

SC junks plea for fresh first level EVM checking

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, October 9

THE SUPREME COURT on Monday junked a plea seeking disclosure of the Unique Identity Number of EVMs to be used in the Lok Sabha elections for First Level Checking (FLC) of the machines, saying "the process (FLC) is very detailed, parties have faith in it" and "it's been replicated across India".

A three-judge bench presided by Chief Justice of India

DY Chandrachud was hearing the petition by Delhi Pradesh Congress Committee chief Anil Choudhary challenging the Delhi High Court order dismissing his plea.

The bench, also comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, however, pointed out that the appellant had not participated in the FLC process despite being invited. "We don't want to enter into it. This will completely delay the election schedule. We don't want to do it," said CJ

Chandrachud.

The counsel appearing for Choudhary contended, "So far as time constraint is concerned, the rule provides that the FLC process should be complete at least 90 days prior to the election... They say they have done it for Delhi, Jharkhand, and Kerala. For other states, it has not even commenced."

Choudhary said the Election Commission (EC) had conveyed to him "in July that they are starting and asked me to come and join". "I tell them I am willing to join but please give me unique identity numbers of all machines (Electronic Voting Machines). They gave it after the FLC. I say give me the number ahead of the FLC," he said.

The counsel submitted that "no parties joined (in the FLC). It is the Congress which came forward and said we are willing to join. There is no communication from any other party".

The CJ said, "Possibly the fact that other parties, as you said, didn't join is an indicator that there is faith in the outcome."

ELECTORAL GENDER RATIO UP

Polling in five states between Nov 7-30, counting on Dec 3

DIVYA A
New Delhi, October 9

THE FIVE STATES of Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Telangana and Mizoram, which go to polls between November 7 and November 30, have seen an improvement in their electoral gender ratio, with Chhattisgarh having more women voters for the first time.

The Election Commission on Monday announced the dates for the polling (see chart) — the last round of Assembly elections ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. The results will be announced on December 3.

Among the five states, Chhattisgarh and Mizoram have more women voters. While Chhattisgarh has 1,012 women voters for every 1,000 men, there are 1,063 women electors in Mizoram for every 1,000 men. In the previous elections in 2018, Chhattisgarh had 995 women voters against 1,000 men, and Mizoram had 1,051 women. Mizoram has always had more women voters than men.

While the other states have also shown an improvement over 2018 in their electoral gender ratio, parity is yet to be achieved. In Madhya Pradesh, which has the largest Assembly among the five states, has 945 women voters for every 1,000 men as opposed to 917 women in 2018. Rajasthan has 920 women voters against 914 in the previous elections. Telangana has 998 women voters against 982 last time.

Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar said that "inclusive election" campaign was the primary aim of the poll panel, with the focus on

STAGE SET FOR THE BIG SEMI-FINAL

■ The high-stakes polls will be a litmus test for the Congress, the biggest party in the INDIA bloc

■ The results are bound to have a major bearing on the discourse in the run-up to the 2024 LS polls

■ The BJP and the Congress will be engaged in a direct fight in Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan

■ Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Telangana and Mizoram will have 82 million male and 78 million female voters, while there will be 6.02 million first-time voters

States	Party in power	Polling date
Madhya Pradesh	BJP	Nov 17
Rajasthan	Congress	Nov 23
Telangana	BRS	Nov 30
Mizoram	Mizo National Front	Nov 7
Chhattisgarh	Congress	Nov 7 & 17

The counting of votes will be on Dec 3

improving the electoral roll gender ratio in all states. Consequently, 2.36 million women electors have been added in these five states.

Besides, the poll panel also focused on first-time voters in the 18-19 age group, enrolling 6 million such voters. This was largely because first-time voters had three windows to register themselves. In the past, they could only enroll once a year — in January. Through a recent amendment in the rules, three new such dates were added. "We have met all stakeholders, including political parties and enforcement agencies, while preparing for the Assembly elections in the five states," the CEC said, adding that a special emphasis was given on making electoral rolls inclusive and the focus will also be on ensuring that all voters come to vote. Of the five states, the Congress is in power in Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh, BJP in Madhya Pradesh, Bharat Rashtra Samithi in Telangana and Mizo National Front in Mizoram.

Mizoram and Chhattisgarh will be the first to go for polls on November 7, with voting for all 40 assembly seats in the former to be held on the day, along with the first phase of polling for 20 seats in the latter.

