Yunus, is set to scrutinise Indian businesses including the Adani Group which exports power from its Jharkhand unit under a 2017 agreement. More specifically, the interim government is keen to know the terms of the agreement and if the price being paid for power is justified.

"There will be scrutiny of Indian businesses, like the Adani business... what kind of contracts have been signed, what are the terms and conditions, one cannot have a foreign company not follow the law of the land," said a senior functionary of the interim government who did not wish to be named. "So those investigations will be done; it will be painted as targeting Indian businesses, no... they will be scrutinised for what they are doing here, how much is Bangladesh paying, is it justified, all these questions will come up," the functionary said.

LAW OF THE LAND

■ The Yunus government is keen to know the terms of the agreement

■ In 2023-24, Godda plant exported almost 63% of India's total power exports to Bangladesh

■ Adani Power signed a 25-year 1,496 MW PPA in 2017 with Power Development Board under which Bangladesh would buy 100% electricity produced by Godda plant

■ Average cost of electricity imported from Indian firms stood at 8.77 Bangladeshi Taka per unit during 2022-23

In November 2017, Adani Power (Jharkhand) (APJL) signed a 25-year 1,496 MW (net) Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) with the Bangladesh Power Development Board. Under this, Bangladesh would buy 100% electricity produced by APJL's Godda plant. The unit, which runs on 100% imported coal, was declared a SEZ by the Indian government in March 2019.

In 2023-24, APJL's Godda plant exported about 7,508 million units of power, or almost 63% of India's total power exports of 11,934 million units to Bangladesh. In value terms, country's power exports to Bangladesh had crossed $1 billion, almost 10% of total exports to its neighbour.

When contacted, an Adani Power spokesperson said, "We have no information of the Bangladesh government reviewing our PPA. In the spirit of true partnership, we continue to supply power to them despite the massive outstanding owned to us. We are in constant engagement with the Bangladesh authorities and have requested them for early liquidation of our dues as it is making our operations unsustainable."

The Financial Times reported on September 9 that Adani had warned the Bangladesh interim government that its backlog of overdue payments — of over $500 million — had become "unsustainable".

It quoted Bangladesh energy advisor Muhammad Fozul Kabir Khan saying the country faced total power liabilities of $3.7 billion, and was late on paying $492 million to Adani, to whom it owes a total of $800 million.

As per the annual report of the Bangladesh Power Development Report, the average cost of electricity imported from Indian firms by Bangladesh stood at 8.77 Bangladeshi Taka per unit during 2022-23 (July-June). However, it varied from company to company.

Devender Kumar, the new voice of Afghanistan cricket

PRATYUSH RAJ
Greater Noida, September 11

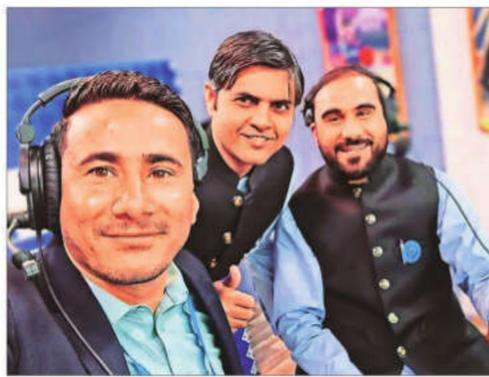

THREE WEEKS AGO, before the final of the domestic T20 league organised by Afghanistan Cricket Board (ACB), a jam-packed Oval stadium gave a standing ovation to an Indian. It was the acknowledgement of the popularity enjoyed by 36-year-old Devender Kumar, who as a teenager had left his village Chutarpura, comprising less than 1,000 people, near Jodhpur in Rajasthan to pursue his dream of being a cricket commentator. It hasn't been an easy journey.

In 2017, after calling polo matches and school cricket games in Jaipur for more than a decade, Devender had got a career-changing international break. Word had spread about his work and he would get invited by ACB to be the English commentator for domestic tournaments that till then had only Pashto voices.

Devender quickly made his mark, and fans would love his simple description of the game. Internationally, he would be the voice of Afghanistan cricket. During the 2023 World Cup in India, BBC's Test Match Special would sign him up as the regional expert.

So last month when he stepped out for the toss before the title clash, the Afghan fans decided to show their collective gratitude. "It still gives me goosebumps," Devender tells The Indian Express at Greater Noida where he is part of the commentary team for the Afghanistan-New Zealand Test. "They started chanting my name, they clapped for over a minute. It was a pretty surreal feeling, something I am going to treasure till my last breath."

Former Afghanistan assistant coach Raees Ahmadzai, who has played 5 ODIs and 8 T20Is and is currently working with U-19 cricketers in Kabul,

Devender quickly made his mark, and fans love his simple description of the game praises Devender for what he has done for Afghanistan cricket. "He is more Afghan than Indian now. He knows the stats and numbers of Afghan domestic cricketers like no one else. He is loved by the cricketers, the fans and he indeed is the voice of Afghanistan cricket," says Ahmadzai.

Growing up in the 1990s, Devender would be glued to the television when India played. One match from the era that would stay in his mind forever was an India vs Australia game at Sharjah in 1998.

The way late English commentator Tony Greig described Indian master batsman Sachin Tendulkar's "desert storm" hundred would inspire the village boy, who quit studies after school. Since that day, Devender has wanted a microphone in his hand.

"I never played cricket at any level. The voice of Tony Greig is the reason I wanted to become a commentator. I am just a cricket enthusiast, who is learning and falling in love with this beautiful game every day," he says.

With no clear plan, Devender would leave his village and move to Jaipur. "I reached Jaipur in 2006 and the first place I visited was the Sawai Mansingh Stadium. I had no clue about anything. People were surprised that where people usually come to join the cricket academy, I came to become a commentator," says Devender.

That was the time when former Aussie captain Greg Chappell had left the Indian team and was associated with Rajasthan cricket. "Chappell saw me practising commentary one day and gave me a signed cap. During my time in Jaipur, I spent a lot of time listening to BBC programmes, be it cricket commentary, football or tennis. I would try to copy it," he says.

Seven years back, things began to stir for Devender. "My first international break came in 2017 during the Afghanistan vs Ireland series. I still don't know who recommended my name. During my endless visits to the SMS stadium, I met Alan Wilkins, Danny Morrison, Harsha Bhogle and others. I guess one of them recommended my name to the ACB," says the commentator who now spends 30-40 days every year in Afghanistan covering List A and first-class matches.

Devender's family does worry about him when he travels to his place of work that has a history of violence. But the commentator can't keep away from Afghanistan — a nation, he says, whose passion for cricket is the same as that for football in Brazil or Argentina.

Devender did have a close shave in 2022 when a bomb went off at the Kabul stadium during a game. "I was 10 yards away from the blast site. Two people died and there were several injuries. It happened during the innings break of the Shpageeza League match between Pamiir Zalmi and Bander-Amir," he reminisces.

Following the incident, after Devender left Kabul, Afghan all-rounder Gulbadin Naib shared a heartfelt note on social media, thanking the Indian commentator. "Devendra Thanks for your love and support with @ACBofficials and our Nation in this difficult time. We never forget your great efforts and respect," Naib had posted on social media.

Protest in Nairobi against Adani deal

EDWIN WAITA
Nairobi, September 11

WORKERS AT KENYA'S main international airport began a strike on Wednesday against an Indian company seeking to lease it, blowing plastic trumpets and scuffling with police in a protest that caused cancellations and delays for hundreds of passengers.

Dozens of workers at Nairobi's Jomo Kenyatta International Airport chanted "Adani must go" in reference to a proposed deal for the Adani

Members of the Kenya Aviation Workers Union outside Jomo Kenyatta International Airport over plans to sell the airport to the Adani Group in Nairobi

Group to lease it for 30 years in exchange for $1.85 billion investment in expansion. Kenya Civil Aviation Authority, the sector regulator, said that air traffic control services were fully operational, with landings and take-offs uninterrupted. Outside the terminals, passengers sat on curbs and luggage trolleys waiting for updates on flights as departure and arrival boards were shut off.

"It's very poor," said one passenger, Ahmed Abdurrahman, recounting a six-hour wait. "Nobody is coming out to tell us anything, whether we should leave or look for a hotel or something. I have a little child here waiting hungrily," added Warda Omar. TV footage showed one police officer hitting a protester with a baton.