Polling to the remaining 70 seats in Chhattisgarh will be held on November 17, alongside all 230 seats in Madhya Pradesh. While Rajasthan votes on November 23, for all its 200 assembly seats in one go, the 119-member Telangana Assembly will be the last to go to polls on November 30.

BJP repeats MP strategy in Rajasthan, Raje loyalists lose out

DEEP MUKHERJEE
Jaipur, October 9

HOURS AFTER the Election Commission (EC) on Monday announced that Rajasthan will go to polls on November 23, the BJP released its first list of 41 candidates, fielding seven sitting MPs and denying tickets to some of its old-timers. At present, the party only holds one of the 41 seats — Vidhyadhar Nagar — but there too it replaced its incumbent legislator.

The party's move to field seven of its 24 MPs from the state is similar to its strategy in neighbouring Madhya Pradesh, where incumbent MPs have been asked to contest the Assembly elections. The two big names denied tickets from their usual constituencies are Vidhyadhar Nagar MLA Narpat Singh Rajvi who is the son-in-law of former chief minister and vice president Bhairon Singh Shekhawat, and former Jhotwara MLA Rajpal Singh Shekhawat. Both of them are counted among the loyalists of former CM Vasundhara Raje.

From Vidhyadhar Nagar, the BJP has fielded Rajsamand MP Diya Kumari who is a member of the erstwhile royal family of Jaipur.

As caste survey adds spring to Opp step, can Modi-led BJP keep ahead?

LIZ MATHEW
New Delhi, October 9

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi often says that he makes "stairs out of stones thrown at me", and his opponents need not be reminded of his astuteness in turning any attack or criticism to his advantage. He has done it now with Rahul Gandhi's "jitni aabadi, utna haq" phrase to attack the demand for caste census. Even as the BJP is pointing to the number of Muslim groups within the EBC category in the Bihar caste survey report, the PM has used Rahul's phrase to suggest that it is the Congress leader who is being communal. "Jitni aabadi, utna haq" means that the Muslims as a minority would be deprived, Modi said at a recent rally in Chhattisgarh. He went on to draw a contrast with what Con-

THE GAME OF NUMBERS

■ The PM used Rahul's phrase "Jitni aabadi, utna haq" to attack Congress

■ The BJP is worried about the Bihar caste survey and how it might help the Oppn

■ The fact that women's reservation will not implemented soon has dulled enthusiasm too

gress leader former PM Manmohan Singh had said in 2006 about minorities having "the first right to resources".

The PM added that, for him, the "poor" were the only caste and their welfare his government's primary motive.

The PM's refrain suggests that the BJP is worried about the Bihar caste survey, and how it might help a united Opposition take away its backward class votes. This is contrary to the BJP's public posturing that the "Modi phenomenon", bringing multiple regional identities together under the PM's strong leadership. The caste survey held by Bihar puts OBC numbers at 63% of the state's population, with 36% being EBCs. This upends the various social engineering formulas worked into a successful political message by the BJP and others, especially in Bihar and UP. The INDIA bloc has not yet been able to find a language to take on Modi's new line of attack, though they have stuck to the caste census demand. Asked about the PM's statement about the southern states' post-delimitation seat-loss, JD(U) national president Rajiv Ranjan Singh was evasive.

"Why will there be any loss? Several southern states have been supporting the caste census. They have not opposed the delimitation process either. Besides, will the BJP remain in power to even complete the delimitation process?" Singh said. The Opposition's demand for an OBC quota within the quota for women has also dovetailed nicely with the Bihar caste survey. The fact that women's reservation will not come into force anytime soon has dulled enthusiasm too.

Assemblies in five poll-bound states met for less than 30 days a year

AS FIVE STATES go to polls, data compiled by a think tank showed that these state assemblies — Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Telangana, Chhattisgarh and Mizoram — met for less than 30 days a year and the number of sittings have been going down over the years.

The Rajasthan assembly met for 29 days in a year on an average and the Telangana assembly for 15 days, according to a report by PRS Legislative Research. Between 2019 and 2023, average sittings of the assembly in Chhattisgarh was 23 days a year, with average sitting time being five hours. The Madhya Pradesh assembly had sittings for 16 days, around four hours a day on average, and the Mizoram assembly sat for 18 days, with each sitting being around five hours, it stated.

According to the PRS Legislative Research report, the Rajasthan assembly had the highest number of sittings among these five states — around 29 days per year, and each sitting was around seven hours long.

In four of the five states for which long-term data is available, sittings have reduced over time, it stated. In their first 10 years, the Rajasthan assembly, on average, met for 59 days a year, while the MP assembly met for 48 days a year.
